DIAMOND BACKS™

1998 - D'Backs Debut in Desert

(65-97, Fifth in N.L. West)

3.6 million visit Bank One Ballpark during inaugural season

After years of dreaming, and a three-year building process, Arizona finally entered Major League Baseball on March 31, 1998, as the Diamondbacks played their inaugural game against the Colorado Rockies in Bank One Ballpark. Andy Benes was the first-ever starting pitcher, and Travis Lee produced the franchise's first base hit and home run. The first win for the Diamondbacks occurred on April 5, with a 3-2 victory at home over San Francisco after the club opened up with 5 consecutive losses. The belief that Arizona was ready for the majors was validated at the box office, as the Diamondbacks played to 21 sellouts at Bank One Ballpark, and drew a total of 3,602,856 fans.

Arizona, like all expansion teams, struggled out of the gate, losing 31 of its first 40, but under manager Buck Showalter's guidance, the Snakes shed the look of an expansion team, and eventually tied a major league expansion team record by putting together a 7-game winning streak in early September.

The year was highlighted by players who came to Arizona from different paths. Free agency brought Jay Bell, who hit 20 home runs, while a trade on the night of the Expansion Draft brought Devon White, who led the club with 85 RBI and 22 stolen bases while tying Lee for the club lead in home runs with 22. Benes, who was signed as a free agent, posted a 14-13 record, with the 14 wins tying Tampa Bay's Roldando Arrojo for most wins by an expansion pitcher.

The Expansion Draft produced pitcher Omar Daal, whose 8-12 record was deceiving, considering his 2.88 earned run average, infielder Tony Batista, who hit 18 home runs, and outfielder David Dellucci who hit .260 while playing in 124 games. Reliever Gregg Olson, signed by the club as a minor league free agent, ended the season as the club's Pitcher of the Year, earning 30 saves, the second highest total in Major League expansion history.

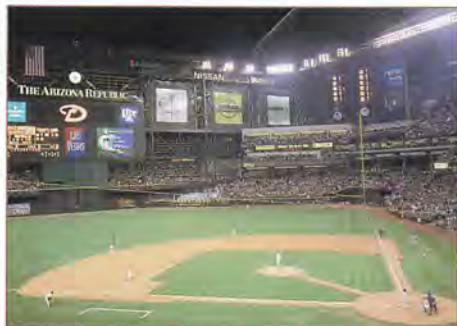

Arizona gained national notoriety in an 8-7 win at San Francisco on May 28. With an 8-6 lead, two out in the bottom of the ninth and the bases loaded, Showalter elected to intentionally walk Barry Bonds, bringing home a run to cut the lead to 8-7. The move paid off, as Olson got Brent Mayne to line out to right to ice the win.

Interleague play was highlighted by a late June home series with Seattle, in which outfielder Yamil Benitez hit two dramatic homers. The first was launched 452 feet into Friday's Front Row, then 2 days later, Benitez hit a game-winning solo home run in the ninth, giving the Arizona 2 of 3 against the Mariners. Benitez had made his way into the record books 2 weeks earlier, clubbing his first career grand slam on June 9 vs. Anaheim. In the top half of the same inning, Cecil Fielder also hit a slam, the sixth time ever that each team hit a grand slam in the same inning.

White and Lee represented the Diamondbacks at the annual All-Star Game, with White going 3-for-3 with a triple in the mid-summer classic in Denver, and Lee participating in the Rookie Skills Competition. Daal produced the first complete-game shutout in team history on July 30, blanking the Cubs on 4 hits.

Arizona posted a 13-16 record in August, with Olson saving 6 of the 13 wins. The highlight victory of the month occurred in the nightcap of a doubleheader in Philadelphia. After losing the opener 11-1, the Diamondbacks scored 5 times in the top of the ninth to tie the second game at 9-9, with White's three-run homer in the 11th producing a 12-9 victory. Batista hit 8 home runs in the month, while batting .338. White drove in 5 runs in the contest, the third of 5 5-RBI games during the season.

By September, the Diamondbacks had left their first 40 games behind them, and played more like a contender. Not only did they split the 24 games played in the season's final month, 2 of the wins came at the expense of the Giants, who were battling for the National League Wild Card spot. Brian Anderson tossed a 1-0 shutout at Pittsburgh on September 3, while Benes posted a 3-0 record and 0.47 ERA for the month. Olson picked up 7 more saves, including his 200th career save on September 7. The month, and the inaugural season, ended with the Diamondbacks taking 2 of 3 games from the eventual National League champion Padres.

1999 - Fastest to First Division Crown

(100-62, First in N.L. West)

Diamondbacks dominate by 14 games with 100-win season...
Big Unit captures Cy Young Award

The Diamondbacks' commitment to winning produced historic results in 1999, becoming the fastest team to go from expansion to post-season, winning 100 games and the National League West in their second year of existence.

The foundation was laid during the winter, when the club made a series of free agent signings and trades to transform the roster. Randy Johnson, Todd Stottlemyre, Armando Reynoso, Steve Finley, Greg Colbrunn and Greg Swindell, while G.M. Joe Garagiola Jr. consummated trades to acquire outfielders Luis Gonzalez and Tony Womack.

With new talent surrounding them, returning veterans Jay Bell and Matt Williams flourished. Bell led the club with 38 home runs, while Williams hit 35 and drove in 142. Finley added 34 homers and 103 RBI. Gonzalez had a breakout season, batting .336, with 26 home runs and 111 RBI. Womack, who had led the National League in stolen bases the prior two seasons in Pittsburgh, topped the majors with 72 thefts, 1 shy of Arizona's team total in the inaugural season of '98.

Johnson, who returned to the National League midway through 1998, going from Seattle to Houston, anchored a pitching staff that posted a 3.77 ERA. The Big Unit led the majors with 364 K's and the league with a 2.48 ERA to procure his first N.L. Cy Young Award, second of his career. Omar Daal had a career season with a 16-9 record and 3.65 ERA, while Reynoso went 10-6.

Even with all the new talent, it took time for the Diamondbacks to gel, going 13-11 in April after a 1-5 start. Included was a 16-inning, 5-hour, 14-minute marathon against the Dodgers on April 13, highlighted by Kelly Stinnett's pinch-hit homer run in the bottom of the 16th to tie the game at 6-6, and Dante Powell's game-ending RBI single. On April 11, Gonzalez began a hitting streak that would last 30 games, while Williams earned N.L. Player-of-the-Month honors, batting .357, with 8 homers and 25 RBI.

Arizona's fortunes turned in May as the club was 18-10, going from third place when the month began to a 3 1/2-game advantage by the end of May. Gonzalez continued his torrid hitting streak, a streak that ended in San Francisco on May 20. The marquee wins of the month were 3 consecutive victories at home over Montreal on May 10-12, all coming on home runs. Jay Bell ended the first game of the series in the ninth inning, then Luis Gonzalez was the hero in the middle game, extending his hitting streak with a 10th inning walk-off shot, followed in the series finale by Matt Williams, who capped the sweep of the Expos with a bottom of the ninth blast. Travis Lee's second grand slam of the season keyed a 7-3 win in San Francisco on May 18, putting Arizona alone in 1st place for the first time in franchise history. One setback in May occurred the night before Lee's grand slam, as pitcher Todd Stottlemyre was diagnosed with a partial tear of the right rotator cuff on the 17th.

The Diamondbacks struggled through June as their offense hit a collective slump. The low point came on June 25, when St. Louis righthander Jose Jimenez pitched the first no-hitter in Bank One Ballpark history. To make matters worse, Arizona wasted a strong effort by Johnson, who allowed just a run on 5 hits, while striking out 14. The lone run of the game came in the 9th inning. Things didn't get much better for the Big Unit over his next 3 starts as he was blanked each time out, giving the opposition 4 consecutive shutout victories over Johnson to tie a major league record, while the D'Backs were no-hit, 1-hit, 2-hit and 3-hit in succession.

With the All-Star break approaching, Garagiola worked some trade magic by making a dramatic move to improve Arizona's bullpen on July 9, acquiring closer Matt Mantei from Florida in exchange for pitchers Vladimir Nunez, Brad Penny and a player to be named. Mantei's first appearance as a Diamondback came 2 days later, as he earned the save in a 7-4 victory over Oakland in the final game before the break. That was also the day that Jay Bell won $1 million for a fan by hitting a tie-breaking grand slam in the fifth inning, the player and the inning that was predicted by that fan.

Out of the break, the Diamondbacks embarked on an 8-game road trip that proved to be the turning point of their season. On July 20, with Arizona just 4 games above .500, and 2 1/2 games out of first, Johnson took the mound against his former teammates in Seattle's new Safeco Field, and tossed an 8-hit shutout for a 6-0 Arizona win, the first-ever shutout in the Mariners' new home. The win sparked a run that saw the Diamondbacks post a 51-17 record over the season's remaining 68 games. It also started a run that saw the D'Backs win 10 out of 11 to close out the month.

Just 2 nights after Johnson's performance in Seattle, the Diamondbacks recorded another key victory as Tony Womack hit an inside-the-park grand slam off of Houston's Billy Wagner in the Astrodome to stake Arizona to a come-from-behind win. It was the first inside-the-park homer in franchise history.

Johnson was named National League Pitcher-of-the-Month for July, despite posting a 2-3 record. During the month, Johnson's ERA was 1.13, and he recorded 64 strikeouts.

The winning continued in August, as Arizona posted streaks of 5, 4 and 6 games, en route to a 20-8 record for the month, the best monthly mark in club history to date. Most impressive was that the majority of the winning occurred on the road, as Arizona took 5 out of 6 on a trip to Philadelphia and Chicago, and 6 out of 7 on a swing through Pittsburgh and Florida. Gonzalez led the offensive charge, batting .342 for the month, with 7 home runs and 24 RBI. In his first full month with the club, Mantei recorded 7 saves, allowing just 1 earned run over 10.1 innings pitched. By the end of August, the Diamondbacks' lead in the National League West had ballooned to 7.5 games. August also saw the return of Stottlemire, who opted not to have surgery on his torn rotator cuff. Instead, an intense rehab program put Stottlemire back on the mound in Pittsburgh on August 20, and he notched the first win after his return 5 days later in Florida.

Nothing changed in September, as Arizona took complete command of the race with a 19-7 finish. Fate played a part in the Diamondbacks' fortunes on September 5, as Arizona defeated Atlanta 7-5, when a 3-run, ninth inning rally was sparked when Stinnett reached first base after striking out on a wild pitch that had appeared to end the game.

Arizona passed the 1962 Los Angeles Angels as baseball's most successful second-year team by posting its 87th win of the season on September 13th over Pittsburgh. A season of remarkable firsts was capped on the night of September 24th, as the Big Unit pitched a complete-game, 11-3 win at San Francisco to give the Diamondbacks the N.L. West crown. Johnson was 3-0 in September, while Andy Benes posted a 4-1 mark. Matt Mantei added 6 more saves, and the Diamondbacks as a team batted .301.

The Diamondbacks' first trip to the post-season was a brief, but dramatic Division Series against the Wild Card

New York Mets. After dropping the opener 8-4, Arizona bounced back to even the series behind a gutsy performance from Stottlemire, who limited the Mets to 4 hits over 6.2 innings, while Steve Finley drove in 5 runs in a 7-1 victory. The series then shifted to New York, where the Mets took Game #3, 9-2, then won the series on Todd Pratt's home run to center, just out of the reach of a leaping Finley, to take a 4-3, 10-inning victory.

Gonzalez led the National League in hits with 206 while finishing second in the batting race (.336) and second in doubles (45). Bell closed the year second in runs scored (132), while the foursome of Gonzalez, Bell, Finley and Williams all eclipsed the 100-RBI mark, the seventh time a quartet achieved that mark in league history. Johnson's Cy Young campaign included league leading totals in innings (271.2), complete games (12), ERA (2.48) and strikeouts per 9-innings (12.06).

Bell, Williams and Finley each earned National League Player-of-the-Week honors during the season, as did Johnson, who won the award twice. Finley earned his third career Rawlings Gold Glove, the first-ever for the Diamondbacks' franchise. Bell, Williams, Johnson and Gonzalez represented Arizona at the All-Star Game in Boston, with Bell and Williams becoming the first Diamondbacks to be voted into the National League starting lineup.

Matt Williams hammered 35 home runs and drove in 142 to assist in leading the Diamondbacks to the fastest post-season qualification in expansion history.

The first major league free agent acquired by the Diamondbacks, Jay Bell led the club with a career-high 38 homers in 1999 and was voted by the fans to start in the All-Star Game in Boston.

2000 - Late Tailspin Seals Fate (85-77, Third in N.L. West)

First Six Years

D'Backs finish 12 games out... Johnson wins second straight Cy Young Award

A season of high expectations ended in frustration, as the Diamondbacks suffered through a series of injuries, winding up third in the National League West with an 86-76 record. The day after the regular season ended a change was made as manager Buck Showalter was relieved of his duties on October 2. He was replaced at the end of the month by former big league catcher and Diamondbacks broadcaster Bob Brenly.

The cast that made up the 1999 National West Champions was virtually unchanged as spring training began, but the first sign that things would be different in 2000 occurred during the final game of the exhibition schedule when third baseman Matt Williams fouled a pitch off his right foot, breaking the second metatarsal. He then suffered a right quadriceps strain during a rehab assignment in late May in El Paso, forcing him to go back on the disabled list. All told, Williams, who had been the cornerstone of the Diamondbacks offense during its first 2 seasons, would play in just 96 games, and not truly regain his form offensively until the final month of the season. Closer Matt Mantei also opened the season on the disabled list with tendinitis in his right biceps.

In spite of injuries, the Diamondbacks opened with their strongest start in history, going 16-9 in April to jump to a 1 1/2 game lead in the division. Randy Johnson was 6-0 with a tiny 0.91 ERA in April, earning National League Pitcher-of-the-Month honor, just the third pitcher in history to win 6 games before May 1. The Big Unit wound up winning a second consecutive Cy Young Award from the BBWAA. Todd Stottlemire, still pitching with a partial tear in his right rotator cuff, went 4-1 during the initial month. Luis Gonzalez led Arizona's power numbers with 8 home runs, while Erubiel Durazo opened the year by batting .333 in 22 games.

The Diamondbacks also made a pair of "discoveries" prior to the 2000 campaign, signing 40-year-old righthanded pitcher Mike Morgan as a non-roster invitee to spring training, and signing infielder Craig Counsell after he had been released in March by Los Angeles. Morgan came on in relief of Stottlemire on April 5 to pitch 4.0 shutout innings in an 11-3 victory over Philadelphia, to earn his first save in 9 years, and finished the month with 4 saves, 1 more than his previous career total. The club also bolstered its bench in a mid-June trade that brought outfielder Danny Bautista from Florida in exchange for utility man Andy Fox.

Arizona reeled off a 9-game winning streak in May, as well as an 11-game home winning streak, as they continued to pace the N.L. West. Womack assembled a career-best 24-game hitting streak, leading the club in batting for the month with a .347 mark. Steve Finley clubbed a franchise-record 9 home runs in May, while driving in 31. The Diamondbacks' starting pitching, in particular it's top 2 pitchers, continued to dominate, with Johnson going 3-1 and Stottlemire posting a 4-2 mark. For the first 2 months of the season, Johnson and Stottlemire had combined to post a 17-3 mark. Meanwhile, Mantei had returned to the 15-day D.L. due to shoulder weakness, opening the door for Byung-Hyun Kim, who had come to the Diamondbacks in 1999 from Korea and assumed the closer's role by posting 5 saves and a 2-1 record.

The final game of May saw the Diamondbacks record their first-ever triple play, in the fifth inning of a home game against St. Louis, as Steve Finley took a fly ball to center, threw in to catcher Damian Miller to tag Placido Polanco at the plate, with Miller firing to Tony Womack covering third for the tag on Edgar Renteria.

The Diamondbacks' injury problems continued to mount during a 13-14 month of June, including a 3-9 road mark, and a 5-game losing streak during a road trip to Texas and Chicago. Williams, Durazo and Stottlemire all ended up on the D.L., with Stottlemire's injury being the most painful. During the first inning of the June 25 game at home against Colorado, Stottlemire was forced to leave due to an inflamed right elbow. This, after Stottlemire had been on the D.L. earlier in the month due to tendinitis. Stottlemire would eventually miss all of July and August, making just 4 starts in September before undergoing season-ending elbow surgery on September 26. Durazo had been bothered throughout the early portion of the season by a right wrist injury that required surgery on May 30. After appearing in 3 games at the end of June, Durazo returned to the D.L., and played in just 5 games in August before undergoing another wrist operation on August 24.

In an effort to bolster the offense, the Diamondbacks brought up infielder Alex Cabrera, who, like Durazo, had been discovered by the club in the Mexican League. Cabrera had been so dominant at both AA El Paso and AAA Tucson that he was named Howe Sportsdata's Minor League Player-of-the-Year, despite appearing in just 74 games. He made his major league appearance one for the record books, as he homered in his first trip to the plate, off of Houston's Yorkis Perez. It marked the 78th time in Major League history a player had hit a home run in his first career at-bat, and just the 13th time it had happened in a pinch-hitting role.

The Diamondbacks continued to struggle in July, winning just one home series during the month. Randy Johnson's 4-2 win at Oakland on July 9 gave Arizona a 52-39 record and 2 1/2-game lead in the division at the All-Star break. Out of the break, Texas and Seattle combined to take 5 out of 6 from the D'Backs at Bank One Ballpark. The lone victory during that stretch came courtesy of righthanded pitcher Geraldo Guzman. In his second major league start, Guzman limited the eventual A.L. West champs to five hits in a 7-0 victory. After sweeping a 2-game set from St. Louis, Arizona dropped 6 of its next 9 games. Still clinging to the division lead, Arizona made a blockbuster trade on July 26, obtaining pitcher Curt Schilling from Philadelphia for infielder Travis Lee and pitchers Omar Daal, Nelson Figueroa and Vicente Padilla. The following night, Arizona enjoyed its most productive offensive night of the season, using 19 hits to defeat the Cardinals in St. Louis, 17-5. On July 28, Schilling made his Arizona debut, limiting the Marlins to six hits in a 4-1 win at Florida.

August provided both a reprieve and the ultimate undoing of the Diamondbacks in 2000. Arizona reeled off a 7-game winning streak in the middle of the month that included series sweeps in Philadelphia and at home against the Cubs. Schilling and Johnson both tossed complete games in the Chicago series, but even with the win ning streak, the Diamondbacks were unable to get back into first, still sitting a half-game out after the Cubs left town. It was the next series, a 3-game home set with Milwaukee, that proved to be the beginning of the end. The Brewers pulled off a stunning sweep, including a defeat of Schilling in the series finale. Greg Colbrunn, playing at first base after Durazo's injury, responded by hitting .425 in August, while Steve Finley hit .330 with 6 home runs. Lefthander Dan Plesac went 3-0 out of the bullpen, with a 1.08 ERA.

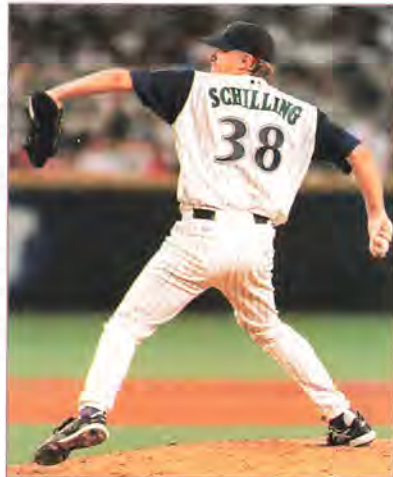

Sure-handed Steve Finley earned his second consecutive Rawlings Gold Glove, fourth of his career, for his defensive work in 2000.

A September swoon ended the Diamondbacks hopes of a second consecutive division title. Atlanta's 3-game sweep at Turner Field early in the month pushed the Diamondbacks 8 games behind red-hot San Francisco in the N.L. West. The Big Unit eased some of the pain on September 10, when he notched his 3,000th career strikeout at Florida. However, even a run at the Wild Card faded when the Diamondbacks were swept in a 3-game set in the middle of the month at Los Angeles, as the Dodgers scored only 4 runs in pulling off the sweep. The Diamondbacks scored once in the series opener, then were blanked over the final 19 innings of the series.

As had been the case the year before, the National League West crown was decided in San Francisco, only this time it was the Giants doing the celebrating in a win over the Diamondbacks. San Francisco's 8-7 victory in the series opener at Pac Bell Park gave the Giants the title, although Arizona ended up winning 3 games in the 5-game set.

A finally healthy Matt Williams turned in his best month of the season in September, batting .315 with 6 home runs and 20 RBI, while Craig Counsell, who had seen his playing time increase due to Tony Womack's knee injury, batted .357. Matt Mantei also rebounded to post saves in 6 of the club's 12 September victories, allowing opponents to bat just .118 over 10.0 innings.

Despite the struggles, the Diamondbacks earned their share of post-season honors. Johnson earned his second consecutive National League Cy Young Award, posting a 19-7 record, with a 2.64 ERA (second in the National League), while striking out a league-leading 347 batters, and tying teammate Schilling for the league lead in complete games with 8. The Big Unit tied Greg Maddux for the N.L. lead in shutouts with 3, and limited opponents to a .224 batting average. Steve Finley overcame late season injuries to earn his second consecutive Rawlings Gold Glove. Johnson and Gonzalez were selected National League Player-of-the-Week during the season, with Gonzalez taking the honors twice. Johnson earned the starting assignment for the National League in the All-Star Game in Atlanta, with Finley also being selected as a reserve. In November, Johnson and Gonzalez were among 28 members of the Major League Baseball All-Star team that made an 8-game tour of Japan, defeating a team of Japanese All-Stars in the series.

Shadow Mountain High School graduate, Curt Schilling, is acquired from the Phillies in a 5-player exchange on July 26.

2001 - World Title Lands in Arizona (92-70, First in N.L. West - World Series Champs)

Brenly's troops defeat Yankees in seven-game thriller... Johnson/Schilling co-World Series MVP's

A season that began full of question marks ended with the most emphatic exclamation point imaginable as the Diamondbacks went from potential contender in the spring of 2001 to Champions of the first World Series ever staged in the month of November.

New manager Bob Brenly wanted a more relaxed atmosphere for a clubhouse still comprised of mostly veteran players, and he was aided in that cause by the winter signing of free agent first baseman Mark Grace. The longtime Chicago Cub was brought in to not only solidify the Diamondbacks' infield, but to bring a fresh attitude to a team that had bogged down under the weight of high expectations and mounting injuries the year before.

The Diamondbacks also sought to improve an offense that had struggled throughout 2000. In addition to Grace, who had led the majors in hits during the decade of the 1990's, Arizona signed outfielder Reggie Sanders, who brought with him a booming bat that had been slowed by injuries the season prior while a member of the Atlanta Braves. Arizona would also benefit from a full season's production of 2 of the game's most dominant pitchers, Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling. Still, the experts had the Diamondbacks pegged anywhere from first to third with a lot of concerns about age as the season began.

In the season's first month, Arizona started slowly. After giving their new manager a win in the season opener at Los Angeles and a series win by taking 2 of 3 from the Dodgers, the Diamondbacks returned home, only to be swept in a 3-game set by St. Louis. The night after the Cardinals series, Diamondback fans were treated to a classic pitcher's duel, as Curt Schilling bested Kevin Brown and the Dodgers, 2-0, in a game that took only 1 hour and 55 minutes to complete.

Sanders roared out of the starting gates, batting .344 in April, hitting 8 home runs, including a walk-off shot on April 20 to beat Colorado. The next day, Sanders hit his first career grand slam as part of a 2-homer game in a 10-5 Diamondback win. Sanders' power output paled in comparison to teammate Luis Gonzalez, who tied a major league record by hitting 13 home runs in the month, earning National League Player-of-the-Month honors in the process. The pitching staff was bolstered by Schilling, who went 3-0 in April, and by a surprising face, righthander Robert Ellis. A non-roster invitee in the spring, Ellis stepped into the starting rotation after injuries claimed Bobby Witt and Brian Anderson, and posted a 3-0 record, including a 6.0 inning effort in a 2-1 debut win at St. Louis on April 16.

Injuries, which had derailed Arizona's pennant hopes in 2000, became a factor again as closer Matt Mantei suffered a capsule strain of the right elbow on April 25. The injury eventually required season-ending "Tommy John" surgery.

Randy Johnson added yet another accomplishment to an already long list on the night of May 8, when he struck out 20 Cincinnati Reds at Bank One Ballpark to tie a major league record for 9 innings of work. Johnson, however, was not involved in the decision, though the Diamondbacks pulled out a 4-3 win in 11 innings.

The Diamondbacks hit their stride in May, going 18-10, including a 13-6 mark at Bank One Ballpark. Arizona moved from third place at the start of the month to first place in the N.L. West by month's end. The key was an 8-2 record against division competition, and the start of a 9-game winning streak that would go into June. Gonzalez continued to sizzle at the plate, batting .339 for the month, with 7 home runs, and Grace drove in 23 runs while hitting .345. In addition to Johnson's record-setting performance, Arizona pitchers had a strong month overall, setting team monthly records for fewest runs allowed (88) and lowest ERA (2.75). Rookie Bret Prinz, called up to replace the injured Mantei, picked up 4 saves while recording a 0.82 ERA. Schilling also continued to dominate, going 5-1 for the month.

Near the end of the May, Arizona was locked in the longest game in franchise history, an 18-inning marathon in San Francisco, that was scoreless until Erubiel Durazo's RBI double in the top of the 18th just after 1:00 a.m.

A winning streak against division foes that began in late May carried into June, as Arizona reeled off 9 in a row, all against N.L. West foes. An

All-Star outfielder Luis Gonzalez keeps an eye on one of his club record 57 home runs in 2001.

18-9 record in June pushed Arizona to a 6-game lead in the N.L. West. Gonzalez earned his second National League Player-of-the-Month Award of the still not half over season, batting .417 with 12 home runs and 35 driven in. In the process, Gonzalez set team monthly records in 6 offensive categories. His performance was highlighted by a 3-homer game on June 8 in Kansas City, hitting roundtrippers to each part of the outfield. Rookie infielder Junior Spivey, called up earlier in the month, tied a club record with a 5-hit game at Colorado on June 21.

Johnson and Schilling combined to go 9-1 for the month, while as a team, Arizona hit .300. The D'Backs tied a team record with 12 home wins in June.

As strong as they were in June, the Diamondbacks found an equal amount of trouble in July, going 11-15. The club went into the All-Star Break on a downward slide, losing 5 out of 6, including being swept at home by Oakland, a series in which Arizona managed just 2 runs. It took a Danny Bautista leadoff single in the eighth to break up Mark Mulder's bid for a perfect game in the series opener, while Tim Hudson and Barry Zito continued the dominance in the remaining games. An 11-game road trip out of the break saw the Diamondbacks go 6-5, yet their division lead shrunk to 1 1/2 games, and the lead turned into a deficit after Arizona was swept in a 4-game home set by San Francisco. After beating Montreal on July 31, Arizona stood a half-game out of the lead.

Johnson remained a steady force during the month, and continued to make history. On July 18, Arizona's game at San Diego had to be suspended when a transformer in Qualcomm Stadium exploded. The game was resumed as part of a doubleheader the next day, with Johnson coming on in "relief" of Curt Schilling. Johnson struck out 16 Padres, setting a major league record for most strikeouts in a relief appearance. In addition, the Big Unit limited the Padres to 1 hit over 7.0 innings in a 3-0 Diamondbacks win. For the month, Johnson went 3-0. The closer's role had been given to righthander Byung-Hyun Kim, who picked up 4 saves. It was another strong month at the plate for Gonzalez, who batted .310 with 9 home runs.

In an attempt to bolster a pitching staff hit by injuries, the Diamondbacks acquired righthanded pitcher Albie Lopez from Tampa Bay on July 25.

Johnson, Schilling and Gonzalez were selected to the National League All-Star Game, and Gonzalez was selected to participate in the Home Run Derby the night before the midsummer classic in Seattle. Gonzo, who had been voted by fans to the N.L. starting lineup, knocked off Sammy Sosa in the finals to take home a surprise victory. Schilling had been selected by N.L. Manager Bobby Valentine to start the game, but citing the fact he would be pitching in Anaheim 3 days later, deferred to Johnson, who made his second consecutive start, and the eighth appearance of his career.

With the season hanging in the balance, Arizona righted itself in August, and the night of August 10 can be targeted as the specific date things got put back on track. After dropping 2 out of 3 in Florida, and with a weekend series with the Braves in Atlanta next, Curt Schilling delivered a masterpiece, blanking the Braves on 6 hits over 7.0 innings, with Spivey and Grace both collecting 2 hits in a 7-0 win. Arizona went on to sweep the 3-game set, with Spivey delivering another 5-hit game in the series finale, becoming the 50th rookie all-time to have a pair of 5-hit games in his first season.

Johnson hit the record books again in August, becoming the first pitcher in history to have 4 consecutive 300-plus strikeout seasons by fanning his 300th victim on August 23 in Pittsburgh. Johnson went 5-1 for the month, coupled with Schilling's 4-1 mark. The pitching staff set monthly records in strikeouts (227) and fewest home runs allowed (20). Gonzalez and Sanders each hit 10 homers in the month, with Sanders batting .322. By month's end, the Diamondbacks were back in first place by 4 games.

A pair of heartbreaking 1-run losses in San Diego opened September, but baseball took a back seat on September 11 due to the terrorists attacks. A week-long postponement of games would push the regular season into the first week of October. When play resumed on September 17, the Diamondbacks' game at Colorado was both a game and somber tribute to those who had lost their lives and the public servants who put their lives on the line to help others. On the field, Arizona maintained a steady lead on San Francisco, despite dropping 2 of 3 at Pacific Bell. The lone win was Curt Schilling's 20th of the season, making him the franchise's first 20-game winner. Johnson followed him on September 27, making the duo the first 20-win teammates since 1999.

The Diamondback logo took on a patriotic look behind home plate at Bank One Ballpark following the tragedies of September 11, 2001.

Danny Bautista slides head-first at home plate on Tony Womack's game-ending single that staked the Diamondbacks to a 2-1 victory over the Cardinals, propelling Arizona into the NLCS against Atlanta.

Luis Gonzalez' magic season continued, as he became the 26th player in history to go over 400 total bases in a season on September 29. The night before, Gonzalez' 11th inning walk-off homer gave Arizona a huge 4-3 win over Los Angeles.

The Diamondbacks used the final week of the season, rescheduled due to the terrorist attacks, to clinch their second N.L. West title in 3 years. After a 3-game home sweep of the Rockies, the club traveled to Milwaukee, where Albie Lopez tossed a 3-hit complete-game for a 5-0 victory. Later, much later that night (1:00 a.m. local time), the Giants lost at home, giving the Diamondbacks the title. After an emotional rollercoaster of a season, and the events that shook the nation, Arizona and its fans had been through plenty. The ride, however, was just getting started.

Arizona defeated St. Louis in the Division Series, 3 games to 2, beating Atlanta in the National League Championship Series, 4 games to 1, and became the fastest team to win a World Series, defeating the New York Yankees in a classic confrontation, 4 games to 3. This historic week climaxed on Sunday, November 4, when Luis Gonzalez looped a single over a drawn-in Yankee infield to cap a 2-run ninth inning rally off of Mariano Rivera and to set off the celebration and bring the Valley of the Sun its first major sports championship.

The series was credited with giving the nation a much-needed break from the tragedy, and reaffirmed baseball's place in the fabric of the country. In addition to being able to raise the Commissioner's Trophy, Diamondback pitchers Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling ended a season in which they dominated as few pitching duos ever had, by being named World Series co-Most Valuable Players.

The accolades continued days later, as the club treated 300,000 fans to a parade through Copper Square, leading to a championship celebration in a packed Bank One Ballpark. In mid-November, Johnson received his third consecutive National League Cy Young Award. Luis Gonzalez earned the Louisville Slugger Silver Slugger Award, and as the World Champions, the Diamondbacks capped their phenomenal season with a visit to the White House to meet President George Bush on December 13.

2002 - Third Crown in Five Years (98-64, First in N.L. West)

*Late-season injuries contribute to early first round playoff exit...
Johnson lands fourth straight Cy Young honor*

With hardly a chance to catch its collective breath, the Arizona Diamondbacks entered 2002 as baseball's defending World Champions, intent on making it two titles in as many years. Unfortunately, the injury bug bit hard and the Diamondbacks stayed afloat long enough to clinch a third National League West crown, but found themselves eliminated in three straight games of the Division Series against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Knowing that standing pat would mean falling behind, the Diamondbacks made moves to bolster its pitching depth, signing free agent righthanded starter Rick Helling, and trading for left-handed relief specialist Mike Myers. Helling, who had been Texas' staff ace the past four seasons, was set to join a starting rotation that already featured that dominant duo of Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling, while Myers would be used to go against left-handed hitters in late-game situations.

However, as had been the case two years before, injuries would dictate the fortunes of the 2002 D'Backs, and, like 2000, it started in the spring.

Third baseman Matt Williams, who had battled various injuries the previous two seasons, but had rebounded to be a productive force in the 2001 World Series, broke his left fibula while taking ground balls on February 25 in Tucson. The injury would keep Williams out of action until July 10. In the meantime, Craig Counsell stepped in and thrived in his new role as everyday third baseman. Counsell hit .292 in the season's first month, while provided stellar defense at the hot corner.

Jay Bell also went down with a right calf injury in the spring, clearing the way for Junior Spivey to become a bonafide star. Spivey, who was expected to open the season at Tucson (AAA), instead became the everyday second baseman. He opened the season by batting .323 in April, while tying for second in the National League in doubles, and placing himself in the top ten in multi-hit games, hits, extra-base hit and hit-by-pitches. Damian Miller also had a strong April with 22 RBI's in the first month. Johnson and Schilling picked up where they left off, with Johnson posting a 6-0 mark, and Schilling going 5-1. Johnson earned the National League Pitcher of the Month award for April, becoming the first pitcher ever to post 6 wins prior to May 1 in 2 different seasons (1999).

Schilling turned in April's pitching highlight, tossing a 1-hitter at Milwaukee on April 7, while striking out 17. Johnson also had a 17-strikeout game on April 21 against Colorado, marking the first time teammates had 17-K games in the same season. While Byung-Hyun Kim notched 5 saves in the closer's role, Myers also picked up a pair of his own. As a team, the Diamondbacks were tied with Los Angeles for the N.L. West lead at month's end, with a 16-10 mark.

Arizona took sole possession of the division lead in May, posting an 18-10 ledger that included a 12-5 record at home, closing out the month by taking 6 of 10 games from their closest pursuers in the N.L. West. Schilling earned National League Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for the third time in the last 4 seasons by posting a 5-0 record with a 2.80 ERA. Spivey continued his torrid hitting, batting .333 for the month with 4 home runs, while moving into a tie for the league lead in triples. Erubiel Durazo, who had missed the first 6 weeks of the season with a broken wrist, made an immediate impact on the club when he returned. In his second game back on May 17, Durazo hit a trio of 2-run homers against the Phils, while setting team records in RBI (9) and total bases (14).

The injury bug bit yet again on May 22, when Danny Bautista suffered a season-ending shoulder injury just months after earning the everyday roll thanks to his 2001 post-season work.

June was a month of extremes. At the beginning of the month, the Diamondbacks swept an interleague series at Boston's Fenway Park on a road trip that included a return to Yankee Stadium, where Arizona salvaged the final game of a 3-game set. By the end of the month, the club needed wins in 2 of 3 games at Cleveland to earn a split of a road trip in which they had dropped 2 of 3 in Houston.

Craig Counsell provided solid defense and clutch hitting before a neck injury ended his season on August 9.

Quinton McCracken, signed as a minor league free agent in the spring, saw increased playing time due to the Bautista injury, and responded with a .403 batting average for the month. Matt Mantei returned to active duty after missing over a year due to "Tommy John" surgery, making his first appearance June 28 at Cleveland.

The All-Star break was just what the D'Backs needed. After entering the break 2 1/2 games out of first, Arizona posted a 14-6 mark for the remainder of July, and used the club's first-ever 7-0 homestand to move back into first place by 5 games. The Diamondback pitching staff reeled off a 31-inning scoreless streak during the homestand, while Luis Gonzalez batted .340 for the month.

Arizona took control of the division race in August with a 19-10 mark, including a 10-4 road record, highlighted by a 4-game sweep of the Mets at Shea Stadium. Consecutive sweeps of Florida and Cincinnati led to an 8-game winning streak. Curt Schilling's win over the Cubs on August 16 made him a 20-game winner for the second consecutive year, while Byung-Hyun Kim went 3-0 with 6 saves. However, another player was lost to injury, as infielder Craig Counsell was sidelined on August 9 due to a pinched nerve in his neck. The injury eventually required season-ending surgery.

September was difficult and costly, as the Diamondbacks struggled to clinch their third division title in four years, with yet another injury adding to the difficulty. Luis Gonzalez suffered a separated shoulder while attempting to make a sliding catch of a foul ball off the bat of former high school teammate Tino Martinez on September 23 in St. Louis. Just two days earlier, lefthanded pitcher Brian Anderson was sidelined for the remainder of the campaign with a broken bone in his left foot. The N.L. West title was finally claimed on the next-to-last day of the season with a home win over Colorado, marking the first time the Diamondbacks were able to clinch a division crown in front of the home fans.

During the month, Steve Finley collected his 2,000th career hit, and Schilling joined Johnson on the 300-strikeout list for the season, marking the first time in baseball history that one team had a pair of 300-strikeout pitchers.

Battered and bruised, the Diamondbacks could not match up against St. Louis in the Division Series and were swept in three straight.

Johnson's career best 24-5 record earned him a fourth consecutive National League Cy Young Award, only the second pitcher in major league history to win 4 in a row, joining Greg Maddux (1992-95). During the season, Johnson moved from ninth to fourth on baseball's all-time strikeout list, and joined Schilling as the first teammates to win at least 23 games. Schilling, Gonzalez, Spivey and Damian Miller joined manager Bob Brenly and his coaching staff on the National League All-Star team in Milwaukee. Johnson was selected, but chose not to attend due to rest a sore back and prepare for the second half of the season.

Curt Schilling recorded a career-high 23 wins and joined Randy Johnson as the only teammates in history to achieve 300 strikeouts in the same season.

The Big Unit stood tall once again, delivering the first "Triple Crown" of his major league career, leading the league in wins, ERA and strikeouts to earn his fourth consecutive Cy Young Award.

2003 - "Baby Backs" Emerge in Injury-Plagued Year (84-78, Third in N.L. West)

First Six Years

D'Backs record fifth consecutive winning season... Johnson & Schilling miss significant time with injuries

It has been said that a baseball season is a marathon, not a sprint. The greatest evidence of that can be found in the 2003 Arizona Diamondbacks, who rode a roller coaster of emotions, history-making streaks and heart-breaking setbacks. In the process, they gave their fans, and all of baseball, a look at the future, while maintaining a commitment to win in the present.

One of the major themes of the year, as it had been in 2002, was injuries, and it didn't take long for that factor to come to the forefront. On Opening Day, reliever Bret Prinz was lost due to a strained right groin. That day's starting pitcher, Randy Johnson, went on the disabled list April 12 due to an inflamed right knee, an injury that would eventually require surgery.

Fellow starting pitcher Curt Schilling was also bitten hard by the injury bug. Schilling went on the disabled list on April 18 due to an emergency appendectomy, then went back on the shelf at the end of May with broken bone in his pitching hand. The bullpen lost Mike Koplove and Matt Mantei for extended periods, with Koplove missing the final 3 1/2 months of the season.

Among position players, it was even worse. Infielder Craig Counsell required right thumb surgery in May, and would miss two months. No fewer than 4 players, including 3 starters, went down in the month of June alone. In all, 646 games were missed by 16 players, 8 pitchers and 8 position players, at various points during the 2003 season.

As a result, the Diamondbacks leaned heavily on a farm system that had been cultivated over 7 years by General Manager Joe Garagiola Jr. and his staff. That system produced in a way that no one outside of the Diamondbacks offices ever predicted or gave the organization credit for.

A total of 13 rookies made their debut in Diamondbacks uniforms in 2003, the fifth-highest total of first-year players in the majors, yet many of those players took a team that had struggled through the first two months of the season, and helped lift Arizona into contention for a third consecutive National League West Division title. The most impressive contribution was made by a trio of righthanded pitchers who solidified a staff searching for consistency after two of the top pitchers in the game - Johnson and Schilling - went down.

Brandon Webb made 28 starts after being called up from Tucson, posting a 10-9 record and a dazzling 2.84 ERA. Webb held opposing hitters to a paltry .212 average, third-best in the National League. He opened his career with 13 consecutive "quality" starts, the most to open a Major League career since Montreal's Steve Rogers had 16 in 1973. Jose Valverde literally came to Arizona's rescue after Matt Mantei went down with a shoulder injury, contributing 9 saves in 9 chances in June to earn National League Rolaids Pitcher of the Month honors. Oscar Villarreal, who made the club out of spring training, established a National League record for appearances by a rookie with 86, also setting a club record, while his 10 wins in relief broke Gregg Olson's 1999 team record, and tied Webb for the most wins by a Diamondback rookie.

Around the infield, Matt Kata displayed his versatility, as did youngster Alex Cintron, who just missed qualifying as a rookie by a matter of days. Catcher Robbie Hammock made an impression offensively with a .282 average, and defensively with his ability to not only handle a pitching staff, but also to play at several other positions, including third base and the outfield.

With a revolving door attached to the 25-man roster, the Diamondbacks stumbled out of the gate, dropping 11 of their first 14 games. The club hovered just below the .500 mark for the first two months of the year. At the end of May, Garagiola engineered a trade designed to jump-start a stagnant offense, sending right-handed pitcher Byung-Hyun Kim to Boston for infielder Shea Hillenbrand. An American League All-Star in 2002, the Mesa Community College product's arrival coincided with a surge that would see the Diamondbacks vault back into contention.

Area product Shea Hillenbrand was acquired from the Red Sox in late-May and provided punch to the lineup.

Arizona posted a 20-6 mark in June, highlighted by a club-record 12-game winning streak that began on June 18 in Houston. By the time it ended on July 1 in Colorado, the Diamondbacks were 9 games above .500, had shaved 5 games on their deficit in the division, and a week later would be in second place.

The club would remain in second place for the next 6 weeks, but would lose ground to the division-leading Giants. Over a stretch of 11 games in mid-July, Arizona dropped 6 of 7 to San Francisco, including a 4-game sweep in Pac Bell Park, effectively ending the Diamondbacks' chances at an N.L. West 3-peat.

The pursuit of the Wild Card remained, and near the trading deadline, the Diamondbacks acquired slugging outfielder Raul Mondesi from the New York Yankees in exchange for pitcher Bret Prinz, outfielder David Dellucci, and minor league catcher Jon-Mark Sprowl. Ironically, the trade occurred as Arizona was being swept in Florida by the eventual World Champion Marlins in a series in which the need for Mondesi was evident, as the Diamondbacks plated only 4 runs in the 3 games.

While Arizona remained a factor in the Wild Card race, they could never sustain enough momentum to overtake the Marlins or Phillies, who traded the coveted post-season spot through the final 2 months of the regular campaign.

A mid-September surge kept the Diamondbacks in the Wild Card race until the final week of the season, and insured the club of its fifth consecutive winning season, one of only three National League clubs that can lay claim to that distinction.

2003 also marked the end of two baseball's great playing careers. In early June, Matt Williams ended his 17-year career in a Diamondbacks uniform, with his last at bat a pinch RBI single in San Diego to help Arizona beat the Padres on May 31. He was designated for assignment and subsequently released to make room for Hillenbrand. Prior to the final series of the regular season, Mark Grace announced his intention to retire after a 16-year Major League career, going 2-for-3 in his final start on September 27, and appearing as a defensive replacement a day later.

Alex Cintron led the "Baby Backs" attack by establishing himself as an everyday player, hitting .317 with 13 home runs in 117 games

Garagiola wasted little time in revamping the Arizona roster for 2004, with an eye towards adding more power to the offense and giving more opportunities to the young players who had distinguished themselves over the summer. Pitcher Curt Schilling was dealt to Boston on November 28 for pitchers Casey Fossum and Brandon Lyon, then just 3 days later, slugger Richie Sexson and pitcher Shane Nance was acquired from Milwaukee in exchange for 6 players.

Brandon Webb won Baseball America's Rookie-of-the-Year award and finished third in the BBWAA balloting, going 10-9 with the National League's fourth best ERA at 2.84.

Luis Gonzalez is greeted at home plate by Steve Finley and Carlos Baerga after one of his team-leading 26 home runs in 2003.

Jerry Colangelo

Managing General Partner

When Jerry Colangelo left his hometown of Chicago Heights in 1968, little did anyone know the impact he would eventually have on a community nearly 1,750 miles to the southwest. Combining the unique ability to recognize athletic talent and provide instinctive business acumen, Colangelo has served as the architect that has built the Valley of the Sun into one of the top sports mecca's in the United States. In six years he has developed the most successful expansion franchise in major league baseball history, while also dedicating his time to the Phoenix Suns, the franchise that started it all for Colangelo in 1968.

For his tireless efforts, it's certainly no surprise that the The Arizona Republic named him the Most Influential Sports Figure in Arizona during the 20th century. He has also been tabbed by The Arizona Business Journal as the top businessperson in the Valley for the last five years, and nationally, he has been ranked among The Sporting News most powerful people in sports for the last 10 years. Colangelo was also named a finalist for the Basketball Hall of Fame, Class of 2002.

Colangelo delivered a baseball franchise that won three division titles in its first five seasons, including a World Series crown in just its fourth year of existence, a year faster than the 1997 Florida Marlins. While the '97 Marlin squad was dismantled by their ownership immediately following their first title year, the group that is led by Colangelo kept the core of Arizona's first major sport championship club together.

The Diamondbacks have made every effort to put a competitive product on the field every year since the expansion campaign of 1998, posting a winning record in each of the last five seasons. Arizona won back-to-back National League West crowns in 2001-02, highlighted by the World Championship season of 2001. The World Series title came after Colangelo and his staff recognized the need for a philosophical change in the managerial role, and hired team television analyst Bob Brenly to handle the day-to-day operation from the manager's office. The more casual approach proved to be the right mix for a clubhouse full of veterans, something that Colangelo had stated would be the perfect tonic when he made the decision.

A highly visible leader, his typical day during the baseball season begins at America West Arena in the early morning and winds up well into the night at Bank One Ballpark. Despite the hectic schedule, Colangelo is available to the field staff, the players and the media on a daily basis.

The Diamondbacks are the second expansion success story of Colangelo's distinguished career, establishing his reputation in athletics with the Suns, joining the franchise in 1968 as the general manager and climbing through that organization to his present status as Chairman, CEO and Managing General Partner. Coincidence or not, his 1969-70 Phoenix Suns reached the NBA playoffs in just their second season, similar to his 1999 Arizona Diamondbacks, the fastest expansion team to ascend to post-season play in Major League history.

He has been behind the construction of two of the top venues in professional sports, first spearheading the effort to build America West Arena, then leading the charge for Bank One Ballpark, a necessary commodity for Major League Baseball to grant a franchise to the Valley. He also spread his interests into the entertainment area by leading the charge for the new Dodge Theatre in downtown Phoenix, an amazing $35 million state-of-the-art venue designed specifically for concerts, Broadway stage shows, boxing and convention meetings.

"Losing" is not part of his vocabulary, typifying his upbringing in the "Hungry Hill" neighborhood of Chicago Heights. As a youth he was one of the top pitchers on a team that also featured the talents of future New York Yankee Jim Bouton. On the hardwood, Colangelo captured All-State honors, leading Bloom Township to a 49-8 mark and two appearances in the Illinois State Tournament. His athleticism led to 66 college scholarship offers for basketball and seven for professional baseball contracts. He was honored in his old neighborhood with the dedication of the Jerry Colangelo Gymnasium at Bloom Township on November 10, 1996, and Colangelo Way, a street named after him. Currently under construction in Chicago is the Colangelo Center which will house the Italian-American Hall of Fame.

He initially chose to attend the University of Kansas, but transferred to the University of Illinois after prospective teammate, Wilt Chamberlain, decided to sign professionally. A high school arm injury to Colangelo limited his playing career to just two seasons of baseball at Illinois, thus his athletic focus turned to hoops. He earned All-Big Ten honors for the Illini, averaging 15 points a game, served as team captain as a senior and was an eventual inductee in the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame.

Colangelo's professional career in athletics began with the Chicago Bulls as head scout and director of merchandising in 1966. Only two years later he made the now historic move to Phoenix, becoming the youngest general manager in pro sports, taking over the reins of the Suns. He held that role until October, 1987, when he led a group of investors that purchased the Suns franchise for $44.5 million, and he has served as the team CEO since.

In 1993, the same year he earned an unprecedented fourth NBA Executive of the Year award, Colangelo began assembling yet another group of investors that would eventually convince the expansion committee that big league baseball was not just a spring fling in the Valley.

The assertive and confident style of management that directed the Suns to seven consecutive 50-win seasons, and three appearances in the Western Conference finals, was now headed to another major sport. On behalf of the potential ownership group, he negotiated a deal with the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors that enabled the county to fund $238 million toward the construction of what is now Bank One Ballpark. During the same time frame, he helped facilitate the relocation of the NHL's Winnipeg Jets, now the Phoenix Coyotes, arranging the lease agreement for major league hockey in America West Arena.

Hard work and a winning attitude have been a way of life for Colangelo, and those characteristics have been instilled throughout the Diamondbacks' organization. A tour of Bank One Ballpark or America West Arena provides insight into the first class way that Colangelo wishes his franchises to be perceived, not only by the athletes who call Phoenix home, but by the opposition as well.

The respect and presence that Jerry Colangelo established in the NBA quickly surfaced around his brethren in Major League Baseball, as he serves on the MLBAM Internet Committee, the Legislative Committee and Equal Opportunity Committee. As for his original venture into the professional sports field - the NBA, Jerry is the Chairman of the NBA Board of Governors. Commissioner David Stern asked Colangelo to chair a special group in the 2000-01 season that evaluated the state of the game and made rules modifications. Jerry is also a member of the NBA Planning Committee, NBA Advisory/Finance Committee, Chairman of the NBA Expansion Committee and Chairman of the NBA Relocation Committee. His work in basketball earned him a nomination as a finalist for the Basketball Hall of Fame, Class of 2002 and this year in the Class of 2004.

A man who believes in commitment, not only professionally, but within the community, Colangelo has distinguished himself as one of the Valley's most active community leaders. The list of his "off-field" activities reads like a veritable who's who in the region. He is on the Board of Directors of the Phoenix Art Museum, Greater Phoenix Economic Council, Phoenix Community Alliance and Phoenix Suns Charities. He serves as vice president of the Phoenix Downtown Partnership and is chairman of Southwest Leadership Foundation. He is a lifetime member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, an organization dedicated to the promotion of Phoenix through sports and the driving force of the FBR Open golf tournament, easily the most attended single sporting event in the country. He is past chairman of Arizona State University's Dean's Council of 100, on the Honor Board for Junior Achievement of Central Arizona and is past chairman of the board for the Christian Businessmen's Club. Colangelo currently serves as chairman of the board for the Council of Leadership Foundation, chairman of the board for the Collaboration for a New Century, he's on the board of Athletes in Action and is the director and principal partner of Stratford American Corporation, a real estate development company. He is a former president of Valley Big Brothers. He also served as the Honorary Grand Marshal for the 2000 Fiesta Bowl Parade.

As a tribute to the man who has brought so much to a community, Jerry was the subject of a Celebrity Roast last November held before a packed house at the Dodge Theatre. The highly successful event raised $750,000 for the Arizona Diamondbacks and Phoenix Suns Charities. He also received a surprise phone call on January 21 to join President George W. Bush at an area Mexican restaurant with Joe Garagiola Jr., Bob Brenly and Angels' owner Arte Moreno.

Colangelo and his wife, Joan, whom he met on a blind date while at the University of Illinois, have raised a family of four children that includes ten grandchildren. The Colangelo family includes daughters Kathy Holcombe, Kristen Brubaker and Mandie Colangelo, and son, Bryan, who also maintains the Colangelo name on the basketball side, serving as the Suns' president and general manager.

Though his time is always at a premium, he found time to author a book, titled "How You Play the Game," giving insight into the world of the business of sports. Proceeds of the book sales go to YoungLife of Arizona, Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and Phoenix Suns Charities.

Colangelo Changes Valley Landscape

In 36 years in Phoenix, Jerry Colangelo has had a dramatic effect on sports in the Valley of the Sun. Today, Jerry owns four professional sports teams that have two things in common - a commitment to winning, and immediate results to back it up. Here's a look at the accomplishments of the four franchises in their first six years of operation:

Arizona Diamondbacks (MLB) - The best record of any baseball expansion team in history...fastest team in expansion history to win a division title (two years) and World Championship (four years)...2001 World Series Champions, three N.L. West Division titles, five consecutive winning seasons, four Cy Young Award winners, 17 players selected to the All-Star Game.

Phoenix Suns (NBA) - Playoff team in its second season...posted combined 97-67 record in third and fourth years, respectively...11 players selected for NBA All-Star game, including two starters...one All-NBA selection.

Arizona Rattlers (Arena Football) - Five consecutive playoff appearances after narrowly missing playoffs in first season...two ArenaBowl World Championships (1994, 1997)...franchise awarded Executive, Coach and Player-of-the-Year honors in its second season...awarded consecutive AFL Commissioners' Trophies, symbolic of the league's best-run franchise (1996, 1997).

Phoenix Mercury (WNBA) - One of eight charter franchises...three playoff appearances over a four-year period...1998 Western Conference Champions...three WNBA All-Star selections...hosted league's second All-Star Game in 2000.

Richard H. Dozer

President

Named team President on March 9, 1995, the energetic Rich Dozer has kept the family name prominent in major league baseball circles. Raised in a baseball environment, his father Dick Dozer was a nationally renowned sportswriter, covering both the Chicago Cubs and White Sox for the Chicago Tribune. In taking advantage of every opportunity to spend time with his growing boy, Dick allowed his son to accompany him to spring training, where Rich lived out any young man's dream serving as a bat boy for each team.

The family aspect has not been lost on the younger Dozer, who has instilled that quality in all who have come aboard from other organizations. His unpretentious, open-door style has made the Diamondback front office one of the most comfortable and successful franchises in sports. He is passionate about his work and compassionate to those in the community, as evidenced by the '99 post-season when he invited Dwight Patterson to throw out the first pitch prior to the first Division Series game ever played in Bank One Ballpark. Patterson, who lured the Chicago Cubs to the Valley over 50 years ago to start what is now the Cactus League, was one of the most popular sports figures in Arizona. Sadly, the ceremonial first pitch was one of Patterson's final great memories, as the Arizona legend passed away just three days later.

Dozer proved to be the ideal candidate for his current role, possessing the knowledge of the inner workings of a Jerry Colangelo operated sports franchise after working for eight seasons with the Phoenix Suns. He joined the NBA franchise in July 1987 as business manager, and eventually ascended to Vice President and Chief Operating Officer by June of 1989. Responsibilities varied from accounting, finance, ticketing, office administration, insurance, and arena financing and operations. He was also the President of America West Arena and was intimately involved in that facility's development.

Dozer is a former Certified Public Accountant, specializing as an audit manager for clients in sports, hospitality and retail industries.

Though his responsibilities are many during the course of the year, fan comfort and enjoyment at Bank One Ballpark is among his highest priorities. In the last year Dozer has instituted "town hall" type meetings with season ticket holders, giving them a forum to display any concerns or ideas they may have to make the experience more enjoyable during a Diamondbacks game. He also makes the call on opening or closing the roof on a daily basis. The daily timing of the roof closure is vital to ensure that enough sunlight reaches the grass to keep it growing, but also that the ballpark stays cool enough to allow the air conditioning to make the inside comfortable by game time. Dozer not only takes the playing conditions into consideration, but the building temperatures at all seating levels to ensure the comfort of the fans.

Much like Colangelo, Dozer's role is not just about the team, but about community as well. He is the Chairman of the 2004 United Way Campaign, after serving as the 2000/2001 and 2001/2002 Chairman - Alexis de Tocqueville Society, Valley of the Sun United Way. Rich and his wife Karie co-chaired the $4 million capital campaign for United Cerebral Palsy of Central, AZ. Last summer, they celebrated the opening of the Laura Dozer Center, built to serve the needs of families whose children suffer from various disabilities.

He also serves on several boards, including Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, Phoenix & Valley of the Sun Convention and Visitors Bureau, and the Goodwill Industries Honor Board. He is a member of the Greater Phoenix Leadership Membership Committee, the Major League Baseball Enterprises Board of Directors, the Greater Phoenix Economic Council and the City of Phoenix Executive Bond Committee. He is a life member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, an arm of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce that stages the FBR Open each year, one of the top attended single sporting events in the country, and he's also a member of the Phoenix Civic Plaza - Strategic Planning Task Force. He's also on the board of the YMCA, the Dean's Council of 100 for the Arizona State University College of Business, the Arizona Tourism Alliance and the Phoenix Community Alliance.

He possesses a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from the University of Arizona, graduating in 1979. Rich has an 12-year old daughter, Danielle, and he and his wife Karie have a five-year old daughter, Laura Grace, and new arrival, Jack, who was born last October. They make their home in Phoenix.

Joe Garagiola Jr.

Senior Vice President - General Manager

Executives

He has not garnered the national attention of some of his counterparts, but Joe Garagiola has been the architect of an expansion franchise that began play only six seasons ago and has already logged a trio National League West titles and a World Series crown. Since the obligatory growing pains in 1998, the Diamondbacks have recorded five consecutive winning campaigns, joining only five other clubs in Major League Baseball with that distinction.

This past off-season presented a new challenge, cutting the overall payroll while continuing to put a competitive product on the field. Mission accomplished on both counts as the only GM in franchise history engineered a pair of blockbuster trades, sending Curt Schilling to Boston for a quartet of players, then immediately consummating a deal with Milwaukee that brought the coveted bat of Richie Sexson to the Valley to help jumpstart an offense that was stagnant at times in 2003. As if that weren't enough, Garagiola and his staff went to work on filling other voids by signing free agent pitchers Shane Reynolds and Steve Sparks, then landing one of the top second basemen in baseball by procuring 12-time All-Star Roberto Alomar.

As if the winter activity wasn't enough, baseball got a first-hand look last summer at the work that Garagiola and his baseball operations staff had done since the club's inception with the advent of the "Baby Backs", a group of young players that have quickly advanced through Arizona's under-appreciated farm system. The development of pitchers Brandon Webb, Oscar Villarreal, Jose Valverde, catcher Robby Hammock, and infielders Alex Cintron and Matt Kata, kept the Diamondbacks in the Wild Card hunt until the final two weeks of last season, and afforded Garagiola the luxury of making off-season moves.

Under Garagiola's watch, the Diamondbacks have undergone a facelift of sorts since winning the World Championship. A core group featuring Randy Johnson, Luis Gonzalez, Steve Finley, Danny Bautista and a now-healthy Matt Mantei remain from the '01 squad, while Greg Colbrunn is back in Arizona pinstripes via a wintertime trade after spending last year in Seattle. The health of Mantei and emergence of Valverde enabled Garagiola to deal former closer Byung-Hyun Kim to Boston last summer and acquire area prep and college star Shea Hillenbrand from the BoSox.

When the 2001 Fall Classic began, Craig Counsell was the only active Diamondback with a World Series ring, but there was another graduate of the University of Notre Dame who also owned such a ring, and he just happened to be the person who sat in the General Manager's chair at Bank One Ballpark. Joe Garagiola had served 25 years earlier as the general counsel and assistant to the president of the New York Yankees, earning a ring while employed in the Bronx.

Employing the resources provided by ownership, Joe was the foreman of a construction team that assembled the fastest World Series winner in expansion baseball history. He fine tuned a club that had finished 12 games out of the hunt in 2000 after winning 100 games the year before. Included were the signings of Mark Grace and Reggie Sanders, both of whom provided outstanding numbers, while the quiet off-season discovery of Miguel Batista turned into one of the top bargains in the game.

Garagiola's effort was congratulated by the highest of powers when President George W. Bush invited the organization to the White House on December 13, 2001. During the course of the visit, the President couldn't resist bringing up a comparison between himself and Joe Jr. stating, "I've always been suspicious of guys who have a famous father," referring in jest to his father the former President and Joe's dad who has made a name for himself both on and off the field. Garagiola apparently made a friend that day, as President Bush extended an impromptu dinner invitation to Joe, Jerry Colangelo, Bob Brenly and Angels' owner Arte Moreno on January 21 when the President was in the Valley for a speech at Mesa Community College then had dinner with the quartet at a Phoenix-area Mexican restaurant.

The changes leading up to 2001 were far less dramatic than those he engineered in turning this club from a 65-win inaugural season to the 100-win squad for the greatest single-season turnaround in major league history. Featuring players from the expansion draft, trades, free agency and the amateur draft, the Diamondbacks jelled as a team quicker than any previous expansion effort, winning a division title six years sooner than any other first-year franchise. Garagiola's preparatory work for 1999 did not go unnoticed, as he finished third in Executive-of-the-Year balloting.

Following the inaugural campaign of '98, Garagiola immediately went to work to overhaul the roster, signing key free agents that included the likes of Johnson, Finley, Colbrunn, Todd Stottlemyre, Greg Swindell and Armando Reynoso. Garagiola then went to work with other GM's, acquiring key pieces to the puzzle via the trade route. One of the least publicized yet most productive deals came during the Christmas holidays with Detroit, as the Diamondbacks received Luis Gonzalez and cash considerations from the Tigers in exchange for Karim Garcia. Still seeking a leadoff hitter, Garagiola delivered during the second week of spring training, acquiring Tony Womack from Pittsburgh in exchange for a pair of minor leaguers. Womack's 4 1/2-year stint with Arizona was highlighted by a pair of huge hits that led to the 2001 World Series title.

Once the '99 campaign was underway the Diamondbacks hovered near the top in the N.L. West, but it became apparent that more bullpen help was a necessity. Garagiola solidified the pen with the mid-July acquisition of Mantei in a package that sent three players to Florida. The arrival of Mantei helped stake the Arizona bullpen to the second best ERA in the National League.

Garagiola joined the Diamondbacks in March, 1995, when the franchise was awarded to the region, but it was his work on the Arizona Baseball Commission that served as a driving force in procuring major league baseball for the Valley. He served as vice-chairman of the Governor's Cactus League Task Force, and was a member of the Mayor's Professional Baseball Committee. From there he branched out to the Maricopa County Sports Authority, serving as chairman. Garagiola was also chairman of the Arizona Baseball Commission, the group best known for completing the task of convincing existing major league clubs that Phoenix and the region were ready to possess their own club. Garagiola made his move to the Valley in 1982, applying his law practice to the firm of Gallagher and Kennedy. His concentration was on sports law, and he was the chairman of the Phoenix Metropolitan Sports Foundation from 1985-87.

Joe was the 1998 recipient of the prestigious Institute of Human Relations Award from the American Jewish Committee. He was named the 1999 Anti-Defamation League "Leader of Distinction," and the 2003 "Father of the Year" by the Father's Day Council. He is also a life member of the Fiesta Bowl Committee, as well as the Thunderbirds, the group that procures and distributes charitable money through the highly successful FBR Open.

Joe graduated from the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, IN, earning a B.A. cum laude in 1972. He earned his law degree from Georgetown University Law Center (J.D., 1975), and is admitted to practice law in Arizona, California and New York. He and his wife, Noel, have four children, Meredith, Valerie, Natalie and Christopher, and make their home in Scottsdale.

Sandy Johnson

Vice President - Sr. Assistant General Manager

Sandy has served the Diamondbacks as Assistant General Manager since April 1, 1998, and after his second consecutive off-season promotion, he is now Vice President and Senior Assistant General Manager. Originally a major league scout and Special Assistant to the General Manager, he played an integral part in preparation for the expansion draft, supplying a lifetime of knowledge and scouting experience.

Highly respected throughout the game of baseball, he received an award this past January from the President of the Dominican Republic, Hipolito Mejia, in recognition of his efforts through the years with Latin American players, particularly the relationships that Sandy has cultivated in the Dominican Republic. It was not the first time that a President of a country recognized Johnson, who was singled out by President George W. Bush in December, 2001, when the Diamondbacks paid a visit to the White House after winning the World Series title. The current President and former owner of the Rangers made a point to stop and talk with Sandy as he was exiting the East Room following his remarks to the team and media.

In addition to Johnson's responsibilities with the Diamondbacks, he was a member of the USA Baseball Selection Committee, the group that chose the 24-man roster that made-up the Gold Medal winning squad in the 2000 Olympics in Sydney.

Signing out of high school with the Pirates' organization, Sandy broke into professional baseball with the Pittsburgh organization in 1959, playing with Hall of Famer Willie Stargell in San Angelo, TX. Johnson finished his career as a player/coach in the Pirates' minor league system. He scouted and managed with the Seattle Pilots organization during their brief history, then followed the franchise to Milwaukee when they became the Brewers. Sandy managed for three seasons in that chain after the move, which included a Midwest League title with Danville in 1971.

After serving as a full-time scout for the Brewers in 1973-74, Sandy joined the Major League Scouting Bureau, serving as the Eastern Supervisor until 1981. He then joined the San Diego Padres as their Director of Scouting working there through the championship season of '84. While with the Padres, Johnson's ability to recognize and sign talent began to show in earnest, with the signings of youngsters Benito Santiago, Mitch Williams and Sandy Alomar, Jr.

The who's who of signings continued as his career moved to Texas, as Assistant General Manager and serving in Player Personnel and Scouting. While with the Rangers, Sandy was instrumental in acquiring Juan Gonzalez, Pudge Rodriguez, Sammy Sosa, Rich Aurilia and pitchers Kevin Brown and Robb Nen.

Raised in South San Gabriel, CA, Sandy was inducted into the RBI Hall of Fame in February, 1999, joining a list of prestigious previous honorees that include Duke Snider, Eddie Murray, Tom Lasorda and Ozzie Smith.

Sandy and his wife, Linda, make their home in Phoenix. They have three children, Matthew, Bethany Gehrman and Dane, and four grandsons, Stefan, Leo and August Gehrman, and Lars Johnson.

Bob Miller

Assistant General Manager

After spending three years as Director of Baseball Operations, Bob received an off-season promotion and now serves as the Diamondbacks' Assistant General Manager. Now in his 22nd year in baseball and sixth with Arizona, he has numerous administrative responsibilities in Scouting and Player Development and assists the General Manager in all phases of baseball operations, including arbitration cases, contract negotiations, waiver rules and interpretation and computer work. Prior to arriving in the Valley, Bob working for 16 years in the minors, applying his baseball knowledge to a variety of stops. He was the Executive General Manager of the Amarillo Dillas of the independent Texas-Louisiana League, joining the organization prior to the '99 season, after a year as the Vice President of Baseball Operations in the league's Abilene (TX) office.

Prior to his work in the Texas-Louisiana League, Miller spent 14 seasons with the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, serving in a variety of roles. He began with the National Association in 1983 as the Director of Records and Computer Operations, overseeing the free agent program, reserve lists, qualification register, approval of Rule 4 Draft signings, free agent signings and rules interpretations. In 1994, he was named the Executive Director of Business and Finance, supervising the Minor League commissioner's office baseball operations finances.

A long-time Florida resident, Bob graduated with honors with a B.S. in Finance from the University of South Florida. He and his wife, Chris, make their home in Phoenix.

Tommy Jones

Director of Player Development

An organization original, Tommy Jones has a variety of responsibilities that run year-round, including coordination between minor league general managers, field managers, coaches and trainers. A field manager at virtually every minor league level, Tommy recognizes the necessities of a minor league franchise and keeps his focus on the development of players at every level.

The 2003 season showed that the Diamondbacks' organization has assembled a strong minor league system, sending 13 rookies to play with the big league club. In addition, the farm system had 22 statistical league leaders in 2003, which tied with Philadelphia for the top spot in the minors.

Jones came to Arizona after a 12-year minor league managerial career that included seven Manager-of-the-Year honors.

After concluding a minor league playing career in the San Diego and San Francisco organizations (1976-81), Tommy went to work as a manager in the Kansas City organization. It was an eventful five years in the Royals' chain, from managing Bo Jackson in his first professional season at Memphis to being a member of the big league coaching staff the year that Kansas City won the World Series in 1985.

Jones' minor league travelogue also included stops in the organizations of the New York Yankees, Seattle Mariners, Milwaukee Brewers and Chicago Cubs, managing in each chain. He managed the Rookie League Lethbridge club in 1997.

Jones has a B.A. degree in pre-law studies from the University of the Pacific, where he played collegiately. He and wife, Joan, have two children, Sarah and Tyler, and make their home in Scottsdale.

Mike Rizzo

Director of Scouting

Mike is in his fifth full season as the Director of Scouting for the Diamondbacks, a role that has him traveling the globe throughout the year to procure talent that will hopefully find its way to Bank One Ballpark. Responsible for all facets of scouting, including draft strategy and selections in the June First-Year Player Draft, Rizzo operates a department of 46 while also controlling the scouting operations budget. Scouting has not off-season as Mike spends part of his winter in the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Mexico, Panama, Venezuela and the United States, in addition to attending the Caribbean World Series.

The 2004 season is Mike's 22nd year in pro ball, a career that began with a four-year stint as a minor league player in the California Angels' system. Once his playing career ended, he served as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois while completing his Bachelor of Arts in Communications. The Illinois-native began his professional scouting career with the Chicago White Sox, where he served as Midwest and Southeast territorial scout, during which time he inked future two-time American League MVP Frank Thomas. Rizzo's stint with the White Sox was followed by a six-year stay with the Boston Red Sox, where his responsibilities included area supervisor, international scout and major league advance scout.

He first arrived in the Valley in 1998, serving the Diamondbacks as Central region supervisor prior to his promotion to Director. In his four years overseeing the scouting department, Rizzo has placed an emphasis on drafting players with collegiate baseball experience. Of the first 20 draft picks in each of his first four drafts, Rizzo and his staff have successfully made 93% (74 of 80) part of the organization. Following the 2003 draft, Mike and his staff inked contracts with 24 of the first 25 players selected by the club. Among the players drafted under Mike's regime was pitcher Brandon Webb, who was named Baseball America's 2003 Rookie of the Year. In the most recent Baseball America listing of the team's top 30 prospects, 26 were signed by Rizzo, including every member of the top 10.

Mike was raised in Chicago, lettering in baseball, basketball and football at Holy Cross High School. He and his wife, Sheila, have a son, Michael Jr. (2/15/90) and make their home in Scottsdale.

Fred Seymour

Assistant Director of Player Development

Fred joined the Diamondbacks on January 12 after serving for the past year as the Director of Operations for the Arizona Fall League. He assists in the day-to-day operation of the D'Backs Baseball Department with an emphasis on assisting Tommy Jones and the minor league system.

Seymour's professional baseball career began in Cleveland's scouting and minor league department in 1993, followed by 7 seasons with the Boston Red Sox in a variety of roles, including the General Manager position with Sarasota (A) in 1998. He first joined the Fall League in 2001 as the Director of Operations, then spent the 2002 campaign as the Assistant Director of Player Development for Montreal before returning to the AFL last year.

Fred is a 1991 graduate of Rollins (FL) College, where he lettered in baseball. He is single and makes his home in Phoenix.

Roger Riley

Director of Team Travel

Roger is in his seventh season with the Diamondbacks, beginning as the Director of Team Travel in the winter of 1997, then adding the duties of Clubhouse Manager prior to the World Series season of 2001. As if being a member of a World Championship wasn't enough, he capped that year by earning the 2001 Traveling Secretary of the Year award, as voted his peers in major league baseball. Aside from his regular duties on the road, he assists baseball operations when the needs arise regarding player transactions and computer work.

Roger doesn't have much of an "off-season" as evidenced by his departure for the MLB clubhouse manager meetings just 72 hours after the Diamondbacks won the World Series title in 2001. He spends the majority of the winter signing hotel and charter aircraft contracts for the upcoming year. As the season commences he arranges for ground transportation in each city and makes sure the hotel is prepared for the team's arrival with room keys in hand, regardless of the hour. Roger is also in charge of dispensing meal money to the traveling party, and handles player ticket requests both at home and on the road.

His role with the Diamondbacks also includes work on the schedule, and making sure that game times both at home and on the road are within the guidelines of Major League Baseball. Riley also works on the exhibition schedule with other Cactus League clubs and coordinates the travel plans for all players and staff members as they prepare for the six-week stay in Tucson.

Baseball was far from uncharted territory for Riley, who played college ball at the University of Kansas. It was there he began working as a statistician, and spent 19 years with a variety of network television assignments, including the Bowl Championship Series title game in the Sugar Bowl in 2000. Upon joining the Padres in 1990, Roger was the Assistant Director of Media Relations, then for two seasons worked as both the Director of Media Relations and the Travel Director. He departed from the media chair after the '96 season and combined his travel responsibilities with Baseball Administration, working with the General Manager.

He and his wife, Donna, have three daughters, Taylor, Shannon and Ashley, and make their home in Chandler.

Mike Swanson

Director of Public Relations

Simply known as "Swanee," the 2004 season is Mike's 26th in major league baseball. His arrival in Arizona has been far from uneventful, capped in 2002 by earning the prestigious Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence. The award, named after the long-time baseball executive, goes to the "Active, non-uniformed representative of Major League Baseball whose ethics, character, dedication, service, professionalism and humanitarianism best represents the standards propounded by Robert O. Fishel." The honor came a year after working for his first-ever World Series champion, and two years after serving as the Public Relations liaison for the MLB All-Star squad that played an eight-game series in Japan in November, 2000.

The Diamondbacks are the second straight franchise start-up for Swanson, who had a similar experience with the Colorado Rockies, joining that organization in 1992, a year before they played their first game in the National League. After six years with the Rockies, Swanee joined Arizona immediately following the '97 season. He has also worked in the Public Relations departments for the Kansas City Royals and San Diego Padres.

Though baseball is his passion, Swanson has had the opportunity to be involved in all sports throughout his life. His mother, the late Betty Swanson, worked for both the Kansas City Athletics and Chiefs over a 36-year span, and oftentimes had the younger Swanson tagging along, working in the equipment rooms for both franchises, and traveling with the Chiefs during their glory years of the early 70's.

Around his baseball career, Swanee has also served as a statistician, starting in 1977 with Keith Jackson on college football and evolving into stints with Monday Night Football, and the sharing of booth space with some of the top announcers in sports. He was recruited to join CBS Sports when current Suns' announcer Gary Bender was calling the play-by-play for NCAA Basketball. All totaled his statistical resume featured six Final Fours, six Super Bowls, four NFC Championship Games, five Sugar Bowls and six Cotton Bowls.

Swanson, 49, his wife Renee, five-year old daughter Rachel Elizabeth, and their yellow lab Rocky reside in Chandler.

Diamondbacks Business Vice Presidents

Scott Brubaker
Senior Vice President of Marketing and Sales

Executives

In 1995, Scott Brubaker was asked to bring his successful creative marketing skills from the America West Arena across the street to the Arizona Diamondbacks. The move has proven mutually beneficial to Scott and the Diamondbacks, as it was he who has led the charge on some truly innovative marketing and entertaining concepts including the famous MasterCard Pool Pavilion swimming pool in the right field bleachers of Bank One Ballpark.

Other innovations at Bank One Ballpark for which Brubaker and his staff are responsible, include the naming of the Infiniti Diamond Level, the first time a level of a stadium or arena has been corporately sponsored, but a practice that is now commonplace in the industry. Bank One Ballpark is also recognized throughout the industry as being one of the friendliest venues in the country.

Brubaker, 39, joined the Suns as a sales and marketing representative in 1986, soon after graduating from the University of Illinois. He quickly climbed the organization's corporate ladder, serving as director of marketing for the America West Arena and VP of operations for Phoenix Arena Sports, which included the operation of the two-time ArenaBowl World Champion, Arizona Rattlers, as well as the Arizona Sandsharks (Continental Indoor Soccer League), the Phoenix Smash (World Team Tennis) and NHL neutral sight hockey games. Additionally, Brubaker and PAS were the co-promoters for Oscar De La Hoya's first-ever pro fight.

As the senior vice president of marketing and sales, he is charged with guiding the club's sales efforts through a downturn in sports spending and in the face of unparalleled competition in the Phoenix sports and entertainment marketplace. Brubaker's other responsibilities include overall management of the Diamondbacks' sales and marketing efforts, corporate partnerships, game operations, luxury suite sales, broadcasting, community affairs, Hispanic marketing and Tucson operations. Additionally, he oversees all of the advertising, branding and positioning within the club's marketing territory. In 2002, Scott was recognized for his accomplishments as he was named to the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal's "Forty Under Forty" list identifying the sporting industry's top forty executives under the age of forty.

He is busy outside the office as well, serving on several boards such as Lost Canyon Executive Committee for Young Life of Arizona, the American Cancer Society Chairman's Circle, Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, and is also a member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds. He is also a passionate and extremely competitive golfer. Scott and his wife, Krissie, have four children: daughters Hilary, Heather and Hannah, and son Jayce.

Tom Harris

Senior Vice President of Finance

Tom joined the Arizona Diamondbacks as the Vice President of Finance in July of 1995. In charge of the entire operating budget, Harris and his accounting staff work in concert with each department to maintain their individual budgets. He also supervises all general accounting activities, and ensures operations are in accordance with ownership goals and objectives.

Harris came to the Diamondbacks by way of the Phoenix Suns and the America West Arena, where he was the Financial Controller of the Arena for two years. Prior to entering the sports industry, he was employed by Gene A. Schwarzkopf, CPA, Ltd. for three years.

A native of Winslow, an Arizona town that the Eagles made famous in the song "Take it Easy," Tom graduated in accounting from Arizona State University, and earned a Master's in Taxation from ASU in December 1992. He began his professional career in 1985 at Arthur Andersen & Co.

Away from the ballpark, Tom serves on the boards of Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and Esperanca, Inc. He is also a member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, the group that stages the FBR Open each year. He is also an advisor to the Arizona State University MBA Sports Business Program. He and his wife, Kathleen, have four children, Sean, Sarah, Kelly and Katie, and make their home in Phoenix.

Dianne Aguilar

Senior Vice President of Ticket Operations and Special Services

Dianne has 27 years of ticketing experience, which included an impressive array of sporting events in the Valley before joining the Diamondbacks. She supervised ticketing for Arizona State's 1987 Rose Bowl appearance, the NBA Finals, the opening of America West Arena and the NBA All-Star Game.

Born in Phoenix and a graduate of both Tempe High School and Arizona State University, her ticketing career began in the Athletic Ticket Office of ASU during her days as a student in 1976. While still a student, she was promoted to ticket manager and during her tenure, the Sun Devils played in the '87 Rose Bowl and Sun Devil Stadium was expanded to its current size.

In 1990, Dianne was named ticket manager for the Phoenix Suns and was later named Director of Ticket Operations for the move to America West Arena. One of her monumental tasks was determining seating assignments for season ticket holders from Veterans Memorial Coliseum into the new facility. This was a skill that came in handy during the seat selection process for the opening of Bank One Ballpark.

Dianne's favorite sport, baseball, was the one she had not worked and she jumped at the chance to join the Diamondbacks as V.P. of Ticket Operations and Special Services. Her responsibilities include supervision of all ticketing, the luxury suites at Bank One Ballpark, guest services, working with the ADA (American Disabilities Act) to ensure the stadium is handicap accessible and overseeing the Tours Department.

Mark Fernandez

Vice President of Corporate Sales

Mark was promoted to his current role of Vice President of Corporate Sales in the spring of 2001, after spending nearly two seasons as the Diamondbacks' Vice President of Community Affairs. His main responsibilities include supervising all aspects of team sponsorship sales, marketing and execution, including new business development. He also oversees the team's Hispanic Marketing and Broadcasting, Tucson Operations and Game Operations departments. Though now involved on the sales side, Mark remains a part of the club's community efforts, including membership on the Diamondbacks Charities Board.

His initial tenure with the organization was a three-year stint as the Director of Operations in Tucson, representing both the Diamondbacks and the Chicago White Sox in the development and construction of Tucson Electric Park while establishing a marketing and community presence in southern Arizona.

Returning to sales and marketing as his primary focus was a homecoming for Fernandez, who joined the America West Arena/Phoenix Suns organization in January, 1992, serving as Director of Marketing and Booking for the arena, setting numerous attendance records for national touring events. Mark also supervised guest services and was Director of Game Operations for Phoenix Arena Sports.

As is consistent with the majority of Diamondbacks' personnel, Mark gives back when away from the office, serving on the Board of Directors of the Valley of the Sun United Way, St. Joseph's Hospital and the America West Airlines Education Foundation. He and his wife, Trudie, and children, Grace, Jamie and Eden, make their home in Phoenix.

Scott Geyer

Vice President of Broadcasting

Scott's endless hours of work began in 1995 as he prepared the organization for its live television productions, as well as provided design insight into the construction of Bank One Ballpark from the media point of view. The Diamondbacks had the right man providing that information, as Geyer is in his 23rd year of sports television, serving the club as the Director for each game telecast throughout the year.

Prior to his move to the Diamondbacks, Geyer spent 10 years as Producer/Director of the Phoenix Suns television package, while also managing the production and post-production division of America West Arena since it opened in 1992. His baseball television resume includes directing a major league package for FOX Sports Net and a five-year stint directing AAA baseball in the Valley in the 1980's.

Geyer is a native of the San Francisco Bay Area and graduated from San Diego State University with a degree in broadcast journalism, prior to making the Valley his home in 1980. Scott and his wife Lisa have two sons, Adam (10) and Travis (7).

Rob Kiese

Vice President of Sales

Rob was promoted to his current role as Vice President of Sales during the off-season prior to the 2002 campaign. He has been with the Diamondbacks since 1996, joining the organization as a sales manager with the task of turning 42,000 season-ticket deposits into actual season-ticket holders. He was promoted to Director of Sales in 1997 and held that position until his most recent ascension.

A veteran of 18 years of event sales experience, Kiese was no stranger to the Phoenix sports scene prior to joining the Diamondbacks, making the move to the Valley from Houston in 1984 and joining the Phoenix Suns as a sales representative. He was promoted to sales manager in 1985 and stayed with the NBA franchise until joining the then Phoenix Cardinals as Director of Sales in 1989, working there through the 1992 season.

Rob is a 1978 graduate of Bowling Green State University. His first event sales position was with the Alley Theatre in Houston, TX. He and his wife, Bobbi, who is an attorney in the Valley, make their home in central Phoenix. When away from their respective offices, Rob and Bobbi have played softball in the Phoenix Co-ed Rec League for the past 18 years. Kiese is on the Board of Directors for the American Red Cross Grand Canyon Chapter.

Bank One Ballpark and America West Arena Vice Presidents

Alvan Adams Vice President - Facility Management

As Alvan Adams makes his rounds at Bank One Ballpark and America West Arena, area fans recognize the former Phoenix Sun whose number "33" jersey hangs proudly at AWA. The Suns' first round choice in the 1975 draft, Alvan earned league Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1976 to jumpstart an outstanding NBA career.

Adams retired from the hardwood in 1988 but returned a year later having turned his attention to the development of America West Arena. He took on the same task with the construction of Bank One Ballpark in 1996. He was named to his present role in 1999, overseeing both sports and entertainment facilities.

Once he completed his NBA career, Alvan returned to the University of Oklahoma, earning a Bachelor's Degree. His civic involvement revolves around his interest in working with youth and the historic preservation of Phoenix.

Alvan and his wife, Sara, have two children, Justin and Emily, and make their home in Paradise Valley.

Russ Amaral Vice President - Event Services

Russ is in his fifth year as Vice President of Event Services for both the America West Arena and Bank One Ballpark. His job scope entails him overseeing guest services issues, event operations and off-season coordination of Ballpark special events.

He saw a World Series operation first-hand in 2000 when he was invited by Major League Baseball to assist with stadium operations during the "Subway Series" at both Shea and Yankee Stadiums. This proved a valuable experience the following year as the Diamondbacks successfully hosted games 1, 2, 6 and 7 of the 2001 World Series against the New York Yankees and became the "fastest ever" expansion team to win a championship.

Amaral has been with the organization for 12 years, having held positions as a Guest Services Representative, Department Manager, Event Coordinator and Director of Ballpark Services.

Amaral is a graduate of Oregon State University, earning a degree in Business Administration. He and his wife, Beverly, make their home in Phoenix.

George Bevans Vice President - Security and Risk Management

George is responsible for developing and implementing safety and security plans for Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre. Utilizing over thirty years of experience, Bevans has designed and implemented security and safety plans for such major events as the NBA Finals, NBA All-Star Game, the 2001 World Series and numerous concerts and special events.

George began his career in 1968 as a military police officer and continues to provide his hands-on approach to solving organizational safety and security problems to this day.

Bill Bolt

Vice President - Information Systems

When Bill joined the organization in 1991 as the Suns' Director of Information Systems, the computer count totaled five, but that figure has since grown to nearly 600 while he has been promoted to Vice President. He oversees the computer needs for all entities of Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre.

Bill's role with the Diamondbacks and Suns is not his first work in professional sports, spending five seasons as the Director of Information Systems for the NFL's Minnesota Vikings. Bolt split his formative years between Detroit, MI, and Cleveland, OH, growing up a fan of both the Tigers and Indians. He then attended the University of Minnesota.

Bill and his wife, Kathie, make their home in north Scottsdale.

Bob Nanberg

Vice President - Merchandising

Bob joined the Team Shop in May, 1998, bringing 32 years of retail experience with Major National Retailers. He was the Principal in a national women's accessory chain from 1986-95.

In addition to the Team Shop, Nanberg is involved with the Salvation Army, Arizona Humane Society and Sunshine Acres Children's Home.

Bob and his wife, Cheryl, have two grown sons, and two dogs.

Tom O'Malley

Vice President and General Counsel

Tom is in his fifth season with the Diamondbacks as the chief legal officer as well as the organization's other entities, the Phoenix Suns, the Phoenix Mercury, Arizona Rattlers, America West Arena and Team Shops.

O'Malley worked for the law firm Fennemore Craig and represented businesses in all facets of commercial law. While with the firm Gallagher and Kennedy he assisted in the drafting of documents for Bank One Ballpark and also worked on cases related to trademark infringement, fraud and breach of contract. O'Malley was a founder of Insight Computers, growing the company from five employees to multi-million dollars in sales in just four years.

O'Malley graduated from the University of Kansas in 1987 before attending University of Arizona Law School. He and his wife, Laura, are the parents of Erin (7) and Tara (6).

Paige Peterson

Vice President of Bank One Ballpark

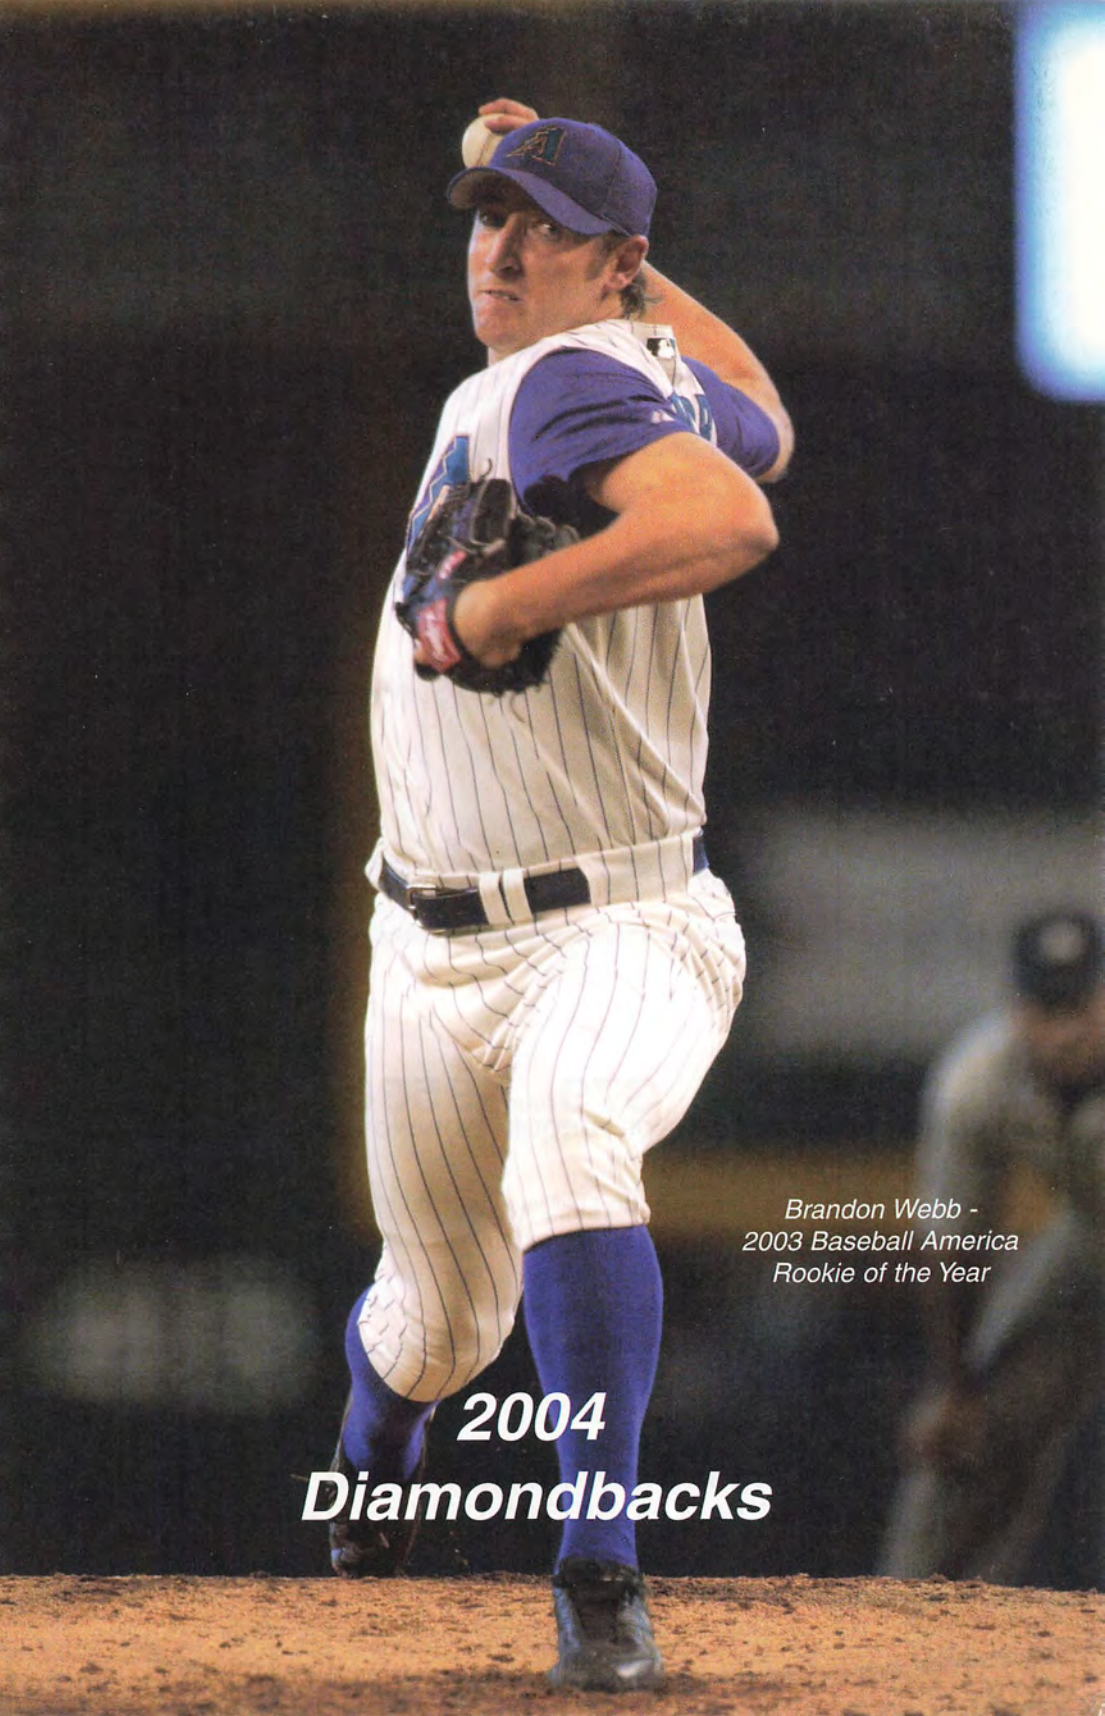

As President and General Manager of Sports and Entertainment Services, LLC (SES), Paige oversees all operations of Bank One Ballpark, America West Arena and the Dodge Theatre. He joined the organization in 1995 as Controller of America West Arena, where his responsibilities included budgeting, financial reporting and settlement of events held at the arena. When SES was formed in 1999, Paige was promoted to his current position.

Prior to coming on board, Paige spent four years in public accounting with Arthur Andersen in Phoenix. He graduated from the University of Arizona, earning a degree in accounting and finance.

Paige and his wife, Jody, have two sons, and make their home in Phoenix.

A great team, at home or on the road.

Bob Brenly

15

Manager

Ht: 6-2

Wt: 210

Age: 50

Born: February, 25, 1954 in Coshocton, OH

Residence: Scottsdale, AZ

Former Position: Catcher

Bob is in his fourth season at the helm, recording a 274-212 ledger (.564) during his first 3 campaigns, highlighted by a pair of National League Western Division crowns, including a National League and World Series championship in 2001... last year's 84-78 squad marked his first non-title club as a skipper, with injuries and inconsistency haunting the D'Backs from the outset... Arizona started the year with only 2 wins in their first 11 games and combined with San Francisco's red-hot start, the Diamondbacks found themselves 10 1/2 games removed from the top spot just 23 games into the campaign... adding to the stress of the slow start, co-aces Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling each missed significant stretches with injuries, while other key components including Craig Counsell, Matt Mantei, Danny Bautista and Junior Spivey, just to name a few, spent time on the shelf... the resiliency that has been a trait of Brenly-run clubs continued to prevail as the year progressed as a youth-infused group rallied for the best month of June in franchise history by going 20-6, highlighted by a club record 12-game winning streak to close the month... the D'Backs whittled their division deficit to just 5.0 games heading into the All-Star break, but a disastrous post-break stretch in which the club went just 4-11 dropped Arizona to 12 1/2 games back entering August... despite not participating in post-season play for the first time under Brenly's watch, the 2003 season afforded the skipper and his staff the opportunity to get a first-hand look at the future as 13 different rookies were utilized during the course of the year, featuring major contributors Brandon Webb, Oscar Villarreal, Jose Valverde, Alex Cintron, Robby Hammonck and Matt Kata... the injuries and Brenly's "hot-hand" approach to managing resulted in the penciling of 146 different lineups during the '03 campaign, 5 more than he employed in 2002... success came early and often for B.B. in his first two years as a major league skipper, recording back-to-back N.L. West titles, featuring a World Series triumph in his rookie year as a manager... the 50-year old former player, coach and broadcaster joined Houston's Larry Dierker as the only managers to capture division titles in their first two seasons... ironically, both Brenly and Dierker returned to wearing a uniform and began managing after successful stints in their club's respective broadcast booths... Bob was named the second manager in franchise history when he took over the reins on October 30, 2000... the club's success in 2001 afforded Brenly the opportunity to manage the National League All-Star team in Milwaukee in 2002, and though it was fodder for critics to challenge the outcome of the tie game, it was one of the most exciting Midsummer Classics ever played, with every member of both teams given the opportunity to play.

A WORLD CHAMPION SKIPPER IN YEAR ONE—Bob's rookie campaign in the hot seat was nothing short of brilliant as he led the Diamondbacks to the World Series title in the organization's fourth year of operation... capped by the memorable ninth inning comeback in the seventh game against the Yankees, Brenly became the fourth skipper in history with no previous managerial experience to win the Fall Classic, first since Ralph Houk called the shots for the Bronx Bombers in 1961 against Cincinnati... Bucky Harris (1924-Senators) and Eddie Dyer (1946-Cardinals) complete the four-some of first-year success stories who won World Series titles... Brenly was the first rookie manager to reach the Series since Jim Frey led Kansas City against the Phillies in 1980, and the first in the National League since Sparky Anderson of the 1970 Reds... B.B. was also the 20th overall manager to take a team to the World Series in his first full year at the helm, the ninth in the N.L.... Arizona's wins in Games #1 and #2 of the Series made Brenly the only manager with no previous experience to win his first 2 World Series games... he used 123 different lineup combinations during the regular season followed by 15 different lineups out of 17 games in the post-season... no better example of Brenly's style prevailed during the World Series when he chose to put Danny Bautista in the lineup after spending the majority of the season as an extra, and the outfielder responded by hitting .583 (7-for-12) in 5 games against the Yankees... also part of the Brenly approach when the year began was to attempt to eliminate unnecessary innings for his 1-2 punch of Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling, and the theory paid off with the duo combining to go 9-1 with a 1.30 ERA in the post-season, capped by sharing the MVP honors in the World Series... by finishing as the last team standing, the Brenly-led Diamondbacks raised the trophy in a major league record fourth season, a year quicker than the 1997 Florida Marlins... he was also the first rookie skipper to reach a League Championship Series since Toronto's Cito Gaston in 1989, and the first to reach an NLCS since Houston's Hal Lanier in 1986.

FROM THE BOOTH TO THE BENCH—When the Diamondbacks were looking to fill their managerial void after the 2000 season, the organization didn't have far to go to find their new skipper, as Bob spent the first 3 seasons of the club's history watching the action from the comfort of the television booth... he surrendered his spot upstairs at D'Back games as well as "the best seat in the house" at his weekly FOX Network assignment to sign a 3-year contract to manage the club... his broadcast career began immediately following his retirement as a player, joining the WGN radio crew in Chicago and working alongside Thom Brennaman and Harry Caray for two seasons... Brenly then took advantage of an opportunity to put the uniform back on in 1992, joining Roger Craig's staff as bullpen coach with the San Francisco Giants... he remained in uniform after a managerial change in the Bay Area, working on Dusty Baker's staff for the first 3 years of Baker's lengthy stay with the Giants...Bob went to spring training for a possible fourth year as a coach with the Giants in 1996, but two weeks into camp received a phone call from his old running mate in Chicago, as Brenneman advised him of the opportunity at FOX...a flight to Los Angeles and a rehearsal tape later, Brenly was again leaving the uniform for the booth...Bob's insight into the game earned him annual work in the FOX booth for all of the network's marquee baseball events including the All-Star Game, League Championship Series and World Series...when Brenneman was named to describe the action for the expansion Diamondbacks, he made the recommendation of bringing his network TV partner to Arizona and the duo was together when the club debuted in 1998.

TOOLS OF IGNORANCE???—There seems to be room for discussion on the alleged "ignorance" of catchers since 9 former receivers are managing major league clubs this year...joining Brenly are Bruce Bochy (San Diego), Bob Melvin (Seattle), Tony Pena (Kansas City), Mike Scioscia (Anaheim), Joe Torre (New York Yankees), Ned Yost (Milwaukee), Eric Wedge (Cleveland) and Jack McKeon (Florida), who was signed as a minor league catcher in 1949...the last 6 World Series titles have been won by managers who spent their playing career behind the plate (Torre 1998-2000), Brenly (2001), Scioscia (2002) and McKeon (2003).

PLAYING CAREER—Bob signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Giants after graduating from Ohio University in 1976...after 5+ years of minor league action, including the better part of 2 seasons with the Phoenix Giants, he was summoned to San Francisco in August, 1981, making his big league debut just a couple of hours away from his hometown of Coshocton, OH, when he played in Cincinnati on August 14...while that was a memorable day in his life, his debut at bat in Candlestick Park on August 28 made an even bigger splash when he homered off of Pittsburgh's Rod Scurry...his 1982 season started slowly after breaking his collarbone in spring training but when Brenly appeared for the first time on May 14 he delivered a 2-out single in the eighth inning to break up Steve Carlton's bid for a no-hitter...Bob made a solid impression to open the 1983 season, homering and knocking in 4 on Opening Day, but his most consistent work offensively lasted the entire 1984 campaign...he established career bests in virtually every category, finishing with a .291 average with 28 doubles, 20 homers and 80 RBI...he hit .316 in the first half and was named to the N.L. All-Star team, allowing him to play before the home crowd at Candlestick Park in the Midsummer Classic...his season climaxed when he was voted winner of the Willie Mac Award by his teammates...the '84 season also featured his first career grand slam off of Atlanta's Pete Falcone on June 6 in Candlestick...he was the N.L. Player-of-the-Week for August 20-26, hitting .440 with 4 homers and 14 RBI...he started the following week with an inside-the-park, game-winning home run at Montreal on August 29...Bob was Giants' Player-of-the-Month for August, hitting .312 with 8 homers and 29 RBI...though he never duplicated the numbers of 1984, Brenly recorded 73 home runs over a 4-year stretch from 1984-87...with 19 home runs in 1985, he was the first Giant catcher to lead the team in homers in 100 years when Buck Ewing hit 6 of the team's 16 in 1885...the 1986 season had its share of high points, but he will often be remembered for a game on September 14 against Atlanta that was full of the highs and the lows...on that afternoon, B.B. became just the fourth player since 1900 to commit 4 errors in an inning...playing third base, he was charged with 3 fielding and 1 throwing miscue in the fourth inning, but he reciprocated by knocking in 4 runs on 3 hits, featuring 2 home runs including a game-ending blast off of Paul Assenmacher...for the second time in his career he victimized a potential no-hitter by a Phillie hurler, breaking up Don Carman's bid for a perfect game with a leadoff double in the ninth inning on August 20...Bob had his fourth and final double-digit homer season in 1987, featuring a 3-run pinch-hit home run in Candlestick Park on May 12 off St. Louis' Ricky Horton, the 500th hit of Brenly's career...he had blasted the second grand slam of his career just 2 days earlier off of Houston's Mike Scott...his last home run of the year was a 10th inning game-winner to beat Atlanta on the final day of the season, and was the 205th blast by the Giants in 1987 to set a team record...Brenly started 5 games of the NLCS against St. Louis, delivering a home run in Game #4 off of Danny Cox...Bob never got it going offensively in 1988 hitting just .189 in 73 games...he delivered his sixth career 2-homer game on May 8 at Wrigley Field and tied a career-best with 5 RBI on August 7 in Atlanta...1989 was his last as a player and began as a free agent signee in Toronto...he was used mainly as a DH, playing in 48 games before receiving his unconditional release on July 23...his last big league homer and lone A.L. shot took place on June 14 in Milwaukee off of Mark Knudson...Brenly signed a AAA contract with the Giants affiliate in Phoenix, hitting .255 in 27 games for the Firebirds before his contract was purchased by San Francisco on August 31...the home folks welcomed Brenly back with a standing ovation as he came to the plate for his first at bat on September 2, and he responded with an RBI double off of Frank Viola...one of his last acts as a player was a game-winning RBI in the 12th inning at Candlestick on September 14 off the Reds' Norm Charlton.

PERSONAL—Robert Earl (Bob) Brenly...he and his wife, Joan, have a daughter, Lacey (7/9/82) and son, Michael (10/14/86) and make their home in Scottsdale...Bob was a 1972 graduate of Coshocton (OH) High School, lettering in baseball and basketball...he then graduated from Ohio University in 1976 with a Bachelor of Science in Health Education while starring on the baseball diamond, earning All-American honors for his senior season after tying Mike Schmidt's school record for home runs (10)...Brenly was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame on October 29, 1988...known for his television work prior to becoming a World Series winner, Bob actually got his first taste of working in the media while still active as a player with the Giants, hosting "The Bob Brenly Show" after every Giants game in 1988...he was also active with the ALS Society during his career, serving as an honorary chairman...away from the ballpark, Bob relaxes by playing the guitar, riding his motorcycle and partaking in an occasional round of golf...he is also very active in Michael's high school career as a student-athlete at Notre Dame Prep...B.B. received a surprise phone call this past January 21, asking him to join Jerry Colangelo, Joe Garagiola Jr. and Anaheim Angels' owner Arte Moreno for dinner with President George W. Bush at an area Mexican food restaurant, while the Chief Executive was in town for an appearance at Mesa Community College.

Bullpen Coach

Ht: 6-4

Wt: 215

Age: 43 (Turns 44 on October 19)

Born: October 19, 1960 in Livermore, CA

Residence: Scottsdale, AZ

Former Position: Pitcher

COACHING CAREER—Mark is in his second season as Arizona's bullpen coach after a four-year stint as a pitching coach in the Diamondbacks' minor league system...he worked with the youngest hurlers in the organization with the Arizona League squad in Tucson in 1999-2000, then spent the 2001 campaign with Missoula (Rookie)...his last minor league assignment was in 2002 in El Paso (AA), when he got a peek at Arizona's future by coaching prospects Michael Gosling, Andrew Good, Oscar Villarreal and Brandon Webb, as they recorded a team-record 3.75 staff ERA in the offensive minded Texas League...he also served as pitching coach for Grand Canyon in the Arizona Fall League in 2001.

PLAYING CAREER—Mark spent 18 seasons in pro ball as a player, including big league stops with Philadelphia, San Francisco, San Diego, Kansas City, Atlanta and Milwaukee...he broke in with the Phillies in 1980 and was part of a couple of blockbuster trades during the course of his career, the first occurring in 1982 when he traveled from Philly to San Francisco as part of a 5-man exchange that included Mike Krukow to the Giants and Joe Morgan and Al Holland to the Phils...the move to the Giants also witnessed a role change for the southpaw, who had served as a starter throughout his career until the 1984 campaign when he began working out of the pen...M.D. was later shipped to San Diego in 1987 in a 7-player swap that included a future National League Cy Young Award (Davis) winner and a Most Valuable Player (Kevin Mitchell)...Mark's career flourished in 2 1/2 seasons with the Padres, becoming a full-time reliever in which he combined the 1988-89 seasons for 72 saves and a pair of All-Star Game assignments...the biggest highlight was the '89 season when Davis recorded a league-leading 44 rescues in 48 opportunities and a 1.85 ERA to win the Cy Young Award, National League Rolands Relief Man-of-the-Year Award and San Diego MVP honors...his 44 saves at the time were the most in the National League since Bruce Sutter rescued 45 for St. Louis in 1984...Mark's terrific season was capped with free agency and Davis signed on with the Kansas City Royals, where he spent 2 1/2 years and was unable to recapture the success he enjoyed with the Padres...he was dealt in 1992 to Atlanta, which was followed by return trips to Philadelphia and San Diego...M.D. had some health issues over the next couple of years, including left shoulder surgery in August, 1996...he successfully returned to the hill in 1997, signing a minor league contract with the Diamondbacks a year before the major league club was slated to debut...he pitched in Arizona's minor league system until August 14, 1997, when he was traded by the Diamondbacks to Milwaukee, where he wound up making 19 relief appearances...included in his final big league action was the 1,000th strike-out of his career when he K'd Boston's Reggie Jefferson on September 12, 1997.

Pen Excels When Leading After Eight

Since the beginning of the 2000 season, the Diamondbacks have recorded the best winning percentage in baseball when possessing a lead after eight innings, winning 310 of the 316 opportunities (.981). Dating back to the start of the 2002 campaign, Arizona has lost only once (155-1) when entering the ninth with a lead. Last year's squad went 66-0 when leading after eight frames, with the Dodgers and their Cy Young Award winning closer, Eric Gagne, the only other unbeaten club in those affairs (76-0).

Below is a chart outlining the success of the Diamondbacks and their nearest rivals in the majors when leading after eight innings:

From 2000-2003

Pitching Coach

Ht: 5-11

Wt: 190

Age: 53 (Turns 54 on October 28)

Born: October 28, 1950 in Rockville Centre, NY

Residence: Florissant, CO

Former Position: Pitcher

COACHING CAREER—Chuck is in his third season as Diamondback pitching coach after a 14-year stint as a minor league coach...this is his seventh overall year in the Arizona organization, including 4 as the pitching coach at Tucson (AAA) prior to joining the big league staff...by virtue of his arrival to the major league staff in 2002, Kniffin had the opportunity to serve as pitching coach for Bob Brenly and the National League All-Star team in Milwaukee...it was his second consecutive All-Star assignment, earning the role for the Pacific Coast League in the 2001 AAA All-Star Game that was played in Indianapolis...Chuck has also been part of the coaching staff in spring training during each of Arizona's big league camps...his first year in the organization was at High Desert (A) in 1997, helping guide the Mavericks to the California League championship...prior to joining the Diamondbacks, he was a coach in the Montreal chain from 1992-95 where his pupils were future major leaguers Ugueth Urbina, Kirk Rueter, Jose Paniagua and Gabe White...he was named the 1994 winner of the John McHale Award, given annually to the Expos' most outstanding minor league staff member...Kniffin also spent 4 years as a pitching coach in the Seattle organization (1988-91) where a young Mike Hampton was coming up through the chain...Chuck also has plenty of coaching experience south of the border, working from 1989-98 in the Mexican Winter League, and he has taken his knowledge overseas, working with hurlers for the 1984 Florentini Baseball Club in Florence, Italy.

PLAYING CAREER—Kniffin spent his 10-year playing career in the Philadelphia Phillies' organization going 55-40 with a 3.59 ERA in 839.0 innings...he was named the Topps Western Carolina League Pitcher-of-the-Year in 1971 by posting a 13-1 record and 2.11 ERA for Spartanburg, fanning 100 men in 132.0 innings...in 1972 he led the Western Carolina League with 3 shutouts...he followed with a 10-6 mark for Reading (A) in 1973...Chuck was initially drafted by the Phils in 1969 and made his professional debut with Pulaski in the Appalachian League.

PERSONAL—Chuck Kniffin...he and his wife, Catherine, make their home in Florissant, CO...he was a 1968 graduate of Southside Senior High School in Rockville Centre, NY...Chuck then attended Nassau Community College in Garden City, NY, and earned his Bachelor's Degree in criminology from the University of Tampa (FL) in 1972.

Third Base Coach

Ht: 6-0

Wt: 210

Age: 43 (Turns 44 on August 11)

Born: August 11, 1960 in Aragua, VZ

Residence: Tucson, AZ

Former Position: Infielder

COACHING CAREER—The 2004 season is Al's first opportunity to coach at the major league level after dedicating his last 9 years to work in the minor leagues, 8 of which have been as a manager...he has spent the last 2 years with the Tucson Sidewinders, Arizona's AAA affiliate, posting back-to-back winning records each season, the first time that has occurred for the Tucson franchise since 1994-95 when it was affiliated with the Astros' organization and Rick Sweet was at the helm...the performance of Pedrique's squad last year was most impressive since he had 62 different players come through his dugout during the course of the campaign after injuries decimated the big league roster and forced a plethora of recalls...he was rewarded for his yeoman's effort last year by assisting the major league coaching staff during the final month of the 2003 season...a lifetime 463-433 (.517) as a manager, Pedrique recorded his 400th minor league managerial victory last April 29 with a win in Salt Lake...he was also a coach for the World Team in last year's Future's Game held at U.S. Cellular Field in Chicago just prior to the MLB All-Star festivities...his tenure with the Diamondbacks' organization began in 2001 when he managed the El Paso Diablos (AA)...he was coming off back-to-back playoff seasons with Michigan, the Class A affiliate in the Houston chain, highlighted by a Midwest League title in 2000 after finishing the regular season with an 82-56 mark (.594)...Al's managerial career began in 1995 with Spokane (Rookie), his first of 3 minor league seasons at the helm in the Kansas City organization, including a Gulf Coast League Western Division crown in 1997...he was signed as the hitting coach for New Orleans (AAA-Houston) in 1998, as the Zephyrs won the PCL and AAA World Series championships...a native of Venezuela, Pedrique managed Magallanes in the Venezuelan Winter League in 1998-99...he also managed the Scottsdale Scorpions to a league best 29-15 record in the Arizona Fall League in 2002 before losing the title game to Peoria.

PLAYING CAREER—Al was signed as a non-drafted free agent by the New York Mets in 1978 and wound up playing parts of 4 years in the majors, under the tutelage of big league skippers Davey Johnson, Jim Leyland and Sparky Anderson...his most productive campaign was in 1987 when he batted .301 in 88 games for the Pittsburgh Pirates after being acquired from the Mets on May 29 for infielder Bill Almon...Pedrique picked up his first major league hit on June 4, 1987, off of Atlanta's Zane Smith...Al hit his lone big league home run on July 20, 1987, a fourth inning shot in Candlestick Park off of San Francisco's Mike LaCoss...he was selected the shortstop on the 1987 All-Rookie Team by Baseball Digest...Pedrique appeared in 50 games for the Bucs in '88 then was released on November 20, signing with the Tigers 2 weeks later...his last big league action as a player was in 1989 with Detroit, appearing in 31 games...as a minor leaguer, Al led Texas League shortstops in fielding percentage in both 1983 and 1984 while playing for Jackson...he was named to the International League All-Star Game in 1985 as a member of the Tidewater Tides...he wrapped up his playing career with Edmonton in 1993-94, the AAA affiliate of the expansion Florida Marlins...Al hit .305 over 121 games in 1993, the third best batting average among all AAA shortstops.

PERSONAL—Alfredo (Al) Jose Pedrique (Garcia)...he has a pair of daughters, Miriana (12/29/92) and Liliana (10/3/96)...he makes his home in Tucson, AZ.

Rick Schu

Hitting Coach

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 190

Age: 42

Born: January 26, 1962 in Philadelphia, PA

Residence: El Dorado Hills, CA

Former Position: Infielder

COACHING CAREER—Rick is a major league coach for the first time in his career after spending the last 6 seasons in Arizona's minor league system...his most recent work was as the minor league hitting coordinator last year, getting an up-close look at the young hitters within the organization...his methodology for hitting proved valuable on the minor league level as the Arizona full-season clubs combined to produce .276 average last year, the highest mark among all minor league organizations, 3 points better than the Anaheim Angels (.273)...Schu's coaching career began in 1998 in South Bend (A), followed by 3 seasons as the hitting coach for High Desert/Lancaster in the California League (1999-2001)...he was the AAA hitting instructor in Tucson in 2002 before being named the hitting coordinator for the system prior to last year...his focus in 2004 will center around Arizona's penchant to play close, low-scoring games last year, ending up with a major league leading 55 one-run decisions (30-25)...the Diamondbacks lost 23 games last season in which they allowed 3 or fewer runs, second only to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

PLAYING CAREER—Rick was a third baseman during his playing days, the majority of which came as a member of the Philadelphia chain, though he also had big league stops with Baltimore, Detroit, California and a very brief stint with Montreal...he was signed as a non-drafted free agent by the Phillies in 1980 and began his pro playing career in Bend, OR, the following summer...Rick enjoyed a breakout professional season with Portland (AAA) in 1984, hitting .301 in 140 games while earning a spot on the Pacific Coast League All-Star team...the outstanding effort propelled Schu into his first taste of major league action as a September recall, collecting his first major league hits in his debut game on September 1, 1984...his first knock was a triple off of San Francisco's Bob Lacey followed later in the contest with his first big league homer, a shot off of current fellow coaching member Mark Davis...Rick opened the '85 season back in Portland, but was recalled to the majors on May 29 to takeover the third base chores as future Hall of Famer Mike Schmidt moved across the diamond to first...Schu set a Philly record and tied a major league mark with 7 at bats in a June 11 game vs. the Mets, collecting 4 hits in the contest...after 2 more seasons in Philadelphia, he was dealt to Baltimore late in spring training of 1988 in a 5-player swap...his first year with the Orioles was an injury-riddled campaign that saw a trio of visits to the disabled list due to a right elbow strain...while healthy, Rick established a personal best with a 12-game hitting streak in September...he opened the '89 campaign with Baltimore, but had his contract purchased by Detroit on May 19, appearing in 98 games for the Tigers...Schu signed a minor league deal with California prior to the 1990 season, appearing in 61 games for the Halos before returning to the Phillies' chain in 1991-92...he took his game abroad for a couple of campaigns with the Nippon Ham Fighters in Japan then returned to the U.S. where he played for Oklahoma City in 1995 and Ottawa in 1996, including a quick one-game stint with the Expos.

PERSONAL—Richard (Rick) Spencer Schu...he and his wife, Keri, have a son, Jake (3/21/90), and daughter, Easton (12/25/94), and make their home in El Dorado Hills, CA...he graduated from Del Campo (CA) High School then attended Sacramento City College...Rick played both Little League and American Legion baseball as a youth...his father, Ken, pitched in the Chicago White Sox system in 1955-56.

Glenn Sherlock

53

First Base Coach

Ht: 6-1

Wt: 200

Age: 43 (Turns 44 on September 26)

Born: September 26, 1960 in Nahant, MA

Residence: Scottsdale, AZ

Former Position: Catcher

COACHING CAREER—Glenn is in his 22nd year in professional baseball and he's the only remaining original member of Arizona's coaching staff, now his seventh in the Valley...he makes the transition to first base coach this year after spending his first 5 seasons here as bullpen coach, followed last year as the bench coach...Sherlock came to Arizona as the roving catching instructor in 1996 and worked with the minor league catchers in the system prior to the inaugural big league season...he was also tapped for his knowledge and experience during the start-up phase, when the D'Backs were assembled via the expansion draft...a longtime Yankee, Glenn was catching instructor in the Bronx twice, working in the pen in 1992, then once again in 1994 and '95...all told, he was employed for 10 seasons in the Yankee chain either as a minor league player, coach or manager...originally signed by the Astros as their 21st pick in the '83 June draft, he set a NY-Penn League record during his first year for double plays by a catcher...after 4 seasons, Sherlock signed as a free agent with New York, playing for 3 years in their system...he was part of 4 titles as a player, including his final year in 1989, which was also his first taste of the instructional phase, serving as player/coach for Albany (AA), though appearing in just one game...he managed at Tampa in 1990 then led Ft. Lauderdale in '91, and was named a coach for the Florida State League All-Star Game...Glenn was the catching instructor for the big league club in 1992, then returned to Tampa to manage that club in '93 while also working as an organizational instructor...his 3-year minor league managerial record wrapped up at 121-128 (.486)...he went "down-under" to hone his managerial skills in the winter of 1993, leading the Canberra Bushrangers in the Australian Baseball League.

PERSONAL—Glenn Patrick Sherlock...he and his wife, Lisa, son, Tim (11/30/86), and daughter, Cara (11/4/90), make their home in Scottsdale, AZ...Glenn graduated in 1979 from St. John's Prep in Danvers, MA, earning All-State baseball honors while also playing football...he then earned a B.A. degree in environmental studies at Rollins (FL) College, while playing baseball...Glenn was honored with the Rollins College Hall of Fame Achievement Award and earned Sunshine State All-Star status...he also played ball for 3 summers in the Yarmouth-Dennis Cape Cod League...he operates a catchers camp in the Valley during the off-season.

Robin Yount

19

Bench Coach

Ht: 6-1

Wt: 180

Age: 48 (Turns 49 on September 16)

Born: September 16, 1955 in Danville, IL

Residence: Paradise Valley, AZ

Former Position: Infielder/Outfielder

COACHING CAREER—Robin makes the move into the bench coach role this year after spending two seasons as Bob Brenly's first base coach...he returned to full-time duty in a big league uniform in 2002, his first as a Major League coach since his retirement as a player after the '93 season...while assisting Bob Brenly on the bench, Robin also shares a wealth of knowledge with the players after twice winning the American League Most Valuable Player Award, once as a shortstop (1982) and once as an outfielder (1989) during his illustrious career with Milwaukee...after retiring as a player, Robin spent the majority of his time with his family and working with his son Dustin, who was a ninth round pick of the Baltimore Orioles in 2001...Robin's only other coaching experience prior to joining the Diamondbacks was as a spring instructor in Milwaukee's big league spring camp.

HALL OF FAMER—Robin spent his entire 20-year major league career as a member of the Milwaukee Brewers, breaking in as an 18-year old shortstop and finishing up in 1993 as an outfielder with an all expenses paid trip to Cooperstown just around the corner...he was formally elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame on January 5, 1999, in a class that included fellow first ballot inductees Nolan Ryan and George Brett...it marked the first time since the first election in 1936 that 3 players on the ballot for the first time were elected to the Hall in the same season...in 1936, Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Babe Ruth and Honus Wagner were all in the first Hall of Fame class...Yount became the fourth former Brewer to enter the Hall, joining Hank Aaron, Don Sutton and Rollie Fingers, but the first to enter donning a Brewer hat...at age 43, Robin was the youngest inductee since Johnny Bench entered Cooperstown at the age of 42 in 1989...his playing career was also immortalized in Milwaukee's Miller Park as a member of the inaugural class of the Walk-off-Fame and with a statue outside the new ballpark...in the last two winters he's seen a pair of his closest friends also receive their tickets to the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, with longtime Milwaukee broadcaster Bob Uecker getting the nod last year in the broadcasting wing and former teammate Paul Molitor earning enshrinement with pitcher Dennis Eckersley this past January.

PLAYING CAREER—Robin's 20-year career ended in 1993 with 3,142 hits in the books and a pair of American League Most Valuable Player awards...he won the honor while playing a pair of different positions, first earning the vote as the Milwaukee shortstop during their World Series season of 1982, then again as the Brew Crew's centerfielder in 1989...he was just the third player in Major League history to win MVP awards at 2 different positions, joining immortals Stan Musial and Hank Greenberg...Yount's professional career began with a quick 1-year stint with Newark in 1973, then he was summoned to the Brewers at the tender age of 18 in 1974 and never saw the minors again...a lifetime .285 hitter, Robin eclipsed the .300 mark 6 times in his career, topping out at .331 during his first MVP season of 1982...he led the A.L. in doubles (46) and hits (210) in '82 while finishing with a career-high 29 home runs and 114 RBI...Yount followed the regular season with a .414 (12-for-29) effort in the 7-game World Series against the Redbirds...his second MVP season featured a .318 mark in 160 games with 21 homers and 103 RBI...he was named by USA Today as the Player-of-the-Decade for the 1980's...Robin became the third youngest player to record 3,000 hits when he singled off of Cleveland's Jose Mesa on September 9, 1992, at the age of 36 years, 11 months and 24 days...only Ty Cobb and Hank Aaron were younger when they recorded career hit #3,000...Yount called it a career after the 1993 season as the Brewers leader in virtually every offensive category...he was a 3-time All-Star (1980, '82 and '83) and won a Rawlings Gold Glove for his work at shortstop in 1982...he made the move to the outfield in 1985 after undergoing shoulder surgery the previous November...Robin's first outfield experience was in left, but on July 11, 1985, he moved over to centerfield and remained there for the rest of his career...not surprisingly, Yount was named the Brewers' Rookie-of-the-Year in 1974...he collected the first of his 3,142 hits on April 12, 1974, off of Baltimore's Dave McNally...he is the only 4-time winner of Milwaukee's MVP award (1982, '87, '88 and '89)...Robin earned the Brewers' President's Award for meritorious service representing the club both on and off the field with exemplary conduct in 1991.

PERSONAL—Robin R. Yount...he and his wife, Michele, and daughters, Melisa, Amy and Jenna, and son, Dustin, make their home in Paradise Valley...Robin was a 1973 graduate of Taft High School in Woodland Hills, CA, where he lettered in baseball and football...he earned All-League, All-City and Player-of-the-Year honors for his prep work on the diamond...he was Milwaukee's first round choice (third overall pick) in the 1973 June draft...Robin's daughter, Jenna, finished fifth in the pairs competition in the U.S. National Figure Skating Championships in Atlanta's Philips Arena this past January...Yount's brother, Larry, pitched in the Houston and Milwaukee organizations from 1968-75.

In The Clubhouse

Paul Lessard
Head Athletic Trainer

The Diamondback training room has been a true test of Paul's abilities as not only a trainer but his expertise in rehabilitation, as he and partner Dave Edwards have excelled at getting players back on the field. The work by the training staff is enhanced by one of the top medical facilities in any professional sports venue, featuring a room dedicated to hydro-therapy and an in-house X-Ray machine with technicians.

Paul's seven years of work with the Diamondbacks is his first major league action, but not his first baseball experience, breaking in with the Ft. Lauderdale Yankees in 1987. Prior to returning to baseball, Lessard had a 10-year career as a trainer in collegiate athletics.

The 41-year old Lessard graduated from Northeastern University with a degree in athletic training. He spent two years as the assistant athletic trainer for the Atlanta Falcons, then went to work in the Yankees' chain before returning to the college ranks. Paul was the senior athletic trainer at Boston University from 1988-94, then served as the head athletic trainer at Holy Cross University from 1994-97.

A native of Stamford, CT, is also a member of the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletic Trainers Organization of Massachusetts. Paul has a pair of daughters, Grace and Anne.

Dave Edwards
Assistant Athletic Trainer

Dave is in his seventh season as the assistant athletic trainer with the major league club, though he's one of the organization originals, working for a pair of minor league seasons. The 38-year old's baseball training career started in the Arizona chain in 1996 for the Rookie League entry, then it was on to High Desert, working for the California League champs in 1997. Edwards' bilingual skills are a terrific asset in the training room, eliminating any potential medical communication difficulties with Spanish speaking players, as well as serving part-time as an interpreter.

A native of Deming, NM, Edwards received a degree in athletic training from New Mexico State University in 1988. During his final days at New Mexico State, Dave began plying his trade in pro baseball with Pocatello and Everett in the Giants' chain from 1987-90. He earned his Master's in athletic training from the University of Nevada in 1991, then returned to the Valley as the head athletic trainer at Grand Canyon University from 1991-96. He was also the assistant trainer for three seasons for the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena Football League.

Dave is single and makes his home in Scottsdale.

David Page
Strength and Conditioning Coach

Dave is in his fifth full season with the big league club, joining the championship squad at mid-stream in 1999 and remaining here since. His Diamondback career began as the minor league strength and conditioning coordinator in 1998, designing both winter and in-season programs for all minor league players. Page also trained and supervised the strength coaches for each affiliate, and worked with the Tucson Sidewinders until his move to Phoenix.

His baseball strength coaching career began in the Marlins' chain, administering an in-season program with the Portland Sea Dogs in the Eastern League, also serving as their bullpen coach.

A four-year baseball letterman at the University of Southern Maine in Gorham, Dave received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1989. He is a certified strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association, and completed a sports medicine internship in 1997. He was elected Secretary of the Professional Baseball Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

Dave and his wife Lori have a son, Jackson (9/25/00), and make their off-season home in Portland, Maine.

Dr. Michael Lee Head Team Physician

Dr. Lee is in his fourth full season as the Head Team Physician after assisting the organization with its orthopedic needs for five years. In his current role, Dr. Lee oversees a support team of orthopedists and primary care physicians to provide whole-spectrum medical care to the entire Diamondbacks organization. He is board certified in orthopedic surgery and is an active member of the Major League Baseball Team Physicians Association.

He had previously taken care of other major league clubs, as well as serving as orthopedic consultant to the Arizona State University sports teams. Dr. Lee grew up in Phoenix, then graduated from the University of California-San Diego and attended the University of Arizona, where he completed Master's coursework in Exercise Physiology, graduating from the College of Medicine with honors in 1988. He completed his orthopedic residency at the University of Kansas, then was awarded a Sports Medicine fellowship with the University of Illinois School of Medicine.

Dr. Lee returned to Phoenix ten years ago with his wife, Martha, and three children, Conor (22), Allison (20) and Brendan (19).

Dr. Roger McCoy Team Physician

Roger L. McCoy, M.D., has been part of the Diamondbacks' family since the organization's start-up, working with the minor leaguers prior to the opening of the '98 major league season. He is a Board Certified Family Physician with special training in sports medicine. After graduating from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, he received his master's degree in anatomy as well as his medical degree from Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio. While completing his family practice residency in Toledo, he served as a team physician for the University of Toledo and a couple of local high schools for three years.

Dr. McCoy was honored as the Sports Medicine Fellow at Michigan State University where he served as team physician and a faculty member teaching and developing course work at the medical school.

Aside from his responsibilities with the Diamondbacks, he is also team physician for Arizona State University, a published author in sports medicine literature and a member of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine.

Greg Latta Head Minor League Trainer/Rehabilitation Coordinator

Greg joined the Diamondbacks at the end of the 2000 season as the club's coordinator of rehabilitation and minor league head trainer. Working out of the Tucson complex, the 44-year old Latta supervises the trainers for the Diamondbacks' six farm teams and is available year-round to oversee the rehabilitation of any and all injured players.

After graduating from Western Michigan University in 1982, Greg took his degree in education and went in another direction, being hired by the White Sox and assigned to their AA team in Glens Falls, NY. He moved up to AAA in 1985 and through 1997 made stops in Buffalo, Hawaii, Vancouver and Nashville before making his way to Tucson and settling in as the minor league head trainer and rehab coordinator for the Sox.

Greg and his wife, Sue, and son, Nicholas, make their home in Tucson.

Bob Doty Visiting Clubhouse/Equipment Manager

Raised in San Diego, Bob made a tough decision but made the move to Arizona in the winter prior to the 1998 season, assuming the same role he held in the Padres' organization for a dozen seasons. Adept in all phases of the equipment operation, Doty is also in charge of ordering and stocking equipment for the major league and minor league clubs. He joined the Diamondbacks after a 20-year stay in his hometown with the Padres.

The role of the visiting clubhouse attendant is an all-encompassing position including unpacking each team when their equipment arrives at Bank One Ballpark, regardless of the time of day, while also cleaning all of the uniforms and making sure the clubhouse is properly catered for the visiting players.

A graduate of University High School in San Diego, Bob and his wife Angie have a pair of daughters, Lauren and Sarah, and make their home in Phoenix.

Clubhouse Video Operations

Jim and Chris provide the players and coaches with the video material necessary to hone their games or scout upcoming opponents. The duo is responsible for taping every game the Diamondbacks play as well as the games available on satellite of the opposition to help in game preparation.

Currigan has been with the Diamondbacks since their inception, but in 2001 assumed his new role as video coordinator. A member of the organization's in-house television production crew since 1997, Currigan was a 1997 Broadcast Journalism graduate of Arizona State University. He and his wife Mary, and son, Riley James (5/4/01) make their home in Phoenix.

Carlock, who travels with the club during the entire regular season, was a 1999 graduate of Arizona State University with a BA in Broadcast Journalism. Raised in Suisun, CA, his Diamondback career began as a production assistant on the Emmy award winning "D'Backs Playin' Hardball." He and fiancée Christina Calio reside in Phoenix and are planning a November wedding.

Tony Dello

Batting Practice Pitcher/Pitching Chart

Jeff Motuzas

*Batting Practice Pitcher/
Bullpen Catcher*

The behind-the-scenes uniform roles go to a pair who get the full workout during the course of a day, either home or road, in Tony Dello and Jeff Motuzas. Tony and Jeff also spend an abundance of the "off-season" at Bank One Ballpark available to the players who choose to use the stadium facilities and batting cage during the winter months.

Dello, a Chicago, IL, native, is in his fifth season of throwing batting practice from the left side for the D'Backs, hitting pre-game ground balls, then taking a shower and heading into the seats behind home plate to chart every pitch of the ball game. He was a 1985 graduate of Woodstock High School in Chicago, then played for two seasons at Los Angeles Pierce Junior College in Woodland Hills, CA, earning all-league honors, and for two years at St. Mary's College in Moraga, CA. Tony assisted with Team USA during their attempt to qualify for the 2004 Olympic Games last fall. He is single and makes his home in Phoenix.

Motuzas also throws batting practice every day, then puts the gear on and heads to the bullpen where he warms up pitchers during the contest. He became one of the more publicized BP pitchers in 2001 when he was the pitcher in the All-Star Home Run Derby won by Diamondback Luis Gonzalez. Formerly a catcher in the Yankees' chain, Jeff was a 13th round pick of New York in 1990 after earning All-American status at Nashua (NH) High School. Recently married, Jeff is a newlywed, with he and his wife Crystal making their home in Phoenix.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from Florida Marlins in exchange for infielder Andy Fox, June 9, 2000.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

After having his 2002 season cut short due to a shoulder dislocation in May, Danny returned to serve as the Opening Day rightfielder for a third consecutive year...unfortunately he struggled out of the gate, hitting just .111 (3-for-27) through the first 9 games...he interrupted the slide with a 3-hit, 2-RBI game on April 13 vs. Milwaukee...Danny was hit with a pitch by Colorado's Shawn Chacon on April 15 and after an exchange of words Bautista was ejected for waving his bat at Chacon...the following day Danny sustained a right hip flexor strain that sidelined him for 7 games through April 25...he had 3 hits and a career-high tying 4 RBI on May 23 vs. San Diego, snapping a 2-2 tie with a go-ahead, 3-run homer in the eighth inning of a 5-3 win...the roundtripper was his first since May 3, 2002, spanning 152 at bats, while the 4 RBI game was the second of his career, first since September 30, 1993, while with Detroit...he hit safely in 9 of 10 starts from May 20-June 2 at a .366 clip (15-for-41), and batted .313 (30-for-96) over a 24-game stretch from April 29 through June 2 to up his average from .188 to .271...he started 6 consecutive games in centerfield from June 7-14...he suffered a left hamstring strain while running out a grounder on the artificial turf of the Metrodome in Minneapolis on June 14, landing him on the disabled list on June 19...he was activated from the D.L. on July 23 after a 10-game rehab stint with Tucson (AAA) and El Paso (AA)...he picked up his 500th career hit with a sixth inning double off of the Giants' Matt Herges on July 24 at Pacific Bell Park...Danny doubled as a pinch hitter on August 5 vs. the Expos, his first pinch hit of the season, igniting a 19-game stretch during which he hit .373 (19-for-51) with 5 doubles and 13 RBI through September 11...he tied his career and season-high with 4 RBI on August 23, going 2-for-4 with a 3-run homer and 3 runs...he was 3-for-4 with 3 RBI and 3 runs on September 24 at Coors Field, lacing a triple, a solo homer and a 2-run blast, his third career 2-homer game and first since the opener of a twinbill on August 31, 2001, at San Diego...he closed the year by hitting in 5 of his last 7 games at a .360 clip (9-for-25) with 6 runs, 2 homers and 5 RBI...he hit .260 (50-for-192) with 19 RBI in his first 56 games through July, then finished up by hitting .304 (28-for-92) with 18 RBI in his final 32 contests spanning August and September.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—A vital ingredient of the 2001 World Series title club, Danny's post-season performance earned him the Opening Day rightfield job and he was off to a terrific start until one play ended his 2002 season...Bautista attempted to make a diving catch on a sinking liner hit by San Francisco's Benito Santiago on May 22 at Bank One Ballpark, suffering a dislocated left shoulder that required surgery to repair a torn labrum...at the time of his injury, Danny was hitting .325 (50-for-154) with 6 home runs and 23 RBI through 40 games...he hit safely in 16 of the first 17 games and 24 of the first 27...included was his second career 4-hit game on May 7 in a win at home over the Pirates...he was part of 2-out back-to-back-to-back home runs in the first inning of Arizona's May 3 win at home over Montreal, hitting a 2-run shot off of Bruce Chen followed immediately by solo blasts from Steve Finley and Damian Miller. 2001—Danny was a big part of Arizona's bench, one of the strong suits of the World Series title club, appearing in 100 games, closing the year by hitting safely in 13 of his last 14 games at a .397 clip (23-for-58)...included was a 10-game hitting streak from September 7-28, hitting .439 (18-for-41)...dating back to August 26, he batted .391 (27-for-69) in his last 22 games to raise his season average 41 points and hit over .300 for the first time in his major league career (.302)...he matched a career-best with 2 home runs in the first game of a doubleheader in San Diego on August 31 to stake the club to a 4-1 win...he was a .350 pinch hitter (14-for-40) which included a club record tying 4 consecutive pinch hits from May 18-June 3, starting with a homer in Wrigley Field on May 18, his fifth career pinch blast, first with Arizona. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—A key component in Arizona's success, Bautista hit .583 (7-for-12) against the Yankees, starting 3 of the 5 games he participated in while providing outstanding defense...he made the start in Game #2 against Andy Pettitte and went 2-for-3 with a double and an RBI in Arizona's 4-0 win...he was 1-for-2 in abbreviated work when the series shifted to Yankee Stadium, then provided a huge offensive spark as the D'Backs rebounded to win the final 2 games and claim the title...Bautista started against Pettitte again in Game #6, providing 3 hits and 5 RBI, the 19th player in World Series history to knock in 5 runs, first since Florida's Gary Sheffield in Game #3 of the '97 series against Cleveland, and an RBI shy of the Fall Classic record of 6 set in 1960 by the Yankees' Bobby Richardson...he started the following night in Game #7 against Roger Clemens and delivered again, staking Arizona to a 1-0 lead with a run scoring double in the sixth inning...Danny was 0-for-6 vs. the Cardinals in the Division Series, but was in the center of the clinching celebration when he scored the game-winning run in Game #5 on Tony Womack's single that sent Arizona into the NLCS...Bautista's lone start in the NLCS against the Braves was in Game #5, going 1-for-4 with an RBI and a diving catch that kept Atlanta off the board in what turned out to be a 3-2 victory propelling the D'Backs into the World Series...all told, Danny went 8-for-16 in the post-season, including his 7-for-12 World Series work. 2000—Danny was acquired on June 9 in exchange for Andy Fox and batted .317 over the remainder of the year...his first hit as a Diamondback was a solo homer vs. Anaheim on June 11 to give Arizona a 3-2 win...he had a career-best 15-game hitting streak from August 15-September 1, hitting .351 (20-for-57) with 17 RBI...he recorded his first career 2-homer game on July 27 in St. Louis. 1999—Was released by the Braves at the end of spring training and signed a minor league contract with Florida on April 8...opened the year with Calgary (AAA), but hit .319 in 38 games and had his contract purchased on June 11...hit safely in 36 of his 47 starts for the Marlins...made his return to Atlanta on July 6 and homered against his former mates...hit his fourth career pinch home run on September 1 at St. Louis. 1998—Mainly used as a defensive specialist for the Braves, appearing in 82 games but starting just 27...was on the disabled list from April 17-May 7 with a partial tear of the labrum in his left shoulder, then returned to the shelf from August 27-September 17 with a partial tear of the right medial collateral ligament. 1998 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Saw action in a pair of Division Series games as a defensive replacement, working in 5 of 6 games of the NLCS, including starts in Games #3 and #6. 1997—Began the year with Richmond (AAA), remaining there until June 23 recall to Atlanta...visit to the Braves was short-lived as his contract was designated for assignment on July 5...he was purchased from AAA on July 10 and returned to the Braves...hit pinch-hit homer in the bottom of the 9th on August 6 to defeat the Cards, 4-3. 1996—Opened the season with the Tigers making 18 outfield starts before being dealt to Atlanta on May 31 for outfielder Anton French...season came to an abrupt end when he was hit by a pitch from Cardinals' Jeff Parrett on June 27, incurring a broken nose, a fractured orbital floor under the left eye and blurred vision...underwent successful surgery performed by Dr. Robert Crow on June 29. 1995—Spent the first 4 months of the season with Detroit before being optioned to Toledo (AAA) on August 8...was recalled on September 1...homered in 3 consecutive games from September 16-24. 1994—Danny was Detroit's opening day rightfielder but was optioned to Toledo on April 19...recalled on May 26 and started 13 straight games before breaking the middle finger on his left hand while attempting to make a diving catch on June 7 vs. Boston. 1993—Spent the entire year with London (AA), hitting .285 in 117 games and earned a September recall to the big league club...debuted as a pinch-runner on September 15 vs. the Blue Jays...made his first major league start on September 17 against Cleveland, collecting an infield hit off of Jason Grimsley in first big league at bat...hit his first major league homer on October 1 in Yankee Stadium off of Frank Tanana. 1992—Displayed outstanding outfield arm with Fayetteville, logging 17 assists from rightfield.

HOW OBTAINED

Selected in the 12th round of the 2000 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Brian earned the organization's minor league Pitcher-of-the-Year honors as he split the campaign between El Paso (AA) and Tucson (AAA)...he went a combined 3-3 with 26 saves, a 2.70 ERA (19 earned runs in 63.1 innings), 60 strikeouts and a .221 opponents average...he excelled on the road, posting 18 saves and a 1.75 ERA (7 earned runs in 36.0 innings) while limiting opposing hitters to a .230 average (31-for-135) with 39 strikeouts...despite his 3.95 ERA in 27 home contests spanning 27.1 frames, opponents batted just .210 (22-for-105)...Brian dominated righthanded batters, holding them to a .174 average (25-for-144) with 41 strikeouts while lefties hit .292 (28-for-96) with 19 strikeouts...he earned the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for May after recording 8 saves, a .57 ERA and 16 strikeouts in 15.2 innings over 12 games...Bruney opened his season in El Paso and posted a 3.24 ERA in his first 9 games, allowing 3 runs in 8.1 frames...he then nailed down 9 saves over the next 12 games, holding opponents scoreless over a span of 13.1 innings...he posted a season-best 4 K's on May 15 at Midland...he matched his career-high with 3.0 innings pitched at Wichita on May 30...he capped his time in El Paso with a trip to the Texas League All-Star Game on June 16, tossing a scoreless 0.1 of an inning with a strikeout for the West Division...he was promoted to Tucson on June 17 and went 1-1 with 6 saves while allowing an unearned run over his first 15 appearances (15.0 innings) for the Sidewinders, limiting opposing batters to a .120 average (6-for-50)...he went 2-0 with 6 saves over his final 17 appearances despite a 5.29 ERA (10 earned runs in 17.0 innings)...all told, Brian held opponents scoreless in 47 of 60 outings with both minor league clubs.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Brian opened the year in South Bend (A) before getting his first taste of AA in El Paso...he was amazingly consistent against both lefthanded hitters (.222) and righthanded batters (.221) on the season...opponents hit only .192 (20-for-104) against Brian when batting with runners in scoring position...he led the South Bend pitching staff with 10 saves...he posted a 0.79 ERA over 23 combined games for South Bend and El Paso from June 12-August 23, allowing only 3 earned runs over 34.0 innings...Brian was promoted to El Paso on August 3...he pitched for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League, going 1-0 with a 0.00 ERA and a league-best 7 saves in 16 games, striking out 17 in 18.2 innings...Brian, named the Arizona Fall League's Pitcher-of-the-Week for October 15-20, was named to the Arizona Fall League All-Prospect Team, as voted by the league's managers and coaches. 2001—Bruney struggled in April with opponents hitting .355, but he held them to a .188 average (32-for-170) over the remainder of the season...he owned a 1.23 ERA with 5 saves in May, including rescues in 4 consecutive outings from May 16-28...sent to Yakima on July 18, he ranked fifth among Northwest League relievers with 12.0 strikeouts per 9-innings. 2000—Brian was fourth among Arizona League relievers with a .200 opponents' average...he posted a 3-0 record with 2 saves and 2.38 ERA over 9 games from June 29-July 23.

PERSONAL

Brian Anthony Bruney...he and his wife, Stacey, make their home in Warrenton, OR, where Brian graduated from Warrenton High School in 2000...following the 2003 campaign, he pitched for Team USA during both the Arizona Fall League (0-0, 0.00 ERA in 4 games) and the Americas Olympic Qualifier in Panama (0-1, 3.00 ERA in 3 games).

HOW OBTAINED

Selected in the 36th round of the 1997 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Alex spent the first month in AAA with the Sidewinders, but a May 6 disabling injury to Craig Counsell opened the door on the Major League level and he took full advantage by eventually landing the everyday shortstop role...he started 90 games at short, 14 at third base and 5 at second, while finishing the year a .317 hitter (142-for-448), leading the D'Backs among players with a minimum of 210 at bats...the switch-hitter posted a .365 (50-for-137) mark from the right side, while hitting .296 (92-for-311) lefthanded...Alex excelled in the clutch, batting .311 (33-for-106) with 34 RBI with runners in scoring position, including .452 (19-for-42) with runners on third base and .375 (3-for-8) with the bases loaded...at the time of his May 7 recall, he was leading the PCL with a .393 average (42-for-107) with 21 RBI in 26 games, including 12 multi-hit affairs...he clubbed his first big league roundtripper on May 14 in Arizona's final trip to The Vet in Philly, a solo blast in the fifth inning off of Brett Myers...he reached base in all 5 of his plate appearances on May 31 in San Diego with 2 doubles, a triple and 2 walks...the next day, he was forced from the game with a left hamstring injury suffered in a collision with David Dellucci in the third inning, also knocking Dellucci out of the contest with a concussion...Cintron had 3 consecutive 3-hit games on June 14-15 in Minnesota and June 17 at Houston...in the game against the Astros, Alex and Matt Kata teamed up for back-to-back homers in the first inning...he hit safely in 10 of 11 starts from May 30-June 17 at a .479 clip (23-for-48)...Cintron smacked his first career walk-off homer on June 20 off of the Reds' Scott Williamson...he swiped his first big league base on June 28 at Detroit...he had a career-high 11-game hitting streak from July 8-25, batting .364 (16-for-44)...Alex reached base safely in 21 of 22 games from June 27-July 25 while hitting safely in 15 consecutive starts from July 3-25...he missed 3 games with a sprained right wrist suffered on July 19 in San Diego...on August 2, he sparked a ninth inning rally with a game-tying solo homer off the Cubs' Joe Borowski at Wrigley Field, a game Arizona won 4-3...he had a 2-run pinch-hit triple on August 10 vs. the Mets...Alex batted .353 (18-for-51) while starting each contest of a 13-game homestand from August 19-September 1...Alex established a career-high with 4 hits on September 13...he hit .429 (12-for-28) during a 7-game streak from September 11-18, then closed the year with a 6-game hitting streak in which he batted .536 (15-for-28) with 5 doubles, highlighted by 5 multi-hit affairs...Alex had his team-leading 15th 3-hit game on September 27 vs. St. Louis...in the final game of the season, he tied a career best with 4 hits including 2 doubles, capping a season-ending 2-month stretch in which he hit .341 (70-for-205)...he batted .323 (94-for-291) while reaching base safely via a hit or walk in 62 of his 76 games from July-September...his year began in Tucson with an 11-game hitting streak from April 3-14, batting .457 (21-for-46)...he nabbed the organizational Player of the Month honors for April after hitting .404 (38-for-94) with 19 RBI, a .606 slugging percentage and a .446 on-base percentage.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Alex opened the year with Tucson but received 4 different calls to the majors during the course of the season...he batted .330 (38-for-115) for the Sidewinders, hitting safely in 24 of the first 29 games...he was initially recalled on May 8, but appeared in just 2 games...he was called to the majors again on June 11 and reported to Yankee Stadium when it was determined that Junior Spivey would be disabled...Cintron was not intimidated by his first trip to the Bronx, going 5-for-6 in the final 2 games of the series, featuring a 3-hit effort that included 2 doubles and an RBI in Arizona's first-ever win at Yankee Stadium on June 12...he made 11 starts at second base in Spivey's absence, hitting safely in 8 of those assignments, going 12-for-37 (.324)...Alex was optioned back to Tucson after Spivey returned on June 26, but returned 5 days later after an injury to Erubiel Durazo...Cintron appeared just twice before the All-Star break, then Matt Williams was activated after the break sending Alex back to Tucson...he was summoned to the Diamondbacks one final time on August 21...while with the Sidewinders, Cintron's .322 average ranked fourth in the farm system...he was named by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the PCL. 2002 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS—Alex got his first taste of baseball's second season, appearing in the first 2 games of the Division Series vs. St. Louis, but he did not have a plate appearance...he entered Game #1 as a defensive replacement in the ninth inning of Arizona's 12-2 defeat...two days later Alex was inserted as a pinch runner in the seventh inning of Game #2 with the D'Backs trailing 1-0...breaking from second base on Junior Spivey's grounder, Cintron collided with Cardinals' third baseman Scott Rolen and was charged with runner's interference...on the play, Rolen sustained multiple sprains to his left shoulder and missed the remainder of St. Louis' post-season run. 2001—Alex continued his quick climb through the organization by getting his first taste of both AAA and the majors, spending 6 weeks of the campaign with Arizona...he opened the year with Tucson, hitting over .300 for the first 2 1/2 months of the season...he was summoned to the major league club for the first time on July 23 when Tony Womack went down with a calf strain, but his playing time was limited to 3 at bats over 4 games...Alex recorded his first major league hit with a single off the Mets' Donne Wall on August 3...he was optioned back to AAA on August 6 and completed the season with Tucson, then returned for the stretch run in September, though playing time was limited...the switch-hitting infielder was amazingly consistent from both sides of the plate with Tucson, hitting .292 (92-for-315) as a lefthanded batter and .291 (32-for-110) from the right side. 2000—His first year at the AA level, he eclipsed the .300 mark for the second straight year, hitting .301 for El Paso...started the season strong, hitting safely in 15 of the first 18 games at a .386 clip...after going consecutive games without a hit for the first time, Alex hit safely in 24 of the next 27 contests, featuring a season-high 11-game hitting streak, closing the streak with at least one RBI in 7 consecutive games...the only thing that slowed Cintron in the early going was a week-long stint on the disabled list with a lower back strain (May 19-26)...he earned a spot on the Texas League All-Star team, then continued to swing a solid bat in post-season play hitting .429 (9-for-21) in the 5-game series against Round Rock. 1999—His first full season as a pro, Alex hit .307 in 128 games for High Desert (A), sharing the shortstop spot on the California League post-season All-Star team with Lake Elsinore's Nelson Castro...Cintron hit safely in 18 straight games from August 4-22, batting at a .378 clip...his 17 sacrifice bunts ranked first in the league and fifth overall in the minors...was out of action for a week in May with a right ankle sprain. 1998—Spent the entire year at Lethbridge (A) hitting .264 in 67 games...hit .450 during an 11-game hitting streak from July 28-August 9.

PERSONAL

Alexander (Alex) Cintron...he is single and makes his home in Yabucoa, PR...as he has done in previous years, he spent a portion of his "off-season" playing winter ball for Caguas in his native Puerto Rico, but appeared in just 4 regular season games, followed by a 7-game post-season series loss to Ponce in which Alex batted .417 (10-for-24)...he delivered a game-winning inside-the-park home run in Game #1 of the Puerto Rican Championship Series a year ago as his squad advanced to the Caribbean World Series played in San Juan, Puerto Rico...last year was the first season since signing with the Diamondbacks' organization that his club did not qualify for post-season play (1997-98 with Lethbridge, 1999 with High Desert, 2000 with El Paso, and 2001-02 with the Arizona Diamondbacks).

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Seattle Mariners in exchange for outfielder Quinton McCracken, December 15, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Greg signed with the Mariners as a free agent, reuniting with former Arizona bench coach Bob Melvin, who took over the managerial chores in Seattle...unfortunately, injuries limited Colbrunn to only 22 games in his brief stint in the Northwest...he was disabled from June 16-27 with a strained right oblique muscle, then returned to the shelf on July 9 (retroactive to July 3) with tendinitis in his right wrist...the wrist injury eventually required surgery performed in Scottsdale by Dr. Donald Sheridan to repair torn cartilage...while healthy, Colby made 16 starts, 13 at first base and 3 as a designated hitter...he went 2-for-4 with a home run as a pinch hitter, the blast coming on June 30 at Oakland after returning from his first stint on the D.L....he recorded the first hit by a Mariners pinch hitter with a single in the ninth inning on May 25 at Kansas City, snapping an 0-for-15 start by the club's pinch-hitters...Greg had a season-high 6-game hitting streak from May 11-June 1, batting .412 (7-for-17) with 2 home runs and 4 RBI...he homered in back-to-back starts (May 11 vs. Chicago and May 18 at Detroit)...was in the midst of going 5-for-9 in 5 games in June when he was sidelined with the oblique strain...he made 4 rehab starts between Tacoma (AAA) and Everett (A), then returned on June 28, but was healthy for only 6 days before succumbing to the season-ending wrist injury.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Greg is a lifetime .322 pinch hitter (69-for-214) with 9 homers and 48 RBI...his career breakdowns demonstrate an overall offensive consistency, hitting a lifetime .291 (382-for-1314) in his home park while posting an identical .291 mark (416-for-1428) when on the road...he has also batted .294 (329-for-1118) against lefthanded pitchers and a comparable .284 mark (469-for-1624) against righthanders.

2002—The last year of his first stint with the Diamondbacks, Colby hit .343 (49-for-143) in his 42 starts with 9 home runs and 24 RBI...his biggest career single-game performance came in one of his late-season starts as Arizona was attempting to closeout the N.L. West crown...Greg hit for the first cycle in his career on September 18 in San Diego, featuring a career-high and club record-tying 5 hits and 4 runs scored, the second cycle in franchise history joining Luis Gonzalez from July 5, 2000...Colbrunn's effort featured a pair of home runs, the first player in 52 years to homer twice and complete a cycle in a 9-inning game, with Ralph Kiner the last to accomplish the feat on June 25, 1950, with the Pirates...Colby's 2-homer cycle was the first in a game of any length since George Brett in a 16-inning game for Kansas City in 1979...Colbrunn's big night was his third career 2-homer game, first since August 18, 1995...he also tied the team record with 14 total bases, which was the third highest single game total base mark in the majors in 2002, matching teammate Erubiel Durazo and Barry Bonds, and trailing only Shawn Green (19) and Mike Cameron (16), who each recorded 4 homer games during the year...the 5-hit game jumpstarted a season-ending stretch in which Greg collected 12 hits in his last 24 at bats, spanning 9 games with 4 doubles, a triple, 2 homers and 5 RBI...Colby opened the campaign on the disabled list, missing the first 8 games of the year after undergoing arthroscopic surgery on March 13 to remove bone chips from his right elbow...once healthy, Greg was used sparingly at the outset, going just 4-for-12 in April...he had a solid 10-game stretch from May 30-June 16 in which he batted .370 (10-for-27)...the injury bug bit again in late-July when he was forced back onto the disabled list with a right calf strain...he was activated on August 2 and went 6-for-11 in a 4-game streak from August 4-15, featuring a double, triple and 3 home runs...he picked up the toughest 3 components of a cycle on August 10 at home against the Marlins, coming up a single shy in his 3-for-5 afternoon...included was a 468-foot home run into Friday's Front Row off of Michael Tejera, tying for the second longest roundtripper in Bank One Ballpark history...Colby was 8-for-22 (.364) as a pinch hitter, featuring his eighth career pinch homer, a solo blast off of Cincinnati's Danny Graves on August 15 in Cinergy Field. 2001—Greg was haunted through the first half with a left knee injury that began acting up in spring training and required 2 stints on the disabled list, the second an extended stay as he had the knee arthroscopically repaired...he made 8 starts at third, with his first Major League starting assignment at the hot corner taking place on April 16 in St. Louis...he was placed on the disabled list for the first time on June 6, remaining on the shelf until June 25...he returned to work on June 26, appearing as a pinch hitter that night, but it was his only appearance before returning to the D.L. on July 1 (retroactive to June 27), succumbing to arthroscopic surgery on July 5...Greg rehabilitated the injury and returned to the active roster on August 17...he hit a pinch homer on August 19 off the Cubs' David Weathers, at the time setting the Major League record for team pinch homers in a season, the 13th by the Diamondbacks in 2001...the Giants would later tie that mark, but Colby broke the tie against San Francisco on August 30, only to see the Giants tie it again on September 8...the knee injury was a contributing factor to an unusually slow start for Greg as a pinch hitter, going just 1-for-19 in that role to open the year, with the lone hit a 2-run homer off the Dodgers' Jeff Shaw on April 12...once repaired, Colby was 5-for-11 as a pinch hitter with a double, 2 homers and 5 RBI...he tied a career best with 4 hits on October 2 vs. Colorado, the seventh 4-hit game of his career, while tying Arizona's team mark with 3 doubles...after the birth of his daughter Kelsey Paige on the September 24 off day, Colby went 7-for-13 with 5 doubles and 4 RBI spanning 6 games. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Colby combined the 3 tiers of Arizona's playoff run to hit .333 (4-for-12) with a pair of RBI...his lone appearance in the World Series was in Game #6 when he arrived at Bank One Ballpark to see his name in the lineup card as one of manager Bob Brenly's "hunches" and it paid off with a pair of hits, 2 runs scored, a walk and RBI in Arizona's 15-2 win...he was on base twice and scored each time during the 8-run third inning, leading off the frame with a walk, then driving in a run later in the inning...Colby's sixth inning single was the 21st hit of the game for the Diamondbacks, setting a World Series single-game record (the D'Backs finished the night with 22 hits)...his most extensive action came in the Division Series against the Cardinals, appearing in the last 4 games of the set, including a start in Game #4...Colby delivered pinch-hit singles in Games #2 and #3, knocking in a run in the Game #3 win in Busch Stadium...he was intentionally walked in the ninth inning of Game #5, then was pinch run for by Danny Bautista, who scored the tie-breaking tally that sent the D'Backs into the NLCS...he appeared only once in the NLCS against the Braves, pinch hitting in Game #2. 2000—Greg opened the year coming off the bench and spot starting when needed, but wound up the everyday first baseman after Erubiel Durazo succumbed to wrist surgery in mid-August, his most extensive work since serving as Florida's first baseman in 1995-96...he set a franchise record by reaching base in 9 consecutive plate appearances from April 22-30...the streak consisted of 6 hits and 3 walks, featuring a career-high tying 4-hit game on April 29 in Chicago...he batted .349 (66-for-189) in his last 50 starts with 16 doubles, 9 home runs and 38 RBI...he had his second 4-hit game of the year, sixth career, on July 27 in St. Louis featuring 2 doubles and 3 RBI in the 17-5 win...Greg went 6-for-24 (.250) as a pinch hitter but was not used in that role after August 14. 1999—His first year with the D'Backs, Greg's .375 (9-for-24) pinch-hit contribution off the bench helped provide Arizona with the best overall pinch-hit average in the National League at .319 (60-for-188)...signed to offset the opposition's left-handed pitching, Colby hit .361 (35-for-97) against southpaws. 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Greg made a pair of starts vs. the Mets, playing first base in Games #2 & #4, collecting an extra-base hit in each contest...he doubled, walked, was hit by a pitch and scored a run in the second game, Arizona's lone win in the series, then tied the fourth game with a fifth inning solo homer in Shea off of Al Leiter. 1998—The second consecutive year that he opened with a new club, but found himself participating in post-season play as a member of the Atlanta Braves...this time, he inked a free agent contract with Colorado, playing there through July 29, before being shipped to the Braves on July 30...in '97, he had signed a free agent deal with Minnesota, only to be moved to Atlanta on August 14...all told in '98, he led the majors in pinch-hit average, batting .364 (16-for-44) with 3 doubles and 11 RBI, while his 16 hits ranked second to Houston's Dave Clark...he went 2-for-8 in the post-season, with both hits coming in consecutive pinch-hit appearances vs. the Padres on October 7 & 8. 1997—Had first career post-season experience, courtesy of the mid-season trade from Minnesota to Atlanta...appeared in 70 games for the Twins, making 52 starts at first base...had third career 4-hit game on May 12 vs. Toronto...hit his second career grand slam vs. Blue Jays on August 4 off of Omar Daal...was hitting .281 with 5 homers and 26 RBI at the time of his August 14 trade to Atlanta...went 8-for-16 as a pinch hitter after joining the Braves, including a home run...enjoyed a terrific post-season, delivering a 2-run single in a pinch-hit appearance vs. Houston in the Division Series, then went 2-for-3 off the bench in the NLCS vs. the Marlins. 1996—The end of a 3-year stay with the Marlins, he was the everyday first baseman for the second straight campaign, establishing career bests in doubles, walks and games...also had a career-high 21-game hitting streak from May 31-June 23, hitting .386 (34-for-88)...was disabled from July 24-August 8 with a right wrist bruise...he set a Marlin record and ranked sixth in the N.L. with 12 HBP's. 1995—Set a Marlin club record and personal single-game best with 7 RBI on July 18 at San Francisco, his first career 2-homer game, featuring his first career grand slam (off of Chris Hook)...he blasted 2 homers on August 18 at Pittsburgh in the second game of a doubleheader...Greg set a then club record with a 17-game hitting streak (August 20-Sept. 6). 1994—Injury riddled campaign, he made the Marlins' Opening Day roster just 9 months after undergoing surgery to repair a ligament tear in his right elbow...was disabled from April 9-May 27 with torn cartilage in his right knee...was once again disabled from July 15-30 with a pulled rib cage muscle...he returned to hit .324 with 30 RBI over final 38 games. 1993—Final year in the Montreal chain, the campaign began on the D.L. due to bursitis in his right elbow...had first career 4-hit game on April 29 in Los Angeles...had first career pinch-hit home run on May 30 at Chicago off of Randy Myers...had season-ending surgery on August 10 to repair ligament tear in right elbow (Dr. Frank Jobe and Dr. Larry Coughlin)...was claimed off waivers by Florida on October 7. 1992—Opened the year in AAA at Indy, but was recalled by the Expos and made Major League debut on July 9 at San Francisco, collecting first big league hit that day off of Francisco Oliveras...hit first Major League homer on July 22 off Giants' Rod Beck...was disabled August 4-18 with a muscle strain in the left side of his back. 1991—Missed the entire season after Dr. Jobe performed surgery to repair a tendon in his right elbow. 1990—Led Jacksonville (AA) in hits, doubles and at bats, earning league and Class AA All-Star honors as a catcher by Baseball America, who also named him the top offensive catcher in the minor leagues. 1989—Split the year between West Palm (A) and Jacksonville (AA), earning Baseball America's tag as Montreal's 10th best overall prospect. 1988—Signed as a sixth round choice, he began his pro career as a catcher with Rockford (A).

PERSONAL

Gregory Joseph (Greg) Colbrunn...he and his wife, Erika, and daughters, Danielle (10/13/98) and Kelsey Paige (9/24/01) make their home in Mount Pleasant, SC...the 1998 post-season with Atlanta was a hectic time for the Colbrunn family, as Danielle was born on the "travel day" between Games #5 and #6 of the NLCS, as the Braves returned home from San Diego...Greg was able to get to Florida in time for Danielle's arrival and was back in uniform for the continuation of the series...a native of Fontana, CA, he graduated in 1987 from Fontana High School, earning All-State honors in baseball, while also nabbing All-Conference kudos on the gridiron...he turned down a baseball scholarship to Stanford University to sign with the Expos as their sixth pick in the '87 June draft...Greg is a contributor to country music legend Garth Brooks' Teammates for Kids Foundation.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with cash considerations from the Cincinnati Reds in a four-team deal that included Erubiel Durazo going to the Oakland Athletics, December 15, 2002.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Elmer's first year as a Diamondback, he led the staff in starts (30), while going 8-8...he allowed 212 hits (seventh in the N.L.), and 107 runs (tenth in the N.L.) of which 99 were earned (tied for ninth)...he notched his first win as a Diamondback on April 13, a 9-3 decision over Milwaukee, allowing 2 runs on 7 hits over 6.2 innings...he won back-to-back starts for the only time on the season in Montreal (April 23) and over Florida (April 28), yielding 2 runs (1 earned) in 6.0 innings at Olympic Stadium then limiting the Marlins to a run over 7.0 frames in Bank One Ballpark...after picking up 3 wins in April, Dessens won only once in each of the remaining months, waiting nearly a month between each victory...following his April 28 triumph, his other victories came on May 25 vs. San Diego, June 25 vs. Houston, July 26 vs. Los Angeles, August 21 vs. Cincinnati and September 20 in Milwaukee...he allowed 3 earned runs or less in 5 of his 6 starts during June, going 1-0 with a 4.32 ERA for the month...after allowing 17 home runs over his first 18 starts of the year, Elmer gave up only 5 long balls over his last 16 trips to the mound (12 starts)...he began July with losses in 3 consecutive starts from July 5-21, starting with a tough 2-0 loss in Los Angeles, allowing 2 unearned runs in 7.0 innings while fanning a season-high 8...he snapped the slide with an impressive 1-0 victory over the Dodgers in Phoenix on July 26, surrendering 4 singles in 7.0 innings...he also drove home the game's lone run with his first career triple during the fifth inning, the first pitcher to knock in the game-winning run in a 1-0 victory since Odalis Perez homered against the D'Backs on August 28, 2002...Elmer made his first relief appearance since 2000 when he tossed 2.0 scoreless innings at Florida on July 29...following another relief outing, he returned to the rotation with a no decision at home on August 9, holding the Mets to a run over 6.1 innings, a contest the D'Backs won on a Steve Finley walk-off homer...Elmer's final triumph of the year came on September 20 at Miller Park as Arizona prevailed 10-4, allowing 2 runs in 5.0 innings...he batted .196 (9-for-46) and led the staff with 6 RBI...he also topped the club in sacrifice bunts with 10...he was sent to pinch hit in the ninth inning against the Phillies on May 6 and sacrificed the eventual game-winning run to third base setting the stage for Danny Bautista's sacrifice fly...Dessens held his own against righthanded batters (.242, 91-for-376) but struggled against lefties (.364, 121-for-332).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Elmer made 30 starts for the Reds, finishing the season with the sixth-best overall ERA in the National League (3.03), despite owning a 7-8 record...he ranked second in the league with a 2.56 road ERA and fourth with a 1.83 ERA in day games...he went 7-5 with a 2.67 ERA in 23 starts before suffering a right groin strain that landed him on the D.L. from August 6-26...once he returned to health, Elmer went 0-3 with a 4.19 ERA in 7 starts...he lost his first 3 starts of the year despite allowing only 5 earned runs over 16.2 innings for a 2.70 ERA, while his teammates scored only 4 runs in those starts...Dessens went 7-2 with a 2.66 ERA over his next 20 starts prior to his disablement, including scoreless stretches of 15.1 innings (April 14-26) and 17.0 innings (July 11-21)...the latter stretch was the longest by a Reds pitcher all season and concluded with his final victory of the year, a 9-1 triumph over the Mets in which he tossed 7.0 shutout innings...he was a 3-time victim of blown saves, including a 10-8 Cincy loss to St. Louis on May 12 in which the Reds took an 8-0 lead into the fifth inning, and left with an 8-5 advantage...it was Cincy's biggest blown lead since September 4, 1989 vs. San Francisco (led 8-0, lost 9-8)...Elmer made 4 starts in which he lasted at least 6.0 innings without allowing a run...he threw 7.1 shutout frames at Chicago in a 6-1 victory on April 20...Elmer left on August 1 vs. Los Angeles in the fourth inning with a strained right groin and 5 days later landed on the disabled list...in a 4-1 loss to the Pirates on September 11, he carried a 1-0 lead into the seventh, retiring the first 19 batters of the game before Jack Wilson reached on Gookie Dawkins' 1-out throwing error...Elmer retired the next batter but then allowed 4 unearned runs on a pair of 2-run homers...in his final start on September 27, Elmer tied a career high with 9 K's. 2001—His second season with the Reds, Elmer established career highs in starts (34), innings (205.0) and strikeouts (128)...he recorded double-digit victories for the second straight season, yet was victimized by 4 blown saves, most on the staff...he did not allow an unearned run until his 32nd start of the season...his 5-0 victory on July 28 vs. Florida snapped a career-high 4-game losing streak and was his second career complete game, his first career shutout and the only shutout by a Reds pitcher all season...as a hitter, Elmer led the club with 10 sacrifice bunts and recorded a trio of 2-hit games, his first career multi-hit efforts...he finished the season with 9 hits in his final 18 at bats (.500)...on June 5 at Milwaukee, Dessens struck out in a pinch hit appearance. 2000—His first season with the Reds, Elmer went 11-5 with a 4.28 ERA in 40 appearances, including 10-5, 4.21 ERA in 16 starts...he posted a .688 winning percentage, tied for sixth in the National League...he threw his first career complete game in his last start of the year, a 2-hit, 8-1 victory on September 28 at Milwaukee in the final game played at County Stadium...both hits he allowed came off the bat of Raul Casanova, a single in the third inning and a triple in the fifth...Elmer closed the year going 5-0 with a 2.55 ERA...after 21 appearances out of the bullpen (0-0, 1 save, 5.14 ERA), he had a no decision in a start on June 28 against St. Louis, his first starting assignment since September 24, 1998...he began the season at Louisville (AAA), where he went 2-0 in 4 starts before he was recalled on April 26...he earned his first career save on June 24 vs. San Diego, throwing the final 4.0 innings in the 11-5 win...Elmer recorded his first career victory as a starter with a 15-6 triumph at Colorado on July 13...as a reliever, he retired the first batter faced in 22 of 24 (92%) appearances and stranded 9 of 11 (82%) inherited baserunners. 1999—Elmer traveled across the Pacific Ocean after signing with the Yomiuri Giants of the Japanese Baseball League...he went 0-1 with a 3.86 ERA in 8 games for the Giants while going 4-3 with a 2.09 ERA in 15 games for Yomiuri's minor league squad...he returned to North America after the season and pitched for Hermosillo in the Mexican Winter League, going 3-2 with a save and a 3.44 ERA in 10 games (8 starts)...on December 13, he signed with Cincinnati as a free agent. 1998—Elmer made the Pirates' Opening Day roster, but made only 2 appearances before landing on the disabled list on April 9 with a strained right groin...he earned his first career victory with a scoreless frame out of the pen on May 7 vs. Cincinnati...he was optioned to Nashville on May 11 and returned to the big leagues on May 24...he was optioned to Nashville on August 17, then was recalled when rosters expanded in September. 1997—Spent most of the season with the Mexico City Red Devils, leading the club in victories (16) and ranking second in starts (26)...Elmer re-joined Pittsburgh on September 5 after the Red Devils were defeated in the Mexican League championship, 4-games-to-1, by the Mexico City Tigers...he made his first appearance for the Pirates on September 10 at Montreal (0.2 innings)...he tossed 2.2 scoreless frames over his other 2 appearances. 1996—Elmer began the season at Calgary (AAA) and was the Cannons' Opening Day starter...he went 2-2 with a 3.15 ERA in 6 starts before he was assigned to Mexico City on May 7...he made 7 starts for the Red Devils, going 7-0 with a 1.26 ERA before he was recalled by Calgary and then promoted to Pittsburgh on June 21...he made his Major League debut on June 24 at Montreal...he got the starting nod and suffered the 11-3 loss, allowing 6 earned runs in 1.2 innings...in that game he had an RBI-single off Pedro Martinez in his first Major League plate appearance...Dessens went 0-2 with a 14.46 ERA in 3 starts before he was sent to the bullpen...he was on the Pirates' disabled list from July 31-September 10 with a strained left oblique muscle. 1995—Elmer was a Southern League All-Star and Baseball America Double-A All-Star after leading the league in wins (15) and ERA (2.49), becoming the first Carolina pitcher in history to lead the league in both categories during the same season...he averaged a league-low 1.06 walks per 9-innings.

PERSONAL

Elmer Dessens Jusaino...he and his wife, Lorenia, have a son, Elmer Jr. (4/12/02)...Elmer is a graduate of Carrera Technical High School...he was originally signed by Pittsburgh as a non-drafted free agent on January 27, 1993...Elmer was dealt to Arizona on the same weekend that he attended the wedding of Erubiel Durazo in their hometown of Hermosillo, MX...Durazo was the other marquee player in the deal, winding up in Oakland...Elmer spent this past winter working on his endurance with a goal of pitching deeper into games, while also getting some work with his hometown Hermosillo team in the Mexican Winter League...he made 3 starts during the regular season, followed by a pair of playoff assignments in which he limited the opposition to a .140 average...once Hermosillo was eliminated by Culiacan in the semifinals, Dessens was added to the Culiacan roster for the Caribbean World Series, where he defeated Venezuela in Game #2 by allowing just a run on 6 hits with 5 K's and no walks in 7.0 innings.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent, December 7, 1998.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

At 38 years old, Steve finished tied with Rafael Furcal for the National League lead in triples with 10, becoming the oldest player in major league history to lead his respective league in three-base hits, eclipsing by two months Jake Daubert, who led the N.L. in 1922 while playing for the Cincinnati Reds...Fins struggled at the outset hitting .158 (6-for-38) through the first 11 games, then had a 3-hit affair on April 13 against the Brewers that launched a 6-game hitting streak, during which he batted .435 (10-for-23)...he recorded his 100th career triple on May 4 off the Braves' Roberto Hernandez...he followed the next day by reaching base safely in all 5 plate appearances against the Phillies, featuring 2 home runs, a triple, a walk and a hit by pitch...it was the 21st multi-homer game of Finley's career, 18th of the 2-homer variety, and his 35th career game of at least 4 RBI...he also tied a team mark with 4 runs scored, the ninth time in franchise history, first since Greg Colbrunn on September 18, 2002, at San Diego, the night of his cycle...he had 3 hits, including a 2-run homer and 3 RBI on May 30 at San Diego...Steve was in the midst of a 12-game stretch from May 23-June 4 in which he batted .417 (15-for-36), when he was forced from the June 4 contest with a right hamstring strain...the injury did not require time on the disabled list but did sideline him for 6 games...though not completely healed, Steve was pressed into action in the sixth inning on June 14 in Minnesota when Danny Bautista and Junior Spivey both suffered disabling injuries...Fins then launched a 15-game hitting streak on June 19 in Houston...included was a 4-hit effort on June 22 against Cincinnati, highlighted by a 3-run homer off of Ryan Dempster, Steve's first 4-hit game since April 4, 2000, vs. Philadelphia...he took Detroit southpaw Jamie Walker deep for a game-tying solo homer in the eighth frame on June 29, setting the stage for Arizona's 5-3 win in 10 innings and a sweep of the series in Motown...he recorded his second 4-hit game on July 1 at Colorado, including a 2-run first inning homer off of Denny Stark, the first of 3 consecutive games with a roundtripper...Steve celebrated Independence Day with 2 hits in Los Angeles, wrapping up his 15-game hitting streak in which he batted .452 (28-for-62) with 15 runs, 5 doubles, a triple, 5 homers and 15 RBI, the second longest in his career (21 games with San Diego in 1996)...he hit safely in 13 straight home contests from May 26-July 10, batting .511 (23-for-45) with 13 runs and 14 RBI, raising his home average from .333 to .390...he hit 3-run homers in back-to-back games on July 17-18 in San Diego...despite a .194 average (6-for-31) over his final 8 games in July, Fins closed a 3-month stretch in which he'd hit .337 (84-for-249) in 71 games since May 1...he departed the August 5 contest with a contusion of his left shoulder, suffered in a third inning collision with Junior Spivey...he propelled the D'Backs to a 2-1 win over the Mets on August 9 with a walk-off homer off lefty John Franco, Finley's first game ending blast with Arizona and the 17th in team history...he batted leadoff on September 4 in Kansas City, his first start in the top spot of the order since May 16, 2001, at Cincinnati...he recorded back-to-back 4-hit affairs on September 6-7 in San Francisco...his 3-run pinch homer gave Arizona a 5-3 victory over the Dodgers on September 10, his second career pinch-hit home run, first since September 9, 1996, while with the Padres, off of Pittsburgh's Rich Loiselle...Steve hit leadoff in 20 of the team's last 22 games, batting .287 (25-for-87) with 17 runs, 7 doubles, a triple, a homer and 8 RBI...Finley hit 7 homers off of southpaw hurlers, bringing his total to 60 out of 249 career roundtrippers.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Steve entered 2004 leading all active players with 108 career triples, 22 more than his nearest competition (Kenny Lofton-86)...Fins is tied for 127th on the all-time 3-base hit list and is 10 triples shy of cracking the top 100...he appeared in his 2,000th career game on April 22, 2003, in Montreal and has played in 2,127 games overall, ninth among active players...he is the only active player with more than 300 doubles, 200 home runs and 100 triples, joining 17 others all-time (Earl Averill, Jim Bottomley, George Brett, Roberto Clemente, Joe DiMaggio, Jimmie Foxx, Lou Gehrig, Goose Goslin, Willie Mays, Joe Medwick, Paul Molitor, Stan Musial, Vada Pinson, Babe Ruth, Al Simmons, Robin Yount and Rogers Hornsby), 16 of whom are in the Hall of Fame, with only Fins, and Pinson not currently enshrined.

2002—Steve earned the team Player-of-the-Year award from the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA...twice within a 5-day stretch he was a component of back-to-back-to-back home runs, something the Diamondbacks had only done once in their history prior to 2002...Fins hit the first of 3 straight off of Josh Beckett in the sixth inning on April 28 at Florida, followed by Damian Miller and Mark Grace to turn a 4-2 deficit into an eventual 5-4 win...just 5 nights later on May 3 in Bank One Ballpark, Steve was the middle man between Danny Bautista and Miller for 3 in a row in the first inning off of Montreal's Bruce Chen, as the D'Backs wound up 6-3 victors...he closed the campaign by going 9-for-19 (.474) with 7 runs, 2 doubles, 2 homers and 6 RBI in the 4-game sweep of Colorado to win the division and secure home field in the Division Series...

included was his second 2-homer, 5-RBI game of the year, going 3-for-5 in the division clincher on September 28, taking southpaws Kent Mercker and Brian Fuentes deep...he hit 9 home runs against lefthanded pitchers, 7 more than the 2001 season...included in the first half was his first 2-homer, 5-RBI game of the season on June 12 in Yankee Stadium, as the D'Backs were 9-5 winners for their first-ever victory in 6 tries in the Bronx...known throughout his career for home runs and RBI coming in bunches, Finley hit one of those rolls from August 10-15, homering 4 times in 5 games and knocking in 10 runs as the D'Backs were in the midst of a season-high 8-game winning streak...included was his 100th home run as a Diamondback, a 2-run blast off of Jimmy Haynes in Cincinnati on August 13...Fins went deep in each of the games in the Cincy series with the Diamondbacks sweeping their last-ever visit to Cinergy Field...he hit a game-tying home run against San Diego on September 11, a solo shot in the bottom of the eighth off of lefthander Kevin Walker, the 1,999th hit of Finley's career...he achieved the 2,000-hit milestone by doubling in his next at bat on September 13 off of Milwaukee's Glendon Rusch...a 4-time Rawlings Gold Glove winner, Finley committed only 2 errors on the season, including a stretch of 97 consecutive errorless games from May 18-September 19. 2002 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Fins started all 3 games against St. Louis, going 2-for-9...he was hitless with a run scored and sac. fly in the series opener, then picked up a single in each of the last 2 games of the short series. 2001—Steve recovered from a slow start offensively to finish the year at .275...he began play on June 7 with a .207 average, 2 homers and 16 RBI through 53 games, but a 3-hit effort against the Dodgers was the first step in an offensive revival that saw him hit .316 (97-for-307) with 12 homers and 57 RBI over the final 86 games...the final turnaround began on July 14 in Anaheim when he delivered a pinch hit single and scored the tying run in the eighth inning, then drove in an insurance tally with a double off of Troy Percival in the ninth to help stake the D'Backs to a 7-5 win...from that date, Fins batted .330 (70-for-212) over 63 games with 9 home runs, 32 runs scored and 40 RBI...his streaky nature was personified over a 4-game stretch in Arizona's final homestand of the year when he knocked in 12 runs...it began in a game he didn't start on September 26 against Milwaukee, entering as a pinch hitter in the sixth and delivering a run scoring single, then tacking on a grand slam in the eighth, Steve's eighth career slam and 200th career home run...he followed with a 4-RBI affair, then after going 1-for-2 with no RBI in a non-start against the Dodgers on September 28, he hit a 3-run homer the next afternoon to stake the D'Backs to an 8-1 win...Steve closed the year by hitting .344 (31-for-90) in his last 25 games with 27 RBI...he was intentionally walked on August 12 in Atlanta, snapping Greg Maddux's streak of 72.1 consecutive innings pitched without allowing a walk...Fins' diversity was displayed on August 30 when he was summoned from centerfield to work an inning of relief in a blowout loss to the Giants at Bank One Ballpark...featuring a knuckleball, he walked a man and hit Jeff Kent, but escaped any damage on the scoreboard by recording an inning-ending double play. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Steve had a terrific post-season, hitting safely in 11 of 14 starts at a .365 clip (19-for-52)...he began by hitting .421 (8-for-19) in the Division Series against the Cardinals, featuring an RBI single that was all Curt Schilling needed in a 1-0 decision in Game #1...Steve came up big again in the pivotal third game of the NLCS in Atlanta, going 2-for-3 with a double and 3 RBI in the 5-1 win, then sealed Arizona's first trip to the World Series by catching the final out of Game #5 ending the 3-2 victory...as Arizona advanced to the World Series, Steve's production continued as he batted .368 (7-for-19) against New York, a complete reversal from his 1-for-12 experience the first time he faced the Yankees in the Fall Classic while with the Padres in 1998...he had 3 hits in Game #5 at Yankee Stadium including a fifth inning solo homer off of Mike Mussina that gave Arizona a 1-0 lead, his first post-season home run in his 35th career post-season game (113th at bat)...it was also the first of 2 homers in the inning for the D'Backs with Rod Barajas also going deep, the 34th multi-homer inning in World Series history, 15th by a National League club...Fins also had a big impact in the seventh and deciding game of the Fall Classic, picking up a pair of hits and scoring the first run on Danny Bautista's double in the sixth inning...Steve also made a terrific running catch in center to retire Shane Spencer to end the second inning. 2000—Steve carried the club during the first half, hitting 27 homers and driving in 75 by July 21...he was a late-addition to the All Star team, replacing Ken Griffey Jr...Fins also earned his second straight Rawlings Gold Glove, the fourth of his career...he was named the team Co-Player-of-the-Year with Luis Gonzalez by the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA...he made an eighth inning game-saving catch against the wall in left-center of Houston's Enron Field on July 6, aggravating a lower back injury...though he missed only one game after the run-in with the wall, Fins required a pair of injections as the season progressed...he hit his career-high 35th home run of the year on September 9 in Florida, a 2-run shot off of A.J. Burnett in a 4-1 Arizona win...he suffered a costly hit by pitch on his left hand on September 12 when hit by L.A.'s Onan Masaoka, finishing the year just 4-for-39 (.103) after the plunking...he hit a pair of 2-run homers in San Diego off of Sterling Hitchcock on April 13, staking the D'Backs to a 5-4 win...Fins reached base by hit, walk or hit by pitch in 29 consecutive games from May 5 through June 5...by the end of the streak, he had reached base in 53 of his 56 starts since Opening Day...Steve entered the All-Star Game in Atlanta as a defensive replacement in left, then knocked in the N.L.'s final run with an RBI single in the ninth...Fins started the only triple play in franchise history vs. St. Louis on May 31 when he caught Mark McGwire's fly ball and threw home to catch Placido Polanco attempting to score from third...Damian Miller then fired to third base, where shortstop Tony Womack caught Edgar Renteria trying to advance from second...Steve's ailing back was surgically repaired by Dr. Volker Sonntag at St. Joseph's Hospital after the season, a procedure that consisted of clipping a portion of the ruptured disk that was irritating the nerves and causing the pain. 1999—Steve's first year with the D'Backs featured a career best in RBI, while earning his third career Rawlings Gold Glove, first since winning in 1995 & 1996, and first in Arizona franchise history...he accomplished it all while suffering from a back ailment that twice required injections...Steve eclipsed the 100-RBI mark on Sept. 28 vs. Colorado, joining teammates Matt Williams, Jay Bell and Luis Gonzalez in the century club, as Arizona became the seventh club in National League history with a quartet of 100-RBI men...he was hitting just .231 on May 19 then started a 15-game stretch in which he batted .452 (28-for-62) with 6 homers and 29 RBI, totaling 58 bases for a .935 slugging pct., raising his season average 63 points to .294...included was a 5-game stretch against New York, Montreal and Texas in which he went 16-for-23 (.696) with 4 doubles, a triple, 5 homers and 18 RBI, totaling 37 bases for a slugging pct. of 1.609, earning N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors... the stretch began with 4 hits on May 30 in Shea, featuring a double, 2 homers and 5 RBI, but he trumped that 2 days later with another 4-hit effort, hitting 2 more home runs, while setting a club record with 6 RBI...he would later tie the RBI mark with 6 on September 8 in Milwaukee, the result of a club record 3-homer game, the third of his career...he hit the seventh grand slam of his career on May 10 at home vs. Montreal's Javier Vazquez...Steve collected the 1,500th hit of his career on June 13 in Anaheim off of Omar Olivares. 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Fins hit safely in all 4 games vs. the Mets, finishing the series with a .385 mark (5-for-13), with a double and 5 RBI...the double and 5 RBI all took place in the second game of the series, Arizona's lone win, providing a 2-run single in the third inning and 2-run double in the fifth, then coaxing a bases loaded walk in the seventh...he entered that contest with 18 career post-season games under his belt, totaling 4 RBI. 1998—He had a pair of 4-hit games, the first included a San Diego club record-tying 3 doubles and 5 RBI vs. the Rangers in Arlington on June 7...he hit his fifth career first inning leadoff homer, taking the Giants' Shawn Estes deep to open the scoring on September 9 in San Diego...he hit the sixth grand slam of his career on April 10, delivering a 2-out blow to the D'Backs, taking Felix Rodriguez deep to end the game. 1998 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Steve rode the offensive rollercoaster during the Padres' run into fall ball, finishing October play with a .209 mark, going 9-for-43 in 13 games...he struggled through a 1-for-10 in the Division Series vs. the Astros, but rebounded to hit .333 (7-for-21) in the 6-game NLCS...Finley was not as fortunate in the Fall Classic against the Yankees, going just 1-for-12, appearing in 3 of the 4 games. 1997—Led the Padres in homers, triples and runs, earning his first trip to the All-Star Game...added his name to the record book by becoming the sixth National Leaguer and 11th player in big league history to homer 3 times in a game twice in the same season (May 19 at Cincinnati and June 23 at San Francisco)...he recorded 13 total bases in the June 23 game, 1 more base than Nate Colbert's previous club record on August 1, 1972...the second 3-homer game led to N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors, finishing the week of June 23-29 with a .520 mark (13-for-25) with 6 homers and 9 RBI...he slugged career home run #100 on August 23 at Shea Stadium off of Dave Mlicki. 1996—He finished 10th in the N.L. MVP balloting, establishing Padres' records in runs, doubles, extra-base hits and total bases...he had a career-high 21-game hitting streak from June 20-July 14, hitting .419 (39-for-93)...he homered in 3 consecutive at bats on June 29-30 in Candlestick, hitting a 3-run blast off Mark Leiter and a 2-run shot off of Rod Beck on the 29th, then a solo homer off of William VanLandingham the following day...Finley set a career-high with 5 hits on May 23 at Philly...he hit his third career grand slam on June 1 at Philly off of lefty Dave Leiper...notched career hit #1,000 on June 5, a double off St. Louis' Donovan Osborne...had a milestone evening on Sept. 10 vs. the Pirates, joining the 20/20 club with his 20th steal, and ending the contest with a 2-out, 0-2, 2-run homer to give the Friars a 6-5 win...defensively, he earned his second straight Rawlings Gold Glove...he wrapped up 1996 by earning MVP honors on an 8-game Major League Baseball All-Star tour through Japan, hitting .400 (8-for-20) in 7 games. 1995—First year in San Diego, he was the only National League player to achieve 100 runs, 10 homers and 35 stolen bases (Minnesota's Chuck Knoblauch was the only A.L. player), while earning his first Rawlings Gold Glove...was used in the leadoff spot in 73 games, hitting a major league best .338 (103-for-305)... stole a career-high 4 bases on August 12 vs. St. Louis...was in the delivery room on Sept. 1 when son Reed was born, then went to the ballpark and played the last 2 innings of San Diego's 6-3 win over Philly. 1994—Steve appeared in 94 games because of an injury and strike-shortened season, missing nearly a month after being hit by a pitch on June 8 in Montreal, breaking the third metacarpal bone in his right hand...he was placed on the D.L. on June 13 and did not return until July 3...he hit his second career grand slam on July 17 at Pittsburgh off of Paul Wagner...Finley was part of the 11-player trade with San Diego on December 28. 1993—Slowed by an early-season ailment and injury, he did not play full-time until mid-May...was slowed in spring training by Bell's Palsy, a viral infection of a nerve in the upper neck, resulting in numbness that prevented him from closing his left eye...he then played the first 16 games of the year before getting plunked by a John Candelaria pitch on April 24 in Pittsburgh, resulting in a hairline fracture, which forced him on the D.L. from April 27-May 14...upon returning, he did not collect his first triple of the year until the 41st game and still led the N.L. with 13. 1992—Steve and teammates Craig Biggio and Jeff Bagwell were the only 3 N.L. players to participate in all 162 games...he finished in the league's top 10 in hits, triples, stolen bases and sacrifice bunts. 1991—Finley's first year as an Astro, he was acquired on January 10 with pitchers Pete Harnisch and Curt Schilling in exchange for Glenn Davis. 1990—Led the Orioles with 22 steals, while ranking second in hits. 1989—Made his major league debut with Baltimore on opening day, and on his first big league fielding chance, Steve made a diving catch while crashing into the wall in right-center, suffering a right shoulder sprain that necessitated D.L. time...was activated on April 22 and picked up first big league hit that night, a single off of Minnesota's Fred Toliver...hit first major league home run on April 25 off California's Willie Fraser...blasted first grand slam on June 5 at Yankee Stadium off of southpaw Chuck Cary. 1988—Steve was named International League Rookie-of-the-Year, leading the league in batting and hits to help Rochester to the title. 1987—Signed with Baltimore as a 14th round choice and was a New York-Penn League All-Star with Newark.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with pitchers Brandon Lyon, Jorge de la Rosa and a player-to-be-named (outfielder Michael Goss) from the Boston Red Sox in exchange for pitcher Curt Schilling, November 28, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Casey opened the season in Boston's starting rotation for the first time in his career, but battled injury problems in splitting the season between the Red Sox, the disabled list and minor league stints with Portland (AA) and Pawtucket (AAA)...he made 19 appearances (14 starts) for the BoSox while appearing in 8 games (6 starts) for Portland and Pawtucket...he was 6-5 with a save and a 5.47 ERA for Boston...Casey's year began by going 4-4 with a 5.76 ERA in 12 starts for the Red Sox through June 7...he was placed on the 15-day D.L. on June 8 with tendinitis in his left shoulder...after a rehab appearance at Portland and 3 more with Pawtucket, Fossum was activated by the Red Sox on July 17...he went 1-0 with a save and a 3.86 ERA in 3 relief appearances, earning a rescue with a 4-inning stint in Boston's 14-5 win on July 21 vs. Detroit...he was optioned to Pawtucket on July 28 and made 2 starts for the PawSox, posting a win and a 2.00 ERA...he was recalled August 8 to start the second game of a doubleheader that day against the Orioles, suffering a loss to Baltimore allowing 4 earned runs in 5.1 innings...Fossum made only 3 more appearances the remainder of the year before being shut down due to a recurrence of tendinitis in his pitching shoulder...during his work as a starter, the Red Sox went 9-5, winning 7 of his first 8 assignments...he registered a season-high 8 strikeouts in his 2003 debut, a 5.0-inning effort in a 14-5 win April 3 at Tampa Bay...he followed by fanning 7 in his second outing, April 9 at Toronto, but did not record more than 5 strikeouts in any other outing...in a 6-5 win over the Devil Rays April 15 at Fenway, allowed just one run on 6 hits over 7.0 innings...he threw 7.0 innings of 5-hit shutout ball in a 5-2 win April 25 at Anaheim...on May 1 vs. Kansas City, Casey was ejected by umpire Phil Cuzzi with 2 outs in the top of the first, coming close with a pitch to Raul Ibanez following a 2-run homer by Mike Sweeney.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Casey made his first Major League Opening Day roster...he allowed one run in just two of his first 16 relief appearances, going 2-0 with a 1.17 ERA in that span...he was optioned to Pawtucket on June 25, where he went 0-3 with a 3.96 ERA in 5 games (3 starts) before being recalled back to Boston on July 24...he worked 7.0 innings of relief that night against Tampa Bay, the longest relief outing by a Red Sox pitcher since Tom Bolton went 7.1 frames on July 1, 1990...Casey also fanned 9 in that outing, the most K's by a Boston reliever since Diego Segui had 12 K over 7.2 innings on September 22, 1974, vs. Baltimore...the 9 relief K's by Fossum were the most in the majors since Randy Johnson struck out 16 Padres on July 18, 2001, in Qualcomm Stadium...Casey struck out a career-high 10 in a no decision vs. Cleveland on September 18. 2001—Called up from Trenton (AA) on July 27, the first Red Sox hurler to make the jump from AA since Jim Ho Cho in 1998...Casey made his Major League debut with 1.0 inning of work on July 28 vs. the White Sox...he was optioned back to Trenton on August 1, but recalled just 2 days later...he recorded his first Major League win on August 6 against Texas, tossing 2.0 shutout innings in a 10-7 triumph...his first Major League start was on August 18 vs. Baltimore, the first time a southpaw started for the Red Sox since Pete Schourek on September 10, 2000...Casey earned his first win as a starter on September 2 vs. Detroit, allowing 2 earned runs over 5.0 innings. 2000—Spent the entire season with Sarasota (A), leading all Class A pitchers with 3 shutouts...included was a no-hitter on August 7 vs. Clearwater, fanning 16 en route to a 2-0 win...he led all Red Sox minor league pitchers with 143 strikeouts...he was named the organization's Minor League Pitcher-of-the-Month in August, going 3-1 with a 1.54 ERA...his no-no also earned him Pitcher-of-the-Week honors for August 7-13...Casey was voted Sarasota's Pitcher of the Year. 1999—Fossum made 5 starts for Lowell (Short-season A) with opponents hitting only .122 (6-for-49).

PERSONAL

Casey Paul Fossum...he and his wife, Kim, make their home in Frisco, TX...Casey was a graduate of Midway High School in Waco, TX, then attended Texas A&M University, leading the Aggies to the 1999 College World Series in Omaha, NE...he earned All-Big 12 honors in both 1998 and 1999, highlighted by a 12-7 record and 3.64 ERA during his junior campaign, establishing a single-season school mark with 162 strikeouts...Fossum won the C.E. "Pat" Olsen Outstanding Pitcher Award in '99 and was a second team All-American in 1998...he was Boston's third pick in the first round (48th overall) in the 1999 June draft, a selection the Red Sox received for Arizona's free agent signing of Greg Swindell...Casey was originally drafted by the Diamondbacks in the seventh round of the 1996 draft, but elected to attend Texas A&M.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, November 15, 1999.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Jerry established career bests in virtually every offensive category during a full season with South Bend (A)...he paced the Silver Hawks with 6 triples, finished second on the club in RBI (58) and was tied for second in stolen bases (19), matching his career best...he was most effective batting in the leadoff spot, hitting at a .311 clip (19-for-61)...his 4 home runs were one shy of his career total entering the season...Jerry delivered a .303 batting average with men on base compared to a .216 mark with the bases empty, while excelling with the bases loaded, batting .533 (8-for-15) with 19 RBI...he collected a career-high 4 RBI when he belted the first grand slam of his career on May 19 at Cedar Rapids...Jerry had a pair of 10-game hitting streaks, the first occurring from May 8-17, during which he batted .342 (13-for-38)...the other took place from June 5-19, hitting .333 (12-for-36)...Gil also posted his first multi-homer game, going deep twice in a win over Lansing on July 31...he led South Bend hitters with a .375 mark during their stint in the playoffs...Jerry topped all Midwest League short-stops with 225 putouts.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Jerry had an 11-game hitting streak that took over 2 months to assemble due to injury (April 12-June 22)...he hit safely in the first 5 games of that span for Lancaster (A), then was disabled from April 23-May 28 with a left quadriceps strain...he returned to action when Yakima (A) opened its season on June 17 and hit safely in 6 more...he was successful on 14 of 15 stolen base attempts (93%), the second-highest rate in the Northwest League...he turned 36 double plays, most by a Northwest League shortstop...Jerry batted safely in 14 of 15 games from July 8-23 at a .339 clip (19-for-56) and, over a longer span, safely in 21 of 24 games from June 30-July 23 with a .341 mark (30-for-88). 2001—Jerry smacked his first home run as a pro on April 24 at West Michigan...he hit .406 (13-for-32) during an 8-game hit streak from August 12-20. 2000—Gil was ranked by Baseball America as the No. 13 prospect in the Pioneer League...he hit safely in 13 of 14 games from July 30-August 22.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, April 18, 2000.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Only 14 months after making his professional debut on a mound for South Bend (A), the 20-year old righthander made his big league debut in 2003...born on February 23, 1983, he was the youngest player in the majors when he debuted on June 1, nearly 4 full months younger than Detroit's Jeremy Bonderman (October 28, 1982)...after spending his entire first pro season in Class-A, Edgar needed only 6 starts for El Paso (AA), going 2-2 with a 3.50 ERA, before continuing his fast track with an early May promotion to Tucson (AAA)...he picked up a win in his El Paso debut, blanking San Antonio for 7.0 innings with a season-high 9 strikeouts...he followed by going 3-2 in his first 5 starts for the Sidewinders including back-to-back starts featuring 12.2 innings of shutout ball, allowing only 6 hits...the streak began on May 23 in Tacoma, working the final 6.0 innings of an 8-0 victory allowing just a hit, picking up for John Patterson, who had made the start but was limited to only 3.0 innings of action because of his impending promotion to the majors...Edgar's next outing featured 6.2 shutout innings vs. Portland on May 27, scattering 5 hits...he had his contract purchased on June 1 when Matt Williams was designated for assignment, and started that afternoon in San Diego, winning a 10-4 decision over the Padres, allowing 3 earned runs in 5.2 innings...he became the youngest hurler (20 years, 93 days) to win in the majors since Denny Reyes recorded a win for the Dodgers over San Francisco on July 13, 1997, at 20 years, 85 days...Los Angeles hurler Edwin Jackson later slipped past Gonzalez when he defeated the D'Backs on his 20th birthday on September 9...Edgar was the fifth hurler to make his major league debut as a starter for the Diamondbacks, the second to win his debut game, joining Geraldo Guzman (July 6, 2000)...he also quickly joined the club's all-time hit list by collecting a base hit off the Padres' Jake Peavy...Edgar was the first Mexican-born player to make his debut as a starter, win and get a hit, all in the same game since Esteban Loaiza turned the trick for the Pirates on April 19, 1995...Gonzalez was not as successful in his second start, losing a 6-3 decision to Cleveland at home on June 6...he was optioned back to Tucson on June 8 and went 4-0 over his next 6 starting assignments...Edgar was selected to participate in the All-Star Futures Game on July 13 in Chicago, working a scoreless frame for the World Team...he finished his AAA season with a pair of solid starts, going 1-0 with a 2.08 ERA allowing 3 earned runs over 13.0 innings...Edgar fared better on the road during his P.C.L. action, owning a 4-4 record with a 2.17 ERA while limiting the opposition to a .194 average...he returned to the big league club as a September recall, and pitched 7 times in relief, going 1-0 with a 3.68 ERA...he worked a scoreless frame at Pac Bell Park on September 7, only his second relief outing as a pro, and picked up the win...when he stepped on the mound for his big league debut on June 1, Edgar became the sixth rookie hurler to make a start for the Diamondbacks in '03 and the 11th different starting pitcher overall, tying the club record for a season set in 2001...Edgar was the 94th native of Mexico to appear in the majors and the 53rd pitcher from Mexico to work a big league game...he was the sixth Mexican to play for the D'Backs (Karim Garcia, Armando Reynoso, Erubiel Durazo, Elmer Dessens and Oscar Villarreal)...Gonzalez was the seventh major leaguer from Monterrey, Nuevo Leon Mexico, joining Villarreal, Felipe Montemayor (1953 Pirates), Bobby Trevino (1968 Angels), Hector Torres (1968 Astros) and Alex Trevino (1978 Mets).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—In his first pro season, Edgar led the farm system with an overall ERA of 2.63, 131 strikeouts and 4 complete games...his 14 victories tied for second among Arizona's minor leaguers...he ranked seventh in the Midwest League with a

2.91 ERA for South Bend (A) and was selected by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the league...he was voted the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for August after going a combined 5-0 with a 1.18 ERA in 5 starts for South Bend and Lancaster, working 38.0 innings during the month with 32 strikeouts and only 4 walks...he allowed 2 earned runs or less in 19 of his 27 starts on the year...in only his second pro outing, he spun the organization's second 9-inning complete game no-hitter on April 14 vs. West Michigan, a game played in 32-degree weather...he did not issue a walk and struck out 11, including a 2002 minor league-best 8 straight batters from the second through the fourth innings...he needed 108 pitches in his historic gem, facing the minimum 27 batters and picking off the only baserunner of the game who had reached on an error...the no-no started a personal 5-game win streak in which he yielded only 6 runs with 24 strikeouts over 37.2 innings (1.43 ERA) from April 14-May 6...Edgar found little success during a 6-start stretch from June 22-July 18, posting an 0-5 record with a 4.86 ERA...he snapped the slide with a 2-hit shutout on July 24 vs. Fort Wayne, earning Midwest League Pitcher-of-the-Week honors for July 22-28...that victory sparked a streak of triumphs in 7 straight starts from July 24-August 27, posting a 1.04 ERA over that span...included were a pair of double-digit strikeout games, fanning 10 on August 4 at Kane County, followed later with a season-high 12 on August 21 at High Desert...he gave up 2 runs over 7.0 innings in the first round of the playoffs...following the season Edgar returned to his homeland and played winter ball for the Hermosillo Naranjeros of the Mexican Pacific League...his success from the summer continued as he was named the league's Rookie-of-the-Year after going 8-1 with a league leading 1.89 ERA in 12 starts, while tying for first in wins.

PERSONAL

Edgar Gerardo Gonzalez Elizondo...he is single and makes his home in San Nicolas, MX...Edgar signed with Arizona as a non-drafted free agent on April 18, 2000...when he did not report, he was placed on the suspended list for 2000-2001...he again returned to Mexico to play for Hermosillo during the winter ball season, going 2-1 with a 2.50 ERA in 4 starts for Hermosillo...he followed with 6.0 shutout frames for his club during the league's playoffs...Edgar was then added with Elmer Dessens to Culiacan's roster for the Caribbean World Series.

Age: 36 (Turns 37 on September 3)

Born: September 3, 1967 in Tampa, FL

Residence: Scottsdale, AZ

M.L. Service: 13 years, 32 days

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired with cash considerations from the Detroit Tigers in exchange for outfielder Karim Garcia, December 28, 1998.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Rebounding from a separated left shoulder that brought his 2002 campaign to an abrupt halt, Luis finished among the league's elite in several offensive categories...he led the majors with a .354 average against righthanded pitching, while ranking eighth in the National League in doubles (46), fourth in intentional walks (17), seventh in multi-hit games (54), seventh in extra-base hits (76), ninth in total bases (308) and tied for ninth in on-base pct. (.402)...his .342 road average finished second to Atlanta's Gary Sheffield while Gonzo's .338 average with runners in scoring position tied for ninth in the N.L....after proving in exhibition play that he was fully recovered from the injury, Luis signed a 3-year contract extension on March 18...he made his fifth consecutive Opening Day start for Arizona, and after a 2-for-13 start to the season he hit safely in 6 straight at a .478 clip (11-for-23), including 4 consecutive multi-hit affairs to begin the streak...he took southpaw Tom Martin deep on April 7 in L.A. for his first homer of the year and 250th career blast, a game-tying solo shot in the eighth, that sent the game into overtime with Arizona prevailing in 12 innings...he followed the next day with a game-tying 2-run shot off of Kaz Ishii, then hit a solo blast off of Darren Dreifort on April 9, the first time that Gonzo had homered in 3 straight games since June 16-19, 2001...he batted .336 (36-for-107) with 7 homers through the first 28 games with 12 multi-hit affairs...he set a club record with 36 hits through April 30 and tied the team monthly record with 11 doubles in April, a mark he originally set in May 1999 and was tied by Junior Spivey in April 2002...Luis reached base safely via a hit or walk in 39 of 40 games from April 5-May 19, picking up at least one hit in 31 of those contests...he popped his 150th homer as a D'Back on May 4, a solo shot off the Braves' Greg Maddux...Luis had his 400th career double in the ninth inning on May 13 at Philadelphia...his 2-run homer in the third inning on May 26 was followed by a David Dellucci homer, the 40th set of back-to-back homers in franchise history and the 11th time Gonzalez had been involved...he picked up his 500th and 501st career RBI with a 2-run homer in the first inning of the May 31 game in San Diego, driving in 4 runs overall, his first 4-RBI game since July 22, 2002, vs. Colorado...he followed the next day (June 1) with another 3-hit, 4-RBI effort vs. the Padres...Luis had 4 RBI on June 14 in Minnesota, his 34th career game with at least 4 RBI...on June 18 in Houston, he opened the ninth with a game-tying solo homer off of southpaw Billy Wagner, becoming only the seventh lefthanded hitter to ever homer off of Wagner...the D'Backs eventually won the contest to jumpstart a team record 12-game winning streak...Luis drove in a season-high 5 runs, his eighth career 5-RBI game, with a game-tying, 2-run homer in the sixth and a 3-run blast that provided insurance for an eventual 8-7 win at Colorado on June 30...it was his first multi-homer game of the season and 17th of his career...he hit safely in 11 of 12 games, including 7 straight, to close out June, batting .422 (19-for-45) with 4 homers and 14 RBI...he hit .384 (38-for-99) with 13 multi-hit affairs and only 2 strikeouts in 99 AB's in June...he reached safely in 19 consecutive games from June 14-July 4, hitting .400 (28-for-70) with 14 walks and 20 RBI...Luis batted cleanup in 32 straight games from June 1-July 6 with a .367 average (44-for-120) with 25 runs, 10 doubles, 6 homers and 28 RBI...he was named to his third straight All-Star Game and fourth in 5 years as a D'Back, singling off Oakland's Mark Mulder in his lone at bat in U.S. Cellular Field...starting with a 2-for-4 effort on July 13, he fashioned an 11-game hitting streak through July 26, posting a .386 mark (17-for-44)...he snapped a 71-at bat homerless streak with a solo shot off Cubs' lefty Shawn Estes on August 2 in Chicago...he homered the following day for his sixth consecutive 20-homer season...he reached base in 29 straight games from July 9-August 13, hitting safely in 24 of those affairs with a .308 average (33-for-107) and 19 walks...that stretch culminated with a go-ahead, 2-run shot off of Felix Heredia in the eighth inning of a 3-1 win in Cincinnati...on September 2 and 3, he batted fifth in the order, the first time he'd hit below clean-up since April 27, 1999, at Houston...he recorded his second multi-homer game of the season on September 17 in Los Angeles taking rookie Edwin Jackson deep twice...he clubbed 8 home runs against lefties and has gone deep against southpaws for 60 of his 275 career roundtrippers.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Luis has driven in at least 100 runs in each of his 5 years as a Diamondback...he has homered every 17.52 at bats, hammering 168 roundtrippers in 2,944 AB's with Arizona...prior to the trade from Detroit for Karim Garcia in the winter before the '99 season, Gonzalez had gone deep once every 36.11 at bats, hitting 107 home runs in 3,864 at bats...his route to 1,000 career RBI has also been expeditious over his last few seasons, collecting his first 500 in 1,011 games, then his second 500 in just 697 contests...since coming on board, Gonzalez has hit .314 (923-for-2944) with 168 home runs and 574 RBI.

2002—Gonzalez's year came to a quick end in St. Louis as the final week of the regular season unfolded...attempting to make the play on a quickly sinking fly ball down the leftfield line by former high school teammate Tino Martinez, Luis collided with Tony Womack and suffered a season ending left shoulder separation that was surgically repaired on September 30 by Dr. Michael Lee...the injury closed out a campaign that didn't produce numbers quite as gaudy as the ones that got baseball's attention in 2001, but provided an overall solid year at the plate, finishing with a .288 average with 28 home runs and 103 RBI...he was hitting just .231 and in an 0-for-19 skid before a pinch hit double on May 3, his first missed starting assignment since May 27, 2001, and the hit jumpstarted a 19-game stretch in which he batted .412 (28-for-68) to return his average to the familiar .300 level...once back on track, the opposition also began pitching with a little more caution as evidenced by his 24 walks over 19 games from May 17-June 7, including a team recordtying 4 freebies on May 26 against the Dodgers...he was all of the offense that Rick Helling and Byung-Hyun Kim would need on May 30 in San Francisco, hitting a solo homer off of Kirk Rueter into McCovey Cove for a 1-0 victory at Pacific Bell Park...it was Gonzo's second career splashdown in the Cove...all told, beginning with the pinch-hit double on May 3, Gonzo had a 49-game stretch in which he batted .331 (58-for-175) with 10 home runs, 39 RBI and 37 walks...named to his third career All-Star Game, second in a row, Gonzalez came out of the break hitting .413 (38-for-92) over a 24-game stretch featuring 25 runs, 8 homers and 28 RBI...highlights included his 10th career game of at least 5 RBI in a July 17 win at Colorado...he raced to his first career inside-the-park home run on July 28, highlighting a 4-for-4 night at the plate with a fifth inning trek around the bases off of San Diego's Brett Tomko...Luis followed a week later with a couple of huge home runs in Arizona's 4-game sweep of the Mets in Shea Stadium...he delivered the key blow in the third win of the series on August 4 with a 3-run shot off of lefty Mark Guthrie to snap a 7-7 tie in the seventh inning, falling behind in the count 0-2, then fouling off 5 straight pitches before hitting one off the scoreboard in right-center...Luis prefaced that blast the day before with a 2-run homer in the first game of a doubleheader off of Steve Trachsel, giving him 1,000 career RBI...after the series with the Mets, Gonzalez fell into his longest dry spell of the year, an 0-for-24 slide that was exacerbated by his first major injury as a D'Back...he missed 7 games from August 14-21 with a rib cage injury, snapping his streak of 446 consecutive regular season games played, which was the longest active streak at the time in the majors...he had not had a full day off since September 30, 1999, the day after the D'Backs clinched their first division crown...once deemed healthy, Gonzo was back in the lineup on August 22, and the next night he proved to be fully recovered by hitting a 2-run first inning homer off the Cubs' Kerry Wood to help stake Arizona to a 6-2 win. 2001—Though he will be forever remembered for a ball that traveled a little over 100 feet to win the World Series, Gonzo's regular season work was recorded as one of the top power displays in big league history...he homered on the final day of the season to finish with 57, the eighth different player ever to hit at least that many roundtrippers in a season...Luis finished third in the MVP balloting behind Barry Bonds and Sammy Sosa...he obliterated his previous bests in virtually every category while placing his name among baseball's elite...his 419 total bases finished second in the N.L. and tied Lou Gehrig for the 10th highest total in big league history, while his 100 extra-base hits made him just the 12th player (15th time) to ever break the century mark in long hits...Luis set a National League record and tied Ken Griffey Jr.'s major league mark with 13 home runs in April...Luis set the N.L. mark and tied the big league record with 2 shots on April 26, hitting a solo homer off of Atlanta's Greg Maddux in the first inning, then connecting on a 3-run blast off of southpaw Damian Moss in the eighth...Gonzalez was named the N.L. Player-of-the-Month for April, then remained hot in May, fashioning a 14-game hitting streak in which he batted .429 (24-for-56) with 6 home runs and 13 RBI...included was his fourth 2-homer game of the young season on May 17 in Cincinnati, becoming the fastest ever to 20 home runs, achieving the mark in 40 games, a game quicker than Mickey Mantle in 1956...Luis recorded the 1,500th hit of his career by tripling on May 30 in San Francisco...he was awarded the league Player-of-the-Month award for June, hitting .417 (43-for-103) in 27 games with 26 runs, 7 doubles, 12 homers and 35 RBI, totaling 86 bases for a June slugging pct. of .835...included was the first 3-homer game of his career, going deep to all 3 fields in Kansas City to lead the D'Backs to a win...Gonzo hit another hot streak at mid-month, homering 6 times and driving in 15 in a 7-game stretch to earn co-N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors with Houston's Lance Berkman...included was a 2-homer, 6-RBI affair on June 19 in Los Angeles, then 2 nights later in Colorado he hit a grand slam off of Colorado's Gabe White, Gonzo's first slam since June 20, 1997...he recorded his seventh multi-homer game of the season on July 3 in Houston's Enron Field, taking Scott Elarton deep twice, including his second grand slam of 2001, third of his career...he continued the long ball momentum into the All-Star break, winning the All-Star Home Run Derby at Safeco Field, knocking off Sammy Sosa in the finals...Luis followed by going 1-for-2 in the Midsummer Classic after being voted into the N.L. starting lineup...he hit his 39th and 40th homers in Arizona's 100th game on July 24 against San Diego, driving in 5 in an 11-0 victory, his eighth and final multi-homer game of the year...Gonzalez was only the fifth player in major league history to hit 50 home runs before September 1 when he took Kirk Rueter deep at home on August 29, joining Bonds, Sosa, Mark McGwire and Roger Maris...his 54th home run was his only "walk-off" blast in '01 to stake Arizona to a 4-3 win in 11 innings over the Dodgers on September 28...he played in all 162 games for the second consecutive year...including the post-season, Luis was the first player ever to participate in 179 games in a year...Gonzo's final numbers matched him with Babe Ruth's 1921 campaign as the only players in history to hit at least .320 with 35 doubles, 50 homers, 120 runs, 130 RBI, 100 walks, 100 extra-base hits and 400 total bases in a season...Gonzalez also completed his first career errorless campaign playing in 161 games in left. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Luis entered the bottom of the ninth inning of the seventh game of the World Series hitless in 4 at bats, but by the end of that at bat he would be in the midst of the greatest celebration to ever hit the Valley...with the bases loaded and a drawn-in infield he sent teammates and fans into a frenzy with a bloop single off of Mariano Rivera to drive home Jay Bell with the winning run that staked Arizona to a 3-2 win and its first World Championship...Gonzo prefaced the Game #7 heroics with 2 hits in the 15-2 runaway in Game #6, including a 2-run double in Arizona's 8-run third inning...he jumpstarted the World Series experience with a 2-run homer off of Mike Mussina in Game #1, giving the D'Backs a 3-1 lead en route to a 9-1 triumph...it was Gonzo's third roundtripper of the post-season and 60th overall on the year...the Fall Classic also featured a sidebar in which Gonzalez and his childhood best friend, Tino Martinez, each played a huge role in their club's success...raised in Tampa, FL, they played on the same Jefferson High School team that went to the state finals in 1985 and even worked in the same cigar factory that was run by Martinez's grandfather...Gonzo's overall post-season batting average was an uncharacteristic .246 (16-for-65), due in a large part to an injured right wrist from being hit by pitches and a right hamstring strain...he still provided key offensive contributions throughout Arizona's run to the title, including a big night in Atlanta in Game #4 of the NLCS when the D'Backs took a 3-1 lead in the series...Luis was on base 5 times going 2-for-3 with 2 walks and a hit by pitch while scoring twice and knocking in 3 with a ninth inning homer to blow open the 11-4 victory...he closed out the Division Series against St. Louis by reaching base safely in 7 of his last 11 plate appearances over the final 3 games, including a homer in Arizona's 5-3 win at Busch Stadium in Game #3. 2000—Luis became the first D'Back in franchise history to appear in and start all 162 games and earned co-Player-of-the-Year honors with Steve Finley as voted by the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA...Gonzo was also named to his second consecutive Good Guy Award...he recorded his 300th career double on June 18 vs. San Diego...he earned his first 2 N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors (June 5-11 and July 24-30)...Gonzo recorded the first cycle in club history on July 5 in Houston, becoming the 10th player in baseball history to both hit for the cycle and author a 30-game hitting streak (1999)...he had his ninth career 2-homer game on August 3 against Atlanta, while driving in 5...he drove in 8 runs during a split doubleheader in San Francisco on September 23...he was selected to travel to Japan as part of the MLB All-Star tour in November, hitting .300 in 8 games against Japanese League All-Star teams. 1999—Acquired from Detroit during the winter in exchange for Karim Garcia, Gonzo led the N.L. with 206 hits...he recorded 5 different double-digit hitting streaks, (30, 16, 13, 11 and 10)...the 30-game streak from April 11-May 18, was the first such streak of that length in the N.L. since 1989 (Jerome Walton), and the 37th player in history to hit in at least 30 straight games...consistent throughout the streak, he batted .400 (46-for-115) with 25 runs, 11 doubles, a triple, 7 homers, 25 RBI and 80 total bases for a slugging pct. of .696...the most memorable hit during the streak was at home on May 11 against Montreal, snapping a 3-3 tie with his first hit of the night, a game-ending 10th inning homer off of Guillermo Mota...once the streak ended, Luis was hitless for 2 games, then hit safely in 13 in a row, giving him a start to the season that featured hits in 48 of his first 51 games at a .398 clip (80-for-201)...he earned his first trip to the All-Star Game, going 1-for-2 with a double in Fenway Park. 1999 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS: Gonzo started all 4 games in the series with the Mets, going 2-for-10 with a team-high 5 walks...both of his post-season hits came in the first game of the series and each went for extra bases...he doubled in his first at bat in the first inning, then hit a 2-run homer in the sixth inning, to tie the contest. 1998—Luis' only year in the American League was highlighted with the addition of triplets to the Gonzalez family, when Christine delivered the threesome of Megan, Jacob and Alyssa on June 26...he recorded his fourth career 2-homer game, taking Anaheim's Omar Olivares deep twice on August 10, with the second blast the 100th of his career...he also picked up the 1,000th career hit with a single off of Olivares...the Tampa native celebrated his return home by belting the first-ever home run at Tropicana Field in the Devil Rays' inaugural game on March 31, a 2-run blast in the fifth inning off of Dan Carlson. 1997—Signed as a free agent with the Astros and tied Art Howe's club record with a 23-game hitting streak, the longest streak in the N.L. in '97...went 9-for-11 in a 3-game visit to Montreal on July 18-20 with 7 RBI...included was his first career grand slam on July 20 off of Omar Daal. 1996—His last year as a Cub, he started twice at first base, his first major league work there since 1990. 1995—Opened the year with Houston then was traded to the Cubs on June 28, with Scott Servais in exchange for Rick Wilkins...hit his first career game-opening home run on September 27 off St. Louis' Allen Watson. 1994—Ranked 10th in the league with 29 doubles during the strike-shortened season...he hit .331 (50-for-151) in the final 41 games leading up to the stoppage of play. 1993—Singled in his final at bat on October 3 to break the .300 mark...had second career 5-RBI game on Sept. 6 vs. New York. 1992—Opened with Houston, but due to .158 average on May 20, was optioned to Tucson (AAA)...appeared in 13 games and hit .432 for the Toros and returned to the majors on June 3, where he has remained...hit first career pinch-hit home run on June 13, a game-winning, 3-run shot off the Giants' Jeff Brantley in a 4-1 Houston win...was on the D.L. from July 21-August 5 with a partial dislocation of his left shoulder after making a diving catch vs. Pittsburgh on July 20. 1991—His first full year in the majors, he led the Astros with 50 extra-base hits, a club record for rookies, breaking Joe Morgan's team mark of 48 in 1965, earning a spot on the Topps All-Rookie team...Gonzo suffered a partial dislocation of his left shoulder attempting to make a diving catch on August 28 at Philly, disabling him from August 29-Sept. 13...had the first 5-RBI game of his career on July 3 at San Francisco...recorded first career 4-hit game on July 17 at Pittsburgh...hit first 2 major league home runs on May 1 at Wrigley Field off of Greg Maddux, knocking in 4 runs. 1990—Earned a spot on the Southern League All-Star team, while playing for Columbus (AA), tying for the league lead in home runs and sacrifice flies...was promoted to Houston after AA season, making debut on Sept.

4 in L.A. as a pinch hitter...made first start on Sept. 8 in San Francisco, picking up a double off of Steve Bedrosian for first major league hit. 1989—Was limited to 86 games for Osceola (A) due to an injured right shoulder...was on the disabled list from May 26-July 5, but still tied for the team lead in triples. 1988—Signed as Houston's fourth choice in the June draft and split his first pro season between Auburn and Asheville, totaling 70 games.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 8th round selection in the 1998 June free agent draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Andrew went to spring training as part of the 40-man roster for the first time and was impressive enough to earn the opportunity to spend a major portion of the first half of the season traveling back and forth on Interstate-10 between Tucson and Phoenix...Andrew opened the year with the Sidewinders, his first-ever action on the AAA level, albeit a brief stint since he made only 2 starts before being summoned to the majors...after a no decision and a loss with Tucson, he received his first call to the big leagues on April 16 and debuted in St. Louis with 0.1 of an inning on April 18...his first major league start took place in an unusual environment as 36,879 fans appeared for Montreal's first game of the year in Canada on April 22, with Good allowing a pair of home runs in a 4-0 setback to the Expos...Andrew followed with a solid outing vs. Florida on May 1, giving up 3 runs over 7.0 frames in a no-decision the D'Backs eventually lost, 4-3...the long ball plagued him in his third start on May 6 vs. Philadelphia as all 5 runs he surrendered came via a trio of Philly home runs, including a pair of blasts by Jim Thome...Good followed with a pair of relief appearances working 2.0 innings each time vs. Pittsburgh and San Francisco on May 16 & 20, respectively...he was inserted back into the rotation for a May 26 start vs. San Diego, an 8-4 triumph for his first big league win, working 7.0 innings allowing 3 runs with 7 strikeouts...following the game he was optioned back to Tucson to open a roster spot for Byung-Hyun Kim who was activated from the disabled list in time for a start the following day...Andrew made only one start for Tucson before he was summoned back to the majors on June 4 when Curt Schilling was disabled with a hand fracture...Good improved to 2-1 on the year despite working on only 3 days rest as he went 6.0 innings against the White Sox, yielding 5 hits and 3 runs...he followed with a 4-3 win on June 11 at Kansas City, his third straight victory for the D'Backs...Andrew had a trio of rough starts from June 17-July 1, permitting 13 runs on 20 hits over 16.1 innings...included was a rough Coors Field initiation on July 1 as he was touched for 4 home runs in a 7-4 loss to the Rockies, the seventh pitcher in team history to allow 4 home runs in a game...Andrew rebounded with a strong start at Dodger Stadium on July 6, defeating Hideo Nomo 2-1 in a nationally televised Sunday night game, allowing just an unearned run over 6.0 innings...he appeared in only 2 more games for the D'Backs before returning to Tucson where he finished the year...Andrew went 4-3 over his final 8 starts for the Sidewinders, posting a 5.15 ERA over that span...in the big leagues, he found success vs. righthanded batters as he limited them to a .245 average (39-for-159) while lefties batted .337 (35-for-104) off him...Andrew was slated to pitch in the Arizona Fall League but it was decided to hold him out of action in order to rest his right elbow, which had undergone "Tommy John" surgery in 2000.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Andrew established himself as one of the Texas League's top prospects as named by SportsTicker...he led the T.L. in innings (178.0) and fewest walks per 9-innings for starters (1.26) while ranking second in wins (13), third in strikeouts (127) and tenth in ERA (3.54)...he was named the Diamondbacks' organizational Pitcher-of-the-Month for June, going 4-0 in 5 starts with a 2.16 ERA (8 ER in 33.1 IP)...in August, he posted a 3-0 record in 5 starts, holding opponents to a .198 batting average (25-for-126)...Andrew was named Texas League Pitcher-of-the-Week for June 24-30 after going 2-0 with a 0.61 ERA (1 ER in 14.2 IP)...earned his second Player-of-the-Week award for July 8-14, throwing his first career complete game shutout on July 11 vs. Midland...he won 9 consecutive decisions from May 14-July 16, posting a 2.40 ERA (22 ER in 82.2 IP) and limiting opposing hitters to a .221 clip (70-for-317)...Andrew fired his second career complete game in an 8-1 victory on August 27 at Arkansas, allowing a run on 4 hits...he was especially tough in the first inning, limiting opponents to a .175 average (17-for-97) while striking out 19 and walking 1. 2001—He tied for second in the farm system with 10 wins and finished fourth with 150 strikeouts...he opened the season 4-0 in his first 7 starts...he had a pair of 10-strikeout games, April 20 vs. Visalia and June 25 at Rancho Cucamonga...he pitched 7.0 scoreless innings, fanning 9, at Round Rock on July 31 for his first AA win. 2000—He missed the entire season after undergoing "Tommy John" ligament replacement surgery on his right elbow. 1999—Andrew was named organizational Pitcher-of-the-Year, finishing third in the Midwest League in strikeouts (146)...he tied for the farm system lead in strikeouts, tied for second in victories (11) and ranked fifth in ERA (4.10)...he fanned 13 in 7.0 hitless innings vs. West Michigan on August 23. 1998—He was named the Arizona League Pitcher-of-the-Week for August 24-30.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's third round selection in the 2001 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Scott continued his climb up the organizational ladder with his first look at AA, and was on his way to another solid season when it was interrupted with a low back strain that landed him on the El Paso disabled list from May 31-July 10...at the time of the injury, Scott was batting .309 with 15 doubles, 5 home runs and 29 RBI...when he landed on the shelf, he was second on the club in RBI and third in doubles and home runs...he was at his hottest just preceding the injury as he hit safely in 20 of 22 contests from April 29-May 29, batting .337 (31-for-92) with 16 runs scored and 18 RBI...upon returning to active duty, he hit only .235 (35-for-149) over his remaining 41 games of the season...he was promoted to Tucson (AAA) on September 1 and had one pinch-hit appearance, knocking home a run with a sacrifice fly...while playing in the Arizona Fall League, Scott proved to be healthy by posting a .360 average, the fifth-best in the league, with 4 home runs and 14 RBI in 22 games for the Scottsdale Scorpions...prior to the season he was ranked by Baseball America as not only the top prospect in the farm system but also as No. 26 on their list of the game's Top 100 Prospects.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Hairston was chosen as the No. 3 prospect in the farm system by Baseball America to open the year...he was selected as the second baseman on USA TODAY Baseball Weekly's Minor League All-Star team after finishing third overall in the minors in batting (.345), first in extra-base hits (73) second in doubles (46) and slugging (.603) and seventh in on-base percentage (.429)...he was voted the organization's Minor League Player-of-the-Year, leading the farm system in batting, runs scored (99), doubles, home runs (22) and total bases (309)...Scott became the first player to be tabbed the organization's Player-of-the-Month three times in a single season, taking honors for May (.337, 5 HR, 17 RBI), July (.370, 5 HR, 18 RBI) and August (.397, 8 HR and a minor-league best 39 RBI)...his batting average rose each month (.261, .337, .342, .370 and .397)...Hairston was also selected by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the Midwest League where he finished second with a .332 batting average and .563 slugging percentage for South Bend (A)...he also paced the circuit with a .426 on-base percentage and tied for fourth with 55 extra-base hits...his ratio of 1 homer every 24.6 at bats ranked fifth in the league...he reached base via a hit or walk in 111 of 127 games played, including 31 straight games with an at bat from May 15-June 21, hitting .405 (49-for-121) over that span with 16 walks...Scott was somehow not selected as a Midwest League All-Star despite ranking second in the league in on-base percentage (.409), third in slugging (.517) and fourth in batting (.322) at mid-season...that oversight was corrected later in the year as Hairston was named to the league's Post-Season All-Star team...he hit safely in 11 straight games (.447, 21-for-47 with 12 RBI) from June 5-21...his season was briefly interrupted as he was disabled from June 25-July 3 with a left wrist contusion...Scott tied a pair of career highs with a 2-homer, 6-RBI game at Lansing on July 31...that game included one of his 2 grand slams on the year, the other coming on August 9 at Clinton...he was named the Midwest League's Player-of-the-Week for June 3-9 and again for July 29-August 4...he strung together a season-high 19-game hit streak from August 4-26, including time with both South Bend and Lancaster (A), during which he batted .430 (37-for-86) with 13 doubles, 5 home runs and 28 RBI...the streak began with hits in 7 straight games (.452, 14-for-31 with 6 doubles, 11 RBI) to close his time with South Bend and after his August 13 promotion, Scott hit safely in each of his first 12 games (.418, 23-for-55, 7 doubles, 4 HR, 17 RBI) with Lancaster...after the season, he played for the Scottsdale Scorpions in the Arizona Fall League, batting .255 with 3 home runs...he was named to the Arizona Fall League All-Prospect Team, as decided by the league's managers and coaches.

2001—Hairston was rated by Baseball America as the No. 7 prospect in the Pioneer League...he was selected as second baseman on the Topsys Short-A/Rookie League All-Star team...he secured honors as the organization's Player-of-the-Month for July (.354, 8 doubles, 5 home runs, 22 RBI) and again in August (.387, 40 runs scored, 8 doubles, 9 home runs, 30 RBI)...he finished in the Pioneer League's Top 5 in several offensive categories...he paced the circuit in runs scored (81) and total bases (171) while ranking second in hits (101) and RBI (65), third in slugging (.588) and extra-base hits (36), and tied for third with 6 triples and 14 home runs...he finished fifth in the league in batting (.347) and on-base averages (.432) and homered once every 20.79 at bats, the fifth-best rate in the league...Scott's pro career got off to a slow start as he hit only .200 with 9 RBI in the first 15 games through July 1...he then reached base via a hit or walk in 56 of his final 59 games, batting .381 (90-for-236) with 14 home runs, 56 RBI and 32 walks...he twice homered in 3 consecutive games, July 4-6 and August 5-7...he was named Pioneer League Hitter-of-the-Week for August 6-12, batting .407 (11-for-27) with 13 runs scored, 5 home runs, 7 RBI and a 1.037 slugging percentage...Scott hit .427 (35-for-82) during his franchise-record 19-game hit streak to close the season, with 23 runs scored, 5 doubles, 4 triples, 3 home runs and 23 RBI...he batted .308 during the playoffs.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 23rd round selection in the 1998 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Robby barely got a taste of his first season of AAA ball with Tucson before getting started on his major league career...he was called up to the majors for the first time on April 1, the day after reliever Bret Prinz suffered an Opening Day right groin injury...Hammock's first big league experience was just a 2-day stint of observing before going back to Tucson on April 3...he participated in only 2 games for the Sidewinders before getting another call to the majors, this time after Rod Barajas went on the shelf on April 7 with a hamstring injury...Robby made his major league debut on April 11 as a defensive replacement at third base, getting his first major league hit, a seventh inning single off of then Brewer and current teammate Shane Nance...he had a memorable first start 2 days later against Milwaukee, going 3-for-4 with 4 RBI and his first home run, a 3-run blast off of Glendon Rusch, while also throwing out Alex Sanchez attempting to steal...Hammock hit .421 (8-for-19) in his first 8 games with Arizona...he returned to Tucson on May 3 when Curt Schilling was activated from the disabled list, then was recalled once again on June 6 and started 6 consecutive games...he tied the team record with 2 triples on June 8 against Cleveland, also setting a career-high with 4 hits...he hit .419 (13-for-31) in his first 11 major league games...Robby made his first career start at third base on June 11 in Kansas City...he compiled a 6-game hit streak from June 13-20, batting .348 (8-for-23)...he launched a tie-breaking, 2-run home run in the tenth inning on June 29 in Detroit for a 5-3 Arizona win...his solo homer on July 3 in Colorado followed Shea Hillenbrand's blast...Robby was optioned to Tucson on July 23, then recalled for the fourth and final time on August 6 when Mark Grace went on the shelf...Robby appeared in 32 of the team's final 50 contests, and was the starting catcher in 21 of the last 38...he was 3-for-3 with a solo homer on July 19 and combined with a double and 2 walks on July 21, he reached base in 7 straight plate appearances...he reached base in all 5 plate appearances on July 23 with a single, 2 doubles and 2 walks, tying his career-high with 4 RBI...he homered in consecutive games on August 25 and 26 against the Padres bringing to a close a 9-game stretch in which he hit .500 (15-for-30) with 8 runs, 8 RBI and 5 walks while reaching base in 21 of 36 plate appearances...all told, he started 28 games behind the plate, 11 games at third base and 9 games in rightfield...he caught 6 of 22 baserunners attempting to steal...Robby enjoyed playing at Bank One Ballpark where he hit .327 (34-for-104) with 5 homers and 20 RBI in 38 games.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—While Robby came to the ballpark ready to play everyday, his only dilemma was which glove to use... appearing in 122 of 138 games for El Paso (AA), the versatile player appeared in 56 games behind the plate, 38 in leftfield, 21 in rightfield and 11 at third base, while also being employed on 6 occasions as the designated hitter...he led the team in sacrifice flies (8), tied for second in homers (11), ranked third in RBI (73), fourth in runs (68), hits (128) and at bats (441), fifth in doubles (28) and tied for fifth in games (122)...a .332 hitter (74-for-223) at home, he had 51 RBI, 41 runs scored and 29 extra-base hits in 61 games in El Paso...in a span of 18 games from May 25-June 13 (first game), he picked up at least one hit in 15 contests while hitting .368 (28-for-76) with 10 runs, 7 doubles and 15 RBI...included in that stretch was his best game of the season, an 18-17 contest on June 1 vs. Tulsa, in which he was 5-for-6 with 2 runs scored, a homer and 4 RBI...he hit the front end of back-to-back homers with Steve Neal in the sixth inning and tied the game with a single in the ninth... Robby hit .359 (33-for-92) with 21 runs scored in 26 games in August...he hit .312 (44-for-141) with 60 RBI when runners were in scoring position. 2001—He played all eight field positions in the season finale for Lancaster...he finished with a 13-game hitting streak from Aug. 18-Sept. 3. 2000—In the season opener, he hit a 2-run home run, 2-run triple and delivered the game-winning RBI single in the bottom of the ninth inning...he hit .446 (29-for-65) with 10 doubles in 20 games from April 27-May 23. 1999—He finished fifth in California League batting race (.332)...Robby was named Player-of-the-Week for May 10-16.

PERSONAL

Robert Wade (Robby) Hammock...he and his wife, Marcy, and daughters, Gentry (9/10/00) and Kayda (7/14/03), make their home in Marietta, GA...after graduating from South Cobb High School in 1995, he went on to attend the University of Georgia...he played for Scottsdale in the Arizona Fall League after the 2002 season...Robby underwent arthroscopic surgery on his left knee this past February 13 to repair some surface fraying and damage to the cartilage in the bed of the kneecap...the procedure was performed by Dr. Ralph Gambardella of the Kerlan-Jobe Clinic in Los Angeles, CA.

Age: 28 (Turns 29 on July 27)

Born: July 27, 1975 in Mesa, AZ

Residence: Gilbert, AZ

M.L. Service: 3 years, 34 days

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Boston Red Sox in exchange for pitcher Byung-Hyun Kim on May 29, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Shea's year began in a Boston uniform, but ended with him playing near his home in Gilbert, AZ, as a member of the Diamondbacks, joining Arizona on May 29 in exchange for reliever Byung-Hyun Kim...Hillenbrand opened the year hitting at a .323 clip (10-for-31) through the first 8 games, highlighted by a 6-RBI effort on April 6 in Baltimore...a little over a week later, he matched a then career-high with 4 hits on April 15 against Tampa Bay...Shea tied a personal best with a 12-game hitting streak from April 17-May 2, batting .375 (18-for-48)...all told, he posted a .333 (33-for-99) mark in April with 10 doubles and 25 RBI while reaching base via a hit or walk in 25 of 26 games...he appeared in 49 games for the Red Sox, starting 28 games at third base and 17 at first base, and hit .303 (56-for-185) with 20 runs scored, 17 doubles, 3 homers and 13 RBI...he joined the D'Backs on June 1 in San Diego, going 0-for-3 with a pair of walks in his National League debut...he singled and scored the game-winning run in his first home game on June 3 against the White Sox, then followed the next night with 3 hits, including a 2-run homer, his first as a Diamondback...he suffered a left oblique strain on June 8 vs. Cleveland, eventually landing on the disabled list...he participated in a trio of rehab games for Tucson (AAA) then was activated from the D.L. on June 29...Hillenbrand made his first start at first base for the D'Backs on July 3 and homered off of Colorado's Denny Neagle in Coors Field for the front end of back-to-back blasts with teammate Robby Hammock...Shea broke-up the Dodgers' Odalis Perez' no-hit bid with a single to leadoff the eighth inning on July 5, the first of two times that Hillenbrand would spoil a pitcher's bid for the record book...he also delivered an infield hit off of Chicago's Carlos Zambrano in the eighth inning on August 22, becoming the first player since 1989 to spoil two possible no-hitters with eighth inning hits in the same year (Brook Jacoby and Nelson Liriano both in 1989)...Hillenbrand had a record-setting night on July 7 against the Rockies, setting personal single-game bests with 5 hits, 4 runs, 3 homers and 7 RBI while setting a club record with 15 total bases...he became the sixth person in major league history to homer in 3 straight innings and the first since Sammy Sosa on August 10, 2002, at Colorado...Shea doubled in the seventh to become the first player since Larry Parrish on July 30, 1978, to get an extra-base hit in 4 consecutive innings according to Elias Sports Bureau...the 7 RBI tied him for the second best individual performance in team history with Carlos Baerga, who amassed 7 RBI on April 17 against the Rockies...Hillenbrand also tied the club record with 4 runs scored...he batted .514 (18-for-35) during a 9-game hitting streak from July 3-11...he went hitless in 3 AB's the next day before fashioning an 11-game hit streak from July 13-26, hitting .326 (15-for-46)...on July 25, he plated the game-winning run with a single in the 15th inning of a 2-1 win over the Dodgers...he assumed cleanup duties in 32 of 35 games from July 7-August 16 and batted .382 (26-for-68) in the first 17 games of that stretch...all told, he owned a .296 clip (50-for-169) with 11 doubles, 7 homers and 30 RBI in 41 games as the cleanup hitter...he batted .337 (35-for-104) while hitting safely in 23 of 26 contests in July but tailed off to a .200 clip (20-for-100) in August...he clubbed a pinch, 2-run homer on August 21 against the Reds, his second career pinch homer and first since a grand slam on May 4, 2002, at Tampa Bay while playing for the Red Sox...Shea's home run in Colorado on September 23 was his 19th of the season, eclipsing his previous single-season best of 18 with Boston in 2002...he closed the year hitting safely in 15 of his last 18 games at a .299 clip (20-for-69) with 11 runs, 3 doubles, 5 homers and 13 RBI.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Began the season with a career-high 12-game hitting streak from April 1-17, hitting .413 (19-for-46) with 5 homers and 17 RBI...it was the longest Sox hitting streak to begin the season since Lee Tinsley in 1995 (14 games)...Shea recorded his first career multi-homer game on April 7 at Baltimore...he hit an eighth inning game-winning 2-run homer off of New York's Mariano Rivera on April 13 to stake the Sox to a 7-6 win...smacked his first career grand slam off of Victor Zambrano as a pinch hitter with 2 outs in the ninth inning for a 7-5 Boston win at Tampa Bay on May 4...it was the seventh pinch-hit slam in Sox history, first since Rich Gedman on August 10, 1986 vs. Detroit...Shea had another 12-game streak from May 6-18, batting .400 (20-for-50)...all told, he hit safely in 48 of his first 55 games of the year...he had his second career multi-HR game on June 21 at Los Angeles...he was voted as the starting third baseman for the American League All-Star team, the first Red Sox third baseman to be selected since Scott Cooper in 1994 and first to start at third since Wade Boggs in 1992...Shea recorded his 50th multi-hit game on September 15, joining Nomar Garciaparra and Johnny Damon as the only Red Sox with 50 multi-hit games, finishing the year with 53...he finished third among A.L. third basemen with 283 assists and 406 total chances. 2001—Shea made the jump from Trenton (AA) to the majors, beginning the year as Boston's starting third baseman, going 1-for-4 in the season opener at Baltimore, recording his first big league hit off of Pat Hentgen...he hit his first major league homer on April 7 off of Tampa Bay's Travis Harper...Shea started his big league career with a 9-game hitting streak in which he batted .306 (11-for-36), the first Sox rookie to begin a year with a 9-game streak since Ted Williams in 1939...Hillenbrand hit safely in 23 of 25 games in April at a .343 clip (34-for-99)...he hit an 18th inning game-winning home run off Detroit's Dave Borkowski to stake Boston to a 4-3 win...he made his first big league start at first base on August 9 in Oakland. 2000—He was named the Trenton Player of the Year, leading all Red Sox minor leaguers with a .323 average, while setting a Trenton record with 171 hits and 35 doubles...he led the Eastern League in hits and ranked third in average, while fanning only 39 times in 558 plate appearances. 1999—He appeared in 69 games with Trenton, all behind the plate, but had his season cut short due to a knee injury...he was placed on the disabled list on July 5 with a right knee sprain and eventually succumbed to surgery for a torn ACL on July 22, missing the remainder of the season. 1998—Shea was voted the Player-of-the-Year for Michigan, leading the Midwest League with a .546 slugging pct., while ranking second in batting (.349)...his 93 RBI topped all Red Sox minor leaguers...he was the starting catcher for the Midwest League East All-Stars...he was a 3-time winner of the league Player-of-the-Week award...he had a pair of 5-hit games. 1997—Split the season between Michigan and Sarasota, combining the 2 stops for a .293 mark with 25 doubles and 67 RBI...once the summer season ended, Shea played for Gold Coast in Australian Winter League. 1996—Shea signed as Boston's 10th round pick in the 1996 June draft...he ranked second in the New York-Penn League (A) in hits with 88, while leading Lowell in virtually every offensive category...he was named Red Sox Minor League Player of the Year for Lowell.

PERSONAL

Shea Matthew Hillenbrand...he and his wife, Jessica, make their home in neighboring Gilbert, AZ...Shea was a 1993 graduate of Mesa Mountain View High School, playing shortstop on the baseball team...he was also an outstanding prep soccer forward, earning '93 Arizona State High School Player-of-the-Year honors...Hillenbrand then attended Mesa Community College in 1994-95, earning league MVP honors in baseball...he is an annual contributor to Garth Brooks' Teammates for Kids Foundation and participates in the annual meeting with the country music legend and other major leaguers in Las Vegas every January.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent, December 1, 1998.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Randy was limited to 18 starts due to an injured right knee that sent him to the disabled list twice, including a stint after it was surgically repaired...he finished the year 6-8, only his third career season with a winning percentage below .500 (1989 with Montreal and 1992 with Seattle)...the injury snapped his streak of 6 straight seasons of at least 200.0 innings pitched and broke a major league record string of 5 consecutive years with 300 strikeouts...he had 5 starts with at least 10 strikeouts, raising his career total to 191 career double-digit K games, now 24 shy of Nolan Ryan's major league record 215... Johnson's year began with his first career Opening Day setback in 11 starts, dropping an 8-0 decision at home to the Dodgers, allowing 5 runs (3 earned) in 6.2 innings...he absorbed another defeat on April 11 vs. Milwaukee giving up 10 earned runs, his highest run allowed total since April 10, 1994, with Seattle, when Toronto scored 11 runs (10 earned) in a 12-6 contest... Randy was 0-2 with an 8.31 ERA through his first 3 starts, allowing 16 earned runs in 17.1 innings before going on the shelf for the first time on April 12 due to swelling in his knee, his first disablement since 1996 with Seattle...he was sidelined until the second game of an April 27 doubleheader at Shea Stadium, as the Big Unit fanned 12 over 6.0 innings of a 7-3 win...his efforts helped the Arizona staff record 27 K's on the day, a major league record for strikeouts during a doubleheader...unfortunately, swelling in the knee returned and it was determined that he should undergo arthroscopic surgery, which was performed on May 1 by team orthopedist Dr. Michael Lee, who removed floating bits of cartilage debris in the knee, repairing a small meniscus tear and smoothing down the rough edges behind Johnson's kneecap...Randy made a trio of minor league rehab starts, one each for Tucson (AAA), El Paso (AA) and Lancaster (A), going a combined 0-1 with a 2.57 ERA, striking out 15 and walking only 1 over 14.0 innings...after missing 12 weeks of major league action, Johnson ran into tough luck in his first 3 starts back, going 0-2 despite posting a miniscule 0.90 ERA...in his return, he dropped a tough 3-2 decision in San Diego on July 20, allowing 2 runs (1 earned) over 6.0 innings...on July 25 vs. Los Angeles he allowed only a second inning homer to Jeromy Burnitz, but the contest went 15 innings, with Arizona prevailing 2-1...Randy had another hard luck performance on July 30 in Florida, allowing a pair of unearned runs in 6.0 innings of a 3-1 loss to Dontrelle Willis...R.J. recorded back-to-back wins on August 5 & 10, knocking off Montreal and the Mets, respectively...he was again plagued by limited run support in a 2-1 loss at home to the Giants on August 30, yielding solo home runs to Rich Aurilia and Barry Bonds...Johnson matched up against a pitcher nearly half his age in his next start, the night before his 40th birthday, losing a 4-1 contest to the Dodgers who sent Edwin Jackson to the mound on his 20th birthday...Randy finished the season by going 2-0 with a 1.71 ERA over his final 3 starts...his first start as a 40-year old was a memorable occasion on September 14, tossing his fourth career one-hitter, first as a D'Back, in blanking the Rockies, 5-0, in Bank One Ballpark...he walked 1 and fanned 12 for his 88th career complete game and 35th shutout with the lone hit a one-out single in the fifth by Rene Reyes, who was promptly picked off as Johnson faced just one man over the minimum, issuing a fourth-inning walk to Garrett Atkins, who was left stranded...it was his first one-hitter since July 16, 1998 in the Kingdome as a member of the Mariners against Minnesota...it was the sixth one-hitter in Arizona's 6-year history...Randy also had a pair of hits in the win over the Rockies, the second time during the 2003 season that a pitcher had more hits in a game than he surrendered, as the Mets' Steve Trachsel had 2 knocks in a one-hitter on August 18, also vs. the Rox...Johnson followed with another memorable outing in his next start on September 19 in Milwaukee, as the newly-turned 40-year old lined a Doug Davis delivery into the Brewer bullpen in leftfield for his first home run in 437 career at bats...RJ's blast, which came off of a borrowed bat from Raul Mondesi, made him the oldest player in major league history to hit his first home run, eclipsing Bill McGhee of the Philadelphia A's, who went deep on September 3, 1944, at the age of 38 years, 364 days...Johnson was not involved in the decision, a 3-2 Arizona triumph after allowing 2 runs over 6.0 innings with 10 K's...he closed the year with a victory at Coors Field on September 24, his eighth straight winning decision against the Rockies, giving up a 2-run homer to Juan Uribe over 6.0 innings as the D'Backs won 6-3...Johnson recorded his 1,500th strikeout as a Diamondback on August 30, joining Ryan as the only pitchers with at least 1,500 K's with 2 different clubs...Randy fanned 2,162 as a member of the Mariners, then after an abbreviated stint with Houston, has since recorded 1,542 with Arizona...Ryan fanned 2,416 with the Angels, then posted 1,866 strikeouts with Astros on the way to 5,714 lifetime K's.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Randy's career strikeout total of 3,871 is fourth on the all-time list and he entered 2004 second among active pitchers to Roger Clemens (4,099)...the Big Unit's total is second among lefthanders, trailing only Steve Carlton (4,136)...Johnson's 1,083 strikeouts from 1999-2001 was the best 3-year total in major league history, 4 more K's than Ryan had from 1972-

74...RJ has kept lefthanded hitters to a .200 overall average in his career (245-for-1226), and while allowing 283 regular season home runs during his career, only 19 have been hit by lefties (Von Hayes and Jim Eisenreich-1989; Wally Joyner and Mike Greenwell-1991; Mo Vaughn-1992; Darren Bragg-1996; Darin Erstad, Mo Vaughn, Jim Edmonds (2)-1997 & Larry Walker-2001; Brian Giles, Barry Bonds (2) and Shawn Green (2) in 2002; Jeremy Burnitz, Bonds and Aaron Guiel-2003)...Randy had a personal 16-game winning streak that ran from August, 1995 through May 2, 1997, falling a win shy of the American League record for consecutive games won in a career...he has a career record of 230-114 for a winning pct. of .669, one of only 3 pitchers since 1900 to have won at least 200 games while winning 2 out of every 3 decisions, joining Hall of Fame lefthanders Whitey Ford (236-106, a .690 pct) and Lefty Grove (300-141, a .680 pct)...in 5 seasons with Arizona, the Big Unit has amassed some remarkable numbers, posting an 87-35 record for a .713 winning pct. and an ERA of 2.66 as a Diamondback...he has fanned 1,542 men as a D'Back, a per season average of 308 and a strikeout per 9-inning ratio of 12.13...he has also tossed 32 complete games and 12 shutouts since donning an Arizona uniform...RJ's 3,871 strikeouts have come in just 3,122.1 career innings, a ratio of 11.15 K's per 9-innings which is higher than any of the 3 pitchers still stationed in front of him (Nolan Ryan-9.6; Steve Carlton-7.1 and Clemens-8.6)...Randy has 191 double-digit strikeout games, second only to Ryan's 215...the Big Unit has gone 127-32 with 32 no decisions when fanning at least 10 in a game...he also has 28 career games with at least 15 strikeouts, which are 3 more than Ryan accrued during his 27-year major league career...since 1993 with Seattle, Johnson has gone 30-2 in September/October with a 2.10 ERA, spanning 44 games (43 starts), allowing 76 earned runs in 325.2 innings while recording 438 strikeouts.

(Prior to 1967, the BBWAA presented only one Cy Young Award each year. Commencing in 1967, the award was presented to a recipient in each league.)

2002—Randy's 2002 campaign was proof that age is only a number as the record-setting southpaw delivered his first career "Triple Crown" of pitching to unanimously win a fourth consecutive Cy Young Award, the second hurler ever to win 4 in a row matching Greg Maddux (1992-95), while RJ's 5 career Cy's are only one shy of Roger Clemens' record...it was the 11th unanimous selection in history, first since Maddux in '95, the same year of Randy's first Cy Young while with Seattle...the Big Unit, who earned team Pitcher-of-the-Year honors from the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA, was also tabbed the top National League lefthander on The Sporting News All-Star team...he won a club record and personal best 24 games while posting a 2.32 ERA and 334 strikeouts, the ninth time he's led the majors in K's...he is only the second National League pitcher since 1973 to lead in all 3 categories, joining the Mets' Doc Gooden in 1985 (24-4 with a 1.53 ERA and 268 K's)...as for the Big Unit, he broke his own club ERA record for a starting pitcher, eclipsing the 2.48 mark he had in 1999, and recorded his lowest single-season ERA since a 2.28 mark in 1997 with Seattle...he jumped from ninth to fourth on the all-time strikeout list, passing Walter Johnson, Gaylord Perry, Don Sutton, Tom Seaver and Bert Blyleven...Randy became the first pitcher in big league history to fan at least 300 men in 5 straight seasons and tied Ryan as the only hurlers in the game's storied history to record 6 career 300-strikeout seasons...the Big Unit was joined in the 300-K club for 2002 by Curt Schilling, the first teammates in major league history to each record 300 strikeouts in the same season...he and Schilling each won 45 games over the 2001-2002 seasons, equaling Jim Palmer's 2-year total from 1975-76 and the most by N.L. hurlers since Steve Carlton won 47 with Philly (1971-72)...to further illustrate Randy's dominance during the 2002 season, 4 of his 35 starts totaled 26 earned runs in just 23.0 innings, allowing 5, 6, 7 and 8, losing 3 of those outings...in his other 31 starting assignments, the Big Unit was 24-2 with a remarkable 1.56 ERA, allowing only 41 earned runs in 237.0 innings...the Big Unit's regular season began and ended nearly flawlessly, winning the National League Pitcher-of-the-Month award for April by going 6-0 with a 1.37 ERA, becoming the first pitcher to win 6 games prior to May 1 twice in his career (2000) while the only other 2 hurlers ever to accomplish the feat once were Vida Blue (1971) and Dave Stewart (1988)...R.J. set the tone for 2002 with a complete game, 2-0 victory in the season opener on April 1 over San Diego, tossing a 6-hitter, his first of a league leading 8 complete games...his second route-going effort of the year was on April 21 at home against Colorado, giving up an unearned run on 2 hits in a 7-1 win, establishing a season-high with 17 strikeouts...he later added another 17-strikeout game on September 14 vs. Milwaukee, while also fanning 15 once and 16 once...though dominant for the majority of the campaign, the turning point to Randy's season came after a rough afternoon in San Diego on July 21 when he was tagged for 8 earned runs in just 5.0 innings, losing an 11-9 decision...his season ERA rose from 2.61 to 2.99 after that outing, but it also served as a wake-up call and he rose to the occasion...he closed the season by posting an 11-1 record and 1.31 ERA in 12 starts after the aberration in Qualcomm Stadium, allowing just 15 earned runs in 103.1 innings while recording 142 strikeouts...amazingly 6 of those runs scored in a 5.1-inning stint at home against San Francisco on August 30, his only loss in that stretch, meaning he gave up only 9 earned runs in the 98.0 innings of his other 11 starts for a 0.83 ERA...Johnson finished out the season with a 5-0 September, giving up only 3 earned runs in 41.0 innings for a 0.66 ERA, earning the N.L. Pitcher-of-the-Month honor again... Randy posted a 13-1 mark with 5 no decisions when taking the ball after an Arizona loss...as if his mound work weren't enough, Randy finished the year with 12 hits, while tying his own club record for RBI by a pitcher with 8, a half-dozen of which came during a 4-game hitting streak from August 25-Sept. 9...he was named to his ninth All-Star team, but chose not to attend due a sore back, the result of a collision with San Francisco's David Bell on July 6.

2002 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS—Randy had his 5-game post-season winning streak snapped with a 12-2 loss in the series opener against the Cards in Bank One Ballpark...he worked 6.0 innings allowing 10 hits and 6 runs (5 earned) with 2 walks and 4 K's. 2001—The Big Unit was voted to his third consecutive Cy Young Award, posting 21 wins while leading the majors in strikeouts with 372 over 249.2 innings...his strikeouts per 9-inning ratio of 13.4 was the best single-season mark in major league history, eclipsing Pedro Martinez's previous record of 13.2 with the Red Sox in 1999...the Big Unit's final ERA of 2.49 was good for his second ERA title in the last 3 seasons...his 372 K's also established a career best, the third best single-season total in major league history, just 11 K's behind Nolan Ryan's all-time mark of 383...Randy also had his third consecutive year with 23 double-digit strikeout games, tying a major league record he already shared with Ryan...Johnson's strikeout total combined with Curt Schilling's 293 made them the top single-season tandem in big league history, fanning 41 more than Ryan and Bill Singer when they K'd 624 with the Angels in 1973...Johnson concluded his remarkable year by going 16-2 with a 2.21 ERA in his last 24 appearances, allowing 42 earned runs over 171.0 innings...his 21st and final win was also the 200th of his career as RJ defeated the Rockies on October 2...he was 12-1 in his last 13 decisions dating back to June 29...he fanned 20 on May 8 at home against Cincinnati joining Roger Clemens (twice) and Kerry Wood as the only hurlers to strikeout 20 in a 9-inning span...unfortunately, Randy left the game in a 1-1 deadlock with the Diamondbacks eventually posting a 4-3 win in 11 innings...he struck out 16 in a rare relief appearance when he took the ball the day after the July 18 contest in San Diego was suspended due to an electrical box explosion in the light ring that darkened Qualcomm Stadium in the third inning...in relief of Schilling, Randy worked the final 7.0 innings, allowing an eighth inning single for San Diego's only hit in the game while fanning 16 of the 23 men he faced to establish a major league record for K's in a relief appearance (Walter Johnson had 15 in 11.1 innings in 1913)...RJ also set a National League mark for relievers with 7 straight strikeouts, his second of 3 outings that featured 7 straight K's...the Big Unit's third 16-K game also found its way into the record book on August 23 in Pittsburgh, working 7.0 innings in a 5-1 loss, his only setback in his last 18 trips to the hill...his first inning strikeout of Jack Wilson was RJ's 1,000th in less than 3 full seasons as a D'Back...he fanned Wilson again in the sixth to become his 300th victim of the 2001 season, the first time in history that a pitcher recorded at least 300 K's in 4 straight seasons...the sixth inning was also when Randy tied a big league record with 3 K's on 9 pitches...he appeared in 17 games after an Arizona defeat, going 10-2 featuring an 8-0 mark and 1.21 ERA in his last 13 post-loss outings, giving up just 13 earned runs in 96.2 innings...Randy was the All-Star starter in Seattle, his eighth overall trip to the Midsummer Classic, second straight start...the Big Unit's 372 strikeouts came while walking only 71 hitters, a differential of 301 which is the second best in major league history...when Sandy Koufax set the N.L. strikeout record with 382 in 1965 he walked only 71 men, a difference of 311. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Randy silenced the critics with his work in the 2001 fall season, culminated by being named the Co-MVP of the World Series with mound-mate Curt Schilling...the duo combined to go 9-1 with a 1.30 ERA in a dozen post-season outings...Randy was the starter in the 15-2 triumph in Game #6, then returned to the hill the next night in relief to record the last 4 outs prior to the come-from-behind effort to win Game #7 and the World Series title...he was the first pitcher in 55 years to win as a starter in Game #6 and reliever in Game #7 since St. Louis' Harry Brecheen (1946)...the Big Unit became the first 5-game winner in post-season history and the 13th pitcher to win 3 times in the same World Series, first since Detroit's Mickey Lolich (1968)...RJ's first-ever World Series experience began with an efficient 4-0 win in Game #2, going the distance on a 3-hitter with a walk and 11 K's, the 47th double-digit strikeout game in Series history...it was the first Fall Classic complete game since Greg Maddux vs. Cleveland in Game #1 of the '95 Series, and first complete game shutout since Schilling's Game #5 triumph over Toronto in 1993...the 3-hitter also marked the fewest hits allowed in a World Series complete game shutout since Orel Hershiser 3-hit the A's in Game #2 in 1988...the blanking of the Yankees was the first time the Bronx Bombers had been victimized by a complete game shutout in World Series play since the Dodgers' Don Drysdale fired a 3-hitter in Game #3 of 1963...Randy returned to the hill in Game #6, a 15-2 triumph allowing 6 hits over 7.0 innings...his first inning strikeout of Derek Jeter was RJ's 412th overall strikeout of the year (372 regular season/40 post-season) surpassing Koufax for the highest combined single-season total in big league history (Koufax had 382 regular season/29 World Series in 1965)...Randy also delivered a run scoring single during Arizona's 8-run explosion in the third inning, while scoring twice, the first pitcher to do so in a World Series since Bob Gibson (Game #4, 1968)...Johnson followed the next night with his 1.1-inning relief stint, his first post-season bullpen work since going 3.0 frames against the Yankees in Game #5 of the '95 Division Series while with Seattle...his Games #6 and #7 performances made him the first hurler to start a World Series game and pitch in relief in the next game since Dave McNally in 1971 vs. Pittsburgh, when he started Game #5 and relieved in Games 6 & 7 for the Orioles...Randy's 5-game post-season winning streak began in the NLCS against Atlanta, winning Game #1 in a complete game 3-hitter, fanning 11 in a 1-0 win...he allowed a first inning single to Chipper Jones then fired 7.0 straight hitless innings to set an NLCS record, an inning more of no-hit ball than Jack Billingham had with Cincinnati in Game #1 of the '73 series vs. the Mets...Randy followed with a win in the N.L. pennant clincher in Game #5 at Turner Field, working 7.0 frames allowing 2 runs on 7 hits, a 3-2 decision...one of the biggest moments of the post-season, yet lost in the World Series hype was the last pitch that Johnson threw in the NLCS, fanning Brian Jordan with the bases loaded and 2-out in the seventh inning to maintain the 3-2 lead...Randy's 19 K's in his 2 starts against the Braves set an NLCS record, 2 more than the Tom Seaver ('73 Mets)...RJ's lone Division Series appearance extended his post-season losing streak to 7 games (8 starts) with a 4-1 loss in Game #2 against the Cards...Randy's 5-game winning streak after the loss to the Redbirds featured a 1.08 ERA allowing 4 earned runs over 33.1 innings with 6 walks and 38 K's. 2000—RJ led the majors in strikeouts with 347, while topping the N.L. in winning pct. (.731) and tying for the top spot in complete games (8), shutouts (3) and starts (35)...he was the third N.L. pitcher to win the Cy Young Award consecutively, first lefthander to do so since Sandy Koufax (1965-66)...he also earned his second straight team Pitcher-of-the-Year honor from the area BBWAA...he became the 12th hurler in history to reach 3,000 career K's when he fanned Florida's Mike Lowell on September 10 in Pro Player Stadium...Johnson also recorded his 300th strikeout of the year in that game to join Nolan Ryan as the only pitchers in history to achieve that mark in 3 consecutive seasons...Johnson started the season by winning co-N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors and was 6-0 with a 0.91 ERA in April to earn league Pitcher-of-the-Month honors...he was 11-1 with a 1.40 ERA through 14 starts and 15-2 with a 2.01 mark at the All-Star break, earning the starting nod for the N.L. 1999—Randy's first year with Arizona translated into his second career Cy Young Award, joining Gaylord Perry and Pedro Martinez as the only pitchers to win the honor in each league...he led the majors in K's (364), complete games (12) and innings (271.2)...he won the division clincher in San Francisco on Sept. 24, an 11-3 win...he fanned 15 on April 10 in a win at Atlanta, the first of 23 double-digit strikeout games, tying Nolan Ryan's major league record for most in a season, 2 more than the previous N.L. mark set in 1965 by Sandy Koufax...the Big Unit reached the 300-K mark faster than any hurler in history, fanning the Marlins' Kevin Millar on August 26 in his 29th start, 2 starts quicker than any other pitcher...he blanked Seattle on July 20 for the first-ever shutout in Safeco Field while starting a stretch in which the D'Backs finished the year 51-17 to run away with the N.L. West...Randy came up on the short end of 4 consecutive shutouts from June 25-July 10 to tie a big league record...the oddity of the streak was that Arizona was no-hit by the Cards' Jose Jimenez in the first loss, followed by a 1-hitter, 2-hitter and 3-hitter in succession...it was the 10th time in MLB history that a starter was blanked in 4 consecutive games, joining Willie Hernandez (1980 Cubs), Jim McAndrew (1968 Mets), Ray Sadecki (1968 Giants), Chuck Estrada (1962 Orioles), George O'Donnell (1954 Pirates), Paul Derringer (1933 Reds), Hub Pruett (1932 Boston Braves), Jesse Petty (1927 Brooklyn Dodgers) and Irv Young (1907 Boston Braves)...during the inexplicable drought, R.J. posted a 1.41 ERA, allowing 5 earned runs in 32.0 innings...he fanned 17 on June 30 in a 2-0 loss at Cincinnati starting a streak of 3 games in which he totaled 43 strikeouts, tying Doc Gooden's 3-game N.L. record set in 1984...he also earned a spot on his sixth career All-Star team, first as a National Leaguer...he was league Pitcher-of-the-Month for July, despite a 2-3 record and 1.13 ERA (6 ER in 48.0 IP) while fanning 64...he also garnered another N.L. Player-of-the-Week award for August 16-22. 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Randy appeared once vs. the Mets, absorbing an 8-4 loss in the series opener at home...he left the game with the bases loaded and the score tied at 4-4 in the ninth, but Edgardo Alfonzo hit a grand slam after RJ's departure.

1998—A 10-year career with the Seattle Mariners came to an end at the trade deadline, joining a pennant race in Houston...Randy was 9-10 with a 4.33 ERA in 23 starts for the Mariners, but reversed his luck after joining the Astros, going 10-1 with a 1.28 ERA in 11 starts...he totaled a then career-high 329 strikeouts, accruing 213 in Seattle and 116 with the Astros...Johnson was acquired on July 31 with Houston clinging to a 3 1/2-game lead in the Central...after the deal, the Astros enjoyed the best overall month in franchise history, going 22-7 in August, upping the division lead to 11 games...he closed the regular season with wins in his final 7 starts, posting a 1.16 ERA (7 earned runs in 54.1 innings)...he earned N.L. Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for August, going 5-1 with a 1.17 ERA in 6 starts, leading the league in shutouts (3) and K's (61)... after a win in Atlanta over Greg Maddux on Sept. 2, Randy fired his fourth straight shutout in the Dome, 1-0 over Cincinnati

*Relief appearance

August, winning the N.L. Pitcher-of-the-Month award, going 5-0 with a 1.41 ERA (6 ER in 38.1 IP). 1998 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Randy gave up 3 earned runs in 2 post-season starts and ended up with a pair of losses...he went up against Kevin Brown in the opener in Houston, losing 2-1, allowing 2 runs over 8.0 innings, while fanning 9...he then allowed a run on 3 hits over 6.0 innings in what wound up the series finale, losing 6-1. 1997—Randy rebounded from injury in 1996 to set a Seattle franchise record with 20 wins, leading the A.L. in opponents' batting average (.193), winning pct. (.833) and K's per 9-innings (12.3), finishing second to Roger Clemens in the Cy Young balloting...he had a streak within a streak from May 13-June 19, a stretch that witnessed a 7-game win streak (8 starts), but included was a 5-game period in which he allowed only 1 earned run over 40.0 innings (0.23 ERA)...he had a streak of 31.0 straight scoreless innings halted by an Eric Young homer on June 13 in the Kingdome...the winning streak was stopped by Oakland on June 24, a 4-1 loss featuring 19 K's by Johnson in a complete game that included a 538-foot home run by his former college teammate Mark McGwire...Randy's effort matched the major league record and set an A.L. mark for K's in a game by a lefthanded pitcher, while also tying the big league mark for K's in a loss...Johnson earned A.L. Pitcher-of-the-Month honors for June (4-1 and 0.92 ERA)...he made his second career All-Star Game start with 2.0 shutout innings in Cleveland...he fired a shutout on August 8 vs. Chicago, a 5-hitter, fanning 19, tying his own A.L. record for K's by a southpaw...it was the eighth 19-strikeout (9-inning) game in history, the first time it was done by the same hurler twice in a season...he worked 2.0 innings of relief on Sept. 27 vs. Oakland to pick up his 20th victory, his first career relief win, featuring his 2,000th career strikeout (Ben Grieve). 1996—Randy was 5-0 but worked only 14 times due to a lower back injury that eventually required season-ending surgery...

*Division Series #World Series

the A.L. West crown. 1995 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: He was the winner in Game #3 of the Division Series vs. the Yankees, allowing 2 runs over 7.0 innings...came back on a day's rest to work in relief in Game #5, fanning 6 in 3.0 innings as Mariners advanced to the LCS...he had a no decision in Game #3 of the LCS vs. Cleveland, allowing a run over 8.0

on Sept. 7...he posted his eighth win in an Astro uniform on Sept. 12 vs. St. Louis, a 3-2 triumph that ended his consecutive scoreless inning streak in the Astrodome at 36.0, allowing both runs in the first inning...all told, in 5 starts in the Dome during the regular season, Johnson held the opposition scoreless in 42 of the 43 innings he pitched, allowing 2 earned runs (0.42 ERA)...he wrapped up September the same way he ended

he made his final start of the year on May 12, then went on the D.L. the next day with an irritated nerve in his lower back...he was on the 60-day disabled list, making 1 rehab appearance for Everett (A), and was activated from the D.L. on August 6, working 2.0 scoreless frames of relief that day vs. Cleveland...he fanned 8 in 4.0 innings on August 13 vs. Kansas City, his second career save...Johnson was placed on the D.L. on August 27 and underwent surgery (a micro endoscopic discectomy) to correct an extruded disc herniation in his lower back on Sept. 12, a procedure performed in L.A. by Dr. Robert Watkins. 1995—Randy went 18-2 with a 2.48 ERA to win his first Cy Young Award, garnering 26 of 28 first place votes...he was named to The Associated Press and The Sporting News All-Star Teams, and was the A.L. Pitcher-of-the-Year by The Sporting News...he finished sixth in the MVP balloting...the first Mariner to ever win the ERA title, he led the league in strikeouts and average against (.201), while ranking second in wins...he won his fourth consecutive league strikeout crown and established an A.L. record for best winning pct. in a season (minimum 20 decisions), breaking Ron Guidry's .893 mark (25-3) for the '78 Yankees...Seattle was 27-3 in his 30 starts...he equaled a career-high with a 160-pitch complete game at Cleveland on July 7, the first time he did not walk a man in a complete game...suffered his second (and final) loss of the year on August 1 at California...he finished strong, earning A.L. Pitcher-of-the-Week honors for Sept. 18-24, going 2-0 with a 0.59 ERA, fanning 25 in 15.1 innings...was 7-0 with a 1.45 ERA for his final 10 starts, including a 3-hit, complete game in the 1-game playoff on October 2 vs. California for innings, a game that Seattle won, 5-2 in 11 innings...he was the losing pitcher in Game #6, giving up 3 runs in 7.1 frames... R.J. had off-season surgery on his right knee performed by Dr. Larry Pedegana. 1994—Finished third in the Cy Young balloting, leading the majors in K's, while topping the A.L. in K's per 9-innings (10.7), complete games and shutouts...Randy was Seattle's opening day starter in Cleveland on April 4, and with President Bill Clinton in attendance, he no-hit the Tribe until Sandy Alomar Jr. singled in the 8th, winding up with a no decision, an eventual 4-3 Seattle loss in 11...had a 7-game winning streak, featuring 3 consecutive shutouts from May 25-June 4, winning at Oakland (1-0, 4-hitter on May 25), at Minnesota (12-0, 2-hitter on May 30) and vs. Toronto (2-0, 6-hitter on June 4), earning A.L. Pitcher-of-the-Week honors...he ran the scoreless streak to 29.0 innings before strange circumstances brought it to an end...in the third inning of a June 10 start at the Kingdome, a power outage forced a 20-minute delay, then after play resumed, the A's scored a run on back-to-back doubles. 1993—Led the majors for the second straight year with a club record 308 K's, the first pitcher to top the 300-K plateau since Nolan Ryan in 1989 (301) and the first lefthander since Steve Carlton in 1972 (310)...Johnson won the A.L. strikeout crown by 112 K's, then the fifth largest margin in history...ended year with an 8-game winning streak, spanning his last 11 games, with a 2.11 ERA and a save...had second career 1-hitter on May 16 at Oakland, a 7-0 win, fanning 14 and taking a perfect game through 7.1 frames, then had the no-no broken up by Lance Blankenship with 1 out in the ninth...he tossed 2.0 perfect innings in the All-Star Game at Camden Yards, including a memorable strikeout of Philly's John Kruk...Johnson volunteered to work in relief following Norm Charlton's season-ending injury and earned his first big league save vs. Baltimore on August 16, snapping a streak of 146 straight starts...he recorded the 1000th strikeout of his career fanning Chuck Knoblauch on July 28 (the same night that Ken Griffey Jr. homered for an eighth straight game)...R.J. finished second to Chicago's Jack McDowell in Cy Young balloting, receiving 6 first place votes...he also appeared in a game as an outfielder, though he did not have any chances. 1992—Led the league in strikeouts, batting avg. against (.206) and hit batsmen (18)...he was hit by a line drive off the bat of Mike Greenwell on May 31, bruising his left elbow...after 10 days of rest, he attempted a return to action on June 10 at Texas, but pain persisted and he was placed on the D.L. until June 27...tied Ron Guidry's then-A.L. record for K's by a lefthanded pitcher with 18 strikeouts on Sept. 27 at Texas...despite the record-tying performance, he left after 8.0 innings and 160 pitches with the score tied 2-2. 1991—Despite early-season back problems that led to a 3-6 start, Randy finished second in the A.L. in K's...best outing of the year was August 14 vs. Oakland, a 4-0 win featuring 12 K's, taking a no-hitter into the 9th before Mike Gallego singled for the A's only hit...he had arthroscopic surgery after the season to repair a lateral release and a patellar shaving to remove a rough area on the back of his kneecap. 1990—He fired the first no-hitter in Mariner history, a 2-0 victory on June 2 vs. Detroit, walking 6 and fanning 8, earning A.L. Player-of-the-Week honors...he was 5-0 with a 2.40 ERA in June, winning the A.L. Pitcher-of-the-Month award. 1989—He began the year with Montreal going 0-4 with a 6.67 ERA in 7 games (6 starts), with the Expos scoring 7 runs in the 4 losses...was optioned to Indy (AAA) on May 9, then was included in trade with Seattle on May 25, joining the Mariners with pitchers Brian Holman and Gene Harris in exchange for pitcher Mark Langston and a player to be named (Mike Campbell)...made his Mariner debut on May 30 at Yankee Stadium, a 3-2 win. 1988—Spent the majority of the year with Indy...he was out of action from June 14-July 31 with a hairline fracture of the 5th metacarpal on his right hand...was named the #3 Major League prospect in the American Association by Baseball America...was recalled by the Expos after the minor league playoffs, and won his big league debut on Sept. 15 vs. Pirates...he fanned 11 in first career complete game vs. Cubs on Sept. 20. 1987—Spent the season with Jacksonville, leading the Southern League in strikeouts...he was 6-0 with 65 K's and only 17 hits allowed in his first 8 starts, totaling 46.0 inningshe was the S.L. Player-of-the-Month in May and closed the year ranked by Baseball America as the #2 prospect in the league. 1986—At West Palm Beach, Randy caught the eye of Baseball America for the first of 3 straight years, earning #3 prospect status. 1985—Signed with the Expos as their second choice in the June draft and reported to Jamestown.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Matt's steady rise through the system continued with his first taste of AAA action and culminated with a 3 1/2-month stay with the big league club...a member of the 40-man roster for the first time in his career, Matt opened the season on the Tucson disabled list with an intercostal muscle strain...he finally took the field on April 19 and hit safely in 13 of his first 15 games with the Sidewinders at a .379 clip (25-for-66) with 9 multi-hit affairs...he posted a pair of 4-RBI games (April 27 vs. Tacoma and May 6 vs. Albuquerque)...Kata had an 11-game hitting streak from May 15-26 in which he batted .327 (16-for-49)...he broke out of an 8-for-50 drought that spanned 8 games by going 8-for-15 in what turned out to be his final 3 games at the AAA level...Matt was recalled on June 15 when Junior Spivey was placed on the disabled list and got his first action that day in Minnesota as a pinch runner, scoring the go-ahead run in the eighth...Kata reached base via a hit or walk in his next 16 contests, which included 15 starting assignments...he was 2-for-4 in his first start on June 17 in Houston, collecting his first Major League hit with a single off of Jeriome Robertson, then later hit his first big league home run, also off Robertson, which was immediately followed by an Alex Cintron blast...Matt started 15 consecutive games at second base from June 23-July 8...he was 3-for-4 with a 3-run homer and a career-high 4 RBI on June 24 against the Astros...he matched a franchise record and established a career-high with 5 hits on June 30 in Colorado, including a solo homer in the sixth inning and a go-ahead, RBI double in the 12th...he was the leadoff man in 8 straight games from June 29-July 6, hitting .378 (14-for-37)...he boasted a .387 average (29-for-75) while hitting safely in 14 of 17 games from June 23-July 11...Matt made his first career start at third base on July 25 in Los Angeles and hit a game-tying homer in the fourth inning of an eventual 2-1 win in 15 innings...he batted leadoff in 21 of 26 games from August 5-31 but hit only .242 (22-for-91)...Matt hit from the top spot in the order in 36 games, reaching base to leadoff the game 10 times (7 singles, 2 doubles, 1 walk) and scoring on 7 of those occasions...he batted .286 (44-for-154) with 26 runs, 9 doubles, 4 triples, 4 homers and 13 RBI in the leadoff spot...he hit .372 (16-for-43) with 19 RBI with runners in scoring position and posted a .538 clip (7-for-13) with 11 RBI with runners on third base...among National League rookies, Matt was tied for third in triples (5), ranked seventh in multi-hit games (23), slugging pct. (.420) and extra-base hits (28), finished ninth in runs (42) and total bases (121), tied for ninth in walks (25) and ranked tenth in doubles (16) and RBI (29).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Matt erupted onto the Double-A scene with a big season for El Paso, leading the Texas League in at bats (578), total bases (256) and runs (95), ranked second in hits (172), tied for third in triples (9), fourth in extra-base hits (53) and ninth in hitting (.298)...among all AA hitters, he ranked second in runs and hits and finished third in total bases...he had a 10-game hitting streak from April 21-May 2, boasting a .405 average (17-for-42) with 9 runs and 6 RBI...he earned Texas League co-Player-of-the-Week honors with teammate Chad Tracy for April 22-28 after hitting .407 (11-for-27)...overall for April, he hit .387 (41-for-106) with 23 runs, 9 doubles and 15 RBI...he registered a 12-game hitting streak from May 15-26 with a .345 average (19-for-55), scoring at least once in 7 straight games from May 19-25...on June 1 vs. Tulsa, Matt was 5-for-6 with 4 doubles, which tied for the most among minor leaguers, and 4 RBI in El Paso's 18-17 victory...he played for the Western Division team in the Texas League All-Star Game on June 17, going 3-for-5 with a double and an RBI from the leadoff spot to earn the game's Most Valuable Player honors...rolled through a 7-game hitting streak from June 24-30 with a .452 average (14-for-31), scoring in 7 straight contests for the second time on the season...he ended a personal 46-game homerless streak with a pair of homers on August 23 at Shreveport...concluded his season in the midst of a 15-game hitting streak, which began on August 17, with a .385 average (25-for-65), 13 runs scored, 5 doubles, 4 homers and 8 RBI...on the season, he hit safely in 102 contests with 51 multi-hit outings...Matt appeared in 32 games for Scottsdale of the Arizona Fall League. 2001—He was named to Baseball America's High Class-A All-Star team...he went 2-for-3 in the California League/Carolina League All-Star Game at Lancaster...he was selected as Batter-of-the-Week for April 23-29, including a grand slam and 6 RBI on April 24 at Lake Elsinore...he reached base safely by hit or walk in 25 consecutive games from May 6-June 2...he swiped 4 bases as the JetHawks tied a minor league season-high with 10 steals at Lake Elsinore on August 16. 2000—He was second among Arizona minor leaguers with 38 steals...the fifth-toughest batter to strikeout in the Midwest League, Kata fanned once every 10.12 plate appearances...he tied a league season-high with 4 stolen bases vs. Dayton on August 5...he made 1 pitching appearance and took the loss, allowing a walk and a run in 0.1 inning on June 9 at Michigan.

PERSONAL

Matthew John (Matt) Kata...he is single and lives in Cleveland, OH...he graduated in 1996 from St. Ignatius High School in Cleveland, OH...he then attended Vanderbilt University in Nashville, TN...Matt returned to the Valley after the first of the year to workout with other major leaguers at the Athletes Performance Institute in Tempe...he is already on his third number assignment since joining the big league club, wearing #11 last year, which Richie Sexson requested after he was acquired, then Kata switched to the #2, but that lasted only until Roberto Alomar was signed in January.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 29th round selection in the 1998 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Mike's year was twice interrupted by stints on the disabled list, with the second stint pulling the curtain on his campaign due to arthroscopic surgery on his ailing right shoulder...he was initially sidelined from June 1-13, then after coming off the D.L., he appeared 4 times before going back on the shelf on June 23...despite his efforts to return via a throwing program in July and a rehab assignment with Tucson (AAA), Koplove was unable to throw pain-free and elected to end his season with arthroscopic surgery performed on the shoulder by Dr. Craig Morgan on September 15...the procedure included a repair of fraying in Koplove's labrum as well as some slight fraying in his rotator cuff...Mike began the season as manager Bob Brenly's top setup man, posting a 1.00 ERA during April, allowing only 2 earned runs in 18.0 innings of work...Koplove worked at least 1.0 inning in 26 of his 31 appearances, including 8 games of 2.0 innings of work...he was equally effective versus both lefties (.224, 13-for-58) and righties (.225, 18-for-80)...a native of Philadelphia, he picked up his first win of the season on May 13 in his first-ever appearance at The Vet, recording a pair of eighth inning outs then watching his teammates plate 5 runs in the top of the ninth...Mike picked up his second win on May 23 vs. San Diego with a 1-2-3 top of the eighth to set the stage for Danny Bautista's 3-run homer in the bottom of the frame...while he had a respectable 3.79 ERA over his 15 outings at Bank One Ballpark, his road work was more impressive, owning a microscopic 0.48 ERA in 16 appearances away from home, allowing only 1 earned run in 18.2 innings...the lone tally coming as he notched his third win of the year on June 15 at the Metrodome...first batters hit only .129 against Koplove as he allowed 4 hits...he limited the opposition to a 3-for-30 (.100) performance when batting with runners in scoring position, fourth among N.L. relievers prior to his injury...Koplove hit 5 batters in 37.2 innings, something he did not do once in 61.2 innings in 2002...he had surrendered just 3 home runs over his first 79.0 big league innings, but allowed all 3 roundtrippers in '03 during an 18.2-inning stretch from April 14-May 18.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Mike opened the season in the bullpen for Tucson (AAA), but wound up one of the top righthanded set-up men in the National League while earning team Rookie-of-the-Year honors from the Arizona chapter of the BBWAA...he opened the year with 23 appearances in AAA, recording 3 saves with a 1.17 ERA, holding PCL hitters to a collective .196 average (21-for-107) with 31 K's and 4 walks in 30.2 innings...he was recalled on June 5 and pitched against Houston that night, retiring all 3 batters he faced in the 12th inning...Kop allowed only 1 run over his first 12 games with the big league club, totaling 11.0 innings for a 0.82 ERA, as opponents managed a .154 average against him...he picked up his first big league victory on July 11 as Arizona opened the post-All-Star Break portion of the schedule with a 4-3 win at Los Angeles...Mike worked both ends of a double-dip at Shea Stadium on August 3, tossing a scoreless frame while allowing a hit and walk in the opener, then recording a 1-2-3 ninth to close out the nightcap...he was the fourth pitcher in club history to work both halves of a doubleheader joining Willie Banks and Alan Embree (August 20, 1998 at Philadelphia) and Bret Prinz (August 31, 2001 at San Diego)...Mike improved his record to 3-0 with 2.0 innings the following day in Shea as the D'Backs won their third straight on the way to a 4-game sweep of the Mets...Mike threw 8.2 hitless innings from August 22-30, as opponents went 0-for-24 with 3 walks...he limited the opposition to a .150 average (19-for-127) in his first 33 outings after the All-Star Break...Mike allowed only 2 runs over 20.1 innings for a 0.89 ERA in 13 outings from August 22-September 19...Mike held the first batters he faced in his outings to a combined .154 average (8-for-52), good for seventh among National League relievers...on the year, Koplove limited lefties to a .174 average (12-for-69) but walked 21 while striking out 18...righthanders hit .230 (35-for-152) with 2 walks and 28 strikeouts. 2002 DIVISION SERIES HIGHLIGHTS—Mike's lone post-season action resulted in a loss in the second game of the series against the Cardinals...he worked a 1-2-3 eighth inning with Arizona trailing by a 1-0 count, but after the D'Backs tied the contest in the bottom of the frame, Kop was touched for a run on 2 hits in the ninth to absorb the tough 2-1 loss. 2001—Mike joined the Diamondbacks after an outstanding finish to his minor league season and was used in a variety of key situations during the pennant race due to the late-season injury to Bret Prinz...he made his major league debut in San Francisco on September 6 allowing hits to the first 2 men he faced but they would be the only hits he surrendered over his first 5 big league outings...his second appearance was a 3.1 inning stint against San Diego on September 8, keeping the Padres off the board while the D'Backs rebounded from a 5-3 deficit and won an 8-6 contest in 10 innings...he had a streak of 28 consecutive batters faced without allowing a hit from the last out of his big league debut until surrendering a home run to Milwaukee's Luis Lopez on September 26, though he issued 5 walks and hit 2 men in that span...Koplove's year began in El Paso (AA), posting a 3-2 record with 4 saves and a 2.66 ERA in 34 games, then was promoted to Tucson (AAA) where he pitched in 17 games and recorded either a win or a save in 13 of his outings, going 4-1 with 9 rescues and a sparkling 2.82 ERA...he was particularly tough on AAA righthanded hitters allowing only 8 hits in 53 at bats by righties, a .151 average...from July 1-August 21, Mike combined 21 appearances between AA and AAA to go 5-0 with 8 saves and a 0.66 ERA. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Mike was on the active roster for the Division Series and NLCS, but did not pitch...he was inactive for the World Series. 2000—Mike opened the year at High Desert (A) and allowed 3 earned runs in 0.1 of an inning in his season debut...he then surrendered only 1 earned run over his next 19 outings (none in his last 16 games) before a promotion to El Paso (AA) on June 3...was 1-0 with 2 saves and a 0.73 ERA in first 9 games with El Paso...he held opponents to a .225 batting average, third-best average among Texas League relievers...during the playoffs, Mike was 1-0 with a save and a 1.69 ERA in 4 appearances against Round Rock...was 1-1 with a 2.86 ERA for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League. 1999—Led South Bend (A) in appearances...fell 9.0 innings short of qualifying for the organizational lead in ERA. 1998—Paced all Pioneer League (A) relievers with a 0.75 walks per 9-inning ratio.

PERSONAL

Michael Paul (Mike) Koplove...he is single and spends the winter in his native Philadelphia, PA, where he graduated from Chestnut Hill Academy in 1995...Mike first attended Northwestern University but transferred to the University of Delaware for the 1998 college season, helping lead the Blue Hens to the 1998 America East Championship and the NCAA Atlantic II Regional...though drafted by Arizona in the 29th round of the 1998 June Free Agent Draft, Mike made the time to complete his degree and graduated in June of 1999 from Delaware...he played shortstop for the Delaware Valley Gulls of the Atlantic Collegiate League in 1996...Mike is a Philadelphia 76ers season ticket holder...he has a year old Weimaraner puppy named Roosevelt.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Boston Red Sox with pitchers Casey Fossum and Jorge de la Rosa, and a player-to-be-named (outfielder Michael Goss) in exchange for pitcher Curt Schilling, November 28, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Brandon pitched exclusively out of the pen for the first time in his big league career...he served as one of Boston's top closer options prior to the late-May arrival of Byung-Hyun Kim, with Lyon recording 6 saves through the end of May (spanning 22 appearances), and converted his first 9 opportunities...he did not pitch in the majors from July 21-September 2 due to right elbow soreness, then returned to go 0-1 with a 5.68 ERA in 7 September outings...Brandon experienced a strange final week of July, going to the Pirates in a 4-player swap on July 22 that sent Scott Sauerbeck to the BoSox...upon his arrival in Pittsburgh, the Pirates claimed an MRI showed fraying tendons in Lyon's pitching elbow and placed him on the 15-day disabled list on July 25...Red Sox doctors, reading the same MRI, disagreed with the diagnosis, then he was re-acquired by the Red Sox with Jeff Suppan in a deal just prior to the July 31 non-waiver trading deadline...Lyon made 5 rehab outings with Pawtucket (AAA), then returned to Boston's active roster on September 2...all told, he threw only 8.1 innings after the All-Star break...Brandon made a memorable Red Sox debut at Tampa Bay on April 2, pitching 3.0 innings of scoreless, extra-inning relief to earn a 9-8 win in 16 innings, Boston's first victory of the season...he earned his first Major League save on April 16 vs. the Devil Rays...Lyon struck out Robin Ventura, Alfonso Soriano and Derek Jeter in the ninth inning to preserve a 10-7 win on May 20 vs. New York...he did not incur a blown save until June 28 vs. Florida.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Lyon began the year with Toronto, the first time he broke camp on a Major League roster...he dropped his first 2 decisions before holding the Rangers to a run on 4 hits in 6.1 innings on April 23 in Arlington to post a win...he made his first career relief appearance on May 28 at Boston...he was optioned to Syracuse (AAA) after a June 11 interleague loss to the Giants, remaining in the minors for the rest of the year. 2001—In only his second professional season, Brandon reached the majors, going 5-4 with a 4.29 ERA in 11 starts for the Blue Jays after combining to go 10-3 with a 3.76 in 20 AA and AAA starts...he opened the season 5-0 with a 3.68 ERA in 9 starts for Tennessee (AA)...he was named Southern League Pitcher-of-the-Week for April 13-19, winning 2 starts and posting a 0.57 ERA...he jumped to Syracuse (AAA) on June 1, going 5-3 with a 3.69 ERA in 11 starts...included were a pair of 7-inning complete games...he was named International League Pitcher-of-the-Week twice (June 11-17 and July 9-15)...he had his contract purchased by Toronto on August 3 and won his Major League debut the next day at SkyDome, allowing one earned run on 4 hits in 7.1 innings in a 2-1 victory over the Orioles...Brandon was the seventh youngest pitcher to start a game for the Blue Jays and the second youngest to win (Phil Huffman, who was 20 in 1979)...Lyon won 4 consecutive starts from August 21-September 7, posting a 2.73 ERA...overall, held opponents to just one earned run in 5 of his 11 big league starts. 2000—Spent his first pro season appearing in 15 games (13 starts) for Queens (A)...finished the season with 10.0 consecutive scoreless innings and did not walk a batter in his final 28.0 innings.

PERSONAL

Brandon James Lyon...he and his wife, Sara, welcomed son Isaac this past January 26...they reside in St. George, UT...Brandon graduated from Taylorsville (UT) High School, where he was named team MVP...he then attended Dixie Junior College in Utah, where he was a Junior College All-American, an All-Region selection in 1999 and 2000 and an All-Region MVP.

Matt Mantei

Righthanded Pitcher

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 198 B/T: R/R

Age: 30 (Turns 31 on July 7)

Born: July 7, 1973 in Tampa, FL

Residence: Sawyer, MI

M.L. Service: 8 year, 131 days

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Florida Marlins in exchange for pitchers Vladimir Núñez and Brad Penny, and a player-to-be-named (outfielder Abraham Núñez), July 9, 1999.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Matt returned to the closer role in 2003 after surrendering those duties due to "Tommy John" surgery in 2001...he posted 29 saves, giving him 70 rescues since joining the Diamondbacks in 1999, tied with Byung-Hyun Kim for the top spot in franchise history entering the '04 season...Mantei's 29 saves ranked seventh in the National League and gave him the third-highest single-season total in team annals (Kim, 36 in 2002 and Gregg Olson, 30 in 1998)...Matt allowed a .191 average in 2003, sixth among N.L. relievers, including marks of .132 (second in N.L.) with runners on base and .088 (second N.L.) with runners in scoring position...Matt struck out at least one batter in 42 of his 50 appearances...he also picked up a career-high 5 wins on the season, including the Diamondbacks' first 2 victories of the year on April 1 & 7 against Los Angeles, both extra-inning affairs...he improved to 3-0 on April 16 when Arizona rallied for 3 runs in the bottom of the ninth against Colorado...he set a team record with the 3 relief wins during April, a win total that matched his career high for an entire season (1998 with Florida)...he notched saves on back-to-back days on April 19 and 20 in St. Louis, the first time he'd accomplished that since September 12-13, 2000 vs. L.A....his rescue on April 19 was his first since April 16, 2001 at Busch Stadium and his first career 2-inning save...after blowing his first save opportunity of the year, Matt converted 7 straight chances from April 19-May 23...he fanned at least one batter in 15 consecutive games from April 16-May 27, totaling 25 K's in 17.1 innings...his career-high fourth triumph came on May 19 vs. the Giants working a scoreless ninth...Mantei was charged with a blown save and a loss on May 27 at Pac Bell Park when the Giants rallied from a 3-2 deficit in the 13th inning...he returned to Phoenix the next day and had an MRI performed on his sore right shoulder, eventually landing on the disabled list from May 28-June 29 due to right shoulder tendinitis...he made a trio of rehab appearances with Tucson (AAA), then dominated the opposition after returning to the big league club, retiring 29 of the first 32 batters he faced with 12 K's in 9.2 innings...that jumpstarted a stretch of 20.2 consecutive scoreless frames from June 30-August 25, the longest streak by a D'Back hurler on the year and only 1.0 inning shy of Willie Banks' club record for consecutive shutout frames by a reliever (June 23-August 24, 1998)...during Matt's streak he yielded only a .141 average (10-for-71) while fanning 28...he recorded his 50th save as a Diamondback when he preserved a 2-1 win at Dodger Stadium on July 6...he converted a career-best 14 consecutive save opportunities from July 4-August 29...the final save of that stretch saw Mantei surrender his first run since coming off the disabled list as San Francisco's Andres Galarraga smacked a solo home run, snapping a streak of 22.1 consecutive innings without allowing a homer...Matt recorded a save in 8 straight trips to the mound from August 2-19, the second-longest streak of his career (9 rescues in 9 games from August 18-September 7, 1999)...he tied a club monthly record with 10 saves in August...he retired the first batter faced in 13 straight games from July 13-August 19...his streak of 14 straight saves was snapped on September 4 at Kansas City when he allowed a run in the bottom of the ninth, but wound up the winner in 10 innings...he picked up saves in his final 8 appearances, establishing a club record for September...prior to his stint on the disabled list, Mantei was 4-3 with a 4.37 ERA and 7 saves in 20 games while opponents hit .247 against him...in 30 appearances after returning from the injury, he was 1-1 with a 1.38 ERA, 39 strikeouts and 22 saves in 23 chances and limited the opposition to a .147 average (16-for-109)...he had more success against lefthanded batters (.155, 13-for-84, 28 K's) than he did righthanders (.218, 24-for-110, 40 K's).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Matt spent the previous off-season and nearly half of the regular season rehabilitating from "Tommy John" surgery on his right elbow before returning to action on June 28, nearly a year and 2 months since suffering the injury...he made 4 rehab appearances with El Paso, then moved on to Tucson where he worked 9 games and totaled 10.0 innings without allowing an earned run...Matt was recalled from his rehab assignment and activated from the disabled list on June 27...he was summoned into a game the next night in Cleveland, entering with 2 outs in the fourth inning and retiring all 4 batters he faced in his first major league action since April 24, 2001, vs. Florida...he worked 2.0 innings on July 15 at San Francisco, the first time since September 1, 2000, vs. Florida that he had worked at least 2.0 innings...Matt did not allow a run in 8.0 innings over 8 outings and gave up only 4 hits from August 24-September 10...he was scored upon in only 2 of his last 13 trips to the hill, but those 2 outings accounted for 5 earned runs in 1.2 innings...as if the pennant race wasn't exciting enough, Matt and his wife, Erica, welcomed their first child when son Hayden Matthew was born on September 12...he limited the opposition to a .226 average with runners in scoring position (7-for-31) and was even stingier when there were 2 out, allowing just 3 hits in 16 at bats (.188). 2002 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Matt's lone outing against the Redbirds came in Game #1, as 2 of 3 men reached via a walk and hit in his 0.1 of an inning, with both runs scoring after his departure. 2001—Matt's season was abbreviated to say the least as he suffered a right elbow injury just 8 appearances into the season...the injury occurred against the Marlins on April 24 in Bank One Ballpark and eventually required "Tommy John" surgery to bring his season to an abrupt end...he was 2-for-2 in save opportunities prior to the injury, earning a rescue in the season opener on April 3 in Los Angeles, preserving a 3-2 win, then posting a rescue in a 2-1 triumph on April 16 in St. Louis. 2000—Things started slowly due to an early stint on the D.L., then finished strong with saves in 15 of his last 16 chances...he began on the 15-day disabled list with tendinitis in his right biceps and a returned to the D.L. from May 5-20 with shoulder weakness...his injury troubles began in spring training with an ankle problem that hampered him throughout camp and eventually led to the biceps and shoulder ailments...due to the injuries he didn't record his first save until May 25 vs. Pittsburgh...he finished the year allowing just 5 earned runs in his last 28.2 innings for a 1.57 ERA...he had 12 consecutive save conversions from July 6-September 12...he tied Byung-Hyun Kim's record for consecutive strikeouts by fanning 8 straight batters over 3 appearances from July 27 to August 3. 1999—A key acquisition 2 days prior to the All-Star break, Mantei was 22-for-25 in save situations after joining the D'Backs, fanning 49 in 29.0 innings, a 15.2 strikeout per 9-inning ratio...the trade was consummated with the Marlins on July 9, the same night that 15,000 pins were distributed in Pro Player Stadium in honor of Mantei, but while fans were receiving his likeness on a pin, Arizona got the real thing...dubbed the "Iceeman" during his stay in south Florida, Mantei recorded a save in his first appearance as a D'Back on July 11, working a scoreless ninth vs. Oakland...had a stretch of 12.0 consecutive scoreless innings from August 14-September 14, allowing 7 hits with 25 K's...all told, he was 32-for-37 in save situations, rescuing 10 of 12 while with the Marlins...during his stint with the D'Backs, Matt held lefthanded hitters to a .140 average (7-for-50)...overall, opposing hitters finished with a .189 average against him (44-for-233). 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Matt was called upon once in the post-season, working 2.0 innings in the fourth game of the series at Shea...he was saddled with the 4-3 setback, surrendering a 1-out homer to Todd Pratt in the 10th inning. 1998—Started the year with Charlotte (AAA), making 16 appearances before a May 20 recall to the Marlins, appearing that night with an inning against the Diamondbacks...gave up only 1 earned run in first 11 outings after recall, spanning 14.0 innings (0.64 ERA)...led the Marlins with 9 saves, earning club Rolands Relief Man Award...earned first win on June 12 vs. the Mets...was disabled from August 19-September 4 with a right ankle sprain. 1997—Opened the year on the D.L. following off-season rotator cuff surgery...was transferred to the 60-day list on May 16...appeared in 9 minor league games as part of rehab work. 1996—Made the Marlins opening day roster and fanned 24 in his first 16.0 innings of year...earned first big league win on May 19 at Chicago...was optioned to AAA just 8 days later, then was recalled on June 21, but placed on the D.L. with a sore right shoulder. 1995—Was on the D.L. at the outset due to off-season back strain...activated on June 18 and made major league debut that day in Philly, working an inning with a walk. 1994—Spent entire season with Appleton in the Mariners chain, leading the club with 26 saves and 2.06 ERA...left unprotected by Seattle, he was acquired by Florida in the Rule 5 draft on December 5. 1993—Led the Northwest League with 12 saves for Bellingham...earned the save on August 16 by striking out the side in the ninth inning of a 1-0 win over Spokane in Bellingham's annual game in the Kingdom...was named the righthanded relief pitcher on the league's All-Star team and earned Rolands Relief Man-of-the-Year honors for the league...also named the ninth best prospect by Baseball America.

PERSONAL

Matthew Bruce (Matt) Mantei...he and his wife, Erica, and newest arrival, son, Hayden Matthew (9/12/02) make their off-season home in Sawyer, MI...Matt graduated in 1991 from River Valley (Michigan) High School, earning All-State honors in baseball...he signed as Seattle's 25th round choice in the '91 June draft...he is one of many major league players who are involved with Garth Brooks' Teammates for Kids Foundation, meeting every January with the country music legend in Las Vegas...Matt Mantei Field was dedicated in Tempe last September 26.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent on December 14, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Brent made his third career Opening Day start for Kansas City (1995 and 2002) and appeared in 113 games for the Royals, his fifth consecutive year of at least 100 games played...he tied a career-high with 6 home runs (1997 and 2000), homering 3 times in the first 2 weeks of the season...he tied single game career bests with 4 hits (sixth time) and 4 RBI (eighth time) on April 3 against the White Sox...he batted .486 (17-for-35) in his first 9 games of the year, but dropped off with a .163 stretch (15-for-92) over his next 28 contests...Mayne had a season-high 7-game hitting streak from July 8-19, batting .458 (11-for-24)...he broke out of an 0-for-18 drought by going 4-for-4 with 2 doubles, 3 runs and 2 RBI on August 13 against the Yankees, his second 4-hit game of the year, seventh career...snapped a near 4-month home run drought with a blast at Minnesota on August 21, his first roundtripper since April 25 at Toronto...defensively, Brent tossed out 6 of the first 10 runners who attempted to steal and 11 of the first 24.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Brent finished the year hitting .236, but combined with his 34 walks, had a .309 on-base pct...he was a .287 hitter with runners on base (39-for-136) with 28 RBI...served a 2-game suspension September 25-26 after bumping umpire Jerry Crawford at Chicago on September 16...Brent had a season-best 8-game hitting streak from August 11-21, hitting .313 (10-for-32)...threw out 20 of 63 baserunners (32%), while other Royals' catchers threw out 8-of-54 (15%)...he hit a walk-off home run in the 11th inning for a 6-5 win vs. Texas on July 16, his first home run since July 8, 2001 vs. Houston...the day after the walk-off shot, Mayne tied career bests with 4 hits and 4 RBI against the White Sox...reached base in 7 straight plate appearances on July 29-30 vs. Toronto (4-for-4 with 3 walks)...he hit his second career pinch-hit home run in the ninth inning vs. Seattle on September 8, his first since August 1, 1991 at Milwaukee, which was also his first career roundtripper. 2001—Mayne was acquired from Colorado on June 24 in exchange for Mac Suzuki and Sal Fasano, returning to the Royals for the first time since spending 1990-1995 with Kansas City...he hit .331 in 49 games with the Rockies (53-for-160) with 7 doubles and 20 RBI, then batted .241 with the Royals, bringing his combined average with Colorado and KC to .285...he went 3-for-4 with a career-high tying 4 RBI in his Kansas City debut vs. Detroit on June 26...hit a pinch-hit triple vs. Oakland on July 22 then scored the winning run, his fourth career triple and his first since July 23, 1995 vs. Baltimore...drove home Donnie Sadler in the 10th inning to give Kansas City a 2-1 win at Chicago on July 31...Brent had a 9-game hitting streak from July 22 to August 5. 2000—His first year with Colorado provided his best career offensive numbers, hitting .30149, just a bit better than his .30124 mark in 1999 with San Francisco...Mayne established career bests in hits (101) and RBI (64) while tying his best home run season (6)...his 64 RBI were the most-ever by a Rockies' catcher, eclipsing Joe Girardi's previous record of 55 in 1995...Brent recorded 25 multi-hit games...tied a career-high with a pair of 4-hit games (May 16 at New York and June 18 vs. Arizona)...he batted .358 (34-for-95) with runners in scoring position...had a .314 mark (49-for-156) in Coors Field and .291 (52-for-179) on the road...he made headlines on August 22 against Atlanta when

The "Mayne" Event - August 22, 2000

Brent became known for something other than his catching abilities on August 22, 2000, as a member of the Colorado Rockies in Coors Field against perennial post-season participant Atlanta...the then 32-year old receiver had never pitched in an organized game in his life, but he would become the first-ever Colorado position player to take the hill in a game...since he was unavailable to assist the Rockies behind the plate due to a left wrist sprain, Mayne was in the clubhouse walking by manager Buddy Bell's office shortly after the Colorado skipper had been ejected in the 11th inning for arguing...Bell summoned Mayne to discuss the lack of available pitchers as the game wore on...after eliminating several candidates, including rookie outfielder Juan Pierre, Mayne offered to take the ball...he then proceeded to the indoor batting cage between the dugout and clubhouse at Coors Field, threw 15 practice pitches and took the hill in the 12th...after retiring the first 2 batters, pinch-hitter Tom Glavine and Walt Weiss, Mayne gave up a Rafael Furcal rocket through his legs, walked Andruw Jones, then retired the league MVP, Chipper Jones, with 2 out and 2 on...the Rockies scored in the bottom of the 12th to make Brent the first position player to win a game since the Yankees' Rocky Colavito defeated the Tigers, Aug. 25, 1968 at Yankee Stadium, in the opener of a doubleheader (Elias Sports Bureau)...Mayne was also the first National League position player to win since Pittsburgh second baseman Johnny O'Brien beat the Phillies, July 3, 1956...the Hall of Fame requested and received Mayne's cap and a ball from the game.

he recorded a victory on the mound, working the 12th inning to defeat the Braves (see details in box on previous page)...after returning to the lineup and making a pair of starts, Mayne suffered a left hip bruise that sidelined him for 11 days. 1999—Brent's second season with the Giants, he topped .300 for the first time in his career, while leading all N.L. catchers with 32 doubles...he led the Giants with 7 pinch hits, going 7-for-18 (.389) in that role...he recorded a .995 fielding pct., trailing only Philly's Mike Lieberthal (.997)...Mayne nabbed 25% of potential base thieves (23-of-92)...had a trio of 4-hit games, while tying a Giants team record with 3 doubles on July 26 vs. St. Louis. 1998—Platooned behind the plate with Brian Johnson, starting 72 games for San Francisco...Brent started exclusively during Johnson's 2 trips to the D.L. (May 4-19 and July 22-August 6)...he connected for his second career grand slam on May 6 at Florida (off Antonio Alfonseca)...Mayne became part of D'Back history on May 28 when Barry Bonds was intentionally walked with the bases loaded by then manager Buck Showalter, bringing Mayne to the plate against Gregg Olson, but Brent lined out to rightfield to end the game...he was 2-for-2 in the one-game playoff against the Cubs on September 28, including a pinch single in the seventh inning that ended Steve Trachsel's no-hit bid. 1997—Brent was released in spring training by Seattle, then signed with Oakland on April 8...he went 4-for-7 (.571) as a pinch hitter...his .996 fielding pct. ranked third among A.L. catchers...he hit .337 (57-for-169) in 46 starts after the All-Star break...had a career-high 11-game hitting streak from August 28-September 12, hitting .459 (17-for-37)...matched a career high with 4 RBI vs. the Giants on September 3. 1996—His first official N.L. plate appearance was a two-out pinch-hit single in the bottom of the ninth to beat St. Louis, 10-9, on April 4...underwent right shoulder arthroscopic surgery on September 26 (performed by Dr. Lewis Yocum). 1995—Started 95 games for the Royals and ranked second among A.L. catchers in fielding (.995), while leading with 11 double plays...matched a career-high with 4 RBI vs. Toronto on September 5. 1994—He hit his first career grand slam on May 5 at Toronto off of Juan Guzman, setting a career-high with 4 RBI to lead Kansas City from a 5-0 deficit for an 11-9 win...hit .343 (12-for-35) with runners in scoring position...he posted a .996 fielding percentage, committing just 1 error. 1993—Was behind the plate for the Royals on Opening Day...returned to a reserve role on May 12. 1992—Caught 31% of the potential base thieves (12-for-39) in 62 game...saw action in 8 games at third base, where he did not make an error in 14 chances. 1991—Became the Royals first-string catcher on July 15 when Mike MacFarlane suffered an injury...Brent hit his first Major League home run, a pinch-hit shot off Julio Machado, on August 1 at Milwaukee...he later added a pair of inside-the-park home runs (August 22 vs. Texas and September 27 vs. California), becoming the first Royal since Jorge Orta in 1986 to hit 2 inside-the-park homers in the same season. 1990—Spent the regular season with Memphis (AA), then had his contract purchased by Kansas City on September 16...made his Major League debut on September 18 at Minnesota and collected his first hit and RBI off of Scott Erickson. 1989—Began his professional career at Baseball City (A) in the Florida State League, hitting .542 in 7 games before suffering a low back strain that disabled him from July 24 through the remainder of the year.

PERSONAL

Brent Danem Mayne...he and his wife Hillary, have a son, Noah (11/15/98), daughters, Dylan (11/12/92) and Jaia (9/25/02), reside in Costa Mesa, CA...Brent graduated from Costa Mesa (Calif.) High School in 1986, where he played baseball and basketball...he attended Orange Coast Junior College in Huntington Beach, Calif., for a year, where he played for his father, Mike...Brent transferred to Cal State-Fullerton and as a sophomore hit .393 to help propel the Titans into the '98 College World Series...he set a school record during the year by collecting 10 straight hits...Mayne batted .350 as a junior with 5 homers and 40 RBI, and during his collegiate career, fanned only 36 times in 474 plate appearances...he was selected by the Royals in the first round (13th overall) of the 1989 draft, and was the third overall catcher and first collegiate catcher selected in that draft...he was also the second catcher taken in the first round in Royals history (Rex Goodson - 1970).

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as an eighth round selection in the 2001 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Employed exclusively as a reliever, Brandon recorded a career-high 5 wins, equaling the total from his first two seasons in the pro ranks...he ranked fifth in the Texas League (AA) with 37 games finished and was second on the pitching staff with 56 appearances and 7 saves...his best stretch of work came over 11 games from May 30-June 29, going 3-0 with 3 saves while tossing 15.2 scoreless innings and limiting the opposition to an .041 average (2-for-49) with 17 strikeouts and only 2 walks...included in that span was a 2-inning save in which he fanned 5 of 6 batters...the righthanded hurler was more effective vs. lefthanded batters (.235 average against) than righties (.254)...he owned a 5.79 ERA during his 30 appearances at El Paso's Cohen Stadium while posting a 2.81 ERA in 26 road outings...after the regular season wrapped up, Brandon pitched in 11 games for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League, going 0-1 with 2 saves and a 1.46 ERA, the third-best in the circuit, while totaling 19 K's in 12.1 innings.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Brandon tied for second in the farm system with 15 saves, while ranking fourth among California League (A) relievers by limiting opponents to a .186 average...he also finished second in baserunners per 9-innings (8.28) and fifth with 12.2 K's per 9-innings...Brandon was named the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for July and won the league's Rolands Relief Man Award for the month as he went 1-0 with 8 saves...he did not allow a run in 15.2 innings of work during July and limited the opposition to an .043 average (2-for-47) over his 12 appearances...he opened the year in the rotation, making 12 starts and going 2-7 with a 7.85 ERA and .339 batting average allowed...his ERA was the highest in the league at the time he moved to the bullpen on June 10...he found success working out of the pen, going 2-1 with a 1.96 ERA as a reliever which helped him to receive honorable mention for the Cal League post-season All-Star team. 2001—Medders held opponents to a .182 average, third-best among California League relievers...he yielded only a .137 average at hitter-friendly Lancaster Municipal Stadium...he notched his first win as a pro and picked up 2 of his 3 saves on the year during a 13.1-inning scoreless streak, spanning 11 games from July 7-31...over that span he allowed only 9 hits and a walk while recording 20 strikeouts.

PERSONAL

Brandon Edward Medders...he and his wife, Meredith, make their home in Tuscaloosa, AL...Brandon was a 1998 graduate of Hillcrest (AL) High School...he remained in his home state to attend Shelton State Junior College for a year before transferring across state line to play at Mississippi State in Starkville, MS.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 7th round selection in the 2000 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Tim spent a majority of his season in Tucson (AAA) with a brief stint in El Paso (AA), establishing a career-high with 129 games played...his combined 453 at-bats were a career-best while he batted .254 with 64 runs scored, 115 hits, 24 doubles, 8 homers and 48 RBI...projected as a utility player, he proved his versatility by playing 116 games at shortstop, 10 in the outfield and 7 at second base...opening the season with the Sidewinders, Tim hit .341 (14-for-41) in his first 12 games...he went just 2-for-14 over his next 4 games before changes in Tucson's roster forced him to El Paso from April 19-May 7...he struggled offensively with the Diablos, hitting .196 (11-for-56) in 14 games...after returning to Tucson, he hit .305 (18-for-59) over the next 16 games, including a 7-game hit streak from May 19-27, during which he batted .310 (9-for-29)...Tim compiled a .227 average (41-for-181) over 53 games in June and July but rebounded with a .315 clip (29-for-92) in his final 27 games...he matched his career-high with 4-hit games on August 3 against Iowa and August 30 vs. Fresno...he batted .419 (13-for-31) during an 8-game hitting streak from August 12-19...he recorded a .303 average (59-for-195) in 54 games at Tucson Electric Park for the Sidewinders.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Tim was a regular in the El Paso (AA) lineup, followed by the opportunity to participate in the Arizona Fall League...among the Diablos leaders, he tied for third home runs (10), fourth in games (126) and ranked fifth in at-bats (433), runs (61), hits (118) and RBI (64)...his team-high 19 hit-by-pitches topped the Texas League and tied for second among all AA players...he had a .469 average (15-for-32) with 8 runs, 4 doubles and 9 RBI while hitting in 8 of 9 contests to open the year...Tim had a 13-game hitting streak from June 29-July 13 with a .400 average (20-for-50), 10 runs, 10 RBI and 4 doubles...the extended hitting streak kicked off a stretch in which he hit safely in 18 of 19 contests from June 29-July 19, batting .342 (25-for-73) with 13 runs and 13 RBI...his home and road statistics were complete opposites, as he hit .318 (68-for-214) with 43 RBI at Cohen Stadium in El Paso while batting .228 (50-for-219) with 21 RBI on the road...although he played shortstop in 107 games, Tim displayed flexibility on defense, playing all 3 outfield positions, totaling 22 games, and once at second base...a member of the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League, he was selected by the league's managers and coaches to the AFL All-Prospect Team and named to USA Today's AFL All-Star Team...he posted the league's second-highest batting average at .374 (40-for-107), the fourth-best on-base percentage (.429) and fashioned a 9-game hitting streak. 2001—He hit a combined .371 (69-for-186) with runners on base...he missed the season's first month with a broken right thumb...he hit safely in 11 straight games from June 12-27...he belted his second grand slam of the year on June 17, the third of 3 consecutive games with a home run...he was promoted to El Paso (AA) on July 11 and hit .378 over his first 12 games...after the season, he hit .241 in 26 games for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League. 2000—He joined the parent club for the Hall of Fame Game in Cooperstown, NY, on July 24...stole 6 bases in 6 games from August 6-12.

PERSONAL

Timothy Lane (Tim) Olson...he is single and makes his home in Bismarck, ND, where he graduated in 1997 from St. Mary's Central High School...Tim first attended Hutchinson Community College in Kansas through 1999, earning Academic All-America honors with a 3.89 GPA...he then attended the University of Florida prior to being drafted in the seventh round of the 2000 draft.

John Patterson

24

Righthanded Pitcher

Ht: 6-5

Wt: 208

B/T: R/R

Age: 26

Born: January 30, 1978 in Orange, TX

Residence: Orange, TX

M.L. Service: 128 days

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a free agent on November 7, 1996...originally selected by Montreal Expos in first round (fifth overall) of the June, 1996, draft, but was declared a free agent.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

The 25-year old rookie righthander opened spring training penciled in as a member of the big league starting rotation, but a tough exhibition season and the emergence of Byung-Hyun Kim and Oscar Villarreal saw Patterson's year begin with Tucson (AAA)...he made a pair of starts for the Sidewinders, winning each time in 5-inning stints, then was recalled to the big league club on April 11 in preparation for a starting assignment 4 days later vs. Colorado...he took the 12-1 loss in that start allowing 5 runs over 4.0 frames, including a pair of home runs, one by opposing pitcher Shawn Chacon...John was sent back to the Sidewinders following the game with the goal of working on a change-up and it proved successful...he was 3-2 with a 2.39 ERA over his next 6 starts in the hitter-friendly Pacific Coast League, limiting the opposition to a .221 average...his final outing was an abbreviated 3.0-inning stint on May 23 in Tacoma, departing the contest early because he was being summoned back to the major league club...John returned to the D'Backs on May 28, taking a spot in the rotation when Brandon Webb went the disabled list...Patterson saw his big league mark dip to 0-3 with losses at San Francisco on May 28 and at San Diego on June 2...John appeared poised to secure his first win of the season on June 12 start at Kansas City, but Mother Nature intervened...he held a 4-1 advantage in the home half of the third before the skies opened up and dumped better than 2 hours of rain on Kauffman Stadium, necessitating the cancellation of the game, a rain that stopped as the team bus was loading for the airport...he broke into the win column with a on June 21 vs. Cincinnati, tossing a career-high 7.2 innings in a 5-3 triumph, fanning a season-high 7...he also notched his second career hit with a second inning single...he was optioned back to Tucson on July 8, making 10 more starts for the Sidewinders, going 5-3 with a 2.92 ERA, including a 4-game winning streak from July 29-August 23 (6 starts)...he finished the minor league portion of his season with a 10-5 record and 2.63 ERA, coming up 5.0 innings shy of qualifying with the lowest earned run average in the PCL...John returned to the big league club in September and worked out of the pen 8 times, posting a 3.38 ERA (5 earned runs in 13.1 innings)...he notched his first career save at any professional level on September 7 in San Francisco working the final 2.0 innings to preserve a 9-6 win...he allowed only 2 home runs over his last 74.2 innings on the year, including AAA work.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—The Diamondbacks got a tantalizing glimpse of their future during the second half of the season as John made 5 starts for the big league club in the heat of a pennant race...with the home field in the Division Series hanging in the balance, he took the ball in the regular season finale on September 29 against Colorado and posted an 11-8 win, allowing 2 runs over 5.0 innings...he prefaced that 5 days earlier in St. Louis, blanking the Central Division titleholders on 1 hit over 6.0 frames, fanning 8, but left the game in a scoreless tie and the Redbirds wound up 3-2 winners...Patterson, who was subbing for the injured Rick Helling, made his big league debut on July 20 in San Diego, working 6.0 innings allowing a run and 3 hits in front of a gathering of 54,980 in Qualcomm Stadium...he departed that contest trailing 1-0, but Arizona rallied for a 7-1 victory...the game was a significant step for Patterson, who finally made it to the big leagues after undergoing "Tommy John" surgery on his right elbow on May 25, 2000...he took the hill again on July 25 in Bank One Ballpark with 7.1 shutout innings against the Padres, allowing only 5 hits in posting his first big league win, a 10-0 decision...he was optioned back to Tucson on August 7 as Helling returned from the D.L...he picked up his first major league hit on July 25 off of San Diego's Tom Davey...he had what appeared to be his second big league hit on September 29 off the Rockies' Denny Stark, but Gabe Kapler charged the ball in rightfield and threw Patterson out at first base...John began the year in extended spring training to continue strengthening his elbow, and made his season debut with Tucson on May 5 vs. Colorado Springs...he opened his AAA season losing 4 of his first 5 decisions, but wound up going 9-1 in his last 14 outings (13 starts). 2001—John opened the season on the disabled list for the second straight year as he finished his rehabilitation from elbow surgery...he made his debut on May 13 for Lancaster (A) and started twice before being promoted to El Paso (AA)...he made a pair of starts for the Diablos then was sent to Tucson. 2000—John missed the majority of the season with elbow surgery...he opened the year on the disabled list due to a right elbow strain, not making his debut until April 25 with 5.0 innings of relief in a no decision vs. Tacoma...he followed with a pair of losses as a starter, then was shelved on May 6 for the remainder of the year...he was operated on by Dr. James Andrews on May 25 in Birmingham, AL. 1999—Patterson opened the year with El Paso (AA), making 18 starts for the Diablos before his season was interrupted with the excitement of pitching for the U.S. in the Pan American Games...he was an integral part of Team USA that qualified for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia, by earning a silver medal...he made a pair of starts in Winnipeg, including the opener against the host country, working 5.0 innings allowing 2 runs with 5 K's...he was not involved in the decision, an eventual 7-6 Canada win in 11 innings...he followed with an impressive win over Panama in the quarterfinals, working 5.2 innings of no-hit ball, finishing with an 8-inning stint, allowing 2 hits and 2 unearned runs, with no walks and 7 strikeouts...all told, Patterson posted a 1.38 ERA finishing with 13.0 innings, allowing 6 hits and 4 runs (2 earned), with no walks and 12 K's...upon returning from international action, he finished the year with Tucson, his first taste of AAA...he was the Texas League Pitcher-of-the-Week for June 7-13, then was tabbed organizational Pitcher-of-the-Month for June... he finished at AA with 117 K's in 100.0 innings, leading T.L. starters with a 10.53 strikeouts per 9-inning ratio. 1998—His second year as a professional, John led the California League in ERA and ranked fourth in K's...he also had the lowest opponents' batting average (.217) of any starting pitcher in the league...his efforts were rewarded by a Baseball America poll of managers, naming Patterson the second best prospect in the California League. 1997—Spent his first pro season at South Bend (Class A Midwest League) where he was much better than his 1-9 record indicated...produced a solid 3.23 ERA and fanned 95 batters in 78.0 innings (10.96 per 9 innings).

PERSONAL

John Hollis Patterson...he is single and makes his home in Orange, TX...as a senior at West Orange-Stark High School, John was named to USA Today's prep All-America squad with a 7-2 record and a 0.77 ERA in 72.1 innings, fanning 142...John had a full year in 1999, not only making 2 minor league stops and a stint with the Pan Am team, but he also made 8 starts for Scottsdale in the Arizona Fall League.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Despite a career-high ERA of 5.43, Reynolds pitched effectively in three-fourths of his starts (3.57 ERA in 22 games), with the Braves winning 10 of his first 11 starts...his season ERA ballooned after he allowed 25 earned runs in his last 7 games, spanning 35.1 innings...Shane had gone 5-2 with a 2.16 ERA in an 8-start stretch before the misfortune...he allowed 3 earned runs or less in 15 of 29 starts...he was surprisingly released by Houston near the end of spring training on March 27 and signed with Atlanta on April 10...he made his Braves' debut 5 days later against the Expos in San Juan, Puerto Rico, working 5.0 shutout innings of 5-hit ball in a game the Braves eventually won, 2-1 in 10 innings...he followed his outing in Puerto Rico with an 8-1 win over the Phillies in Turner Field, allowing only 2 hits and an unearned run in 7.1 innings...it marked the first time he worked consecutive starts without allowing an earned run since July 30-August 5, 1999...he became the first pitcher to not allow an earned run in his first 2 starts with Atlanta since Larry McWilliams in 1978...Reynolds went 7.0 innings on July 26 and 31, the first time he'd worked 7.0 frames in consecutive outings since April 19-25, 2002...he went 8.0 innings in a 2-1 Atlanta loss on August 20 at San Francisco, his longest outing since also working 8.0 frames in a 3-2 loss to the Giants on April 19, 2002...the Braves scored 185 runs in Reynolds' 29 starts (6.4 runs/game).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Shane had his season come to an early halt when he underwent surgery on June 13 to repair a pinched nerve in his lower back, performed by Dr. Richard Harper...he was placed on the 60-day disabled list on June 13 for the remainder of the season...his last outing was on June 8 at Oakland, giving up 5 runs on 7 hits in 3.0+ innings, Reynolds' shortest outing since April 29, 2001...he snapped a 4-game winless streak with a 5-1 win on May 12 at Pittsburgh, allowing only 2 hits over 6.0 innings...Reynolds fell victim to a blown save on May 1 vs. Montreal, leaving with 2 aboard and a 3-1 lead in the seventh...his first start of the season was on April 4 at Minute Maid Park, a 6-3 win vs. Milwaukee, allowing 2 runs over 6.0 innings. 2001—Shane became the seventh pitcher in Houston history to record 100 career wins with a 9-2 win over St. Louis on October 7 to clinch the N.L. Central Division title, allowing an earned run on 8 hits over 7.1 innings...after a 10-4 loss to Cleveland on July 17, Reynolds went 4-0 with a 2.29 ERA (9 earned runs in 35.1 innings) in 5 starts at Minute Maid Park before losing to San Francisco on October 2...a 6-5 win on September 27 in Wrigley Field upped his season mark to 5-0 with a 2.20 ERA (8 earned runs in 32.2 innings) against the Cubs in 2001, tying a franchise single-season record for wins against one opponent...recorded a season-high 8 strikeouts vs. Milwaukee on September 6...Shane was on the 15-day disabled list retroactive to August 14 with a lower back strain after being scratched from an August 18 start...he went 28.2 innings without a walk from July 17 (fifth inning) to August 13 (second inning)...he did not allow more than 3 runs in any start in June and posted a 3.22 ERA (16 earned runs in 44.2 innings) in 6 starts from June 7-July 4...he struck out a season-high 8 batters in a 9-3 win on June 23 vs. Cincinnati, his first complete game since August 5, 1999, while surpassing Bob Knepper for seventh place on Houston's career victories list (94)...Shane tallied his 1,200th strikeout in the third inning (Larry Walker) of a 13-5 victory over Colorado on June 18...he hammered his fifth career home run on May 31 at San Diego, a second inning shot off of Wascar Serrano...he started the season on the disabled list (March 31-April 18) after off-season knee surgery. 2001 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Reynolds started Game #3 of the Division Series in Atlanta, allowing 4 runs in 4.0 innings of a 6-2 loss. 2000—Shane made the National League All-Star team for the first time in his career, but missed most of the second half of the season due to degenerative discs in his lower back...he made his fifth straight Opening Day start on April 4 at Pittsburgh...he worked 6.0 or more innings in all but 5 starts, and worked at least 7.0 innings on 9 occasions...he hit his fourth career home run, a solo shot in the fifth inning at San Diego on April 14...a May 10 win over the Rockies tied a career-best 5-game winning streak (sixth time)...he made his final start of the year on July 29 at Atlanta, working only 1.0 inning before leaving with lower back pain...Shane was placed on the disabled list on July 30 and missed the rest of the season...he then suffered a knee injury in mid-December while jogging, tearing the lateral meniscus in his left knee and underwent surgery (Dr. David Lintner) on Dec. 19, 2000. 1999—He was among the league's best, tying for the top spot in starts (35), tied for second in shutouts (2), tied for fifth in complete games (4), ranked fifth in strikeouts (197), seventh in innings (231.2) and ninth in strikeouts per 9-innings (7.7)...he also led the N.L. in fewest walks per 9-innings (1.4)...Reynolds topped the charts with 17 sacrifice hits...he set a career-high with 14 K's in a loss to Pittsburgh on August 15...he allowed one earned run over a 3-0 stretch to post a 0.38 ERA (July 24-August 5)...he pitched no-hit ball for 6.2 innings en route to an 11-0 win over Arizona on April 27 in Houston, with former teammate Luis Gonzalez spoiling the no-no bid with a two-out single in the seventh inning. 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Shane started and won

Game #1 of the Division Series in Atlanta, allowing just a run over 6.0 innings...he was saddled with the loss in Game #4, surrendering 4 runs in 5.0 innings of a 7-5 series-clinching win by Atlanta. 1998—Fell one game short of becoming a 20-game winner when he had a no-decision in his final start of the year on September 26 at home against Chicago...his 19 wins were a career-best, 3 more than his 1996 total...he also struck out a career-high 209 batters...he finished the season ranked fifth in winning percentage (.704), tied for second in wins (19), tied for first in starts (35), fourth in strikeouts (209), tied for sixth in innings (233.1), tied for seventh in strikeouts per 9.0 innings (8.1) and tied for 10th in fewest walks per 9-innings (2.0)...Shane was Houston's Opening Day starter for the third straight year...he was on the short end of Kerry Wood's 20-strikeout performance at Wrigley Field on May 6 in a 2-0 loss, despite allowing only one earned run and striking out 10 in a complete game...after that setback, he went 5-0 with a 1.89 ERA over his next 7 starts from May 11-June 7 (10 earned runs in 47.2 innings)...starting with a 4-3 win at Philadelphia on August 19, he went 5-0 with a 2.72 ERA over his final 8 starts. 1998 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: His only start in the Division Series was a no-decision in Game #2 against the Padres in Houston...he left the game up 3-2, but the Padres tied it in the ninth inning before Houston won 5-4. 1997—Shane was Houston's Opening Day starter for the second consecutive season, beating John Smoltz and the Braves 2-1 in the Astrodome on April 1...on May 12 at Florida, he worked 3.1 innings in an 11-4 loss against the Marlins, attempting to continue pitching following a one-hour, 38-minute rain delay and is thought to have injured his right knee...on June 11, he was placed on the 15-day disabled list, then underwent arthroscopic surgery to repair a torn meniscus and remove a cyst in his right knee. 1997 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: His lone start was in Game #3 of the Division Series, a 4-1 loss to John Smoltz, with Reynolds allowing only 2 runs over 6.0 innings. 1996—A breakthrough season, reaching career highs in nearly every pitching category, establishing then career bests in wins (16), games (35), starts (35), complete games (4), innings (239.0) and strikeouts (204)...ranked among the N.L. leaders in wins (tied for fifth), winning percentage (10th at .615), starts (tied for second), complete games (tied for seventh), innings (third), strikeouts (sixth), fewest walks per 9-innings (fourth at 1.7) and strikeouts per 9-innings (10th at 7.7)...he was Houston's Opening Day starter for the first time in his career...fanned Kevin Brown in the fifth inning at Florida on September 20 for his 500th career strikeout. 1995—Ranked fourth in the NL with 175 strikeouts in his second full season with the Astros...he made eight consecutive starts without a loss from June 15-July 23...he recorded shutouts on July 1 vs. Pittsburgh and September 20 vs. Chicago. 1994—Finished fifth in the league in ERA at 3.05, despite splitting the season between the bullpen and starting rotation...his first 11 appearances were in relief, then stepped into the starting rotation on May 11 at Los Angeles, retiring the first 15 batters in order and striking out 8...Shane came out of the bullpen on July 17 at Pittsburgh and worked 7.0 shutout innings to claim a 9-0 victory...he walked more than one batter in just 4 of his 33 appearances. 1993—Appeared in 5 games during a pair of stints with the Astros and started the team's final game of the season...he began the season at Tucson (AAA), but was recalled by the big league club on July 9, allowing no runs in 2 games before returning to Tucson on July 25...he joined the Astros again on September 14 after helping the Toros claim the Pacific Coast League title. 1992—Was promoted to Houston twice after the All-Star break...his first recall was on July 17 and he had a no decision in his big league debut on July 20 vs. the Pirates, an eventual 11-8 Houston win in the Astrodome...he was recalled on September 18 and picked up a 4-2 win over Los Angeles in his final start on September 27 for his first Major League triumph. 1991—Shane led Jackson (AA) in innings (151.0), starts (27), strikeouts (116), hits allowed (165), runs (93) and earned runs (75). 1990—Led the Columbus staff in wins (9), starts (27) and innings (155.1). 1989—Was a combined 8-5 with a 3.13 ERA in his pro debut, with stops in Auburn (3-2, 2.31) and Asheville (5-3, 3.68)...he signed with the Astros as a third round choice in the June draft.

PERSONAL

Richard Shane Reynolds...he and his wife, Pam, have a daughter, Lauren Michelle (8/16/94) and a son, Ryan Shane (8/16/94), and make their home in Sugar Land, TX...Shane attended Faulkner (AL) University before transferring to the University of Texas for his junior year...he was 12-10 in 2 years at Faulkner, then went 7-0 with a 6.04 ERA in 17 games for the Longhorns...he was not on the roster for the College World Series, where Texas finished second...Reynolds traveled overseas as part of the 1996 Major League Baseball Japan All-Star tour...he is actively involved in a variety of community projects in Texas and has hosted a golf tournament to benefit the Epilepsy Association for the past 8 years.

HOW OBTAINED

Acquired from the Milwaukee Brewers with pitcher Shane Nance and a player-to-be-named (outfielder Gary "Nochie" Varner) in exchange for pitcher Chris Capuano and Jorge de la Rosa, infielders Craig Counsell, Lyle Overbay and Junior Spivey and catcher Chad Moeller, December 1, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

The ironman was the only Major Leaguer to play every inning of every game last year as a member of the Brewers, the first player to accomplish the feat since Detroit's Travis Fryman in 1995 (144-game schedule)...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Richie was the first player to play every inning in a 162-game season since 1986 when Cal Ripken played every inning for the Baltimore Orioles...Sexson was named to his second consecutive All-Star Game, going 0-for-2 in the contest held at U.S. Cellular Field in Chicago...he also participated in the Century 21 Home Run Derby, but was eliminated in the first round...he tied a career best with a team leading 45 home runs, while falling one short of his personal best in RBI with 124...he finished second in the National League in roundtrippers and fourth in RBI...he became the first Milwaukee Brewer right-handed batter to record 3 consecutive 100-RBI seasons, one more than Gorman Thomas (1979-80)...Richie's home run total tied the club record he had previously shared with Thomas (1979)...Sexson led the Brewers in blasts in each of his 3 full seasons in Milwaukee...he belted the 150th homer of his career on April 15 vs St. Louis (off Garrett Stephenson)...he recorded his second career 3-homer game on April 26 at Atlanta, while setting a franchise record with 14 total bases, one more than Hall of Famer Paul Molitor's 13 in 1982...Richie added 2-homer games on August 6 vs. Atlanta, September 13 at San Francisco and September 26 at Houston...he tied club mark for most home runs in April when he hit his ninth roundtripper of the month on April 30 vs. Montreal...he hit 100th home run as a Brewer on May 10 at Cincinnati (off John Riedling)...in just 3 1/2 seasons with the Brewers, Sexson left 10th on the club's all-time home run list with 133, only one behind Don Money...he drove in his 500th career run May 20 vs San Diego...Richie produced a career-high 15-game hitting streak from July 1-18, hitting .286 (16-for-56)...he equaled a personal single-game best with 4-hit games on April 26 at Atlanta, June 19 vs. St. Louis and July 26 at Colorado...he tied for eighth in the National League with a career-high 98 walks, while finishing fourth in the loop in total bases (332) and strikeouts (151), fifth in home run ratio (13.5), seventh in RBI ratio (4.9), eighth in at bats (606), tied for eighth in extra base hits (75) and ninth in slugging percentage (.548)...he closed the year with 9 home runs in September...hit .293 (51-for-174) with runners in scoring position, including a .359 mark (23-for-64) with two outs...hit .268 (19-for-71) with runners on third base, but an impressive .393 (11-for-28) with two outs...hit .313 (5-for-16) with the bases loaded, but .444 (4-for-9) with two outs...though there is now only one artificial turf field left in the National League (Montreal), Richie batted .382 on the fake grass last year...he committed 11 errors in 1,504 chances at first base for a .993 fielding percentage.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Richie arrival in Arizona is a welcome addition for the Diamondbacks against National League West competition where he is a lifetime .301 hitter (109-for-362) with 26 home runs and 78 RBI...his best N.L. West work has come against Colorado in which he's batted .378 lifetime (31-for-82) with 6 home runs and 19 RBI, including a .391 mark (18-for-46) with 5 homers in Coors Field...on his career, Richie has 17 career multiple-home run games, including a pair of 3-homer contests...Sexson has also hit 6 career grand slams.

2002—Richie was hampered by a sore hamstring for much of the second half, but still led the Brewers in runs (86), hits (159), doubles (37), home runs (29), RBI (102) and walks (70)...he was named the Brewers Most Valuable Player...Sexson was selected as the National League Player-of-the-Week for July 22-28, when he hit .550 (11-20) with 2 doubles, 2 home runs and 9 RBI...he hit .320 in May, then .300 in June posting the best first-half of his career, earning a spot on the 2002 All-Star team in his home field Miller Park...he made it to the second round of the Century 21 Home Run Derby, highlighted by a 480-foot homer onto the base of Bernie Brewer's slide in the first round...he recorded a pair of 2 home run games, July 20 at Colorado and April 18 vs St. Louis...he also had a pair of grand slams, May 12 at Wrigley Field (Ron Mahay) and August 29 vs. the Cubs in Milwaukee (Kyle Farnsworth), the fifth and sixth bases loaded homers of his career...Richie equaled a career-high with 4 hits on July 24 vs. Houston...he joined Jose Hernandez (April 12, 2001) and Ted Kubiak (July 18, 1970) as only the third Brewer to drive in 7 runs in a game on April 18 vs. St. Louis. 2001—Richie had one of the more prolific second halves in the National League to finish sixth in the loop in home runs (45) and tied for ninth in RBI (125)...he was second among N.L. first basemen in homers trailing Colorado's Todd Helton (49) and third in RBI trailing Helton (146) and Houston's Jeff Bagwell (130)...Sexson drove in the second most runs in the National League (69) in the second half trailing only Chicago's Sammy Sosa (77)...he equaled the Brewers' single season record and set the team mark for home runs by a first baseman with his 45th shot on October 7 against the Diamondbacks' Bobby Witt in the season finale at Miller Park...the Brewers were 22-16 when he homered...he connected for career-best 6 multi-homer games (May 24 vs St. Louis, July 29 vs San Diego, August 27 vs Pittsburgh, September 1 vs Houston, September 25 at Arizona and October 3 vs St. Louis)...he had a quartet of 5-RBI games (August 27 vs Pittsburgh, September 25 at Arizona, October 3 vs St. Louis and October 7 vs Arizona)...Richie matched a career best by homering in 3 consecutive games June 17-19 and October 2-4...he paired with Jeremy Burnitz to become the first teammates in Major League history to each hit 3 home runs in the same game on September 25 at Bank One Ballpark...he hit his 100th career home run on August 8 at New York off of Armando Benitez...he caught fire on August 19, batting .335 (52-for-155) with 16 home runs and 47 RBI over his last 42 games...he became the third Brewer in franchise history to hit 40 home runs in a season when he went deep on September 29 at Colorado. 2000—Richie's year began in a Cleveland uniform, splitting time between first base and leftfield for the Tribe...he hit his lone career pinch homer on July 6 vs. Toronto...he had a 1,000 fielding pct. as an outfielder, recording a trio of outfield assists, including 2 in the same game on July 22 at Minnesota...he also hit his third career grand slam in that contest in Minnesota, taking Mike Lincoln deep...Sexson was traded to Milwaukee on July 28 with pitchers Paul Rigdon and Kane Davis and a player-to-be-named (Marcos Scutaro) in exchange for pitchers Bob Wickman, Jason Bere and Steve Woodard...he made his Brewers debut on July 30 vs. Colorado...he hit his first Brewers homer and drove in a career-high 5 runs on August 1 vs. San Francisco...drove in at least one run in a career-high 7 consecutive games from August 9-16...he homered in 3 straight games from August 21-23, all at Bank One Ballpark...he reached the 30-homer milestone for the second straight year with a homer on September 27 vs. Cincinnati...Milwaukee went 30-27 after his acquisition, and was 10-4 in games that he homered...he had a .991 fielding percentage as a first baseman for the Brewers...Richie earned the Brewers Manager's Award. 1999—Richie's first full season at the big league level he enjoyed a break-out season for the Indians, driving in 116 runs, good for 12th among American League sluggers...he finished second among all second year Major League players behind the White Sox' Magglio Ordonez (117)...Sexson tied for third among A.L. hitters with a 4.1 at bat/RBI ratio...made 21 starts at designated hitter, 53 starts at first base, 40 starts in left field and one start in right field...he had his second career 5 RBI game on May 19 at Comiskey Park, highlighted by his second career grand slam (off Bryan Ward)...Richie had 5 RBI and 4 hits on August 31 vs. Anaheim, featuring the go-ahead 3-run homer off of Troy Percival in a 14-12 win...he had a pair of multi-homer games (June 9 vs. Milwaukee and July 27 vs. Detroit)...became the first Indian since May 7, 1998 (Omar Vizquel) to hit 2 triples in a game when he accomplished the feat on September 30 vs Toronto...his 7 triples topped the Tribe and tied for ninth best in the A.L. 1999 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS: Sexson went 1-for-6 (.167) with an RBI in 3 Division Series games against Boston. 1998—Spent the majority of the first half in Buffalo (AAA), earning a spot on the International League All-Star team...he was recalled for the first time on June 27, appearing twice before returning to Buffalo during the All-Star break...Richie was recalled for a second time on July 23 after Shavon Dunston was traded to San Francisco, then optioned back to AAA on August 7, but his stay in the minors was short-lived as Jim Thome broke his hand on the night of August 7 and Sexson was back in the majors on the 8th...Richie hit his first Major League home run on August 17 off of Tampa Bay's Wilson Alvarez...he recorded his first career 4-hit game on August 26 vs. Seattle...he enjoyed his first career 2-homer game on August 29 vs Oakland, then followed the next night with his first career grand slam (off Tim Worrell)...became the fourth Indians rookie since 1981 to hit 10-plus homers in a season joining Joe Carter (13 in 1984), Cory Snyder (24 in 1986) and Manny Ramirez (17 in 1994). 1997—He had a banner season at Buffalo, earning a berth on the Mid-season All-Star team and a place on the American Association Post-Season All-Star Team after hitting .260 for the Bisons with 31 HR and 88 RBI in 115 games...he became the first Bison to lead the league in homers (31)...his 88 RBI ranked third in the league and his .530 slugging percentage ranked second...his effort earned Buffalo co-MVP honors with Bruce Aven...missed over a month of the season after suffering a dislocated right shoulder in the second game of the year April 5, going on the disabled list until May 6...Richie was recalled to Cleveland on September 12 after the playoffs and made his Major League debut 2 days later in Comiskey Park in a pinch-hit appearance, collecting a hit in his first at bat with an infield single off Tony Castillo in the eighth inning...played for Arecibo in Puerto Rican Winter League after the season. 1996—Spent the entire season with Canton-Akron (AA), leading the club in doubles, games and at bats...his 85 runs were fifth in the Eastern League and 22 doubles ranked second...played with the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League following the season. 1995—Richie won the Tribe's Lou Boudreau Award as the top minor league position player in the organization, spending the entire season at Kinston (A)...he was the MVP of the Carolina League and named to the Post-Season All-Star team...led the Carolina League in hits, total bases, doubles, RBI and extra-base hits, while finishing second in average, runs, slugging percentage, tied for third in games, at bats and finished fourth in home runs...led all Carolina League first basemen in total chances, putouts, assists and double plays...was named the Carolina League's "Best Batting Prospect", "Best Power Prospect" and "Best Defensive First Baseman" by Baseball America...he hit 3 homers and drove in 8 on August 3 at Lynchburg. 1994—Recorded a 19-game hitting streak from April 29-May 20 while playing for Columbus (A). 1993—Spent first professional season at Burlington (A)...hit only one home run in 97 at bats, far from a preview of things to come.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Steve was used exclusively in relief for the first time in his career, after making 164 big league starts and just 26 relief appearances prior to 2003...his 107.0 innings led all Major League relievers, the most since Cincy's Scott Sullivan tossed 113.2 frames in 1999...Sparks began the season with Detroit but he was released on August 27 and signed a minor league contract Oakland on August 30...he was assigned to Midland (AA) but did not report and joined the A's on September 2...he appeared in 9 games with the A's, posting a 5.71 ERA...he tossed a scoreless inning on September 9 against Anaheim in an 8-1 Oakland victory, marking the first time he appeared in a game that his team won since May 22 at Cleveland while pitching for Detroit, a span of 31 consecutive appearances in which his club lost...he spent the first 5 months of the season with the Tigers and was 0-6 with 2 saves and a 4.72 ERA in 42 appearances...Sparks lost his last 5 decisions of 2002 and entered 2004 with an 11-game losing streak dating back to his last win on August 16, 2002...he led A.L. relievers in most grounded into double plays (18), while first batters faced hit just .143 (6 for 42), the fifth lowest mark among relievers...he had two outings over 5.0 innings, including 6.2 innings on April 4 at Chicago and 7.2 innings on June 1 against New York, the two longest relief outings of his career...he tied a career relief best with 4 K's on June 1 vs. the Yankees...posted a 3.09 ERA (11 earned runs in 32.0 innings) over his first 16 outings through May 25, recording both of his saves on the season during that stretch: May 5 at Baltimore and May 22 at Cleveland, the second and third saves of his career.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—His third season with the Tigers, he tied for the staff lead in wins (8), starts (30) and complete games (3), while finishing second in innings pitched (189.0) and strikeouts (98)...he fired a career-best 2-hitter on April 30 vs. Kansas City, his first complete game of the season...Sparks retired 14 of the final 15 batters he faced, carrying a 1-hitter into the ninth inning before allowing a solo home run to Carlos Beltran...he was Detroit's Pitcher-of-the-Month in April, going 2-2 with a 3.00 ERA in 6 starts...struggled in May and June, losing 6 of 7 decisions...he matched a career-high with 7 walks allowed in a win over the White Sox at Comiskey Park on July 4...Steve fanned a season-high 9 on July 21 vs. Minnesota, but suffered the loss allowing 2 earned runs in 6.2 innings...he won 4 of his 5 starts from July 27-August 16, including 3 straight starts August 6-16...over the 5-start stretch, he posted a 2.70 ERA. 2001—Steve enjoyed a career year earning the Tigers Player-of-the-Year by the Detroit chapter of the BBWAA...he tossed a Major League leading 8 complete games (all wins), while ranking fourth in the A.L. and ninth in the majors with a career-high 232.0 innings pitched...his 3.65 ERA was tops among all Detroit starters and established a career best...he tossed a shutout on April 14 vs. Cleveland, allowing 4 hits while fanning 5...he needed only 85 pitches to dispose of the Yankees on June 19 in a 7-1 complete game win, giving up 3 hits and facing only 28 batters without leaving any runners on base...had a season-high 7 K's on June 29 at Minnesota...Steve was named Tigers Pitcher of the Month for June, going 2-1 with a 3.32 ERA in 7 games (6 starts)...he opened July equally as strong, giving up just 1 run on 5 hits in 8.0 innings on July 5 vs. Kansas City, followed by a run allowed in a complete game win at St. Louis on July 13...he set a career high with his 10th win on August 31 at Toronto, allowing 3 runs over 8.1 innings...tossed 3 complete games over his last 4 starts and went a combined 35.0 innings in that span with a 1.54 ERA (6 earned runs allowed)...Steve had a consistent year across the board posting a 3.65 ERA in 17 home games and a 3.64 mark on the road, a 3.56 ERA in day games and a 3.68 ERA at night, and recording a 3.77 mark before the All-Star break compared to 3.53 afterward. 2000—Signed by the Detroit organization on March 2 and opened the year with Toledo (AAA)...he had his contract purchased on June 20 and made his Tiger debut that day with a scoreless inning of relief at Toronto...Steve recorded his first Major League save June 28 vs. the New York Yankees, allowing 2 runs on 4 hits in 3.0 innings...he was optioned back to Toledo on July 6, then recalled to start the night game of the day-night doubleheader against Kansas City on July 22...he earned his first win with the Tigers on August 5 against Minnesota...that win kicked off a career-high tying 6-game winning streak in which he posted a 2.01 ERA...included were 19.1 scoreless innings from August 10-21...Sparks did not allow a home run in 8 consecutive appearances from August 12-September 15, tossing 51.0 innings during that span...he threw the first shutout of his Major League career, limiting Seattle to 5 hits on August 15...he was named the American League Pitcher-of-the-Month and the Tigers Pitcher-of-the-Month for August, going 5-0 with a 1.69 ERA in 6 games, limiting opponents to a .188 average (25-for-133). 1999—Posted a 5-11 record with a 5.42 ERA in 28 games (26 starts) for Anaheim, but did not pitch after September 5 due to a torn right rotator cuff...he tied a HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent on October 15, 1997.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Luis had a solid season in his first year at AAA and even received a brief call-up to the big leagues in July...he had a season-high 12-game hitting streak from April 29-May 16...although his average slipped to .268 on May 18, Luis immediately had 3 straight multi-hit affairs and balanced his average between .270 and .298 for the remainder of the year...he smacked a grand slam against Las Vegas on May 22...Luis hit safely in 22 of 26 games before his recall on July 10...he made his big league debut that afternoon, entering the contest against the Padres as a defensive replacement and striking out in his first at-bat...he came off the bench and picked up his first big league hit on July 19 in San Diego, a single off Adam Eaton...Terrero returned to Tucson two days later, having appeared in 5 major league games...he spent the majority of the year batting leadoff for the Sidewinders, hitting .284 out of the top spot...his best month was July when he hit .363 in the 20 games around his brief stint in the majors...he was incredibly consistent at the plate, batting .286 against lefthanded pitchers and .287 versus righties...he tied for the minor league lead in triples with 15.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Luis received his first spring training invitation and remained on the radar screen at El Paso (AA) as one of the Texas League's top prospects according to SportsTicker...he landed on the disabled list from May 9-21 with a right rib cage strain...upon his return, he batted .400 (16-for-40) with 7 doubles and 9 RBI in 10 contests in May...he hit in 16 of 20 games at a .347 clip (26-for-75) with 12 runs, 14 RBI and 7 doubles from May 21-June 10...Luis picked up his first-career cycle on May 26 vs. Round Rock, going 5-for-5 with a career-high 6 RBI...he featured a .407 average (11-for-27) during a 7-game hitting streak from June 20-29...he recorded another cycle on August 24 at Shreveport, going 4-for-5 and matching his career-high 6 RBI, making him only the second minor leaguer (Hank Blalock, Tulsa, June 26 & 28, 2001) in modern history to hit for the cycle twice in a season...his second cycle kicked off a 7-game hitting streak through August 30 in which he hit .467 (14-for-30) with 5 runs and 11 RBI...with runners on base, he hit .303 (56-for-185) with 11 doubles, 3 triples, 6 homers and 52 RBI...Luis played in 37 games for Azucareros in the Dominican Winter League. 2001—Things started slowly for Luis in A-ball but he wound up with his first taste of AA action and emerged as one of Arizona's top farmhands, as evidenced by his selection by Baseball America as the D'Backs top prospect entering 2002...he began the year with South Bend (A) and struggled through the first month before doctors detected a left ankle fracture...after a month on the D.L., he returned to action with Yakima, then after 11 games was sent to Lancaster (A) on June 30...he hit safely in 12 of 13 games from July 2-23, interrupted only by an unsuccessful pinch-hit appearance on July 13, batting 23-for-50 (.460)...Luis earned a promotion to El Paso (AA) on July 28, kicking off his stay with a 17-game stretch in which he batted .362 (25-for-69)...he then displayed his skills for Azucareros in the Dominican Winter League. 2000—He spent the majority of the year with Missoula, though season began on the disabled list with a broken hamate bone in his left wrist...he was activated May 21, then transferred to Missoula for the start of its season...he tasted the big league life playing for the Diamondbacks in the Hall of Fame Game on July 24 in Cooperstown, NY, earning MVP honors after going 2-for-4 with a double and 2 runs scored vs. Cleveland...he was named Pioneer League Player-of-the-Week for July 10-16 after batting .500 with 12 runs scored, 5 homers and 14 RBI...he hit .353 (30-for-85) with 5 doubles, 6 home runs, 21 RBI in 19 games from July 10-August 1...he was selected to the Pioneer League post-season All-Star team. 1999—He led the league in runs (74) and ranked fourth in steals (27)...he touched Helena for grand slams twice in 6 days, June 22 and June 27, earning league Player-of-the-Week honors for June 21-27...he was rated by Baseball America as the No. 8 prospect in the Pioneer League.

PERSONAL

Luis Enrique Terrero Gomez...a 1998 graduate of Barney Morgan High School in Barahona, DR...he was playing winter ball this past year for the Azucareros in his native Dominican Republic, but appeared in only 9 games before experiencing a blood clot in his left arm that necessitated a surgical procedure to rectify the problem...the surgery was performed by Dr. Robert Thompson in St. Louis, MO.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, February 6, 1997.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Jose spent the season's first 2 months with Tucson (AAA) before making his major league debut and becoming one of the most dominant relievers in the game...he led N.L. rookies with 10 saves, recording 71 strikeouts in 50.1 frames for a 12.70 K's per 9-innings ratio, second only to Cy Young Award winner Eric Gagne (14.98) among pitchers with over 50.0 innings pitched...opponents hit .137 (24-for-175) against Jose, also second to Gagne (.133) among all pitchers...Jose held righties to a .112 mark (11-for-98 with 49 K's) while lefties hit .169 (13-for-77, 22 K's)... first batters were just 5-for-44 (.114) against him, second among all relievers...his ability to work out of jams became obvious as opponents hit only .077 (1-for-13) against him with the bases loaded and he stranded 22 of 27 inherited runners...the 23-year old pitched in 22 minor league games during April and May, going 1-1 with 5 saves, a 3.10 ERA, a .236 opponents average and 26 strikeouts in 29.0 innings...he was recalled on June 1 when Mike Koplove went on the disabled list and debuted that day at San Diego, striking out the side in the ninth while allowing 2 walks and 2 hits, including a solo home run by Mark Loretta...Jose took over duties as the team's closer while Matt Mantei was sidelined and converted all 9 save chances he had during June, finishing the month 1-0 with a 1.29 ERA with 18 strikeouts in 14.0 innings while holding opponents to a .163 average (8-for-49)...his work earned him the National League Rolaids Pitcher-of-the-Month award for June, beating Eric Gagne in a tie-breaker... Valverde was the focal point during the team record 12-game winning streak from June 18-30, appearing 9 times, recording 6 saves and his first major league win while allowing only 4 hits in 9.0 innings with 8 K's...the victory took place on June 20 against Cincinnati as Arizona rallied for 2 runs in the bottom of the ninth...he went 1-0 with 4 saves in 5 appearances from June 16-22 to share the N.L. Player-of-the-Week honors with Florida's Dontrelle Willis, becoming the first rookie in Diamondback history to win the award...he established club records for the month of June with 14 games finished and 9 saves...he did not allow an earned run over 18 appearances, spanning 16.0 frames, from June 15-July 23...he struck out the side in the eighth inning at Florida on July 29, beginning a stretch in which 42 of the last 84 outs he recorded came via strikeouts...Jose dominated the opposition in August, limiting opponents to a .100 average (5-for-50) with 19 strikeouts...he inherited jams in back-to-back games on August 7 and 8 and escaped with no damage while stranding 5 inherited runners...Valverde was 2-0 with a 1.05 ERA over 29 games, totaling 25.2 innings from June 15-August 12...Jose was charged with his only blown save of the season and took the loss on August 26 against the Padres when he permitted an inherited runner to score the tying run and later allowed a run of his own...the first run snapped Jose's streak of stranding 11 straight inherited runners since July 26...he allowed only 1 run over 14.1 innings of work for a 0.63 ERA in 14 games from August 16-September 11...he retired all 6 batters faced in a season-high 2.0 innings on September 6 in San Francisco...he cleaned up a bases-loaded jam on September 20 in Milwaukee with a strikeout to end the eighth and closed out the game with a scoreless ninth for his 10th save, breaking Bret Prinz' club rookie record of 9 (2001)...Jose also delivered a double in the top of the ninth for his first career hit in his first-ever plate appearance...opponents hit .099 (9-for-91) against Jose over the season's final two months...he recorded at least one strikeout in 43 of 54 games...he excelled at home, going 2-1 with a 1.04 ERA and 5 saves in 27 games while posting a 3.33 ERA and 5 saves in 27 road contests.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Following a season cut short by an elbow injury, Jose returned to the mound having moved up another notch in Arizona's farm system to Tucson (AAA)...he struggled at the outset, going 0-2 with no saves and a 16.20 ERA (18 earned runs in 10.0 IP) in an 11-game stretch from April 6-May 29, though a back strain landed him on the disabled list for 3 weeks of that span (May 4-24)...once healthy his numbers improved dramatically, going 1-0 with 5 saves in 17 games from June 1-July 11, limiting opponents to a .143 average (9-for-63) and fanning 30 batters in 18.2 frames...included were 15 scoreless appearances while holding opposing batters hitless in 12 of those affairs...Jose held the opposition hitless in 7.1 shutout innings and had 3 saves over a span of 7 games from June 6-June 18...June was his best month against opponents as they hit only .149 (7-for-47) with 24 strikeouts and 5 walks...Jose fanned at least 1 batter in 38 of his 49 appearances, including a string of 22 consecutive games with a strikeout from April 27-July 11...he then appeared in 13 games for the Azucareros of the Dominican League. 2001—Jose had a promising campaign cut short due to a season-ending elbow injury...he had shuffled between rookie and A-ball for 4 seasons before being thrust into the closer role at El Paso (AA), where he posted an amazing 15.68 strikeouts per 9-inning ratio...he went 1-0 with 5 saves while posting a 0.54 ERA (1 ER in 16.2 IP) with 29 K's in his first 15 games at the AA level...he held opponents scoreless in 11 consecutive contests (13.0 IP) from April 16-May 12, striking out 22...he did not lose a game until June 5, a span of 24 games and 24.0 innings...a member of the World All-Stars team at the Futures Game in Seattle during the All-Star break, he also nailed down AA All-Star honors...he made only one more appearance following the Futures Game, tossing 1.0 shutout inning on July 20, before he was shelved for the remainder of the season...he was most effective with runners on base, holding opponents to a .181 (17-for-94) average, and was equally impressive with runners in scoring position as opposing hitters batted .159 (10-for-63)...he limited righthanded hitters to a .183 (21-for-115) average with 50 strikeouts...he was ranked as the tenth best Texas League prospect by Baseball America while named sixth best in the Arizona organization. 2000—He led South Bend (A) with 14 saves and ranked third among Midwest League relievers with 11.09 strikeouts per 9-inning ratio...he did not allow a run over 11 appearances and converted 9-of-9 save opportunities from May 7-June 5...he was disabled from July 10-29 with right shoulder strain...he transferred to Missoula (R) after activation from the disabled list...he dominated the Pioneer League by striking out 24 in 11.2 innings, holding the opposition to a .075 average and not allowing a run. 1999—A reliever for Tucson (Rookie), he ranked second in the league in saves (8), games finished (17) and Rolaids relief points (22)...he led relief pitchers with 14.76 strikeouts per 9-inning...he was rated by Baseball America as the No. 4 prospect in the Arizona League.

PERSONAL

Jose Rafael Valverde...he and his wife, Luisa, reside in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic...Jose graduated from Escuela San Lorenzo in El Seibo, DR, in 1997...he spent a portion of his "off-season" pitching for Azucareros of the Dominican Winter League, going 4-0 with 4 saves and a 2.35 ERA in 19 regular season appearances.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent, November 6, 1998.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

After earning a spot on the big league roster out of spring training, Oscar rewrote the record book by appearing in 86 games, establishing the National League rookie mark, shattering the previous record of 78 originally set by Montreal's Tim Lincecum in 1985 and matched by Houston's Ricky Stone in 2002...Villarreal finished second in the majors in appearances, 3 behind the Dodgers' Paul Quantrill...the 21-year old's 86 outings were the most ever by a pitcher from Mexico, surpassing Pittsburgh's Enrique Romo, who pitched in 84 games in 1979... Villarreal ranked third among all hurlers with 95.0 innings of relief and, including his lone start, finished with 98.0 innings pitched...he also led rookies with a 2.57 ERA, which was sixth among all hurlers with as many innings pitched...he not only set a club record for appearances, but also recorded 10 wins, breaking Gregg Olson's team mark for a reliever (in 1999) and matching Brandon Webb for the franchise record in victories by a rookie...among National League rookies, Villarreal was third in opponents' average (.222), tied for fourth in victories, ninth in strikeouts (80), and tenth in innings pitched...he made his big league debut on March 31 vs. the Dodgers and recorded a strikeout on only one pitch, inheriting a two-strike count on Hideo Nomo after an injury to Bret Prinz and threw one strike to retire the only batter he faced...Villarreal made his only big league start on April 8 in Dodger Stadium, hurling 3.0 innings, allowing 2 runs on 4 hits in a no decision, an eventual 5-3 Arizona loss...he recorded his first win on April 20 in St. Louis with 2.2 shutout innings of a 1-0 win after starter Miguel Batista was ejected following a brawl...Oscar appeared 16 times through April 30, to set a pre-May 1 club record...he was touched for a season-high 4 earned runs in a 6-4 loss at Philadelphia on May 15...he was struck on the left shin by a Frank Thomas line drive on June 5, then retired Magglio Ordonez and Brian Daubach to end the frame, but after reaching the dugout Villarreal required assistance to get to the clubhouse...he was out for 5 days before returning on June 10 allowing a pair of unearned runs in Kansas City...Villarreal picked up his fifth win on June 18 in Houston as the D'Backs scored twice off Billy Wagner in the ninth...the victory started a personal 3-game win streak through August 2...Oscar continued to serve as a "ball magnet" on June 23 when he was struck in the chest by a Craig Biggio line drive on June 23, but he remained in the contest and surrendered 4 ninth-inning runs, with 3 of the tallies unearned due to his own error...he allowed a .378 average during June, the only month in which the opposition hit over .250 against him...he followed June by not giving up an earned run in July, totaling 15.1 innings for the month...over a longer stretch, he allowed only 1 earned run in 26.0 innings for a 0.35 ERA spanning 26 games from June 30-August 15...he limited opponents to a .130 average (7-for-54) during July...when Oscar took the hill on August 3 at Chicago, he tied Troy Brohawn's club rookie record for appearances (59 in 2001), then broke the mark 2 days later vs. Montreal...he allowed 5 earned runs over 42 outings (42.0 innings) for a 1.07 ERA from May 20-August 15...he matched Mike Myers' club record for games pitched in a month with 18 in August...Villarreal was 0-2 and allowed 12 runs, including 9 earned runs, in 10.1 innings for a 7.84 ERA over 9 games from August 24-September 8...the final outing of that stretch was his 78th appearance on the year, tying Byung-Hyun Kim's franchise mark set in 2001, while also matching the N.L. rookie record...Oscar broke both appearance records when he picked up the win on September 10 vs. Los Angeles in appearance #79...he worked at least 2.0 innings in 19 outings...he stranded 31 of 45 (69%) inherited runners on the season...when facing the first batter in a relief outing, he recorded 22 strikeouts while holding opponents to a .228 average (18-for-79)...he held righthanded batters to a .204 average (46-for-226) while lefties hit .252 (34-for-135).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Oscar opened the season with El Paso (AA) and finished the year by making 10 starts for Tucson (AAA)...he was chosen as the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for April after going 4-0 with a 1.26 ERA over 6 starts...he fanned 38 and walked only 8 in 43.0 innings...he allowed 1 run or less in 5 of his first 6 starts...he was struck on the thumb of his pitching hand during his April 25 start vs. Shreveport but still tossed 7.0 scoreless frames of 3-hit ball...he tossed his first career complete game in his next start on April 30 vs. Arkansas, surrendering a run on 6 hits with 6 K's...back-to-back rough outings on May 6 & 11 totaled 13 runs in 10.2 innings and signaled something was wrong...Oscar was diagnosed with a fractured bone in his right thumb and was disabled from May 14-June 7...he made 6 more appearances (5 starts) for the Diablos before he was transferred to Tucson on July 11...he lost his first 2 starts for the Sidewinders but rebounded with 3 straight solid outings, going 2-0 with a 3.23 ERA (July 25-August 4)...Oscar pitched winterball for the Mexicali Eagles, going 7-2 with a save, 4.36 ERA and 56 strikeouts in 14 games (11 starts)...his win total was tops on his club and tied for third in the Mexican Pacific League...he also led his team in strikeouts. 2001—Oscar spent the entire season at AA, finishing second on the pitching staff with 27 starts, 140.2 innings and 108 strikeouts...he went 4-1 in his 6 starts during May with a 3.82 ERA...he fanned a season-high 10 batters in a no-decision at Wichita on June 27...he missed his final start of the season due to bone chips in his right elbow...after the season he returned to Mexico and played winterball for Mexicali, going 6-2 with a 2.55 ERA in 14 starts. 2000—Oscar played at 4 different levels...he opened the year with a win in relief for Tucson (AAA) on May 6, tossing 2.2 scoreless frames with 4 strikeouts...was 1-0, 1.66 ERA as a starter for South Bend (A) and 0-3, 9.82 in relief...he made one appearance for Tucson (R) and finished the season at High Desert (A), going 0-1 with a 4.76 ERA in 5 relief appearances before closing the year with 4 starts, going 0-1 with a 2.70 ERA. 1999—He made his pro debut on June 24 with Tucson in the rookie level Arizona League...he was second on the staff with 11 starts, 64.1 innings pitched and 51 strikeouts.

PERSONAL

Oscar Eduardo Villarreal Montoya...he is single and makes his home in Nuevo Leon, MX, where he was a '98 graduate from Prepa High School No. 16...Oscar spent a large portion of the off-season working out at Bank One Ballpark.

B/T: R/R

Age: 24 (Turns 25 on May 9)

Born: May 9, 1979 in Ashland, KY

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as Arizona's 8th round selection in the 2000 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Brandon burst onto the scene with a spectacular rookie season, one that placed him among the season's elite pitchers... he was named by Baseball America as the Major League Rookie of the Year and was presented with the award during the Winter Meetings on December 13 in New Orleans...he began the year with Tucson (AAA), but after going 1-1 with a 6.00 ERA in 3 starts, he was recalled when Randy Johnson went on the disabled list with a sore knee...Webb and his "sinkerball" stabilized the Diamondbacks' starting rotation which saw Johnson and Curt Schilling miss significant time with injuries while Byung-Hyun Kim was traded to Boston in May...Brandon's 2.84 ERA finished fourth in the National League and sixth in the majors, while his 172 strikeouts easily led all rookies and placed him tenth in the N.L. as he finished seventh in the big leagues with 8.6 K's per 9-innings...he limited opponents to a .212 average (140-for-659), which was third in the N.L.... he made 28 starts and led all rookies with 21 "quality starts," allowing 3 or fewer earned runs in a minimum of 6.0 innings... most outings he was even better than what is necessary for a quality start, allowing 2 or fewer runs in 16 of his starts when he traveled at least 60 frames...Brandon proved he could pitch well in hostile environments as evidenced by a 2.27 road ERA, fourth in the majors and third in the N.L....he also excelled under the lights, posting a 2.74 ERA in night games, sixth best in the majors...Webb set team rookie marks in K's, starts (28) and innings pitched (180.2)...his 10 victories tied Oscar Villarreal for a franchise rookie mark, while Brandon ranked behind only Villarreal (2.57) for the best ERA among all rookies for the season...the one statistic that does not accurately reflect how well Webb pitched was his 10-9 won-loss record, which was due more to a lack of offensive support as he received 2 or fewer runs in 12 of his 28 starts...his first big league recall came on April 22 when Randy Johnson was sidelined and Webb made his debut that night with a scoreless frame of relief in Montreal...he made his first Major League start 5 days later with a 6-1 win in the first game of an April 27 doubleheader at Shea Stadium, tossing 7.0 shutout innings, allowing only 3 hits and a walk while recording 10 K's...at the time it was just the second time in his 4-year professional career that he cracked double digits in strikeouts, having fanned 14 while with Lancaster in the California League against Modesto on August 2, 2001...his 10-K performance started an afternoon that saw the Diamondbacks set a Major League record for most K's in a doubleheader, as 27 Mets fanned during the day...within minutes of securing the win, Brandon received the news that he had to return to AAA to make room on the roster for Johnson who was coming off the disabled list to start the nightcap of the twinbill...in a strange twist of fate, following Johnson's 12-strikeout performance that resulted in a 7-3 win, he once again experienced swelling in his right knee and required arthroscopic surgery which necessitated Webb's second recall...Brandon's eye-opening performance in the Big Apple started a streak of 13 consecutive quality starts to begin his career, the longest streak in the majors since Montreal's Steve Rogers had 16 in a row in 1973...Webb was actually sharper than the statistic requires, allowing 2 or fewer earned runs in 9 of his first 13 big league starts...Brandon went 1-1 with a 2.65 ERA in 5 starts during May before his season was interrupted by a visit to the disabled list from May 24-June 7 due to mild tendinitis in his right elbow...he returned on June 8 and notched his third win with a 13-3 triumph over Cleveland...Webb became the first D'Back rookie to toss a complete game shutout when he blanked the Tigers, 7-0, at Comerica Park on June 28, allowing 7 hits in a 102-pitch performance to become the sixth different pitcher in team history to go the route in a shutout...of the 27 outs he recorded, only two were hit in the air...the sinkerballer induced 21 ground balls that translated into 23 outs (2 double plays) and had a pair of strikeouts in the route-going effort...the triumph ignited a 4-game winning streak to end the first half, spanning 6 starts, posting a 2.50 ERA over that span...he survived a shaky first inning on July 13 as the Giants sent 10 men to the plate, scoring 4 times to snap Webb's streak of 13 consecutive quality starts, the first time he allowed more than 3 earned runs in any big league start... though the "quality" streak came to a halt, his work after the first inning was some of his best of the year, giving up just 2 hits over his next 5.0 innings to record the 7-3 win, his seventh triumph to set a club record for wins by a rookie...the Diamondbacks could muster only 7 runs over his first 6 starts after the All-Star break as he went 0-4 despite sporting a 2.95 ERA (12 earned runs in 36.2 innings) while limiting opposing hitters to a collective .223 average (31-for-139)... Brandon started on August 14 in Cincinnati only 2 1/2 hours from his hometown of Ashland, KY, and allowed 3 runs on 6 hits over 5.0 innings in a 3-2 loss to the Reds...he recorded his first post-break victory on August 19 at home over Cincy, snapping a 6-start drought as he allowed just a run and 4 hits in 7.0 innings with a career-high 11 strikeouts in a 6-1 win...he was forced from his start on August 24 vs. Chicago after being struck in the right forearm by Aramis Ramirez' batted ball in the second inning...Webb remained in the game to pitch out of bases loaded jams in both the second and third innings, but he was removed prior to the fourth, his shortest start of the year...the lack of run support hindered Brandon as he won only once in a 9-start stretch from July 19-August 31, going 1-4 with a solid 2.85 ERA, allowing 17 earned runs in 53.2 innings while recording 71 K's in that span, an 11.9 strikeout per 9-inning ratio...he limited the opposition to 3 runs or less in all 9 of those assignments, unfortunately the offense came up with just 17 runs...Webb equaled his career high with 11 strikeouts against the Giants in a 3-1 loss on August 31...Rich Aurilia's fifth-inning sacrifice fly during that game snapped Webb's streak of 95 consecutive outs recorded on the infield (K's, groundouts, caught stealings, pop-ups, etc.), the first flyball out against Webb since the Cubs' Sammy Sosa in the third inning on August 3 in Wrigley Field...after going 2-0 over his first 3 starts during September, Brandon struggled in his final pair of assignments, closing the year allowing 16 runs (9 earned) in 8.0 innings against the Rockies (September 23) and Cardinals (September 28) to raise his season ERA from 2.50 to its final mark of 2.84...some of Webb's best work came when he faced an opponent in the second of back-to-back starts...he faced the same opponent in consecutive starts on 6 occasions, going 4-0 with a 1.71 ERA in the second meeting, allowing 8 earned runs in 42.0 innings, while limiting those teams to a collective .162 average (23-for-142)...he allowed 12 home runs in 180.2 innings at the big league level, a contrast as he surrendered only 13 home runs over 357.0 minor league innings since being drafted in 2000...on the year, Brandon recorded 542 major league outs, only 55 of which were caught by an outfielder (10%).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Brandon got off to a fast start at El Paso (AA) and solidified his role in the starting rotation, even earning a chance to make his AAA debut with Tucson...he ranked fourth in the Texas League in ERA (3.14) and strikeouts (122), fifth in strikeouts per 9.0-innings pitched for starters (7.50) and tied for fifth with 152.0 innings pitched...overall he was 6-1 in his first 8 games through May 12, posting a 2.06 ERA (11 ER in 48.0 IP) and holding opposing batters to a .211 average (36-for-171)...he tossed his first career complete-game shutout on April 20 at San Antonio, scattering 9 hits...he picked up his fifth victory on May 7 at Arkansas with 7.0 shutout innings of 2-hit ball...Webb's only relief appearance came on May 17 vs. Midland when he was scheduled to start, but wound up following Matt Mantei's final rehab outing...Brandon tossed 8.0 innings of 1-hit, 1-run relief, retiring 20 of the last 21 hitters he faced and 23 of 26 overall...he was one of 8 Diablos named to the Western Division squad at the Texas League All-Star Game on June 17, pitching 2.0 scoreless innings in relief, allowing 2 hits and recording 2 K's...Brandon made his AAA debut on July 4 at New Orleans as the replacement starter for Erik Sabel, who was summoned to the big league club...arriving an hour and a half before game time because of travel delays, he absorbed the loss after working 7.0 innings, allowing 3 runs on 5 hits...he closed out his season with 3 no decisions, compiling a 1.02 ERA (2 ER in 17.2 IP) and an opponents average of .185 (12-for-65)...on August 25 at Arkansas, he twirled 6.0 no-hit innings before allowing 3 runs in 7.2 innings...he thrived by keeping the ball down, inducing 229 groundouts versus 69 flyouts...righthanded hitters hit at a .223 clip (82-for-367), while lefties found more success with a .291 average (59-for-203)...Brandon held opponents to a .207 average (31-for-150) with runners in scoring position and was even tougher with 2 outs with a .171 average against (13-for-76)...he was 2-0 with a 0.55 ERA (1 ER in 16.1 IP), 6 walks and 17 strikeouts, in 8 games (1 start) for Scottsdale of the Arizona Fall League. 2001—He owned the California League's tenth-best ERA (3.99) and finished fourth in innings (162.1) and strikeouts (158)...he plunked a league-high 27 batters...he owned a 5.88 ERA through May, but posted a 3.10 ERA (38 earned runs in 110.1 innings) over his final 18 starts from June 2-September 2...he recorded the first double-digit strikeout total of his career as he struck out a career-high 14 batters and combined on a 2-hit shutout at Modesto on August 2. 2000—He held Midwest League opponents to a .172 batting average...he was disabled the final month of the season with right arm soreness.

PERSONAL

Brandon Tyler Webb...Brandon was married over the winter to the former Alicia Berginnis and they make their home in Ashland, Kentucky...he was a 1997 graduate of Ashland High School, then played his collegiate baseball in Lexington at the University of Kentucky.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a non-drafted free agent on June 8, 2000.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Craig was having a solid season for El Paso (AA) when a lower back strain ended his season in late-June...at the time of the injury, he was leading the Texas League in both slugging (.624) and on-base (.421) percentages, while ranking third in both home runs (15) and average (.324)...despite missing half of the season, Ansman finished the year leading the Diablos in home runs...he batted .378 (14-for-37) with 13 RBI during his 10-game hitting streak from April 25-May 6...his top performance over that stretch came on April 26 at Arkansas when he reached base in all 6 plate appearances including 2 doubles, a home run and career-high 5 RBI...Craig posted a .376 batting average with 7 home runs and 24 RBI on his way to earning the organization's Player-of-the-Month honors for May...he had another 10-game hitting streak from May 15-27 during which he hit at a .488 clip (21-for-43) with 5 doubles, 4 home runs and 12 RBI...he matched his career-high with 4 hits on May 17 at San Antonio, including a pair of home runs for his second career multi-homer contest...he was the only Diablos position player selected to participate in the Texas League All-Star Game, going 1-for-3 as the starting catcher for the West All-Stars and delivered the game's only home run...he landed on the disabled list on June 25 with a low back strain and missed the remainder of the season...he wrapped up the year with a .362 average against lefthanded pitchers and a .310 mark vs. righties.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Craig continued to make a name for himself around baseball circles with the selection by SportsTicker as one of the top prospects in the California League (A) and tabbed by Baseball America as the league's best defensive catcher...he was the starting catcher on the Cal League All-Star team and had one of his club's 2 hits in the mid-summer contest against the Carolina League...he finished third in the league in slugging pct. (.543) and seventh in hitting (.305)...in addition to swinging a hot bat, Craig also had a solid season in the field as he finished in a virtual tie for the top fielding percentage by a Cal League catcher (.991), finishing less than .0001 behind the leader...he matched his career best with 21 home runs between Lancaster and El Paso...he was named the Cal League's Player-of-the-Week for April 22-28 and again from July 15-21...he went 4-for-6 vs. San Bernardino with 2 doubles, a triple, 3 RBI and 5 runs scored to ignite a 13-game hit streak from July 10-22, during which he batted .490 (24-for-49)...he was promoted to El Paso on July 30. 2001—Craig paced the Midwest League (A) in slugging (.623) and finished fifth in batting (.330) and on-base percentage (.402)...he led his team in doubles (30) and home runs (21)...he missed the season's first week with a strained right hamstring...he collected 4 doubles versus Fort Wayne on April 23...he batted .500 (31-for-62) with 12 doubles during a 17-game hitting streak from August 3-22...during the middle of the streak, Ansman homered in 4 consecutive games from August 11-14...he threw out 41.6% (37-of-89) would-be basestealers, second in the league...he hit .353 with 2 home runs during the Texas League playoffs. 2000—Signed as a non-drafted free agent following the draft, Ansman threw out a Pioneer League-best 42.1% (8-of-19) of would-be base stealers.

PERSONAL

Craig Matthew Ansman...he is single and makes his off-season home in West Islip, NY...after graduating from West Islip High School in 1996, Craig graduated from SUNY-Stony Brook in 2000 with a degree in social science.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a minor league free agent, January 7, 2004

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Juan's start to the season was delayed by a month and a half as he opened the year on the disabled list due to a fractured hamate bone in his left hand...he returned to action with Omaha (AAA) on May 15...his best offensive output came during the month of June, as he hit .281 with both of his home runs...Brito played errorless ball in his 36 games behind the plate and threw out 31% of would-be basestealers (10 of 32)...he excelled against lefthanded pitchers (.393, 11-for-28) while struggling versus righties (.191, 18-for-94)...the injury bug bit again in the second half of the season as he was sidelined from July 21-August 16 with a left hamstring strain.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Juan began the season with Wichita (AA) and was promoted to Omaha on April 28...he played in only 3 games before his contract was purchased by Kansas City on May 1...he made his Major League debut two days later at Baltimore and went 1-for-3 at the plate, recording his first big league hit off Scott Erickson in the fifth inning...overall, Brito batted .304 in 9 games for the Royals, going 7-for-23 with 2 doubles and an RBI...he was optioned back to Wichita on May 28 and put together a 10-game hit streak from July 16-25 (.441, 15-for-34)...he finished with a .255 average in 89 games for Wichita with 11 doubles and 7 home runs, only one long ball shy of his career total entering the season...he went 1-for-11 (.091) for the Wranglers in the Texas League playoffs. 2001—Juan had a season-best 4 RBI with a grand slam on July 8...his next home run came on August 4 at Tulsa and was one of 8 roundtripper hit by the Wranglers in the contest, an 18-3 rout...he made his only career appearance in the outfield in the season finale on September 2 vs. Tulsa. 2000—He began the year with Wichita and was transferred to Wilmington (A) in mid-June...he jumped to AAA in July and smacked his lone home run of the season on July 27 with Omaha...it was his first home run since the 1997 campaign, his first season as a pro. 1999—Juan played for 4 different clubs at 3 different levels during the season...he opened the season with Wilmington, batting .283 in 14 games...transferred to Charleston (WV) of the South Atlantic League where he played the majority of the remainder of the year, with the exception of brief stints with Wichita (AA) and Omaha (AAA)...he made his only career appearance at first base on September 2 for Wilmington.

PERSONAL

Juan Ramon Brito...he was a 1996 graduate of Liceo Juan Pablo Duarte High School in the Dominican Republic... Juan spent the the winter playing for the Cibao Gigantes in the Dominican Winter League.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a minor league free agent, February 13, 2004.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Bobby opened the year as the Rockies' backup catcher and filled that role for the majority of the season before right elbow inflammation eventually ended his season...he was placed on the 15-day disabled list on August 15 and was later transferred to the 60-day list...it was the second straight year that an injury ended his season early as he missed the final two-and-a-half months of the 2002 campaign with inflammation in his left shoulder...prior to last season's injury, he appeared in 46 games, his most extensive work at the big league level since catching 106 contests with San Francisco in 2000...he threw out 10 of 35 would-be base stealers (28.6%) last season...with Bobby behind the plate, the Rockies' pitching staff posted a 4.74 ERA, over a half-run better than when any other Colorado backstop called the signals (5.37 ERA)...he homered in his first at bat of the year, taking Houston's Jeremie Robertson deep in the second inning, before victimizing him again in the contest for Estalella's sixth career multi-homer game...Bobby tied a franchise record by throwing out 4 consecutive baserunners from April 12-25...he had an up-and-down year at the plate, batting .273 in April, .118 in May, .320 in June, but fell to just .135 in July...he was able to play in only 3 games during the month of August before landing on the shelf at the midway point of the month and remaining there for the duration of the season.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Bobby went to spring training with the Yankees and elected free agency on March 27, inking a minor league deal with Colorado four days later...he spent the first month of the season with Colorado Springs (AAA) prior to having his contract purchased on May 6...he saw action in 38 contests for the Rox before soreness in his left shoulder forced him to the disabled list on July 4...he underwent season-ending surgery on the shoulder on July 24...he had his fifth career multi-homer game on May 15 vs. Florida...he collected a franchise record-tying 3 doubles on May 23 vs. San Diego then was back behind the plate the next day against San Francisco, matching his career-high with 4 RBI...he belted a solo homer off Boston's Derek Lowe on June 10 at Fenway Park, the first long ball surrendered by the All-Star hurler in 108.0 innings...Bobby helped guide the Rockies staff to a 4.42 ERA when he called the signals, best among Colorado backstops. 2001—He opened the year as the Giants' starting catcher, appearing in 29 games before he was designated for assignment and outrighted to Fresno (AAA)...Bobby posted a .318 average (7-for-22) in 6 games before being traded with righthander Joe Smith to the Yankees in exchange for righty Brian Boehringer on July 5...Estalella was promptly assigned to Columbus (AAA) and batted .257 with 10 homers and 38 RBI in 48 games before having his contract purchased on September 1...he played in 3 games for New York, going 0-for-4. 2000—Bobby posted career highs in every offensive category as he spent his first full season in the majors...he opened the year by hitting .302 (45-for-149) with 9 home runs and 33 RBI in his first 50 games...he went deep twice against the Cardinals on May 8, his fourth career multi-homer affair...Bobby posted a career-best 7-game hit streak from May 1-14, hitting .480 (12-for-25) with 4 homers and 13 RBI over that span...he smacked his second career grand slam on May 2, taking the Mets' Glendon Rusch deep for the first bases-loaded blast ever hit at Pac Bell Park...Bobby set a career high in long balls with his ninth homer of the year on June 28 off Kevin Jarvis at Colorado. 2000 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Estalella went 1-for-12 (.083) in his only trip to the playoffs...his lone hit came in Game #3 of the NLDS vs. the Mets. 1999—Bobby began the year on the disabled list, recovering from off-season rotator cuff surgery...he returned to the field and started a rehab assignment at Clearwater (A) on April 9...his rehab work was transferred to Scranton (AAA) on April 19, and he was then optioned to Scranton on April 29...he was recalled by Philadelphia on July 21 and went 0-for-6 in a pair of starts with the Phillies before being optioned back to Scranton between games of a July 23 twinbill...Bobby was recalled again on September 13 and hit .250 (3-for-12) in 7 games during his second stint with the big league club. 1998—Estalella split the season between Philadelphia and Scranton...he was voted Best Defensive Catcher in the International League by Baseball America...his first stint in the majors was brief as he was recalled on June 27, started twice, going 0-for-3, and was optioned back to Scranton on July 6...Bobby was named the starting catcher for the Triple-A All-Star Game in Norfolk, Va...he was recalled once again by Philadelphia on July 25 after Mike Lieberthal was injured and remained in the big leagues the rest of the year...Estalella belted his first career grand slam on August 16 at Colorado off Jamey Wright...Bobby increased his career total to 3 multi-homer contests as he went deep twice at Houston on August 8 and turned the trick again exactly a month later vs. the Mets...he left winter ball in Puerto Rico with a sore right shoulder...Bobby underwent arthroscopic surgery to repair a partial tear in his right rotator cuff and had the right shoulder capsule thermally reduced during a procedure performed by Dr. John Uribein on December 3 in Miami. 1997—Estalella spent the majority of the year with Scranton and was named to the International League's Post-Season All-Star Team...he was recalled by Philadelphia on May 22 and appeared in 2 games before being optioned back...he earned I.L. HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a 15th round selection in the 2002 First Year Player Draft.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Dustin was in the midst of a productive season for South Bend (A) when he received a scare, that at the time, could have threatened more than just his season of work...during his June 3 start at Burlington, he felt a sharp pain in his back and was forced from the outing in the fourth inning...it was discovered that he had a golf-ball sized tumor in the back of his right shoulder...the tumor was found to be benign and removed by South Bend surgeon Dr. Stephen Mitros...Dustin then began the necessary rehabilitation that returned him to action less than two months later...he limited opponents to a .191 average and posted a 2.82 ERA on the year, which ranked him fourth in the farm system...he opened the year by winning honors as the farm system's Pitcher-of-the-Month for April as he went 2-1 with a 1.04 ERA in 4 starts...he limited the opposition to a .132 average during the month while fanning 25 and walking only 2 in 26.0 innings...he had his first double-digit strikeout performance of the season on April 25, with 11 K's in a loss...Dustin owned a 2.91 ERA when his season was interrupted...he was selected as a Midwest League All-Star but did not participate in the contest due to a stint on the disabled list that ran from June 14-July 23...he finished the regular season with 3 straight wins, posting an 0.82 ERA...he blanked Dayton on 1 hit over 7.0 frames on August 21 then matched his career-best with 11 K's on August 26 at Dayton...he was named the Midwest League Pitcher-of-the-Week for August 25-September 1...he did not get an opportunity to pitch during the post-season as South Bend was eliminated in the playoffs...he did participate in the Arizona Fall League, going 1-2 with a 3.60 ERA in 8 starts, working 30.0 innings and recording 30 K's, third most in the league...it was also during the Fall League that he worked on his changeup with Dave Duncan, the pitching coach for the St. Louis Cardinals...the extra work paid off as Nippert was rated by Baseball America as the top righthanded pitching prospect in the Fall League and the sixth-best prospect in the league overall...he was also tabbed as having the best breaking ball and second best fastball in the Arizona Fall League.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Dustin led the Pioneer League (R) and was third among all minor league starters with a 12.68 strikeouts per 9.0-innings ratio...he finished 11th among all short-season pitchers with a 1.65 ERA...he led league starters with 8.44 runners per 9.0 innings, finished second with 77 K's and ranked fourth among starters with 1.5 walks per 9.0 innings...as a starter, he went 3-2 with a 1.50 ERA (8 earned runs in 48.0 innings), 69 strikeouts and a .209 opponents average...he yielded 1 run or less in 15 of his 17 games as he appeared out of the pen in 5 games to open the season before starting 11 straight games and ending the season with a 2.0 inning relief stint...Dustin earned Player-of-the-Week honors for August 19-25 with his performance on August 20 at Ogden, tossing 7.1 no-hit innings in a season-high 7.2 inning start with one hit and 7 K's...he posted a pair of double-digit strikeout games, fanning 10 batters on July 15 at Idaho Falls and again on August 26 at Billings.

PERSONAL

Dustin David Nippert...he is single and resides in Beallsville, OH, where he graduated from Beallsville High School in 1999...Dustin then attended Ohio Valley College for two years before transferring to the University of West Virginia, spending his junior year as the ace of the Mountaineer staff...his twin brother Derik signed with the Diamondbacks as their 36th round selection in the 2003 draft out of Ohio Valley College.

HOW OBTAINED

Signed as a minor league free agent, January 22 2004.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Jim came to spring training with the Devil Rays as a non-roster invitee and made the club as their #3 starter...he lost his Rays debut on April 2 vs. Boston, allowing 7 runs over 5.0 innings...he made only one more start before heading to the disabled list from April 9-May 9 due to left shoulder tendinitis...Parque made a trio of rehab starts with Durham (AAA), posting a 1.42 ERA in those outings...he earned the win over Detroit in his first start off the D.L., carrying a no-hitter into the seventh inning when Dean Palmer led off the frame with a single...the triumph was Parque's second big league win since September 23, 2000...he made 2 more starts for Tampa Bay but was unable to escape the third inning in either outing...he was optioned to Durham following his start on May 21...Jim made 18 more starts for the Bulls, going 5-7 with a 4.57 ERA...Parque strung together a 3-game win streak from July 3-13...the final outing of the streak was a rain-shortened 3-hitter vs. Norfolk...the winning streak jumpstarted the second-half of his season in which he went 5-5 with a 3.67 ERA in his final 12 starting assignments.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Jim opened the season at Charlotte (AAA) as he continued to recover from shoulder surgery performed the previous May...he led the Knights in starts (20), but yielded a staff-high 21 home runs, second most in the International League...he had a pair of stints with the big league club, making 3 relief appearances during his first trip to the big leagues from April 23-May 2...he worked 6.0 innings of relief on May 2 vs. Seattle, allowing 4 home runs, including 3 to Mike Cameron...he went 0-5 with a 9.40 ERA over his first 6 minor league starts before showing improvement beginning in mid-May as he went 7-4 with a 5.33 ERA over his 14 other outings...he was especially sharp in his last 5 starts (3-1, 2.35 ERA) leading up to his August 7 recall by the Sox...his lone major league victory of the year came on August 8 against Anaheim and was his first triumph since September 23, 2000. 2001—Jim made only 5 starts before his season was cut short due to a torn labrum in his left shoulder...he got the starting assignment in the Sox home opener, recording a no decision against Detroit on April 6...he registered his second career complete game on April 20, dropping a 4-1 decision to Minnesota as he allowed 4 runs on 7 hits...his final start of the year came six days later as he yielded 7 runs on 7 hits over only 3.2 frames...he was placed on the 15-day D.L. on May 1 (retroactive to April 27) with inflammation in his left shoulder...his year was officially over when he underwent season-ending surgery on the shoulder, a procedure performed on May 15 by Dr. James Boscardin, the White Sox senior team physician. 2000—Parque posted a career-best 13-6 record and ranked fifth in the American League with a .684 winning percentage...the 13 victories ranked fourth among the junior circuit's left-handed pitchers...his 32 starts and 187.0 innings pitched also established career standards while his 111 strikeouts matched his total from the 1999 campaign...he allowed three earned runs or less in 25 of his 32 starts with Chicago, going 23-9 in those efforts...Jim went 7-3 with a 3.66 ERA at what was then called Comiskey Park for the eighth-best home ERA in the loop...he missed his scheduled start on May 8 while serving a 3-game suspension for his role in an on-field altercation with Detroit on April 22...he went 8-2 with a 3.81 ERA in the first half, the seventh-best ERA in the league at the break...Parque's 9-2 record through his first 19 starts was the best start by a Sox left-hander since Wilson Alvarez began the 1994 campaign with an 8-0 mark...he won 6 straight decisions from May 27-July 15, compiling a 4.39 ERA over that span...recorded a career-high 9 K's over 6.1 innings of work on August 5 vs. Oakland...Parque finished among league leaders in several categories, tying for third in the A.L. with 5 pickoffs, ranking 10th in both double plays induced (22) and fewest home runs per 9-innings pitched (1.01). 2000 POST-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS—Parque started Game #1 of the Division Series vs. Seattle, permitting 3 runs on 6 hits over 6.0 innings as he received a no decision...he retired the final 10 batters and left with a 4-3 lead before the Mariners rallied for a 7-4, 10-inning win. 1999—Jim's first full season in the majors, he had a strong first half as he went 9-6 with a 3.94 ERA (46 earned runs in 105.0 innings)...his 9 wins at the All-Star break were tied for fifth in the A.L....he struggled after the break, going 0-9 with a 6.95 ERA (53 earned runs in 68.2 innings)...Jim won a pre-game cow-milking contest in Anaheim on April 30...he recorded his first career complete game on June 11, a rain-shortened contest (5.0 IP) at Wrigley Field...a month later, also vs. the crosstown rival Cubs, he made his first career relief appearance, permitting a run with 5 strikeouts in 3.0 inning...Jim was tabbed to start the first game of 4 doubleheaders, all at home. 1998—Jim went 7-5 after joining the rotation at the end of May...his 7 victories matched teammate John Snyder and Minnesota's Dan Serafini for fifth among A.L. rookie hurlers...Parque tied for third among league rookies in games started (21), tied for sixth in strikeouts (77) and seventh in innings (113.0)...he opened the year with Calgary (AAA) and went 2-3 with a 3.94 ERA in 8 starts...his contract was purchased on May 25 and he made his Major League debut the following night vs. the Yankees, posting a no decision, allowing a pair of runs on 5 hits over 4.0 innings, becoming the first player selected in the 1997 draft to reach the major leagues...Parque earned his first career victory in his next start on May 31 at Detroit, allowing 4 hits over 6.1 scoreless innings...he ended the season on a 4-game winning streak spanning 6 starts (August 27-September 23), tying for the second longest streak that year by an A.L. rookie. 1997—Parque combined to go 8-2 with a 2.99 ERA and 81 K's in 13 starts between Winston-Salem (A) and Nashville (AAA)...he limited opponents to a .154 average (38-for-246) at the two stops, allowing only 4.7 hits per 9-innings while averaging 10.1 K's per 9-innings...after inking his first contract, he was assigned to Winston-Salem where he allowed 3 hits or less and 2 runs or less in 9 of his 11 starts...he went 3-0 with an 0.50 ERA (1 ER in 18.0 IP) and 24 strikeouts during his trio of August starts...Jim was promoted to Nashville on August 20 and tossed 5.0 hitless frames in his first start for the Sounds, the eventual American Association champions...following the season, he was tabbed by Baseball America as the No. 5 prospect in the organization.

PERSONAL

James Vo (Jim) Parque...he and his wife, Janine, have a daughter, Bella, and make their home in Seattle, WA...Jim graduated in 1994 from Crescenta Valley High School located in La Crescenta, CA...he then played collegiately at UCLA where he earned All-America honors as a junior in 1997, going 13-2 with a 3.08 ERA and 119 strikeouts in 19 games...he was a member of the United States team that won a bronze medal at the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta...his great uncle, Steve Parque, played in the Chicago Cubs organization...an amateur artist, one of Jim's etchings netted $200 for Chicago White Sox charities...he has also contributed to the Garth Brooks' "Touch 'Em All" Foundation.

HOW OBTAINED

Re-signed as a minor league free agent, October 8, 2003.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Brady returned to the U.S. in 2003 after spending the previous three seasons pitching for the Fukuoka Daiei Hawks of the Japanese Pacific League...he opened the year in the Atlantic League (IND) playing for the Bridgeport Bluefish, going 0-3 with a 2.93 ERA in 4 starts before signing a minor league deal with Arizona on May 30...he was assigned to Tucson (AAA), where he went 1-2 with a 4.68 ERA in 4 starts with 3 walks and 17 K's in 25.0 innings...his contract was purchased from Tucson on June 21, and he made his D'Backs debut the next day with a scoreless inning of relief, his first visit to a big league mound since June 24, 1998, at Cleveland while pitching for St. Louis...Brady notched his first big league save on June 23 vs. Houston...he began his stint with the D'Backs with 5.0 scoreless frames of 1-hit ball over 5 games...his success ended though, as he then surrendered 6 runs on 8 hits over 3.1 innings over his last 5 outings for Arizona...he was outrighted back to Tucson on July 20 and was 3-2 with a 2.56 ERA over his final 14 minor league games, including 3 starts.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Brady spent a third straight season pitching for the Fukuoka Daiei Hawks of the Japanese Pacific League...he went 6-5 in 15 games, posting a 5.44 ERA as he allowed 50 earned runs over 82.2 innings with 49 strikeouts...his manager with the Hawks was Sadaharu Oh, Japan's all-time home run champion with 868 roundtrippers...Raggio also pitched five times for the Hawks' minor league team in Japan's Western League, going 1-0 with a 2.11 ERA. 2001—His second season with the Fukuoka Daiei Hawks, he went 9-6 with a 4.31 ERA in 22 games...he pitched 125.1 innings and recorded 66 strikeouts...Raggio also pitched twice for the Hawks' minor league affiliate, going 1-0 with a 4.50 ERA in 10.0 innings of work. 2000—His first season across the Pacific Ocean, Raggio went 8-6 with a 4.20 ERA in 25 games...his ERA was tops among all foreign players and ranked sixth among qualifiers in the Pacific League...the Hawks posted the Pacific League's best record at 73-60-2 and advanced to the 2000 Japan Series where they were defeated by the Yomiuri Giants 4-games-to-2...he took the loss in Game #3, a 9-3 defeat at the Fukuoka Dome as he allowed 7 hits and 7 runs in 2.2 innings. 1999—He signed a minor league deal with the Texas Rangers and spent the season at Oklahoma City (AAA) where he went 6-11 with a save and a 5.14 ERA in 30 games (24 starts)...he was solid at home, going 6-3 with a 3.28 ERA in 15 games, but was 0-8 with an 8.01 ERA in 15 road contests...he picked up his second professional save, and first in seven years, when he tossed 2.2 hitless innings to close out a victory over Edmonton on July 9. 1998—Brady led the Pacific Coast League with a 3.07 ERA...he went 8-9 in 24 games (23 starts) with Memphis (AAA) and had a pair of stints with St. Louis...he was recalled on May 15 and started that night against Florida...he took the loss as he was touched for 9 hits and 2 walks leading to 7 runs in only 0.2 inning...he was optioned back to Memphis the next day...Brady was recalled again on June 16 and pitched three times in relief, notching his only big league win of the year with 2.1 scoreless frames of 2-hit ball on June 21 at Arizona...he was optioned back to Memphis on July 1...he was released by St. Louis on December 14. 1997—Brady had three stints on the Cardinals' roster, pitching 15 times (4 starts)...he made his big league debut on April 15 at Florida and picked up the win as he tossed 5.1 innings and allowed 2 runs on 5 hits with 3 walks and 3 strikeouts...he yielded 9 hits and 7 runs over 3.2 innings during his next start and was optioned to Louisville (AAA) on April 22...he pitched four times for the Cardinals during May and was recalled again on September 4...he fanned 91 and walked 32 in 138.0 innings at Louisville. 1996—He finished fourth in the Texas League with a 3.22 ERA in 26 games at Arkansas (AA)...he also ranked fourth with 123 strikeouts and was second with 4 complete games. 1995—Brady was 3-0 with a 1.85 ERA in 8 starts with a pair of shutouts for Peoria (A) before his transfer to St. Petersburg (A)...he made 17 relief appearances and 3 starts with St. Pete. 1994—He won his first 3 starts at New Jersey, earning a promotion to Madison (A) where he went 4-3 with a 3.21 ERA in 11 starts. 1993—He missed the entire season due to injuries suffered in an accidental fall from a cliff...he suffered a shattered kneecap, a broken right femur, a fractured ankle and a broken left elbow. 1992—Brady was drafted by St. Louis in the 20th round of the June draft and made his pro debut with the Cardinals' Arizona League affiliate.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

Adriano enjoyed a solid season in South Bend (A), limiting opposing hitters to a .247 average (149-for-604) with 119 strikeouts and only 30 walks...he was consistent against hitters on both sides of the plate, holding lefties to a .247 average (65-for-263) and righties to a .246 clip (84-for-341)...his 2.86 ERA ranked 14th in the Midwest League...he was difficult to run against as 7 of 12 (58%) attempted base-stealers were thrown out...Adriano was 2-0 with a 2.20 ERA (8 earned runs in 32.2 innings) during a 5-game unbeaten streak from April 18-May 12...he allowed 7 runs over a pair of starts on May 17 at Cedar Rapids and May 24 against Battle Creek, then compiled another undefeated stretch from May 29-July 7, going 3-0 over 8 starts with a 2.98 ERA, allowing 17 earned runs in 51.1 innings...Adriano was selected but did not pitch in the Midwest League All-Star Game on June 17...he suffered back-to-back hard luck losses on July 12 and 17, holding West Michigan to a run over 7.0 innings of a 1-0 decision, then just 1 earned run in 7.2 frames of a 6-2 setback to Battle Creek...he went 4-0 with a 1.58 ERA over his final 8 games, allowing 11 runs (8 earned) over 45.2 innings and limiting opposing batters to a .211 average (35-for-166)...he pitched at least 6.0 innings in all but one of those starts, working a scoreless inning against Kane County on August 12 before an hour-long rain delay ended his outing...Adriano was 3-2 with a 1.73 ERA (8 earned runs in 41.2 innings) and a .201 opponents batting average in July (6 starts) and 2-0 with a 1.87 ERA (7 earned runs in 33.2 frames) and a .214 opponents clip in August (6 starts).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002—Adriano held opposing hitters to an overall .229 batting average (67-for-293), fanned 71 while walking only 10 batters and did not allow a homer in 14 starts with Boca Chica (DSL) and Missoula (R)...with Boca Chica, he ranked second in starts (10), innings pitched (57.0), strikeouts (57), and complete games (1) while posting a 2.05 ERA, good for third among pitchers with at least 10 appearances...he finished fifth on the team with a .193 opponents average (41-for-212) and fanned 57 batters while walking only 7...Adriano was transferred to Missoula on August 15...he was tagged for 7 earned runs in 3.0 innings on August 19 vs. Idaho Falls, but rebounded with a victory in his next start on August 25 at Billings, allowing a run on 5 hits over 6.0 frames.

PERSONAL

Adriano Rosario Peña...he was born and resides in San Francisco de Macoris, Dominican Republic...Adriano attended Liceo Ercilia Pepin High School...he signed with the Diamondbacks as a non-drafted free agent at the age of 17...this past off season he played winter ball, pitching for the Cibao Gigantes of the Dominican League...he went 4-4 in 9 games (6 starts), posting the league's eighth-best ERA at 2.93, while his win total was tied for third...his squad advanced to the finals against Licey, but he did not see action as Cibao lost the series, 3-games-to-1.

HALL OF FAME ROAD TRIP

Baseball As America, the Hall of Fame and Museum's first-ever national exhibit tour, continues with its third year in 2004. The exhibit opened in New York City in 2002 and will visit 10 world-class museums across the country through 2005. The national tour is sponsored by Ernst & Young. In 2004, the tour will visit the Florida International Museum in St. Petersburg, FL, the National Museum of Natural History in Washington D.C. and the Missouri Historical Society in St. Louis, MO. Additional tour stops include the Houston Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, TX and two cities yet to be announced.

Just like the Hall of Fame experience in Cooperstown, Baseball As America is a national celebration of America's romance with baseball. It represents the richness of baseball as the American pastime and celebrates enduring American values - freedom, patriotism, opportunity and ingenuity. Visit the tour Web site, baseballasamerica.org, for complete details.

A LOOK AHEAD TO 2005

Ballots for the 2005 Hall of Fame/BBWAA election will be distributed in early December with results from the voting scheduled to be announced in early January 2005. A partial list of first-year candidates for election include: Jim Abbott, Wade Boggs, Chili Davis, Jack McDowell, Willie McGee, Otis Nixon, Terry Steinbach, Darryl Strawberry. Also in 2005, the Veterans Committee will vote on members for the Hall of Fame.

Big Unit Delivers First Career Big Fly

Randy Johnson celebrated his birthday in style last September, hitting his first career home run on September 19, just nine days after turning 40 years old. Borrowing a bat from Raul Mondesi, the Big Unit clubbed a Doug Davis pitch into the bullpen at Milwaukee's Miller Park in his 437th career at bat, thus becoming the oldest player since 1900 to hit his first Major League home run. Below is the list of the other five oldest players to homer in the modern era (courtesy Elias Sports Bureau):

PLAYER	TEAM	POS.	AGE	DATE OF FIRST HR	CAREER HR'S
Randy Johnson	Arizona Diamondbacks	LHP	40 years, 9 days	September 19, 2003	1
Bill McGhee	Philadelphia A's	1B/OF	38 years, 364 days	September 3, 1944	1

1999 Division Series vs. New York Mets

New York Mets (3) vs. Arizona Diamondbacks (1) October 5-9, 1999

The Diamondbacks not only had their first taste of post-season play in 1999, they also had the fastest taste in major league expansion history, winning the Western Division by 14 games to qualify for the second season in their second season, a year faster than the previous best. Colorado held the previous quickest qualification at three years, though they did so in 1995 as a Wild Card entry and in a 144-game season. Arizona's division title came six years faster than any other expansion club, beating the New York Mets and Kansas City Royals who each won a title in their eighth campaign.

By virtue of their division title, the Diamondbacks had a home-field advantage, taking on the New York Mets, who qualified as the Wild Card club with a one-game playoff victory in Cincinnati the day before. The Mets seemed to still be riding the momentum from their visit to Cincinnati, immediately taking the home-field edge away from Arizona with an 8-4 win in the series opener. The D'Backs rallied to even the series at a game apiece behind the arm of Todd Stottlemire and bat of Steve Finley, cruising to a 7-1 win in game #2. Stottlemire, continuing his amazing return from a tear in his right labrum, worked 6.2 innings of 4-hit ball, allowing just a run, while Finley went 2-for-3 with a double and 5 RBI. Matt Williams also chipped in with 3 hits and 3 runs scored.

The Diamondbacks weren't as fortunate upon arriving in New York, losing both games before getting a shot at returning to Bank One Ballpark for a possible fifth game. The Mets dominated game #3, posting a 9-2 win in their return to Shea, scoring 3 times off of starter Omar Daal in a 4-inning stint, then putting the game away with a 6-run sixth inning.

Arizona's season came to an abrupt and heartbreaking end in a Saturday matinee at Shea, as Todd Pratt ended the affair and the Diamondbacks season with a 10th inning homer. The Diamondbacks had taken a 3-2 lead in the eighth, when Jay Bell doubled home a pair of runs, missing a 3-run homer by a matter of inches. Pratt, subbing for the injured Mike Piazza, had been hitless in 7 at bats in the series prior to sending the Mets to the next level with his shot just out of Finley's reach in centerfield.

2001 Division Series vs. St. Louis Cardinals

Arizona Diamondbacks (3) vs. St. Louis Cardinals (2) October 9-13, 2001

Pitching and clutch hitting were the themes in the 5-game Division Series against St. Louis, ultimately won by Arizona when Tony Womack singled in the tie-breaking run in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game #5 to sent the Diamondbacks into their first League Championship Series. Curt Schilling and Matt Morris set the tone for the tightly-contested series in the opening game at Bank One Ballpark, with Schilling prevailing by a 1-0 count, tossing a 3-hit complete game. The Redbirds rebounded to even the series at a game apiece with a 4-1 win over Randy Johnson, the last loss experienced by the Big Unit in the 2001 post-season.

With the series squared at 1-1, the scene shifted to Busch Stadium, where Craig Counsell struck a huge blow in Game #3 with a seventh inning, 3-run homer off of southpaw Mike Matthews to stake Arizona to a 5-3 victory and 2-1 lead in the series. The Cards sent the set back to Phoenix for a deciding game when they recorded a 4-1 win in St. Louis after a 3-hour, 36-minute rain delay prior to Game #4.

Pitching was once again the focal point in the series finale, as Schilling and Morris continued their stingy ways, each surrendering solo homers to account for all of the scoring entering the ninth inning. The Diamondbacks prevailed in the bottom of the ninth, but not before some tense moments. With the potential winning run at third base and one-out in the inning, Womack was unable to make contact on a suicide squeeze attempt, leaving Midre Cummings as a sitting-duck between third and home. On the play, pinch runner Danny Bautista moved up to second base, then scored the series-winning run when Womack poked a Steve Kline pitch to left-center to set off the first of three post-season celebrations for the Diamondbacks.

2001 League Championship Series vs. Atlanta Braves

Arizona Diamondbacks (4) vs. Atlanta Braves (1) October 16-21, 2001

Coming off the nerve-racking series against St. Louis, Arizona made relatively quick work of the ??-time division champion Braves, taking 4 of the 5 games in the N.L.C.S. to advance to its first-ever World Series appearance. Randy Johnson, who had dominated the regular season throughout his career, was in the crosshairs of critics for incurring a post-season losing streak that had been extended to 7 games with a Division Series setback to St. Louis. The Big Unit quickly silenced the critics with his performance in the League Championship Series and his eventual World Series work, finishing the 2001 post-season with 5 consecutive wins.

The winning streak began in Game #1 against the Braves, as Johnson outdueled Greg Maddux by tossing a complete game 3-hitter for a 2-0 win in Bank One Ballpark, fanning 11 in the process. Atlanta rebounded the following day for an 8-1 win to send the series to Turner Field tied at a game apiece. The Diamondbacks, who swept a 3-game visit to Atlanta during the regular season, continued their mastery in the south by taking all 3 games of the N.L.C.S. in Atlanta to earn a trip to the Fall Classic and eventual meeting with the vaunted New York Yankees.

Curt Schilling made his only start in the N.L.C.S. in Game #3, going the distance on a 4-hitter with 12 strikeouts while posting a 5-1 victory. Steve Finley contributed 2 hits including a double and 3 RBI, and eventual Series MVP Craig Counsell added 3 hits and scored a run. The D'Backs took a commanding 3-1 lead in the series with an 11-4 triumph in Game #4, taking advantage of 4 Atlanta errors to score 6 unearned runs. Counsell was again the focal point for the offense, collecting 3 hits with 2 doubles and 4 RBI, while Luis Gonzalez hit a 3-run homer to ice the affair in the ninth. Arizona's ticket to the World Series was punched the following night when Johnson returned to the hill and recorded a 3-2 victory over Tom Glavine. The crushing blow was a pinch-hit 2-run homer by Erubiel Durazo off of Glavine in the fifth inning to stake the Diamondbacks to a lead. Johnson and reliever Byung-Hyun Kim combined to finish off the Braves, with Kim coaxing a series ending fly ball to center by Julio Franco.

2001 World Series vs. New York Yankees

Arizona Diamondbacks (4) vs. New York Yankees (3) October 27-November 4, 2001

The Diamondbacks and Yankees provided a still-healing country with one of the most exciting World Series on record, with Arizona prevailing with a furious ninth inning rally in Game #7 to capture the title in just its fourth year, the fastest ever by an expansion team.

The home team won all 7 games with the D'Backs making their first-ever trip to Yankee Stadium in possession of a 2-0 series lead. The Fall Classic began with Curt Schilling and Randy Johnson teaming up for back-to-back dominating performances, as Schilling gave up just 3 hits and a run over 7.0 innings for a 9-1 win, followed the next night with a complete game 3-hitter by the Big Unit as he fanned 11 in a 4-0 triumph over the 3-time defending world champs. As was the case in the NLCS against Atlanta, the Diamondbacks took advantage of the opponents miscues to score 5 unearned runs in the opener. World Series first-timers Luis Gonzalez and Mark Grace displayed their veteran status with Gonzalez hammering a 2-run homer to chase starter Mike Mussina, while Grace, the long-time Cub, delivered a key 2-run double. Johnson made a pair of clutch hits stand up in Game #2, with Danny Bautista establishing himself with a run scoring double off of Andy Pettitte in the second inning, then Matt Williams providing the crushing blow with a seventh inning 3-run homer off the Yankee southpaw.

The scene then shifted to New York, where emotions still ran high after the tragic events of September 11. Prior to working out for the first time in Yankee Stadium, the Diamondbacks paid homage to those who perished in the attack and met with hundreds of the rescue workers and police and fire officials when the team buses traveled to Ground Zero. The focus returned to the field the following night when the latest date for a World Series game on record, October 30, began with President George W. Bush throwing out the ceremonial first pitch. It was the first time a President participated in a World Series pre-game since Dwight Eisenhower made the ceremonial toss prior to Game #1 of the 1956 series in Ebbets Field.

The Diamondbacks entered Yankee Stadium only 2 wins shy of capturing the crown, but due to the strangest of circumstances, they would return to Phoenix later in the week still seeking 2 wins. The Yankees won a trio of 1-run decisions, posting a 2-1 victory in Game #3, then recording a pair of heart-wrenching decisions the following 2 nights.

Schilling, who had downplayed the "mystique" and "aura" of Yankee Stadium, gave up just a run on 3 hits in 7.0 innings while working on 3 days rest for the first time in his career. What happened after his departure in Game #4 and the following night in Game #5 actually lent credence to the hallowed ground in the Bronx. Leading 3-1 with 2 outs and a man aboard in the bottom of the ninth inning in Game #4, Byung-Hyun Kim was tagged for a game-tying home run by Tino Martinez to send the Halloween night crowd into a frenzy at Yankee Stadium. Derek Jeter then ended the contest in the 10th inning with an opposite field fly ball into the short porch in right field off of Kim, just minutes after the clock struck midnight to end the first-ever November World Series game.

With the series tied a 2-2, the historic home of the Yankees added to its "mystique" as the New Yorkers rallied from yet another 2-run deficit with 2 outs in the bottom of the ninth inning to complete a 3-game sweep in the Bronx. Trailing by a 2-0 count entering the bottom of the ninth inning, Scott Brosius hit a game-tying home run off of Kim to send the affair to extra innings. New York then survived a bases loaded situation in the 11th before Alfonso Soriano plated the tie breaking run in the bottom of the 12th to stake the Yanks to a 3-2 lead as the series returned to the Valley. It marked the first time in World Series history that a team won 2 games in the same Series when trailing by at least 2 runs entering the ninth inning. Lost in all of the excitement was a terrific pitching performance by Miguel Batista, who fired 7.2 shutout innings and left with a 2-0 lead over Yankee ace Mike Mussina.

The Diamondbacks proved worthy to the task ahead, and took away any doubt about their resiliency with a 15-2 thumping of the Yankees in Bank One Ballpark to send the series to a deciding seventh game. Danny Bautista had 3 hits and knocked in 5 runs to lead Arizona's 22-hit attack. The D'Backs jumped all over New York for a 15-0 lead after just 4 innings, highlighted by an 8-run outburst in the third. Randy Johnson tossed 7.0 strong innings to earn the win, yet still managed to keep something in the tank for a possible Game #7 appearance.

The latest World Series ever played culminated with one of the more thrilling final games in history, as Curt Schilling and Roger Clemens duelled, the first meeting of 20-game winners in a Game #7 since John Tudor and Bret Saberhagen squared off in 1985, when the Royals defeated the Cardinals. The D'Backs took a 1-0 lead on a Bautista double in the sixth, but the Yankees answered in the seventh on a Tino Martinez RBI single. New York's Alfonso Soriano broke the tie by hitting an ankle-high pitch from Schilling into the left field seats to open the eighth inning. Schilling was removed in favor of Miguel Batista, who recorded the second out of the inning, then the Big Unit was summoned from the bullpen, less than 24 hours after his 7-inning performance in Game #6. Johnson retired all 4 men he faced in 1.1 innings which set the stage for Arizona's bottom of the ninth rally.

With Mariano Rivera on the hill and the possessor of 23 consecutive post-season saves, Mark Grace opened the bottom of the ninth with a single to center. The inning unraveled in Arizona's favor when Rivera threw wildly into centerfield on a potential force out at second base. Following a fielder's choice on a failed sacrifice attempt, Tony Womack doubled down the line in right to tie the game and leave runners at second and third with 1 out. Craig Counsell was hit by a pitch to load the bases, then Luis Gonzalez capped the remarkable rally with a bloop single over the drawn-in infield to send Bank One Ballpark and the state of Arizona into a frenzy. Johnson was credited with the win, giving him a 3-0 mark in the series, as he and Schilling was named the World Series Co-MVP's. The duo combined to go 4-0 in 6 appearances, allowing only 6 earned runs in 38.2 innings.

2001 World Series Notebook

- The Diamondbacks entered the World Series with Craig Counsell as the only active player in possession of a World Championship ring while the Yankees were 3-time defending champs.
- Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling were the second co-MVP's in World Series history joining the Los Angeles Dodger trio of Ron Cey, Pedro Guerrero and Steve Yeager...it marked the 20th and 21st time a starting pitcher won the award, first since Florida's Livan Hernandez in 1997.
- It was the third time in World Series history that the home team won every game, joining the Twins against St. Louis in 1987, and Twins against Atlanta in 1991.
- The Diamondbacks outscored New York 31-5 in the 4 wins, and were outscored 9-6 in the trio of 1-run losses in Bronx.
- The Diamondbacks were the fastest expansion team to get to the Fall Classic a year quicker than Florida in '97...other expansion clubs to make the World Series and the year they qualified - Mets (eighth year), Royals (12th year), Seattle Pilots/Milwaukee Brewers (14th year), San Diego (16th year), Toronto (16th year)...remaining expansion clubs that have not appeared in the Series include the Angels, Senators/Rangers, Colt 45's/Astros, Expos, Mariners, Rockies and Devil Rays.
- Arizona pitching held the Yankees to .183 team average (42-for-229), the lowest average ever in a 7 or 8 game World Series...previous low was .185 by St. Louis vs. Kansas City in 1985.
- Arizona's overall staff ERA of 1.94 was lowest in World Series play since Cincinnati's 1.70 mark in a 4-game sweep of Oakland in 1990 and lowest in a 7-game set since Kansas City had a 1.89 mark in '85 vs. the Cardinals.
- The Diamondbacks were the first team in 80 years to win the first 2 games they ever played in the World Series, the fourth team overall joining the 1914 Boston Braves, 1919 Cincinnati Reds and 1921 New York Yankees.
- The walk-off finish to game #7 was the 11th overall "sudden death" ending to a World Series, the third in a row that involved a 7-game series...the last was the '97 finish when Craig Counsell scored the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning as Florida defeated Cleveland...the other was Minnesota's 10th inning win over the Braves in the Metrodome in 1991.
- The Diamondbacks are the 19th team to win the series after trailing 3 games to 2...it was also the 11th time a team won games 6 & 7 at home.
- It was the first time the Yankees were involved in a game #7 of any post-season series since the 1964 World Series went to the limit against St. Louis.
- The Diamondbacks snapped New York's post-season series streak at 11, handing the Bronx Bombers their first series loss since the 5-game Division Series with Cleveland in 1997.
- When Curt Schilling and Roger Clemens hooked up in the final game, it marked the sixth time 20-game winners squared off in the seventh game, first since John Tudor (St. Louis) and Bret Saberhagen (Kansas City) in 1985.
- The 15-2 win in game #6 alone was worth the following tidbits:
 - ...The Diamondbacks recorded a World Series record 22 hits.
 - ...The 15 runs tied with Toronto for third highest in a World Series game.
 - ...The 13-run margin of victory tied for second best ever matching the Yankees' 16-3 win over Pittsburgh in game #2 of '60 World Series, and was the second highest ever, just behind an 18-4 Yankee win in game #2 of the 1936 win over the Giants.
 - ...The 15-0 lead after 5 innings tied the biggest lead by any team at any time in World Series game...the Yankees had a 16-1 lead in game #2 of the '60 series against Pittsburgh.
 - ...Arizona's 8-run third inning marked the best inning since game #6 of 1968 series when Detroit scored 10 times in third inning of 13-1 win over St. Louis.

2002 Division Series vs. St. Louis Cardinals

St. Louis Cardinals (3) vs. Arizona Diamondbacks (0) October 1-5, 2002

Destiny - a word heard often during the Diamondbacks run to the 2001 World Series Championship, was also a theme during the 2002 National League Division Series, a rematch with the St. Louis Cardinals. Only this time, destiny set up shop in the opposing dugout.

The Diamondbacks, sweeping a season-ending four game series against Colorado, clinched the NL West title, and homefield advantage against the Central Champion Cardinals, who had gone through an emotionally difficult season, losing broadcaster Jack Buck and pitcher Darryl Kile during the summer. The Cardinals also had momentum, having swept Arizona in a three-game set in St. Louis the week prior to the Division Series matchup.

In that same series in St. Louis, the Diamondbacks lost outfielder Luis Gonzalez to a separated left shoulder, adding to a list of Diamondbacks injuries that included fellow outfielder Danny Bautista, infielder Craig Counsell and pitcher Brian Anderson.

The Cardinals made an early and loud statement in Game #1 at Bank One Ballpark, posting a 12-2 win. St. Louis broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth by scoring 3 times, then later tied a Division Series record with 6 runs in the seventh.

Game #2 saw a return to form for Diamondbacks pitching, with Curt Schilling locked in a duel with the Cardinals' Chuck Finley. Arizona tied the game at 1-1 in the eighth inning on Quinton McCracken's RBI double, only to have the Cardinals score the game-winning run in the ninth for a 2-1 triumph, and a 2-0 series lead.

The series shifted to St. Louis for Game Three, but a change in venue did not bring a change in Arizona's fortunes. St. Louis completed the series sweep at Busch Stadium with a 6-3 victory. The Cardinals broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth by scoring twice.

Arizona Diamondbacks Chronology

June 28: A bill submitted by Rep. Chris Herstam, R-Phoenix, allowing Maricopa County to assess a quarter-cent sales tax for a baseball-only stadium, passes the Arizona Legislature. The tax can be levied only after a franchise is granted.

1993

July 25: Major League Baseball talks of adding new teams. Phoenix Suns owner Jerry Colangelo gets assurance from owners that Phoenix and Tampa are the top prospects. He begins a drive for investors and a stadium.

November 10: At a jam-packed news conference at America West Arena, Colangelo announces he will put together an ownership group that will apply for a Major League Baseball expansion franchise.

February 17: Maricopa County Supervisors vote 3-1 for the stadium tax, with one abstention. Baseball owners have until April 1, 1995, to award Phoenix a new franchise, or the stadium financing deal is off.

June 17: Ellerbe Becket beats out two other finalists working on the design of the new downtown stadium. A site just south of Jefferson Street and west of Seventh Street is selected for the retractable-roof, natural-grass showplace.

- August 30: Steve Finley becomes the first position player to pitch in a Diamondback game, tossing a scoreless ninth inning against San Francisco.
- September 5: Curt Schilling becomes the first 20-game winner in club history, defeating the Giants, 7-2, in San Francisco. Schilling is also the season's first 20-game winner.
- September 8: Matt Williams' 2-run homer in the bottom of the tenth gives Arizona an 8-6 win over San Diego. Steve Finley ties the game in the ninth with his second home run of the game, ending Padre reliever Trevor Hoffman's streak of 27 consecutive save conversions.
- September 11: Tragedy strikes America, as terrorist attacks in New York, Washington D.C. and Pennsylvania lead to a postponement of baseball for one week. The games are rescheduled for the week following the original end of the regular season, which pushes the World Series into November for the first time.
- September 27: Randy Johnson becomes a 20-game winner for the second time in his career, as he defeats Milwaukee at Bank One Ballpark. During the same game, Johnson ties a major league record by recording his 23rd double-digit strikeout game of the season, the third consecutive season he has recorded 23 double-digit strikeout games. Johnson also joins Schilling as the first 20-game winning teammates since 1999.
- September 28: Luis Gonzalez' 54th home run of the season comes in the bottom of the 11th inning, giving Arizona a crucial 4-3 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers.
- October 5: Behind the complete-game, 3-hitter by Albie Lopez, the Diamondbacks clinch a tie for their second National League West Division crown in 3 years, blanking the Brewers in Milwaukee, 5-0. Later that night, San Francisco loses at home to the Dodgers, giving the Diamondbacks the title outright.
- October 9: The Diamondbacks open the National League Division Series with a 1-0 victory over St. Louis, behind the complete-game, 3-hitter by Curt Schilling.
- October 12: Craig Counsell's 3-run homer in the seventh gives the Diamondbacks a dramatic 5-3 victory over the Cardinals in St. Louis, and a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five Division Series. St. Louis attempts to rally in the ninth, but falls short as pinch-hitter Mark McGwire grounds into a game-ending double play.
- October 14: Tony Womack's ninth-inning single scores Danny Bautista with the game-winner as the Diamondbacks post their first-ever playoff series win, defeating the Cardinals 2-1 of the Division Series. Curt Schilling tosses his second complete game of the series, limiting the Cardinals to six hits, while striking out nine.
- October 16: The Diamondbacks are victorious in their first-ever National League Championship Series game, defeating Atlanta in Phoenix, 2-0. Randy Johnson ends a personal 7-game post-season losing streak with a complete-game 3-hitter.
- October 19: Arizona takes a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series with a 5-1 win in Atlanta. Curt Schilling throws a complete-game 4-hitter, and singled and scored as part of a 3-run fifth inning.
- October 20: Arizona explodes for 12 hits en route to an 11-4 victory over the Braves, to take a 3-1 series lead. The Diamondbacks capitalize on 4 Atlanta errors.
- October 21: The Diamondbacks become the fastest team to reach the World Series, winning the National League pennant in their fourth year of existence by defeating the Braves 3-2 in Turner Field, winning the NLCS. Craig Counsell is named series Most Valuable Player, after hitting .381 in the series. Randy Johnson wins his second game of the series, with Byung-Hyun Kim recording his second save with 2.0 scoreless innings of relief. Erubiel Durazo's 2-run, pinch-hit homer in the fifth inning is the game-winner.
- October 27: The World Series comes to Arizona, as the Diamondbacks open the Fall Classic with a 9-1 victory over the American League Champion New York Yankees. Curt Schilling limits New York to 3 hits over 7.0 innings, while Craig Counsell and Luis Gonzalez each homered.
- October 28: Randy Johnson tosses a 3-hit shutout and strikes out 11 in his first World Series appearance, as the Diamondbacks defeat the Yankees 4-0 to take a 2-0 series lead. Matt Williams' 3-run homer in the seventh inning breaks open a pitcher's duel between Johnson and Andy Pettitte.
- November 3: After dropping 3 heartbreaking games in New York, the Diamondbacks respond with a 15-2 blowout of the Yankees, sending the World Series to a decisive seventh game. Arizona does all its scoring in the first 4 innings, including a series record 8 runs in the third. Randy Johnson goes 7.0 innings to pick up his second victory of the series, while Danny Bautista goes 3-for-4 with 5 RBI.
- November 4: The Diamondbacks complete one of the most dramatic World Series in history, and become the fastest team to win a World Championship, by defeating the Yankees 3-2 in the seventh and deciding game. Luis Gonzalez' looping single just beyond shortstop Derek Jeter's grasp scores Jay Bell with the series-winning run. Randy Johnson comes on in relief to pick up his record-tying third Series victory. Johnson and fellow pitcher Curt Schilling are named World Series co-Most Valuable Players.

Scouting

Kendall Carter National Supervisor

Kendall is in his eighth season as the National Supervisor. He initially joined Arizona in 1996 as the Diamondbacks' National Supervisor for the Western Region. He worked for the Seattle Mariners from 1991-1995 as the West Area Scout, overseeing Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah.

Kendall signed with the Texas Rangers as their 14th round selection in the 1984 June Draft and spent two seasons pitching for Texas' Class A affiliates in the Midwest and Florida State Leagues.

An Arizona native, Carter capped his career at Scottsdale Coronado High School with Class AAA Player-of-the-Year honors in 1980. He compiled a 47-9 ledger at Arizona State University from 1981-84 and holds the school record with 102 career appearances while tying the school mark with 47 career wins and the single-season record with 19 wins in 1981. Kendall set a NCAA freshman record for victories as he went 19-1 in 1981, leading the Sun Devils to the National Championship and notching First Team All-American honors. He was inducted into the ASU Athletic Hall of Fame in the Fall of 2001 and in February of 2002, was inducted into the City of Scottsdale Sports Hall of Fame.

Kendall was an assistant coach and served primarily as a recruiting coordinator at ASU from 1986-90. The Sun Devils appeared in the College World Series in 1987 and 1988.

Ed Durkin Eastern Supervisor

Ed Durkin is in his eighth season in the Arizona system and his fifth as the Eastern Regional Supervisor. He was the Diamondbacks the Professional Scouting Coordinator from September of 1996-1998, a role that had him heavily involved in the 1997 Major League Expansion Draft.

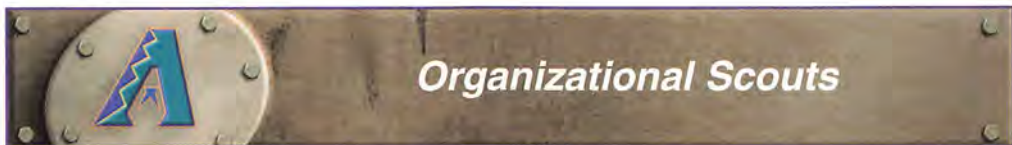

Durkin has amassed 18 years of scouting experience. He started as a part-time scout in 1986 with Milwaukee before serving as a full-time scout from 1988-92 and a National Crosschecker (Eastern) from 1993-96. He makes his home in Palm Harbor, FL.

Kris Kline Central Supervisor

Kris Kline assumes the role of West Supervisor after spending his first 4 seasons as the Central Supervisor. Prior to joining the Arizona system, he was a scout for 10 years in the Anaheim Angels organization where he also played 4 seasons in their minor league system.

Kline was a high school teammate of Diamondbacks' National Supervisor Kendall Carter and was on the Scottsdale Coronado High School Class AAA State Championship Team in 1979. Kris went on to play collegiately at Grand Canyon College and helped lead the Antelopes to the 1982 NAIA National Championship.

International Scouting

Since signing the organization's first two prospects, both of whom were from the Dominican Republic, in 1995, the Diamondbacks have placed great emphasis on scouting talent from around the globe. Arizona has scouted and signed players from Australia, Canada, Columbia, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Korea, Mexico, Netherlands Antilles, Nicaragua, Panama and Venezuela. In addition to inking players from the United States and Puerto Rico, the Diamondbacks have also signed players who previously played in Japan and Taiwan.

Junior Noboa was promoted to Director of Latin America Operations on October 31, 2003, after serving as the Latin American Coordinator. He also works as the Director of the Diamondbacks' baseball academy in the Dominican Republic. He was the organization's first international hire in August, 1995 and a month later signed the organization's first two players. In 1997, he was the first recipient of the Roland Hemond Award, bestowed upon a member of the baseball department who best exemplifies the "Diamondback" approach to their work. In 1999, Noboa signed Geraldo Guzman, a carpenter who had not played professionally since 1992 but went on to pitch in 17 games for the Diamondbacks from 2000-01.

Jim Marshall continues to serve as Director of Pacific Rim Operations, a role he has filled since coming on-board in 1996. His main duty is to maintain relations with baseball organizations in Australia, Japan, Korea and Taiwan. He also works as a major league and advance scout for the Diamondbacks.

Marshall played in the Major Leagues from 1958-62, logging time with the Baltimore Orioles, Chicago Cubs, San Francisco Giants, the original 1962 New York Mets and the Pittsburgh Pirates. He managed the Chicago Cubs from 1974-76 and the Oakland Athletics in 1979.

His first visit to Japan was in 1960 as part of a goodwill tour with the Giants. Three years later, he signed with the Chunichi Dragons of the Japanese Central League and hit .268 with 78 home runs and 252 RBI over 3 campaigns.

2003 First-Year Player Draft

For the first time in franchise history, the Diamondbacks had a pair of first-round selections in the 2003 First Year Player Draft, taking junior infielder Conor Jackson from the University of California-Berkeley with the 19th overall pick and tabbing junior outfielder Carlos Quentin from Stanford University with the 29th overall pick. Arizona focused heavily on players from the college ranks, selecting 34 players from four-year schools and 7 from the junior college ranks while drafting 10 high-school prospects. The D'Backs inked their first 18 picks, 28 of their first 29 selections and 37 of 51 players overall.

Jim Presley
Manager

Ht: 6-1

Born: October 23, 1961 in Pensacola, FL

Wt: 200

Residence: Cantonment, FL

Managing Career: Jim takes the reins at Missoula for his first career managerial stint and returns to the Diamondbacks organization, where he coached from 1996-2000.

Coaching Career: Presley flourished as a hitting coach during his 5 years in the organization, which culminated with 3 years at the Major League level...as hitting coach at Lethbridge (R) in 1996, he assumed the large task of instructing the organizations' first batch of young hitters, who responded with Pioneer League single-season records for home runs (88) and runs scored (637)...he made a brief stop as hitting coach at South Bend (A) in 1997...in the Diamondbacks inaugural season of 1998, he joined Buck Showalter's coaching staff as the hitting instructor and served in that capacity through 2000...the 1999 National League West Champion squad boasted league highs with 908 runs scored and 865 RBI.

Playing Career: Jim spent time with Seattle (1984-89), Atlanta (1990) and San Diego (1991) during his 8 seasons in the Major Leagues...he hit .247 with 135 homers and 495 RBI in 959 career games in the big leagues...he was selected to but did not play for the American League squad at the 1986 Major League All-Star Game in Houston.

All-Time Organizational Awards

2003 Organizational Player and Pitcher of the Year

Chad Tracy ranked second in Arizona's farm system with a .324 average for Tucson (AAA) while racking up 169 hits, 91 runs scored, 31 doubles, 4 triples, 10 home runs and 80 RBI. He led the Pacific Coast League in hits, was second in runs scored and tied for third in batting. He paced the Sidewinders with a .372 on-base percentage and ranked second with a .456 slugging percentage. He fashioned three hitting streaks of at least 10 games, including a season-high 13-gamer from June 9-21.

Chad, who played collegiately at East Carolina (NC) University, was drafted by the Diamondbacks in the 7th round of the 2001 First-Year Player Draft.

Brian Bruney compiled a 3-3 ledger with 26 saves and a 2.70 ERA in 60 games for El Paso (AA) and Tucson (AAA). He fanned 60 batters and limited opponents to a .221 average. He was 0-2 with 14 saves over 28 appearances with the Diablos. He notched 8 saves and posted a 0.57 ERA over 15.2 frames in 12 games en route to the organization's Pitcher of the Month honors for May. Promoted to Tucson in mid-June, he did not allow an earned run over his initial 15 outings, a span of 15.0 innings. His 12 saves led the Sidewinders staff. He limited righthanders to a .175 average with 49 strikeouts.

Brian was Arizona's 12th round selection in the 2000 First-Year Player Draft.

Covering the Diamondbacks

Richie Sexson meets with the media after being acquired from Milwaukee

Diamondback Broadcasters

Thom Brennaman Television Play-by-Play

One of the most versatile announcers in the industry, Thom Brennaman is in his seventh season in Arizona, handling the play-by-play duties on the Diamondbacks Television Network and Fox Sports Net, while making periodic appearances in the play-by-play chair on KTAR Radio. Thom also serves as host on the award winning weekly magazine show

"D-Backs Playin' Hardball" on Newschannel 3.

In addition to his work with the Diamondbacks, Brennaman continues his role with FOX Network's Major League Baseball telecasts, featuring his regular Saturday afternoon assignments. He has also been in the network booth for Division Series and League Championship Series action in October.

Brennaman joined the Diamondbacks two years before they took the field, coming to Arizona after six years with the Chicago Cubs, working on both WGN Television and Radio. Prior to that, Thom spent two seasons working alongside his father, Hall of Fame broadcaster Marty Brennaman, with the Cincinnati Reds. In addition to calling Reds games on television with Hall of Fame catcher Johnny Bench, Thom spent time as a weekend sports anchor for WLWT-TV, and as morning drive sports anchor on WLW Radio.

A graduate of Ohio University, Thom has spent the past three winters as the voice of Fox Sports Net's Sunday Night Atlantic Coast Conference College Basketball package. This past New Year's Day, he called his fifth consecutive Cotton Bowl for the FOX Network. Thom previously handled University of Cincinnati basketball telecasts and NFL Football for FOX, and served as play-by-play announcer for the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament on CBS Radio.

Thom and his wife Polly are the proud parents of daughter Ella Mae, born June 30, 2003. The Brennammans reside in Scottsdale with their three dogs, Bear, Wiley and Bora. In their spare time, Thom serves on the board of the Arizona Humane Society, and the Brennammans are also actively involved with Sunshine Acres, a Christian Children's Home.

Greg Schulte

Radio and Television Play-by-Play

Valley sportscasting veteran Greg Schulte has been the primary play-by-play voice for the Diamondbacks since their inception in 1998, now his seventh year behind the microphone. He is once again calling the action on KTAR Radio and the Diamondbacks Radio Network, and moves to the television network when Thom Brennaman is away on his weekend FOX Network assignments.

Greg's voice will forever be linked with one of baseball's greatest moments, as he delivered the call of Luis Gonzalez' ninth inning single to win the seventh game of the 2001 World Series.

A part of the Phoenix radio scene since 1979, Greg joined the Diamondbacks after spending 14 years at the Diamondbacks flagship radio station, KTAR. Over that time, Schulte was involved with nearly every major sports entity in the market. He served for 15 seasons with the Phoenix Suns, working with Al McCoy first as producer, and, for the last two seasons, as color commentator. He also served as analyst for Arizona State University football and basketball, and shared play-by-play duties for ASU Baseball. In addition, Greg spent three years as pre and post-game host for the NFL Cardinals broadcasts after they arrived from St. Louis.

Greg is also active in the community, working extensively with the Leukemia-Lymphoma Society.

Prior to his arrival in Arizona, Schulte was sports director at WQUA in Moline, IL, and also handled play-by-play duties for University of Iowa basketball. Greg and his wife Nancy have two children, Scott (23), and Stephanie (19), and reside in Glendale.

Mark Grace Television Analyst

After a distinguished 16-year Major League playing career, Mark Grace makes the transition to the broadcast booth as the Diamondbacks' television analyst, working alongside Thom Brennaman on the Diamondbacks Television Network and Fox Sports Net. He is one of two former first basemen who are joining Arizona's broadcast ranks, with Ken Phelps coming on board on the radio side.

Grace announced his retirement during the final weekend of the 2003 regular season, ending his career with 2,445 hits, a .303 average, 511 doubles, 173 home runs and 1,146 RBI in 2,245 Major League games. He was a four-time winner of the Rawlings Gold Glove Award, anchoring first base for both the Diamondbacks and Chicago Cubs. He led the majors during the decade of the 90's with 1,754 hits and 364 doubles, while his 1,238 singles ranked second only to future Hall of Famer Tony Gwynn.

Grace joined the Diamondbacks in 2001, after 13 seasons with the Cubs, and was an integral part of the Diamondbacks' World Championship that year. He will be forever remembered for the single off of the Yankees' Mariano Rivera to open the bottom of the ninth inning in Game #7 of the World Series. Mark's hit ignited a 2-run rally that lifted Arizona from a 2-1 deficit to a 3-2 win and the state's first-ever major sport championship. Grace also had the thrill of homering in Yankee Stadium, hitting an upper deck shot in Game #4 of the Fall Classic. He prefaced his lone career World Series appearance by going 6-for-16 in the 2001 National League Championship Series against Atlanta.

Grace's move to the broadcast booth is not new territory for the former first sacker, as he served as an analyst for ESPN Radio during the 1999 and 2000 Division Series. Mark, his wife Tanya, and sons, Jackson (3) and Preston, born October 7, 2003, reside in Paradise Valley.

Grace bids farewell to the fans at Bank One Ballpark after leaving his 2,245th and final Major League game. He announced his retirement as an active player on the final weekend of the 2003 season.

Ken Phelps Radio Analyst

The newest member of the Diamondbacks' broadcast team brings a wealth of Major League experience and Arizona roots, with Ken Phelps serving as analyst on flagship station KTAR Radio (620 AM) and the Diamondbacks' Radio Network.

Phelps is not a stranger to the Diamondbacks radio booth, having worked as a replacement on several occasions over Arizona's first 6 seasons of play.

A former Arizona State University standout, Ken played in 761 Major League games over 11 seasons, seeing duty with Kansas City, Montreal, Seattle, New York Yankees, Oakland and Cleveland. Phelps, a lefthanded-hitting first baseman, clubbed 123 big league home runs, with his best season coming in 1987 when he hit 27 roundtrippers for the Mariners. While with the A's, Phelps was a member of Oakland's 1989 World Championship squad in the famous Fall Classic against the Giants that was interrupted by the bay area earthquake.

Phelps earned All-America status at Mesa Community College in 1974, then moved to ASU, where he played for two seasons under legendary coach Jim Brock. Phelps was a two-time All-Western Athletic Conference performer as well as a member of the All-College World Series team during his Sun Devil career (1975-76). He later returned to Tempe as an assistant coach under Brock in 1990. He has also served as a coach in the Milwaukee Brewers organization.

Phelps and his wife Debra have two sons, Nathan (18) and MacKinley (11). They reside in Paradise Valley.

Joe Garagiola Television Analyst

Any baseball team would love to have a Hall of Famer available to pinch-hit, and the Diamondbacks have just that, as Joe Garagiola, a member of the broadcasters' wing of the Baseball Hall of Fame, is in his seventh season as an analyst. Garagiola works selected home games throughout the 2004 season.

Garagiola has combined insight and humor over five decades of baseball broadcasting, including nearly 25 years on the Saturday Game of the Week telecasts on NBC. In addition, Garagiola spent 11 years as a co-host on NBC's Today Show, as well serving as host of a number of popular game shows.

Garagiola's broadcasting career began shortly after his playing career ended. Joe broke into the major leagues in 1946 as a catcher with the St. Louis Cardinals, and contributed four hits in Game #4 of the 1946 World Series, won by the Cardinals in six games. He also played with the Chicago Cubs, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates. Upon retirement in 1954, he was offered a position on the Cardinals' broadcast team, working with fellow Hall of Famers Harry Caray and Jack Buck. Garagiola would eventually move to the television booth with the New York Yankees, working with the initial co-winner of the Ford C. Frick award, Red Barber. At NBC, Garagiola shared the booth with two more Cooperstown enshrinees, Curt Gowdy and Vin Scully. Joe will be inducted into the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Hall of Fame this May in North Carolina.

A Valley resident, Garagiola has been extremely active in the community and was honored as the 1998 recipient of the Children's MVP Award presented by the Jim Eisenreich Foundation. The award goes to a former player who has made significant contributions to children's causes. He works tirelessly for B.A.T., the Baseball Assistance Team, and is very visible at major league spring training camps, educating players on the evils of spit tobacco.

Garagiola was honored in November of 2001 the Arizona Chamber of Commerce for his work in the community, which includes his efforts on behalf of the St. Peter's Indian Mission in the Gila River Indian Community. Nicknamed "Awesome Fox" by the staff of St. Peter's, the baseball field at St. Peter's School is named "Awesome Fox Field" in his honor.

Jeff Munn Radio Play-by-Play

Jeff Munn, the Arizona Diamondbacks' Public Address Announcer since the club's inception, is in his fourth season as the club's radio play-by-play announcer during weekends when Thom Brennaman is away on assignment for FOX, and Greg Schulte moves over to the television side.

Munn will continue to serve as the Public Address Announcer when he is not behind the radio microphone.

Over the past 13 seasons, Munn has also been the stadium voice of the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, and he served for 12 seasons as the arena voice of the NBA Phoenix Suns (1991-2003). In 1996, he was selected as one of four announcers for the basketball competition at the Atlanta Summer Olympics, and handled the announcing duties for the Men's Gold Medal Game. He has also served as an announcer for the 1993 U.S. Figure Skating Championships, the 1995 NBA All-Star Game, 2000 WNBA All-Star Game, and the 1997 ArenaBowl (Arena Football).

Munn's work at the mic goes back to Phoenix Carl Hayden High School 28 years ago. has been an announcer for 28 years, starting as a senior at Phoenix Carl Hayden High School. In 1980, he was hired by Arizona State to be the baseball stadium announcer, and served in that capacity for 12 seasons. In addition to baseball, Munn announced Women's Volleyball, Wrestling, Gymnastics, Women's Basketball, Softball and Track and Field for the Sun Devils. He also served as football announcer for 14 seasons, and men's basketball announcer for four seasons.

Munn attended Arizona State University, majoring in history. He resides in Tempe with his wife of 12 years, Laurie, and their two children, Patrick (8) and Hayley (5).

Diamondbacks en Espanol

This season, the Diamondbacks become the sixth Major League team to offer broadcasts of all 162 regular season games in Spanish. The Spanish Radio Network will again be anchored by KSUN - Radio Fiesta (1400 AM). Spanish radio broadcasts will also be fed on SAP during all Diamondbacks telecasts on KTVK (NewsChannel 3), WB6 and Fox Sports Net.

Miguel Quintana Spanish Radio Play-by-Play

Miguel Quintana, who began his broadcast career in Phoenix 21 years ago, is in his seventh season as the Diamondbacks' Spanish play-by-play voice.

Miguel began his career as a 15-year-old sportswriter for El Sol in Agua Prieta, Sonora. In 1981, he joined KIFN Radio (now KVVU) in Phoenix as a sports commentator, and later moved to KTVW (Channel 33), eventually becoming sports director. Quintana also worked in Los Angeles for KVEA-TV, before returning to the Valley in 1995 to serve as play-by-play voice for the Arizona Sandsharks indoor soccer team.

Miguel has been a baseball commentator for the Mexican Pacific League and has done play-by-play for the Arizona Rattlers. He has three daughters, Lisette (20), Jasmine (15) and Jennifer (10).

Oscar Soria

Spanish Radio and Television Play-by-Play

At the tender age of 33, Oscar Soria is one of the most respected baseball commentators in the Hispanic community. Oscar is in his fourth full season as an analyst on Diamondbacks' Spanish broadcasts.

Soria is a veteran of 13 seasons as a broadcaster with the Hermosillo Naranjeros, and has been in the booth for four Caribbean Series, including the 1996 series when Mexico took the crown in Santo Domingo. He also covers the Diamondbacks for El Imparcial, writing a daily column, and when in Hermosillo, he hosts a television show on baseball. Oscar was among the nominees of announcers for the Mexican Pacific League "All Century Team", finishing second in the balloting.

Oscar has also covered basketball, boxing, soccer, tennis and football for Teleman in Sonora. He graduated from Universidad del Noroeste with a degree in accounting. Oscar and his wife, Benny, make their home in Hermosillo.

Richard Saenz

Director of Hispanic Marketing/Spanish Radio Analyst

The man who oversees the Diamondbacks' marketing efforts in the Hispanic community puts on the headsets again this season, as Richard Saenz is in his fourth season as an analyst.

Saenz has been with the Diamondbacks' organization since 1996. Prior to that, he spent 18 years with the Arizona Electric Power Cooperative in his native Benson, eventually becoming the company's Director of Business Development. Saenz also served for years as Mayor of Benson (1989-93).

Saenz played baseball for two years at Cochise College in Douglas, then continued his education at Eastern Oregon State University in LaGrand, Ore. Richard, his wife Sheri and their son R.J. (born July 14, 2003), reside in Phoenix. Richard also has a daughter, Alisha, and a two-year-old granddaughter, Jayden.

Behind the Scenes

Mark Reda
Broadcast Producer

Leo Gilmartin
Radio Producer/Engineer

Mark Reda

Serving as producer for Diamondbacks television broadcasts, Mark Reda enters his seventh season at the helm of all games aired on Fox Sports Net Arizona as well as over-the-air local 3TV. During the last three seasons, his productions have won five Emmy Awards in the Rocky Mountain Southwest region.

Reda has spent more than 20 years in sports television. A graduate of UCLA, he has worked on local baseball broadcasts for the Dodgers, Rockies, Angels and Athletics, as well as national television broadcasts for the FOX network, CBS, ABC and ESPN.

Mark and his wife Sheri live in Mesa with their son Anthony (12) and daughter Brianna (9).

Leo Gilmartin

An Arizona native, Leo Gilmartin joined the Diamondbacks in September of 1996 as manager of broadcast services, then for the last three seasons has been a full-time member of the travel party as the producer/engineer for all radio broadcasts on KTAR (620 AM). His day-to-day management tasks include overseeing the team's radio and television networks, which include stations in California, New Mexico, Nevada, Texas and Arizona, of course.

Gilmartin graduated from Arizona State University with a degree in broadcast journalism and added his current radio production duties beginning with the 2001 season. His father, Joe, has been a long-time journalist in the Valley and currently writes for Diamondbacks Magazine.

Leo and his wife Gail have two daughters, Sara (3/1/99) and Hannah (12/30/02), and make their home in Chandler.

Remembering Our Friends

John Michaelson Radio Booth

The KTAR Radio booth in Bank One Ballpark was named after John Michaelson prior to last season, honoring the veteran producer/engineer who passed away after the 2000 season. A veteran behind the scenes in radio broadcasting for years, including three seasons on Diamondback broadcasts, John was a tireless worker and friend to all who came in contact with him.

Steve Pascente Memorial Press Lounge

Steve Pascente was one of the most dedicated at his craft and died while on location covering football in Washington D.C. His wife, Julie, has kept his memory alive with the Steve Pascente Charitable Foundation, which supports a variety of foundations including Widowed With Children, The Steve Pascente Memorial Scholarships at Arizona State University and The Andre House. When the Diamondbacks opened the 1998 season against the Colorado Rockies, Nick Pascente, the son of Steve and Julie, served as honorary batboy.

Dick Dozer Memorial Press Box

Dick Dozer spent the majority of his life covering Major League Baseball for the Chicago Tribune, but he was hardly a stranger to the Valley. After leaving the beat of the big leagues, he arrived in Phoenix and wrote for the Gazette, while also contributing his time in organizing the annual "Dream Game," an oldtimers contest that benefitted the Phoenix Memorial Hospital Foundation, and working with the Mesa Ho-Ho-Kams. Dozer was BBWAA Chapter President in 1976. He passed away in 1994, yet his memory lives on daily in the Diamondbacks' front office, as his son, Rich, serves as team President.

Media Coverage Policies

Director - Public Relations — Mike Swanson
Assistants to the Director — David Pape and Casey Wilcox
Media Coordinator - Public Relations — Susan Webner
Staff Assistant — Jeff Munn

It is once again a privilege for our staff to be of assistance as you cover the Arizona Diamondbacks. Bank One Ballpark already ranks as one of the premier sports facilities in the world, and our department will do its best to take care of any reasonable requests. Following are the Public Relations policies for the 2004 season. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask any member of our staff and we will make every effort to fulfill your needs.

WORKING PRESS CREDENTIALS: Pursuant to Major League Baseball policy, all season credentials issued by the Diamondbacks will include a laminated picture identification. Due to security issues, no member of the media will be allowed access to Bank One Ballpark without showing a photo ID. Daily passes will be issued to media members who do not qualify for season credentials. Media who qualify for daily credentials include: freelance writers on a specific assignment for a publication, representatives of weekly and monthly publications working on special coverage, and additional radio and television representatives when the need arises for extra pre-game personnel (i.e. live shots, etc.). Requests for daily credentials must come directly from the affiliation editor, producer, or director, on company letterhead at least 48 hours in advance of the game being requested. Requests may be made via FAX only if the requesting affiliation is currently on file with the P.R. office.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS: Daily photo passes will be issued to photographers on assignment for legitimate news gathering organizations, and representatives of companies licensed by Major League Baseball. Requests for photographer credentials must follow the procedure detailed above. The Arizona Diamondbacks will not issue credentials to freelance photographers. Please remember that priority in all photo areas will be granted to news organizations on nightly deadlines. Field photo space at Bank One Ballpark is at a premium and priority for space will be given to daily publications and wire services. There is also a small space designated for in-game photography in the front row of the press box. All photographs taken are to be used for news-gathering purposes or officially licensed products only. Any other use of photographs taken will be considered a violation of existing trademark and copyright restrictions.

AUTOGRAPH POLICY: Credentialed members of the media are prohibited from requesting autographs or equipment on the playing field, in the dugout or in the clubhouse. Any violation of these guidelines will result in immediate revocation of the credential and bar future use.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS: All credentials will list specific locations in Bank One Ballpark where access is permitted. Members of the media must have a specific reason for clubhouse access to gain admittance. The clubhouse is the dressing and preparation area for the players for that day's game and is not a place for the media to congregate. The clubhouse will close 50 minutes prior to the first pitch, and there may be times where the clubhouse will close earlier for team meetings. Generally, no more than a 10-minute "cooling off" period is applied after games. Post-game access to the visiting clubhouse will be determined by the individual club's policies.

FIELD ACCESS: All members of the media with field access provided on their credential will be allowed to conduct interviews during specified times prior to the start of the game. The field must be cleared 50 minutes prior to the beginning of the game, and at no time is the media permitted in fair territory, or outside the first and third base bags. These precautions are for the safety of all involved while batting practice is in progress.

LIVE TRANSMISSIONS: Non-rightsholders are permitted to transmit live reports from Bank One Ballpark prior to and after every game. All television live shots must be done in designated areas outside the clubhouse due to space limitations, or on the warning track area outside either dugout. Live television reports by non-rightsholders are prohibited while the rightsholder is on the air or the game is in progress. Radio stations and assigned correspondents for out of town reports are allowed to give inning or half inning score updates. At no time can they file reports once play is under way. Any violation of these policies will result in immediate revocation of credentials.

CELLULAR PHONES: The use of cellular phones is prohibited on the field or in either clubhouse. The only time a radio correspondent can use a cellular phone for an interview would be in either dugout after receiving advance permission from the player or staff member. Any other telephone interviews must be arranged through the Diamondbacks' Public Relations Department.

ROVING CAMERAS: Television stations are prohibited from using a camera light in the seating area of the ballpark. Should a light come on, the game could be stopped by the umpiring crew and any stoppage in play due to a camera light will result in revocation of the credential. Separate credentials will be available for "roving" the stands prior to games. For the comfort of our fans, interviews are to be conducted on the concourse, not in the stands while the game is in progress.

WORKING PRESS BOX: The press box at Bank One Ballpark is located directly behind home plate. The writers' wing is on the first base side, while the broadcast booths are behind the plate and towards the third base side. The front row of the Working Press Box is for members of the BBWAA. All electronic media seats are in the second and third rows. Game notes and statistics will be available for pick-up at least two hours before game time in the area immediately behind the working press box. The Diamondbacks also offer additional working space, with television monitors, in the area behind the press box. A fax machine and copier are available in the press box should the need arise. The press box is an active working area and cheering and loud conversation will not be permitted. At no time will guests be permitted in the press box. The Arizona Diamondbacks prohibit any person under the age of 18 from entering the press box level on game days.

PRESS DINING: The press dining room is located behind the press box. As is consistent with all National League clubs, pre-game meals for the media will be available for a nominal charge ($8.00), and will be served 2 hours prior to game time and up through the end of the first inning. Media members must be properly credentialed for admittance to the dining room.

PHONES FOR MEDIA: The Arizona Diamondbacks are fortunate to have an ample supply of Charge Call phones in the press box. If for some reason media members feel there are not enough lines available, they should investigate installing their own line for use during the season. To have a phone extension installed for the season, or for a single visit to Bank One Ballpark, please contact Vicki Berryman at (602) 462-6099.

Bank One Ballpark

Officially, the home of the Arizona Diamondbacks is, like many in Major League Baseball, a "baseball-only" facility.

In the case of Bank One Ballpark, however, the term is misleading. While designed to serve as a state-of-the-art home for Major League Baseball, there is much more that goes on inside the B.O.B. than just baseball. In six years of operation, sports such as college football and basketball, soccer and motocross, and a variety of concerts and trade shows have taken place on the field that served as site of the dramatic 7th game of the 2001 World Series

Owned by Maricopa County, the Ballpark (seating capacity 49,033) joins its next-door neighbor, America West Arena, in making Downtown Phoenix the sports hub of the Valley of the Sun. Located just one block east of the Arena, the Ballpark is bounded by Jefferson Street on the north, Fourth Street on the west and Seventh Street on the east, and is within easy driving distance of two major freeways (Interstate 10 to the north, Interstate 17 to the south).

Bank One Ballpark also holds the distinction of being the second-highest facility in the major leagues, sitting 1,100 feet above sea level. It trails only Denver's Coors Field in terms of elevation.

THE STRUCTURE

Ground was broken on Bank One Ballpark on November 16, 1995, with the construction project taking 28 months at a cost of $354 million.

Bank One Ballpark was designed by Ellerbe Becket, with architect Bill Johnson as the design principal. John Wasson was the project manager for the Diamondbacks, with Huber Hunt & Nichols serving as the managing contractor.

The Ballpark incorporates the traditional look of red brick and green structural steel in a setting that blends into its surroundings. Many of the building's design details are borrowed from the historic warehouse district that surrounds it. One former warehouse, the Arizona Citrus Growers' Packing House, is actually preserved and incorporated into the south façade of the building. Appropriately, that former food warehouse is used as a commissary for the Ballpark's concession stands.

THE ROOF

Game in and game out, fans attending Diamondbacks games are always anxious to see the retractable roof in action before or after the game.

The roof comprises nine million pounds of structural steel, operating on the same tried-and-true technology found in drawbridges and overhead traveling cranes. A pair of 200-horsepower motors open or close the roof in slightly more than four minutes, utilizing more than four miles of cable strung through a pulley system. Each half of the roof consists of three moveable trusses, which telescope over a fixed-end truss. The east and west sides of the roof can operate either in unison or independently. Either side of the roof can be opened to any position in order to maximize sunlight on the turf and minimize sunlight on the interior steel and concrete.

The roof opens and closes to its own music, composed specifically to time out exactly to the four and a-half minutes needed to open or close the roof.

In 2003, the Diamondbacks played 44 games with the roof closed, 12 fewer than the previous season, while 37 were played with the roof open. The highest temperature for a game played with the roof open last season was 81 degrees (May 17, a night game versus Pittsburgh).

ROOF OPEN - ROOF CLOSED?

It's a major discussion point among fans on a daily basis - to open or not to open the Ballpark roof.

The decision is made on a game-to-game basis, and it depends on the outside conditions. In the early portion of the season, conditions are generally more favorable to opening the roof, not just because the air temperature is lower, but also because the air is drier, meaning the temperature drops rapidly after sunset.

Into the summer months, the famed Arizona monsoon adds higher humidity to the triple-digit temperatures, making it necessary to keep the roof closed. Even with that, there have been days where daytime cloud cover has kept the temperatures down, allowing for the roof to be opened that night.

A hotline is available for fans to call in and get that day's "roof forecast". The number is 602-379-ROOF (7663).

THE FIELD

The playing field at Bank One Ballpark consists of Bull's Eye Bermuda, which has proven to be the best suitable grass for a facility with a retractable roof. A sign of that suitability is the fact that last season, 3,300 square feet of turf was replaced - the second-lowest figure for a season since the Ballpark opened.

Even though more than half of the Diamondbacks' games are played with the roof closed, the turf receives sunlight at every opportunity. On game days, the roof remains open into the afternoon to allow maximum exposure. When areas of the field receive too little natural sunlight, large incandescent growth lights provide a substitute.

A visible feature of the field takes fans back in time almost 100 years. There is a dirt path between the pitcher's mound and home plate, reminiscent of the paths seen in very early pictures of the game.

The path is actually symbolic of the Bank One Ballpark experience - The best of baseball history and tradition displayed in a setting that features all the modern conveniences.

KEEPING COOL

Midway through the 2001 season, the Ballpark became the beneficiary of the new Northwinds cooling system designed for highly populated facilities in Downtown Phoenix. The Northwinds system site is located directly south of the Ballpark.

The unique aspect of the system is that, while conventional cooling systems use cold water, the Northwinds system uses ice, which is produced on site during the overnight hours. The system starts with a base of three million pounds of ice. On a typical summer day, with no Diamondbacks game schedule approximately one million pounds will have to be reproduced. On a scheduled game day, the figure jumps to two million.

With the new system, the time needed to cool the Ballpark is reduced, allowing more time for the roof to remain open, which in turn allows more sunlight on the grass.

SEATING AND TICKETS

Sightlines in Bank One Ballpark are second to none. More than 80 percent of the seats are inside the foul poles, and there is no upper deck around the outfield. What's more, the seats down the foul lines beyond the infield are slightly canted toward the infield so that no fan will have to twist his or her body to look toward second base and the pitcher's mound.

All lower-deck seating is directly accessible from the lower concourse, which is at the same level as the outside pedestrian entry plazas and gates. The concourse itself is open to the playing field so fans can stay in touch with the game while visiting the concession stands, merchandise stores or other amenities.

The Infiniti Diamond Level provides exclusive locations and amenities. Lounges and dining areas serving approximately 4,400 club seats are featured. Above the club seats are 69 private luxury suites, which offer the utmost in comfort and catering.

The upper concourse seats approximately 20,000 fans. Escalators on the west side of the Ballpark can take fans to either of the upper levels.

VERSATILITY

While it is primarily known for baseball, Bank One Ballpark has hosted a wide range of events in its three years of operation. The list includes concerts, religious convocations, the Arizona National Boat Show and two annual motocross events.

The Ballpark has also served as the site of the Fiesta Bowl National Band Championship each of the last four years. The Ballpark was also the site of the first-ever outdoor college basketball game, as Arizona State's women's basketball team hosted Tennessee on December 27, 2000. Prior to the start of the 2002 season, the Ballpark held a soccer match between the national squads from Mexico and Yugoslavia.

Bank One Ballpark also serves as the home of college football's Insight Bowl. Operated by the Fiesta Bowl, the event brings together representatives of the Big East and Pacific 10 Conferences. Last December 26, California and Virginia Tech staged one of the top games of college football's postseason, with the Golden Bears edging the Hokies, 52-49, on a 35-yard field goal as time expired, before a crowd of 42,364 - the largest Insight Bowl crowd since it moved to the Ballpark.

FOOD

You name it, and you can find it at the nearly quarter mile of concession stands in the Bank One Ballpark concourses, but the dining experience begins before fans go through the Ballpark gates.

Fans entering the Ballpark through the main gates will notice Sliders, located on the west side of the Ballpark Plaza. Sliders features a traditional menu of sandwiches, salads and pizza, and is a popular pre and post-game destination.

Among the concession stands on the concourses are those that feature McDonald's, Peter Piper Pizza, Blimpie's Subs, Panda Express and Garcia's Mexican Food. In addition, specialty ice cream, yogurt, smoothies, shaved ice and specialty popcorn are also available. Fielder's Choice offers fans a wide selection of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Both the upper and lower concourses feature Taste of the Majors, a concession stand which offers food items associated with each National League city.

Friday's Front Row Sports Grill continues to be a popular year-round destination for Ballpark visitors. Friday's offers fine food and beverages, along with patio seating during Diamondbacks' games. The restaurant is open every day except Christmas.

The upper concourse features two Miller Lite beer gardens, which overlook the playing field.

The Arizona Baseball Club, located in right field on the Infiniti Diamond Level, provides fine dining and a spectacular view for fans with club seats or luxury suites.

MASTERCARD POOL PARTY PAVILION

No matter what the event in Bank One Ballpark, the Master Card Pool Party Pavilion always attracts attention, even when it's not in use.

It is in use, of course, during Diamondbacks games. The Pavilion offers up to 35 guests the chance to watch games while enjoying a dip in the swimming pool and Jacuzzi. Catering and other amenities are included in the nightly rental of the Pavilion.

Located behind the outfield wall in right-center, the Master Card Pool Party Pavilion sits 415 feet from home plate. This, of course, means home runs will occasionally find their way into the Pavilion. When a Diamondback homers into the Pavilion, water cannons fire streams of water 30 to 35 feet into the air.

For the trivia buffs, we offer this note: the first player to hit a home run into the Master Card Pool Party Pavilion was Mark Grace. He hit the noteworthy homer as a member of the Chicago Cubs, on May 12, 1998.

PARKING

Bank One Ballpark utilizes the established Copper Square parking infrastructure for its guests. An attached 1,500-car parking garage provides parking for guests on the Infiniti Diamond Level. Away from the park, downtown Phoenix offers some 33,000 parking spaces within a 15-minute walk of the Ballpark. The Diamondbacks estimate that about 15,000 spaces are needed to accommodate a sellout crowd.

Pedestrian access to the Ballpark is with a bridge over the railroad tracks just south of the Ballpark on 4th Street. The bridge is connected to the Ballpark Parking Garage, and is equipped with elevators for the physically challenged.

The Ballpark's Copper Square location also makes getting to and from a game easier. BOB is located minutes from five major freeways. The Ballpark will also be located along the route of the Metro Light Rail system, set for initial construction later this year.

FOX SPORTS NET DIAMONDTOWN

Fans making their way along the Ballpark's main concourse can experience baseball's history and tradition through Fox Sports Net's DiamondTown. Video walls, a graphic timeline and three-dimensional exhibits give fans 10 themed areas featuring the best of baseball and Diamondbacks history.

PETER PIPER PLAYHOUSE

Kids can find all kinds of entertainment, baseball and otherwise, at the Peter Piper Playhouse, located behind center field. The Playhouse offers fans a variety of games, similar to those found at Peter Piper Pizza locations, and gives fans of all ages a chance to meet Baxter in his home. Baxter appears in his "den" during each Diamondbacks' game to pose for pictures and sign autographs.

MUSIC

As is the case with the overall atmosphere of Bank One Ballpark, music at Diamondbacks' game is a blend of the old and the new. Bobby Freeman provides traditional organ music. Freeman also served as ballpark organist for the Pacific Coast League Phoenix Firebirds before joining the Diamondbacks in 1998.

Fans will find Bobby in the Main Team Shop prior to games, serenading fans, before moving to his press-level location during the game.

In addition to the organ, Diamondbacks' Audio Engineer Eric Hanson "plays the hits" through a variety of current songs. As is the case in many ballparks, Diamondbacks' players are serenaded with their favorite tunes as they come to bat or enter the field. Each player is asked to identify his favorite song, and Hanson works through his vast archives to find the tune.

Grant Trenbeath Head Groundskeeper

Head Groundskeeper Grant Trenbeath has become a model of consistency. Trenbeath and his staff replaced 3,300 square feet of sod in 2003, just 300 square feet more than the year before. The low figure is a tribute to Trenbeath's continued dedication to his craft. It hasn't gone unnoticed among players, who ranked the Bank One Ballpark surface the second best in the National League in a 2003 poll commissioned by Sports Illustrated.

Trenbeath has been a pioneer in handling grass in a retractable roof venue. He has served as a consultant to other retractable roof venues in Major League Baseball, sharing his expertise on how to balance maintaining a strong playing surface with the need for fan comfort.

Trenbeath has worked in turf management for 12 years, spending three seasons with the Oakland Athletics' minor league affiliate in Medford, Oregon, then joining the A's as head groundskeeper for their minor league complex and spring training for three seasons before joining the Diamondbacks seven months prior to their inaugural season.

Trenbeath brings a player's perspective to turf management, having played baseball while attending Willamette University in Oregon. Grant and his wife, Trina, make their home in Chandler.

Diamondbacks in the Community

Established in 1997, before the Arizona Diamondbacks ever played a major league game, Arizona Diamondbacks Charities focuses on the three areas of need: homelessness, indigent healthcare and children's programs of all types, including education and youth baseball field development.

A 13-member board of Diamondback and Maricopa County appointees are responsible for annually approving all grant applications. Gifts are given through two different grant cycles. Program grants (gifts of approximately $5,000-$10,000) are given to Arizona non-profits for program funding. The deadline for this application is December 31 of each year. The other is our Grand Slam Award, a $100,000 gift that will be given to one Arizona non-profit. The deadline for the Grand Slam Award is November 30 of each year.

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities generated over $2.1 million in 2003 to be distributed before the beginning of the 2004 season. Funds for Arizona Diamondbacks Charities are raised through events such as the annual Diamondbacks Charities Golf Classic, "Shirts Off Our D'backs," Broadcast Auctions and other team related activities.

The Arizona Diamondbacks take great pride in being recognized as a leader in community giving. Our commitment to the needs of our state will continue to be a cornerstone of our corporate mission.

Education

The game of baseball requires athletic skills, teamwork and knowledge of the game. Playing sports also reinforces values of perseverance, character and self-confidence. These skills are important not only in the game of sports but in academics, relationships and life. The Diamondbacks set out to share these lessons with the community by hosting events and programs to remind youth and adults of the importance of education and setting goals.

Luis Gonzalez's "Kids Going Gonzo For School"

Luis Gonzalez and the Diamondbacks rewarded economically disadvantaged urban students for attendance, effort in school, and living by "Gonzo's Ground Rules." Partnering with Communities In Schools of Arizona and Teach For America, this program is also designed to support and develop quality teaching in areas of need. More than 120 classrooms and over 3,600 students were invited to attend a Diamondbacks game. Each child receives a T-shirt, a free meal from Blimpie and milk from Shamrock Farms. In addition, a lucky group of 100 students have the opportunity to meet Luis prior to the game.

Read Your Way To the Ballpark

Since 2000, Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and The Arizona Republic joined with 13 public library districts and 46 individual libraries in Maricopa County to present Read Your Way To The Ballpark, a summer reading program for children and their families. More than 100,000 kids participate in the program annually, which features a game board with incentive points as you start at your library and end up at the BOB. Kids ultimately work toward winning a free ticket to a Diamondbacks game.

"Cover To Cover" Reading Program

This program is based on Tony's goal to encourage kids to "finish what they start" and more specifically that children develop a commitment to, and passion for, reading. Tony hosts one class, from each of the 10 - 15 schools per season that participate, at a Diamondbacks game. Each class is treated to luxury bus transportation, a free meal, an autograph and a T-shirt.

Spring Training for Special Pre-School Athletes

More than 500 special-needs pre-schoolers participate in this event which features twelve baseball oriented training stations hosted by Arizona Diamondbacks and Arizona State University ballplayers in addition to Major League Baseball Alumni. Each child receives a medal of distinction presented by the Diamondbacks.

Bike to BOB

The Diamondbacks know the importance of wearing a helmet when at bat and when on a bicycle. As part of a bike safety educational campaign, the Diamondbacks and Maricopa County's Clean Air Campaign host "Bike to BOB" where hundreds of cyclists ride their bicycles from Steele Indian School Park to the Ballpark for a Diamondbacks game.

Holiday Angel Party

The Diamondbacks host an annual Holiday Angel Party at the Ballpark inviting children from local shelters to enjoy games, karaoke and special visits from Diamondbacks players and Santa Claus. In partnership with George and Laura Duerr of Ashly Manor, each child also receives a gift and a nutritious lunch. Additionally, Randy Johnson and Diamondbacks Charities provide a brand new pair of Nike shoes for each child.

Community Programs

The Diamondbacks sponsor a variety of programs throughout the year inviting members of the community, from children to senior citizens, to share in the excitement of baseball and instill a sense of community pride. Through teamwork, these programs have accomplished various missions that include improving the lives of those who are less fortunate and educating the community of important social issues.

Randy Johnson's "Striking Out Homelessness"

Randy Johnson's "Striking Out Homelessness" is an extension of Randy's personal commitment to donate $100 for every strike-out he has during the year to help the homeless. At the end of the season Randy donates the accumulated funds to a handful of very worthy non-profit organizations throughout the state. To date, Diamondbacks Charities and the Randy Johnson Foundation have donated more than $212,000 to fight homelessness.

Matt Mantei's Iceman's Igloo

Children and their family members who are affected by cancer, are treated to a game in party suites throughout the season. All kids receive T-shirts and pizza from Peter Piper. Prior to the game, families meet Matt in an auxiliary locker room where he answers questions and signs autographs.

Season Ticket Donations

The Diamondbacks donate more than 8,000 tickets per year to non-profit organizations and individuals who would not otherwise be able to attend a game due to financial or physical limitations. Diamondbacks season ticket holders also share in the spirit of generosity by donating any otherwise unused tickets to the Diamondbacks Community Affairs Department. Through this unique donation program, thousands of additional tickets were distributed to underprivileged Arizonans.

Community Corner

The Diamondbacks teamed up with non-profit organizations and charitable causes to host Community Corner, a program that educates Ballpark visitors on a variety of issues. During home games, the Diamondbacks invite organizations to share information and help raise community awareness about their causes by having fans visit them at the Community Corner kiosk in the ballpark.

Diamondbacks Wives

The wives of Diamondbacks players and front office executives are consistently active in the community by providing their name, enthusiasm and support to many projects and important causes. The Diamondbacks Wives host a series of community events to raise money and awareness for various social issues.

Back to School Clothing Drive

Wives of the Arizona Diamondbacks host an "Undies Drive" each season for disadvantaged youth. Fans donate new packages of socks and underwear, which benefits the Back To School Clothing Drive Association. In 2003, more than 20,000 pieces of socks and underwear were generated, which provided more than half of the Valley's need with an estimated value of $24,000.

MDA and ALS Broadcast Auctions

The Diamondbacks Wives team up with Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the ALS Association for auctions during Diamondbacks broadcasts. Broadcast Auctions in 2003 raised more than $120,000 for these charities.

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and Fundraising Events

The Diamondbacks host several fundraising events during the year to benefit Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and the charitable organizations it represents. Proceeds raised from these events go back to the community by providing grants for statewide non-profit organizations focusing their efforts on youth educations and development, the homeless and healthcare for the indigent.

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities was established in 1997, before the Arizona Diamondbacks ever played a game. $2.1 million was generated in 2003 to be distributed, via a grant application process, before the beginning of the 2004 season.

Shirts Off Our D-backs

The Diamondbacks host this annual event during the last regular season home game. 40 lucky fans are presented with autographed jerseys from Diamondbacks players and coaches on field. Two-dollar scratch-off cards are sold throughout the Ballpark raising more than $146,000 annually for Arizona Diamondbacks Charities and the Valley of the Sun United Way.

Diamondbacks Charities Golf Classic

This event gives participants the opportunity to play golf at the exquisite Superstition Mountain Golf and Country Club. Participants are treated to a one-of-a-kind experience - playing golf with Arizona Diamondbacks players and coaches.

The Diamondbacks community Affairs department offers a variety of programs for the community. Fan mail and requests for player appearances, donations, and sponsorships must be submitted in writing, addressed to the following:

The Diamondbacks have made a commitment to sharing with the community one of the skills they know best, baseball. Our players' dedication, enthusiasm and respect for the game are visible both on and off the field. Through our organization's community outreach efforts, we strive to revitalize the spirit of baseball to youth in inner cities, renovate fields in underprivileged communities and provide support and training for junior athletes.

"Diamonds Back" Youth Field Program

Arizona Diamondbacks Charities implemented this program for constructing new and rebuilding current youth fields for baseball and softball. The fields are selected by Arizona Diamondbacks Charities based on need, usage, and ownership and maintenance abilities. Upon completion, fields are donated to an owner who will maintain the facility and regulate usage.

A baseball field can bring together neighborhoods and families. It is a place for making friends and making memories. It is a place for learning a game and learning lessons of life. Through Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, the "Diamonds Back" Field Program is committed to supporting and enhancing youth baseball in our state. This program's sole mission is to design and build youth ball fields so that more children can experience the great game of baseball. Arizona Diamondbacks Charities, our Diamondbacks players and community partners such as APS are creating diamonds from dirt, and making a Major League difference in the lives of Arizona's youth.

Execution

Funding for the "Diamonds Back" Youth Field Program comes from corporate sponsors, player participation and Arizona Diamondbacks Charities Youth Baseball Fund, as well as in-kind and donated services and materials. A design and construction team will build fields, led by Nelsen Architects and Summit Builders as general contractor.

An application and selection process will determine most fields. Interested parties must complete and submit a "Diamonds Back" Youth Field application form. This application is also available for any smaller grants for youth baseball and softball needs. To request an application, write to Jeff Jacobs, Baseball Outreach & Development Manager, Arizona Diamondbacks, P.O. Box 2095, Phoenix, AZ 85001.

Fields may include: backstop, full fencing, dugouts, bleachers, bullpens, irrigation, fully turfed playing field, warning tracks, electric scoreboard, scorer's table and storage unit and lighting system. Projects will depend on existing infrastructure, needs and future funding.

Training Centers

The Arizona Diamondbacks Training Centers are a series of traveling youth baseball and softball camps focusing on developing youth baseball/softball skills the "Diamondbacks Way." The camps are aimed at providing instruction in all aspects of baseball and softball to youth, ages 7-16, while continuing to promote the enjoyment, participation and interest in baseball throughout Arizona. The Training Centers run concurrently with school vacation periods, including spring, summer, intersession and holiday breaks.

Little League Baseball District Days

This unique fundraising program was made available to specific Little League Districts throughout Arizona. Little Leagues are given the opportunity to sell group discounted tickets to little leaguers and their families, with fundraiser rebates going back to each league. Participating Little Leagues and their uniformed players are invited to participate on the field at a Diamondbacks game for a pre-game parade, along with a ceremony and check presentation to the district.

Inter-tribal Invitational

To support baseball in the Native American Community, the Diamondbacks host their annual inter-tribal baseball tournament. This event brings together 34 teams from twelve Native America communities throughout Arizona and culminates in a presentation of the tribal communities at a Diamondbacks game.

D. Baxter the Bobcat

Mascot
Ht: 6-0 Wt: 200
Introduced: June 23, 2000
Residence: Baxter's Den
at Bank One Ballpark

D. Baxter the Bobcat came out of the bag on June 23, 2000 at Bank One Ballpark. The idea for the mascot came from Diamondback second baseman Jay Bell's son, Brantley, who explained to his dad that the team should have a "BOB" cat as a mascot since the team plays in the BOB (Bank One Ballpark). Jay informed management about his son's idea and the mascot was developed.

Today, Baxter has gained acceptance throughout the baseball world for his athleticism and his mean "fur" ball. Along with his numerous game-day responsibilities, Baxter also serves as an ambassador for the Diamondbacks organization via visits to hospitals, schools, community festivals, and corporate functions throughout the Phoenix-metro area and the state of Arizona.

For more information on Baxter, call (602) 462-6630.

Joseph Black, Jr.

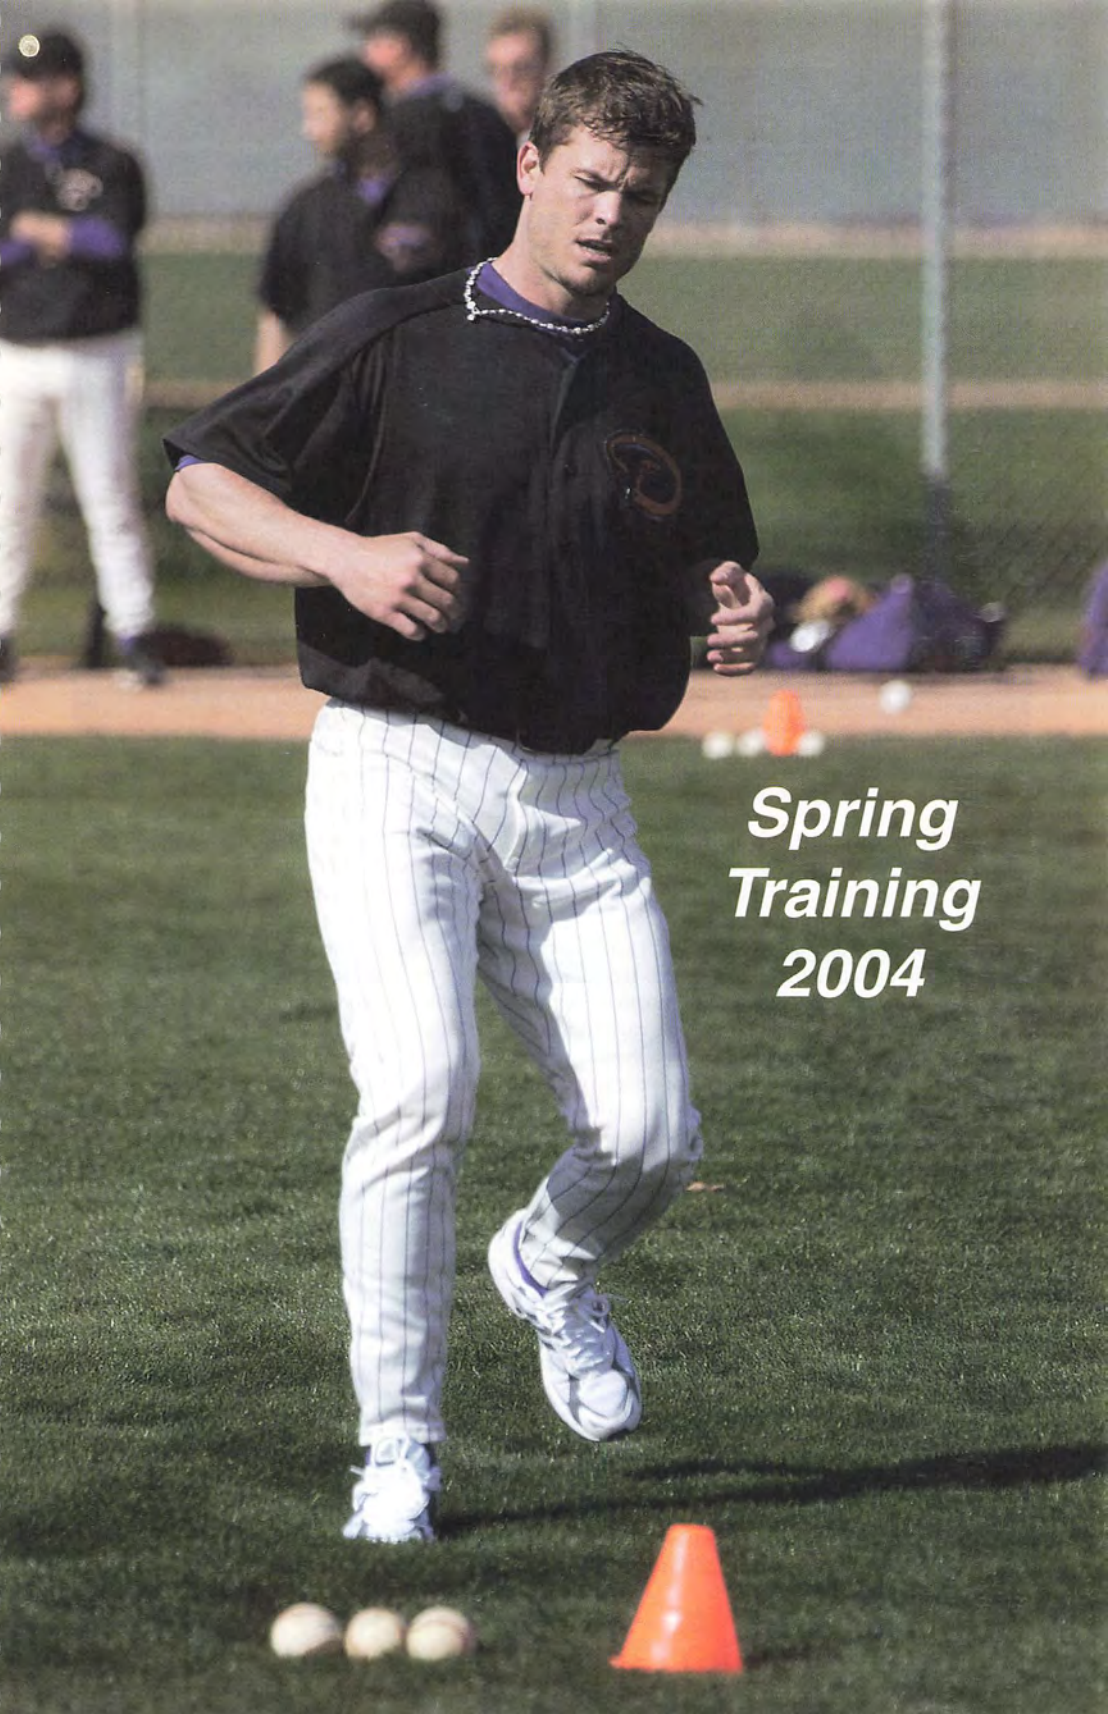

On May 17, 2002, Major League Baseball and the Arizona Diamondbacks suffered a great loss with the passing of Joe Black. He began his playing career in the Negro Leagues and shuffled through various professional leagues before making his Major League debut in 1952 with the Brooklyn Dodgers as a teammate of Jackie Robinson. In his rookie season, he made baseball history when he became the first black pitcher to win a World Series game and was eventually named the National League Rookie of the Year.

Joe remained an integral part of baseball following his playing days. As Vice President of B.A.T., the Baseball Assistance Team, he dedicated his time to helping fellow baseball players who had fallen on hard times. He contributed his vast knowledge of the game as a consultant to the Commissioner of Major League Baseball. A resident of Phoenix, he worked in the Diamondbacks' Community Affairs Department, sharing his stories as a guest speaker for numerous community groups.

Beyond baseball, Joe was a pioneer in the business world and worked tirelessly to impact the civil and human rights advancements for minorities.

In remembrance of Joe, his name was placed on the leftfield wall of Bank One Ballpark, next to the retired number of former Brooklyn Dodger teammate, Jackie Robinson.

The Arizona Fall League will honor Joe's memory with the Joe Black Trophy, awarded to the league's Most Valuable Player. Ken Harvey (Kansas City Royals) of the Scottsdale Scorpions was the inaugural honoree in 2002. Jason Dubois (Chicago Cubs) of the AFL-champion Mesa Solar Sox garnered the honors in 2003.

Spring Training 2004

Tucson Electric Park

The Diamondbacks and Chicago White Sox share Tucson Electric Park during the month of March, with thousands of fans from both the Valley and Windy City making the trip to the Old Pueblo for exhibition action. T.E.P. seats 11,000 which includes room for 3,000 fans on the lawn beyond the outfield fence.

The Diamondbacks not only have the good fortune of training less than two hours away from Bank One Ballpark, they work in one of the top-of-the-line spring facilities in baseball. Tucson Electric Park is the centerpiece of the Pima County Kino Sports Complex, that also includes six-field practice facilities for both the Diamondbacks and Chicago White Sox.

Tucson Electric Park has a capacity of 11,000, including 8,000 seats in the main grandstand and another 3,000 available on the outfield lawn. Also the summer home of the Tucson Sidewinders, T.E.P. features a major league clubhouse that the D'Backs use in the spring, and clubhouses for visiting clubs and umpires. The home clubhouse also has an indoor batting cage located on the lower level on the way to the playing field.

During the spring session, the Diamondbacks will dress daily in the major league clubhouse at Tucson Electric Park, while doing the majority of their work at the minor league complex across Ajo Way. Once the exhibition season begins, Arizona will take batting practice either on the stadium field, or on a diamond behind T.E.P., where the D'Backs also have a half-field for infield work.

The spring of 2004 marks the 58th year for spring training in the Tucson community, with the Cleveland Indians calling the Old Pueblo home from 1947-92. While the D'Backs and White Sox work at the Kino Complex, the Colorado Rockies took over Hi Corbett Field in 1993 and are in their 12th spring there.

Tucson Electric Park has a symmetrical playing surface, measuring 340 feet down each foul line and 405 to straightaway centerfield. The spring home for the Diamondbacks is located at 2500 East Ajo Way in Tucson.

Items of Interest

BATTING CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFICATIONS: To win a batting title a player must have 502 or more actual plate appearances, the equivalent of 3.1 appearances for each of the 162 scheduled games.

DISABLED LISTS:

(1) 15-DAY DISABLED LIST--The minimum period of inactivity is 15 calendar days. There is no limit on the number of players that may be on the list at one time.

(2) EMERGENCY DISABLED LIST--The minimum period of inactivity is 60 calendar days. There is no limit on the number of players on this list at one time, but his list may only be used when the club is at the maximum limit of 40 players under control. Players on the 60-day list do not count against the 40-man roster.

EARNED RUN AVERAGE CHAMPION QUALIFICATIONS: To win the ERA title a pitcher must have at least as many innings pitched as the number of games scheduled for each club in his league that season and have the lowest ERA.

MAJOR LEAGUE YEAR: 172 days constitutes a full year of major league service.

PINCH HITTING: A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and then only on his first time at bat, which must be before he becomes a fielder. If the team bats around in the inning and a pinch hitter comes up a second time, he will not be considered a pinch hitter the second time.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has:

- (1) Exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues, or
- (2) Accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-man roster (excluding time in military service).

SAVE RULE: A pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

- (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher, and
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches at least one inning, or
 - (b) He enters the game regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
 - (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

SUSPENDED GAMES: For the purpose of this rule, all performances in the completion of a suspended game shall be considered as occurring on original date of this game.

WAIVER REGULATIONS: From 30 days after the start of the season, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire. Otherwise, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings at the close of the preceding season. With respect to trades, no waivers are necessary from 5 p.m. (ET) the after the scheduled end of the regular season through July 31. Waivers are necessary from August 1 through the day after the scheduled end of the regular season.

How to Figure

BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

EARNED RUN AVERAGE: Multiply the number of earned runs by nine, take that number and divide it by the total innings pitched.

FIELDING PERCENTAGE: Divide the total number of putouts and assists by total chances (putouts, assists and errors).

MAGIC NUMBERS: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

ON-BASE PERCENTAGE: Add the total of hits, walks and hit by pitches and divide by the total of at bats, walks, hit by pitches and sacrifice flies.

SLUGGING PERCENTAGE: Divide total bases by the total times at bat. (At bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher, or times awarded first base by interference or obstruction).

WINNING PERCENTAGE: Divide the number of games won by the total games won and lost.

The Power of a Dream

Throughout Arizona, young people aspire to big-league dreams. APS and Arizona Diamondbacks Charities are making these dreams come true. By building pristine, lighted baseball fields, like the Mark Grace Field in Flagstaff, APS and the Diamondbacks are also helping to build character in young Arizonans.

Working together we're giving young people opportunities to enjoy the thrill of our nation's pastime in a clean, safe environment. Because at APS, we realize a new ballpark is more than just a place to play, for many, it's a dream come true.
